line of the scriptures. He believed it was ilmost as absurd to hold that the book was absolutely infallible as to hold that the church was infallible.

Rev. Mr. Helt, the evangelist, arose at this juncture and created a sensation by quoting a lot of scathing, red hot things from the third chapter of it. Timothy, such as: "This know also, that in the last days peritous times shall come. For men shall be lovers of their own selves, covetous, teasters proud blashemers dischedient to boasters, proud, biasphemers, discbedient to parents, unthankful, unboly, without natural affection, truce oreakers, false accusers, in-continent, flerce, despisers of those that are Roused a Layman.

During the recitas of this, and a whole lot more like it, which the evangelist evidently vished to burl at the heads of nil advancer thinkers, there was a good deal of sup-pressed excitement. Haif a dozen delegates were on their feet in an instant, and Mr. M. J. Manvisie, a layman, said: "If this convention is composed of the kind of people referred to in the scripture just quoted, or if any considerable number of the delegates present deserve anything of the delegates present deserve anything like such an arrangement as that, I think we would better adjourn sine die and go home He didn't believe that there were any such reprobates in the house. Great applause greated the inyman's speech.

Rev. John Power thought the paper was ably presented, but the writer was very much mistaken in his views. Moderator Parker created a laugh by saying: "I believe that the paper read by Brother MacAyeal would have been an excellent document to read about 3,000 years

The convention then took a recess of ter

Work Among the Indians,

At 4 o'clock Miss Ella Worden, a mission ary of the Santee Indian agency, gave a talk upon the evolution of the Indian. She said it was perfectly surprising to note the civilizing effect of a pair of suspenders. The first pocess the young Indians had to be put through was a scrubbing in the bath and then they had to be taught how to wear civflized clothing. They learn rapidly the dif-ferent industrial duties of the agency, and as soon as they learn a thing they have a desire to teach the same to their people.

Miss Worden did not believe in following out the rules laid down in government schools prohibiting the speaking of the In dian language by the teachers. She said that the use of a few familiar words had a very encouraging ef-fect upon the Indian children. The speaker gave a number of interesting experiences and incidents connected with the work of educating and Christianizing the Indian. She said the Indian women had come sufficiently civililized to organize their little missionary and church society meetings just like white women. They have their officers and their profound deliberations after the fashion of their pale faced sisters.

Straight from the Shoulder.

A very interesting and unique paper was read by Rev. George Hindley upon the topic. "A Man 92 Years Old." Rev. Hindley assumed that there was a man in the audience 22 years old, and then he proceeded to tell the audience what wonderful changes this old gentlemen had beheld about him during his

Speaking of the traits of the average American citizen he said: "We grow patri-otic, or excited, I should say, and throw up our hats for Harrison or Cleveland, well knowing, if we stop to think for a moment, that neither Harrison nor Cleveland will save this country from the devil. I sometimes think that what we call patriotism should be called pat-riot-ism.

There was but one source of salvation for the country, one means by which the con-flict between capital and labor could be happlly brought to a close; that was through the influence of christianity. The speaker hit the saloons and immoral dens of great cities several hard blows and said that it was the duty of every loyal citizen to encourage the institutions of ebristianity and thus purify the morals of the land. Speaking of the matter of giving for charitable objects he

Some people talk about giving of their means, when as a matter of fact they only give of their meanness. You hear men talk about giving the widow's mite. The idea of a great big, broad shouldered man palming himself off as a widow."

The address was very much out of the usual order of things, and caught the convention in a most felicitous and agreeable manties and charitable organizations. Mr. Frank W. Lewis of Lincoln offered some good suggestions upon the subject of "The Rela-tion of the Churches to Organized Charities." Mr. W. A. Seltick, also of Lincoln. spoke upon "Methods of Charity Organiza-tion" and Rev. W. J. Turner of Neligh made a real, red hot and practical speech upon "Methods of Reform Within and Without the Prison." He struck the preseat county jail system in a number of vul-nerable spots and presented some potent reasons showing the need of a state association of charities and corrections. He declared that the county jails were schools of crime where the novice in vice and law breaking learns damaging lessons from the hardened criminals. He held that there should be a reform in the method of punish ing criminals for petty offenses. He thought offense for professional dead beats to be caught and run in a third time in the same county jail. It was a crimina absurdity to put a lazy dead beat in the criminal county jali time after time. Such a plan only encouraged the tramp and the petty thief to continue a life of crime.

