SECOND WARDERS ENTHUSE

Rousing Republican Rally Held in the South Part of Town.

DEMOCRACY SYSTEMATICALLY PUNCTURED

Old Fogyism and Free Trade, Catamity and Wild Cat Currency Handled by Aple Speakers-Republican Doctrines Freely Expounded.

A rousing raity was held last evening at Miller's hall at Eighteenth and Vinton, under the auspices of the Second Ward Re publican club. Delogations from nearly every ward in the city were present, and the roomy ball was packed to its fullest capacity.

The Fifth Ward Flambeau club turned out in its gorgeous new zouave uniforms, consisting of red trousers, blue blouses, with white facings, red fezes, with legtons and sashes. The club was headed by its own fife and dram corps, and executed military managurers with great precision, considering the short time that it has had thus far for drilling. There were sixty-eight of the flambeau zonaves in the company and the display of blaze and color and the music of the ward band and drum corps excited an abundance of campaign enthusiasm. There was no parade of the Second warders preceding the speaking, but the marching of the Fifth ward delegation caroute to the hall attracted as much attention as does the average parade with the exception of the grander demonstrations of a campaign.

Over 500 voters growded into the hall and listened attentively to what the speakers of the evening had to say, and the exposition of republican principles elicited enthusiastic applause. Many of the nominees of the party were present, and gratified the general desire of those in attendance to hear them. National issues occupied the greater part of the discussion, and the questions on which the parties differ were most ably handled. The audience was not slow to ex press its approbation of what was said, and in every respect the rally was expressive of the most intense interest in the campaign The Second warders showed that they were thoroughly slive, and the South Side Republican club set a pace that will make the other wards do some lively hustling if they intend to keep up their end.

Marple Makes a Point.

Charles H. Marple was the first speaker of the evening and he confined his remarks to the tariff, the force bill and the case of Labor Commissioner Peck. He said that Mr. Peck had been arrested for what Grover Cleveland appointed bim to do. Cleveland appointed him once, Hill twice and Flower the fourth time. The speaker insisted that there was just as much cause for arresting Grover Cleveland for refusing to make public the papers in connection with the removal of several postmasters, as there was for arresting Peck for destroying other papers from which infor-mation for public officials had been obtained. The senate had called on Cleveland for the papers, and he had refused to give them up on the ground that they were his private property, and neither the senate nor any other body or individual had any claim to

J. L. Kaiey, nominee for county attorney, was the next speaker. He said that the democratic party in the north is simply the tall wagged by the democratic dog in the south and that the whole was working in the interest of European nations and against Americans. In support of that assertion he referred to the Sackville-West incident, of Grover Cleveland's administration, when the English minister replied honestly to a question asked him as to which of the American political parties was acting in the interests of England. He said that it was the democrats, and advised his ques-tioner to vote the democratic ticket. arose in his wrath cause of the candid statement of the real effect of the democratic policy, and demanded the recall of the indiscreet but bonest minister. This year Peck had been ruthlessly jumped upon because he had found that the McKinley bill was actually of great benefit to the people of New York, although at the Paris exposition as a statistician. Leaving national politics, the speaker took up state affairs and said that the tried and soldier, civilian and statesman Lorenzo Crounse, was getting away with Van Wyck every day of his life. If the voters of the state did their duty, it would be less than three months until another re publican governor would be seated at Lin

this same Peck was awarded the first prize

Facts from a Farmer.

Hon. Isaac Noyes of Waterloo, nomince for the state senate, said that he was a plain farmer from the west end of the county, but he was not a farmer who went about decrying the state of Nebraska. There were many who had done that, and he deeply regretted that men who were engaged in the same occupation that he was should make such statements as had been industionsiv circulated all over the country to injure the name of this great state. The speaker was certain that it must be apparent to anyone that such a persistent cry of "Can't pay your debts" would ruin half the men engaged in business in Omaba today. He knew that Nebraska was one of the most prosperous most prosperous states in the union, and that her people were among the happiest, and he considered it a logical concusion to arrive at to decide to continue the state of affairs that had made The speaker touched briefly on the tariff, stating in as plain language as possible the real objects of a protective policy and the result that would naturally follow its abandonment and the adoption of free trade. J. H. Kyner, candidate for the lower ouse, took a whirl at the money plank of the democratic platform, and said that it was not taffy, it was very cheap gum, and the sugar all came out of it about the second chaw. He referred to the cays of wildcat currency, when taxes in a county could not be paid with the money of its local banks, and showed the difference between it and the money of today that is good from Maine to Texas and from the Atlantic to the