Churc's and Charities. The evening session was devoted to chari

Consolidating Colleges. One of the most important matters to be considered will be the proposed consoli-dation of the educational interests of the church by establishing one university and making the other colleges con-ducted by the church academies ducted by the church academies to be operated as branches of the main institution. The church has two colleges in the state at present, Doane and Gates, the former at Crete and the latter at Neligh The friends of each naturally want the other institution to knock under, and the contest will, in all probability, be very interesting if not exciting. There has if not exciting. There has talk of removing Donne college to Omaha or Lincoln and making it the central university. This plan has both its support ers and opponents. The matter will ably come up tomorrow in the report of the committee on schools and colleges.

church, Omaha,

A delegation of half a dozen prominent citizens of Netigh came down to Omaha last evening to appear before the Congregational convention for the purpose of protesting against the removal or interference with Gates college. These gentlemen are not members of the Congregational church, but they have assisted the college financially, and they are very much opposed to the idea of losing the school. "The people of Neligh have stood by that

ONLY A SENSELESS FAKE.

Latest Fulmination from a Highly Imaginative Putative Paper. The Fake Factory was in working order again yesterday, and under flaming head lines told the story of a political wheel in the postoffice department. The fake alleged that the postwaster had taken a number of trusted carriers into his confidence and was having them make a political census report of the voters on their routes. It was stated that the men were being paid for their work and that one of them who was engaged in the census taking had cashed a check for $25 at one of the banks. The carrier to whom the check was given was instructed to have his census report in within three days.

Postmaster Clarkson, when seen by a re-porter concerning the trumped up charges, said he did not care to be quoted in the mat ter further than to say that the article in the World-Heraid was a malicious and shameful lie for which there was not the Further investigation shows that the he was out out of the whole cloth. The carrier was cut out of the whole cloth. The carrier who had the check cashed was J. R. Stine, and his version of the transaction knocks every shadow of truth from the Fage Factory's sensation. Mr. Stine says that a few days after the last pay day an officer in the carrier department borrowed $25 from him for a few days, and in payment gave him a check for the amount. This is the check in question. Mr. Stine says the check had nothing to do whatever with official ousiness, but was simply given with official business, but was simply given him in payment of his claim for borrowed money. He says that he knows nothing of the census and that no such work is being done by the carriers or he would know it. He says that the postmaster not only did not ask him to make any such ceusus but that Major Clarkson never had any conversation with him until he was called upon by the postmaster to explain the check story publishen by the Daily Fakir.

"Major Clarkson," said Mr. Stine, "does not know whether I am a republican or democrat. There was no excuse for getting me mixed up in the fake. It was a senseless story throughout."

PUSHING THE PROSECUTION

Burlington Bound to Make the Elkhorn Show Cause on Soldier Rates.

FRANCIS FILES FORMAL COMPLAINT

He Charges Buenavan with Deliberately Cutting the Rate West of the River-Meaning of the Union Pacific's Attitude on Moutana Rates.

Before his departure for Chicago to participate in the dedicatory exercises of the World's fair, Mr. John Francis, general passenger agent of the Burlington, filed with Secretary G. McFadden of the Transmissouri Passenger association, this morning, his charges against the Etkhorn road for violation of the association agreement. The charges regite that the agreement was violated on the part of Mr. Buchapan's road, the Eikhore, in transporting from Fort Robinson to Chicago in the neighborhood of 125 soldiers, going from that point to attend the ceremonies of dedication of the Columbian exposition. The troops left Crawford on or about the 15th inst., to arrive in Chicago on the 17th. The rate made for them was $21,36, round trip. This fact Mr. Francis asks to have investigated, and if the Eixborn is found guilty he also asks that it be assessed the full penalties in accordance with the requirements of the association agree-

Mr. Francis, in his letter to Mr. McFadden, says: "I enclose herewith the invitation of the chief quartermaster United States army. Omaha, for bids on the transportation of these troops from Fort Robinson or Crawford. These bids were opened in the office of the quartermaster at 2 p. m. October 10, and at that time Mr. Buchanan's written bid was read in my presence. The rate, as I remember it, at which he offered to transport the troops for the round trip, was $21.36, You will understand that Fort Robinson is located at Crawford, Neb., the post being about three miles from our depot.

"I believe the way in which the Elkhorn road figured their rate was by taking I cent per mile from the Missouri river to Chicago and return and adding to that I cent a mile one fare west of the Missouri river, from which I surmise they deducted some amount on account of land grant, either real or supposed. While a cont-per-mile rate east of the Missouri river has not been authorized as a basing rate from transmissouri territory, still, as it was possible to ticket the troops at full rates to the Missouri river and then make a separate transaction of ticketing them east of the river at I cent per mile, I would not wish to find fault with the use of a cent-a-mile east of the river; what I do complain of is the cut rate used west of the

Mr. Francis asks in addition, should Mr. Buchanan plead not guilty, to have the trial take place in Omaha instead of Kansas City, the headquarters of the association. In talking to a passenger man today about this action of the Burlington in pushing this case, he said: "I can't understand why Mr. Francis is so anxious to have this case come to a trial, unless it is that behind it is a spectre of other cuts made by the Eikhorn against the Burlington. The proper thing for Mr. Francis to have done, in view of the fact that his road did not want the business was to have gone to Mr. Buchanae and told him to get as much as possible out of the business, instead of allowing him to put in such a low rate. This bidding on government business will cost the railroads dearly for I believe the interstate commerce lay will be greatly amended at the next session of congress and the railroads made to suffer. Of course Mr. Francis has a perfect right to bring charges against Mr. Buchanan, but as the Burlington has been engaged in crooked transactions in the past I believe that the roads in the association, or many of them, will vote "no" when called upon to pass or the guilt of Mr. Buchanan in cutting the Union Pacific Passenger Department Will Drop Utah and Montana Rates. The Utah and Montana joint rate sheet the members of which are the Southern Pacific, the Northern Pacific, the Great Northern. Rio Grande Western and Union Pacific has been disrupted by the Union Pacific giving notice that its connection with that sheet terminates with the present issue. This action was determined upon by the officials within the last few days, and as the Union Pacific is out of the Transmissouri association this practically destroys the force of the agreement, as the Union Pacific is the key stone in the present alliance. But the dis raption is not intended to work injury to the other roads in the agreement, the policy of the Union Pacific being to evolve two sne out of the debris of the old, one from tana common points and the other from Utah. the Union Pacific, Great Northern and Northern Pacific to be in the first sheet, the Southern Pacific, Rio Grande Western and Union Pacific to be in the second, the pri-mary object of this new arrangement being to divorce Montana rates from Utan inter

While the desire of the Union Pacific to establish these sheets looks favorable of at-tainment, should the other roads finally object to enter the compact, the Union Pacific announces it will make a rate sheet for itself. This may mean much or little, but to the railroad man it means simply a preparatory step on the part of the "Overland Route" to bid for business on a basis that will secure it, or know the reason why. The unrest in railroad circles, the breaking up of associ-ations in every part of the country, warrants the prediction that within the next sixty days a passenger rate war will be on, to be fought until all the roads get tired of losing business and agree to form a new associatio with more stringent regulations, with heavier penalties than ever.

WILL RAISE THE RATES.

Chairman Caldwell's Scheme-Judgment Against the Union Pacific.

CHICAGO, III., Oct. 18,-Chairman Caldwell of the Western Passenger association today put the finishing touches to a great piece of work. It is the raising of rates between association points, which have been reduced for the last year and a half and means an increase of revenue averaging $1,800,000 a year. Through Chairman Caldwell's efforts all reduced rates in effect between Chicago, St. Louis and Missouri river cities will be discontinued October 31 and the following rates will be in effect in both directions for selling and basing pur-poses: From Chicago to Kansas City, Atchisor., Leavenworth and St. Jeseph, $12.50; to St. Louis, $7.50; from St. Louis to Kansas City, $7.50; Leavenworth, $8; Atchison and St. Joseph, $8.50. A corresponding raise will be made on all intermediate rates affected and tickets between points named, limited to one day from date of sale. Among the roads which have agreed to restore the rate is the Alton road. This terminates the war which has been on since the Alton left the association two years ago.

By stipulation the default and judgment

By stipulation the default and judgment against the Union Pacific in favor of the Rock Islant road was set aside by Judge McConnell today. The trial of the case was then set for the first Tuesday in January. The original suit was brought to recover $50,000 for the use of the Rock Island tracks located in Nebraska. Two weeks ago the case was called and the Union Pacific was in default. A judgment for $67,719 was endefauit. A judgment for $86,719 was en

General Weaver and Mrs. Lease Address Iowa Independents at Ottomwa.

OTTUMWA, IA, Oct. S.—[Special Telegram to The Bee.]—General Weaver and Mrs.