"If the plank don't mean a return to the old currency system," said the speaker, "what does it mean. It looks very much as though our democratic friends wanted to go out of office so long that their pockets are getting empty and they have got to do some-thing." into the banking business. They have been

He quoted statistics to show the effect of reciprocity on the exports of corn, wheat and flour to Germany and Cuba during the three nths preceding and following the treaty 1891, and asked his hearers to ponder it over at their daily toil, and see to it their ratic brothers were given some of the actual facts regarding the McKintey bili. Several Others Spoke.

L. Sutton of South Omana, another candidate for the legislature, was next in-troduced. He said the people had had a trial of the protective tariff and he believed that there was not a man in the country who was not willing to settle the question once for all, and he knew that it would be over-whelmingly determined in favor of the continuation of the principles of protection. Dr. M. O. Ricketts, the Second ward's representative on the legislative ticket, took the force pill for a prief discussion held that the bloody shirt should be waved as long as the mothers of this country could into their wardrobes and find there a faded uniform that had been worn by their sons and perforated on south-ern battlefields by rebel bullets. The speaker compared the records of Har rison and Cleveland from the time they entered politics. Charles H. Clarke, another nominee for the state senate, talked briefly on the tariff, illustrating the practical workings of the Judge Louis Berka called attention to the flow of immigration to this country, declaring that it was in itself a better argument as to the prosperity of the country which induced their coming than any statement that lips could frame. He made a strong presentation of the tariff policy and advocated the carnest support of the entire resulting ticket. General George S. Smith was the last speaker, and his advocacy of republican principles and the theory of America for Americans called forth deafening appliance. Cheers were given for the various candi dates and for the visiting delegations, and 500 carnest republicans went forth to do telling work until the evening of November for the entire ticket from president to ward

Hon. Ben S. Baker on the Situation. Ben S. Baker returned home this morning from a trip through the southern part of the state in the interests of the republican ticket. He made speeches at Tecumsen, Strang and Edgar, and reports overything lovely in that neck o' woods, with positive assurances of republican success. "I do not believe that I am over sauguine," said Mr. Baker, "and I can not help feeling that the situation is all right. I tell you that lots of people are going to be fooled on the independent vote. The Australian system does not admit of the work of any supervising committee, and they are going to quietly vote their predicc-tions, and say nothing about it. A great many of them are coming back to vote the republican ticket straight as they did for years until two years ago, while there are thousands who will vote for Harrison and Keid, although still holding to their state and legislative ticket. "Hamer is going to be elected to congress down in the Fourth district. He will have an easier time than any of the nominees in any of the other districts. I stepped over into the First district for a short time, and they are confident there of Field's election. The democrats say that Bryan will get there, but they do not manifest the confidence or enthusiasm that is so noticeable among the republicans. There is no question but that Field had the better of Bryan all through their joint debate. Bryan put in his time trying to calch the independent vote, count-ing on the support of the democrats without doing any work in that direction. It doesn't look as if Shanp was going to draw a very heavy vote down there, for he isn't attending to business and is missing his ap-pointments. A man who expects to be elected don't do his work that way."

Donne Didn't Speak. Judge Doane was to have addressed the Ninth ward democratic club at the club rooms at Twenty-eighth and Farnam last night but could not as he was detained at Calhoun. Quite a crowd gathered to hear the judge and were considerably disappointed at his non-appearance. Local speakers filled the vacancy.