Lease of Kansas addressed big meetings here this afternoon and evening. This is the dead center of the old greenback party and they came over from the Hairy Nation in wagons with their fathilies to yell once more for their former assidiate who went down before Major Lacey four years ago. They flied the opera bouse, along with a strong contingent of republicans who wanted to hear the general speak, and the populist pres-idential candidate gave a rampant calamity harangue. She declared that there had not been an honest election in the south for the last twenty-five years, and that Georgia could as well have given 170,000 democratic majority as 70,000 the way they counted. She said she had been misrepresented in a dispatch which states that she had said that a vote for Weaver was equivalent to a vote for Cleveland, and populists should therefore vote for Harrison, condemning it as unqualifically false. In an interview tonight, however, she said that the inteview in a Chicago paper of the 17th was correct. When asked the question discontinuous and the said of the contraction of the said o was correct. When asked the question di-rectly, "Would you advise the populists of Nebraska against casting their votes for the sole benefit of Cleveland?" she said: "My advice to democrats and republicans as well e for Weaver and Field." She admitted that if it was not for the implied admission that General Weaver was not able to win.

she would answer the question "Yes," and it was very evident from her speech and her subsequent conversation that rather than have the south giory in its mistreatment of herself and General Weaver in the election of Cleveland, she would prefer to have all the western states vote solidly for Harrison. for prosecuting the war for the union, devis-ing the national banking system, in resum-ing space payments, in paying the deet, in providing the great sums required for giving just peasions to the soldiers, and in its whole policy of the last thirty years has shown the greatest financial ability and achieved the greatest financial successes attained furing the century in any part of the world and has, therefore, a right to claim the popular confidence now. The democratic party has opposed it, in whole or in part, at every one of these successful steps, and has encouraged in turn every financial heresy of the same period, from fiat money and the payment of bonds in greenbacks, to the substitution of state for national bank notes; and it has, therefore, no right to claim the popular con fidence now on the subject.
"It is a statement which no candid and ompetent authority, whatever its positical idencies, can deny that the adoption now of the policy pursued by our opponents in their declaration of principles as to the repeal of the present tariff, the passage of a tariff for revenue only and the substitution of state bank for national currency, would give an immediate and disastrous shock to business. we are sometimes told that they do not mean what they say. If so, could the people wisely intrust power to a party which does not mean to keep its promises and appeals for popular support with an admitted lie upon its lips!

Must Pace the Issues.

"At other times, we are told that their candidate neither believes their platform, nor would dream of carrying it out, and that, therefore, there is no danger. We no such aspersion upon their candidate. hold the momination under such circum-stances would be an act not only of treachery to the party whose standard he bears, but of folly besides since the country could not help seeing that an effort was in procress to deceive it, as to either the policy of the party or the purpose of the candida e. Above all things the American people like plain dealing, despise men who have not the courage of their convictions, and repudiate those who try to deceive them. It is impossible that any candidate in this contest can have for one instant intended to occupy a position so unworthy. Furthermore, the duty of carrying out the plain purpose decided by an overwhelming majority in the highest demo cratic triounal would devolve, not upon th president, but upon the congress to be elected by the party which promises the repeal of the present tariff, which demands a tariff for revenue only, and pronounces any other unconstitutional, and proposes to spandon he national bank currency in favor of that ssued by state banks. Democracy's Power Held in Check

"The danger has never before been so great. The democratic party has threatened the peace and prosperity of the country, but within the memory of this generation it has never had the power to carry out its pur-poses. As has been already remarked, when had a president he was held in check by a republican congress and when a democratic house of representatives was elected it was still held in check by a republican senate. Not for one hour since March, 1859, has the democratic party had power to centrol the legis-lation and direct the policy of the United States government. On the comparatively recent occasion when it elected the only president it has chosen since James Buchanan, it did not succeed in securing a majority in the senate and was therefore unable to enact such legislation as is now proposed. It has been sometimes said, 'you predicted all manner of disasters when Mr. Cleveland was elected, but nothing handed?' but nothing happened.' A good many regretable things did happen, though the worst could not because the hands of the party were tied in congress. But the present were tied in congress. But the present political situation makes it plain to every one that a democratic victory in the states which they must now carry in order to elect a president would also insure them enough new scnators to reverse the present slender ma jority in the senate. If they elect a presi dent this time they will certainly have both the house and senate too, and thus will be placed in absolute control for the first time since 1859, with nothing to prevent their carrying out the threats they have made against both the present tariff and present currency. It is idle, therefore, as it is slanderous, to say that there is no danger from the triumph of our opponents since their candidate will re fuse to carry out their principles. He could not with credit, and he could not anyway because the power would rest, not with him but with congress.

On the Force Bill,

"These questions of the tariff and the cur rency are of vital and instant importance to the whole country and to all its people, the radical changes amounting to an absolute reversal of policy. The attempt to change this issue and divert attention from these pressing questions of the hour to an alleged force bill scarcely calls for notice. The very tills of the bill calls for notice. The very little of the bill referred to proclaimed its object to be to prevent the use of force at elections. It failed any way, and the southern white men, who were lately its chief, as they were its most interested, opponents, now begin to wish it revived, to protect them from being themselves counted out of elections they have fairly won—as the other day in Alabama—by their own white fellow demo-crats. It is well, however, to say that the denunciation in the democratic platform of the principal that the federal government may supervise the election of federal officers is grotesque. That principal has been long recognized, it has been sustained by the courts, it now stands undisputed on the statute books and it was enforced at recent elections by Grover Cleveland, then president of the United States, through his order of October 5, 1886, to Mr. Garland, his attorney general. But it is not to be dis guised that the recent clamor against the principle, if it means anything, means a purpose to nullify the XIV, and XV, articles of the constitution of the United States.

Revival of American Shipping. "The revival of American shipping is a subject of great and growing importance The republican party has taken successful steps to this end, and the resolutions of its convention confirm its devotion to a principle on which its practice has already been wise and efficient. The democratic resolutions say nothing of the subject, and it is fair to say that the # democratic party taxes no interest in it; its only desire being that we should buy our salps abroad—just as through the whole tariff contests it wished us to buy our iron and clothes and cotten goods and glassware and pottery and tin abroad. "In addressing to you, in accordance with usage, these observations, I have preferred to confine them to the questions of policy of present and commanding importance, which the positions of the two parties are absolutely antagonistic. But I take this opportunity to repeat my adhension to the res-

Introns of your convention as a whole.

'The administration of President Harrison has been generally recognized as honest, able and safe. Considering the number of im-portant subjects, of both fereign and domestic policy, it has been compelled to deal with and the satisfaction that has attended the result, it may, indeed, be pronounced bril-lantly skillful. It has adjusted difficult questions with consideration for weak nations and with courteous but resolute firmness to the most powerful. It has protected the honor of the flag and the rights of our citizens; has preserved the peace and secured the further application of its principles of international arbitration; has removed the long standing probabilion, on unjust charges, of unhealthfulness against our fool products; has opened markets with our neighbors, and promoted a closer intercourse.

Its Work at Home.

"At home it has refunded a portion of the remaining dobt at the lowest rate ever ob tained by any nation in the civilized world; has largely strengthened and improved our nave; has greatly enlarged the free list at our custom houses, and remitted over $100,-00,000 of duties on a single article in admitting sugar free. 'Not to enumerate further, it may be fairly said that the present condition of the country and the public confidence in the adninistration combine to form the strongest protest against subjecting the people to the shock and needless risk inevitable in such a change. A sudden reversal of policy is no what either the suggestions of ordinary busiless prudence or the other obvious and genoral contentment of the people call for.

"I believe your declaration of principles and your renomination of a prudent, spotless and skillful president will commend the popular approval at the poils and will, under God, inure to the continued benefit of our country. Very respectfully yours,

"WHITELAW REID. "OPHIR FARM, October 18, 1892.

Their Eighth Joint Debate. Holdinger, Neb., Oct. 18 .- [Special Telegram to THE BEE. |-The eighth joint discussion between Hon. W. E. Andrews and Hon. W. A. McKelghan was held here today. The day was fine and the town was anve with people pretty evenly divided between upporters of Andrews and McKeighan. McKeighan had the opening and closing in his first speech of one hour. He talked principally on the currency question and against the republican party for the financial legislation for the past thirty years. Prof. Andrews followed in a speech of one hour and a half and after pointing out the facthat his opponent was simply threshing old straw proceeded to discuss the political juestions and issues of the present campaign ann closed by propounding to Mr. McKeighan a number of questions, which he failed to answer in his closing speech.

Louisville's First Rally.

Louisville, Neb., Oct. 18 .- [Special Telegram to THE BEE. |-Hon. J. E. Frick of Fremont and C. S. Polk of Plattsmouth addressed the people of Louisville on the political issues of the day from a republican standpoint this evening. This is the first republican speaking in this city this season and was well attended. These gentlemen made many friends here and the prospects are very flattering for a large republican vote at the coming election.