Populists Ratty. The populists held a rally at Metz ball, on South Thirteeath street, last night, at which Isaac Hascall, George A. Magney and Dave Rowden officiated as speakers. The efforts of the speakers were wasted on an audience

Yesterday's Proceedings in the Congregational Council.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Oct. 14.-The Congregational council this morning decided that the next council will be held on the Pacino coast, but left the place open for future determination. Committee work occupied the rest of the session.

The committee to whom was referred the report of the committee on the relations of Congregational benevolent societies to the churches made a long report, concluding as

Resolved. That this council carnestly desires that all the benevoient societies shall be made in reality, and not in a figurative sense only, the representatives of the churches.

Resolved. That this council, appreciating the importance of the unanimous action of the American board at its last meeting in adopting measures looking toward the representation of the churches in the board, expresses its gratification at such action and the council expresses the carnest hope that the board, through its committee, already appointed, will devise such measures as will show the confidence of the board in the churches and result in increased confidence of the churches in the board.

Resolved, That the association of churches be advised to make nominations during the coming year to fill vacancies in the board in response to the proposal of the board as adopted at its last annual meeting.

Resolved, That a committee of nine be appointed, to whom shall be referred the subject of representation of the churches in the societies, with instructions to confer with the societies in reference to the best methods of combining stability with the principle of representation of the churches.

The report was adopted. Resolved. That this council earnestly de-

The report was adopted. The committee on the relation of benevo nt societies made an extensive report to the effect that the union should be effected on terms satisfactory to both sides. There was a red-hot debate at the night session over the report of the temperance committee. The report reaffirmed the declarations of previous councils, and reiterated the demands that intoxicating liquors be excluded from the World's fair. The report was finally adopted by a vive voce vote.

BALTIMORE, Mid., Oct. 14.-The joint ses sion of the board of missions of the Protestant Episcopal church was commenced today by Bishop Whippie, the aposile of the Indians, presiding. Bishop Scarborough of New Jersey nd-gressed the convention on the status and past work of the board. Ten years ago, he aid, the board had but $21,000, while today heir treasury held the sum of $226,000. Bishop Dudley's resolution, making the bishops of Delaware, Maryland and other southern states a commission for the keeping ap of the colored mission was read. Bishop Dudley's resolution, offered as a substitute for the resolution of the committee, was finally referred to committee Rev. Dr. Joseph Cary of Albany made a speech to the convention on behalf of the deputation sent to represent the general con-vention at the provincial synod of Canada, held in Montreal in September. Rev. Dr. Hart of Connecticut presented a resolution, which was adopted, relative to the providing of a certified copy of the stan dard book of common prayer, to be preserved by the custodian of convention documents.

JUDGE SCOTT'S FAVOR

Furt County's Bar Embroglio Comes to Eulden Termination.

Proceedings of the Insanity Commission stopped by an Injunction-Citizens Take Up the Cause of the Judge-The Situation.

EFFECT OF A RESTRAINING ORDER

TEKAMAR, Neb., Oct. 14 .- Special Telegram to The Bee. |-The fight between the lawyers of this county and Judge Scott is off for the time being and the judge is a winner by a large majority, if the present indications count for anything.

The afternoon train from Omaha brought J. C. Wharton, George W. Covell and Edgar H. Scott, a son of the judge. These legal gentlemen at once went to the court house, where the restraining order was served upon the members of the Board of Insanity. Messrs. Gillis, Peterson and Ashley, the lawvers who have been the leaders in the mutiny against the court, left the court house.

At 2 o'clock Judge Scott opened court as usual, called the docket as has been his custem, but as the attorneys failed to appear, he stated that the civil cases would be continued, or dismissed, and that he would take up the trial of the state cases next Monday morning. Court was then adjourned until that date.

Malters are taking a very unexpected turn and public rentiment is almost entirely with Judge Scott. This afternoon, without his knowledge, the people of the town took matters in their own hands, and in a short time convinced the revolting lawyers that their side of the case was not the popular one. Several prominent citizens of the town, who heretofore have not taken any part in the proceedings, held a meeting and decided that the scenes which have been enacted during the past week had gone far enough. Ninetenths of the citizens fell in with them and in a few minutes the following petition was being circulated upon the streets:

in a few minutes the following petition was being circulated upon the streets:

We the undersigned citizens and tax payers of Burt county, state of Nebraska, and within the Fourth judicial district, have had our attention called to the most scurrulous and unjustifiable attack by the members of the Burt county bar upon Judee Scott, we unhesitatingly say that for downright perversion of the facts, and the truth as also, and with utter distegard of decency and respect due to Judge C. R. Scott, who has earned the confidence, respect and good will of all law abblical citizens who are not terrorized by our "lawyers" for h's fearlessness, impartial and intelligent dispatch of business in our court and who will not permit shystering or pettifogging in his court, but who holds court in such an intelligent and businessking manner as to save tax payers from needless exponse, so far as he can possibly do so, notwithstanding the opposition of "lawyers" that said libelious article of said "lawyers" stands without a paralle, and we denounce as infamously false the charge put in circulation by the "lawyers" to break down Judge Scott because he stands between the people and the shvestering and grasping members of the bar. They can't break him down. He is too the shystering and grasping members of the bar. They can't break him down. He is too highly respected as a judge of our courts. Give us more of such judges as Judge Scott and the occupation of shysters will be gone in Burt county. We want Judge Scott next year. Rustling for Signatures,

Men were put upon horses and were sent to every precinct in the county. Although not more than half of them have returned from their missions, the petitions that were in at 7 o'clock showed that more than 1,000 of the tax payers are on Judge Scott's side. Every man who went out with a petition, upon his return stated that they signed without urging, and were anxious to do more if they could. The men who went out with the petitious, and there were fifty of them, went without pay or hope of future re

Tonight everything is as quiet as the grave. The Omaha parties have returned to their homes and Lawver Gittis has gone with them, that he may be at the Omaha bar meeting to be held tomorrow. The insanity proceedings against Judge Scott have been dismissed. In fact, they went by default, as W. G. Sears, the man who signed the afti davit, failed to even put in an appearance be-fore the commissioners.

Before leaving for his home Judge Scott said that he would return Monday morning and fluish the business of the term. He said that he bore no ill will toward the attorneys that he had simply performed his duty was trying to serve the best interests of the public without fear, favor or affection.

A RESTRAINING ORDER.

New Turn of Affairs Taken in the Judge Scott Insanity Case, Attorney J. C. Wharton left at 1 o'clock esterday for Tekamah armed with a restraining order in the Judge Scott insanity case, issued by Judge Irvine in consultation with Judges Davis and Keysor.

The petition sets forth that the October term of the Fourth judicial district opened October 10, with Judge C. R. Scott presiding, and that the session would continue through this and next week; that there are manding prompt and careful attention on the part of the court and that at the present time here is a case on trial. It then goes on to relate that Wade Gillis, Boylet Ashland and other attorneys did con-spire and confederate together for the purnose of obstructing, delaying and impeding the due and proper administration of justice to petition the county commissioners of Burt county to order the arrest of said Judge Scott on a charge of insanity preferred by Sears in a wilful, malicious and unlawful manner while said W. G. Sears at the same time was well aware that the said Judge Scott was not insane.

The order restrains the county commis-sioners and the attorneys from further action until a hearing is had, which will be on Octobar IS at II o'clock in Tekamah. Wharton & Baird and Judge E, M. Bartlett are the attorneys for Judge Scott, Lee Hung Chang's Strange Conduct the Causs of Alarm.

OFFICIALS PUBLICLY INSULTED BY HIM

Only the Intervention of Court Officials Pre vents His Murder by an Army Officer-Christian Missionaries Crucily Abused and Insuited by a Mob,

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Oct. 14.-The statement is made by passengers arriving here from China by the steamer Oceanic that Lee Hung Chang, prime minister of China, has manifested symptoms of insanity. As is the custom in China, all audiences he grants are public. For the head of the government to slap the face of an official in the presence of an inferior is considered a deadly insult, and the man who struck loses casto forever. Yet this is what Chang is said to be doing daily. Almost everyone to whom he grants audience is kicked and cuffed in front of servants and retires in disgrace. According to the passengers affairs came to a culminating point just before the steamer sailed. One of the generals of the Chinese army appeared before Lee Hung Chang to make his official report. The viceroy, with no apparent cause, struck the general in the face. The latter was only prevented by the attendants from falling on the viceroy.

Missionaries Attacked.

Chinese advices state that Mr. Pelhill Turner and wife of Cambridge, a band of China island missioneries, who have been on gaged in missionary work among Thibetans on the border, were assaulted by a mob at Sunghan August 10 and parrowly escaped with their lives, Mrs. Turner was ill and had been sent to Sanghan for treatment. The natives accused the strangers with being necromancers and preventing rain falling. The mob, which numbered fully 1,000, made an attack on the bouse and Turner and his wife were dragged out and beaten over the heads with picks their clothes torn from their bodies and marched bareheaded through the streets under a blazing sun. The mob threatened to drown them but were prevented by mill tary officials who suggested that the missionaries be carried before the mative courts. This was done and the court ordered Mr. and Mrs. Turner beaten, but the native Christian servants, two in num-ber, volunteered and were beaten in their stead. Turner gathered his children and fled

He Declares the United States to Be the Only Prosperous Country in the World. LONDON, Oct. 14.-Mr. Andrew Carnegie and his wife arrived in this city yesterday from Scotland. He was interviewed by a representative of the Associated Press today. He said that he had been businy engaged all spring and summer in preparing a new book treating of the industrial problems of the day, The work, he explained, was written as a workingman to workingmen and as an employer to employes; not as an advocate, but as a judge between them. He had been studying these questions since he retired from business that he might be enabled to write without interruption the results of his observations. The deplorable events at Homestead had burst upon him like a thunderbolt from a clear sky. They had such a depressing effect upon him that he had to lay his book aside and resort to the lochs and moors, tishing from morning Now the trouble was a thing of the past, he would go to the continent and work with a fresh and happy mind.

Referring to the business prospects of this country Mr. Carnegie said that the outlook for Great Britain was dark. He daily saw at least half a dozen notices appounding re duction of wages and hours of labor and the closing of works. Exports were falling lower and lower every month, and one of the worst winters which the poor had experienced in thirty years seemed inevitable. India was competing for the China trade, and crops everywhere had suffered severely from the unusually wet weather, we being estimated at 18 per cent low the average. Owing to low the average. Owing to the poor crops in Europe the United States would find good markets for all its surplus products. That country would therefore remain prosperous, and the masses would be enabled to obtain full employment and live in comfort, although at present the prices for manufactures continue low. The capacity for production of the United States was beyond any possible permanent requirements for some time to come, and the country was therefore enabled to send its surplus products abroad and undersell even the British in their own markets. "It short," said Mr. Carnegie in conclusion "look where you will, there is but one truly prosperous country in the world, and that is the republic of the United States. God bless her, she deserves it." The President to the Pope.

Rome, Oct. 14.—Secretary Foster of the Americae State department has sent a letter to Cardinal Rampolla, secretary of state to the pope, stating that he is directed by the president of the United States to express to the cardinal his deep satisfaction in learning of the warm interest which the pope takes in the approaching Columbian exposition at Chicago. The president, says the letter, was also gratified by the information that the hely father had manifester a wish to for ward to this exposition some mementos of the discovery of America, and other objects of interest, which are now preserved in the vatican. Assurance is given that the great-est care will be taken of them during the

The intimate association of the holy see with the Columbian enterprise and its results," continues the letter, "has so linked the memory of Rome and her pontiff with the achievements of Christopher Columbus and his comrades and competitors in the work of discovery and colonization, and ex-erted so marked an influence on the desti-nies and progress of the new world they revealed, that an exhibit such as by the presi-dent's direction I have the honor to suggest could not fail to be among the most note-worthy contributions to this international celebration of the four hundredth anniversary of the discovery. By co-operating to this end, his holiness will manifest for our country a regard which will be highly as preciated, not only by the managers of the exposition, but by the American people at large."

London, Oct. 14.-A special dispatch from the Times to Calcutta says that trouble has again broken out with the Chins in the
