The lot in question belongs to a man named Kuczek and was offered for sale recently for $2500. He will have a hearing before the commissioner today.

Fire Corner of Broadway and Benton Street.

Our late loss by fire was covered by two policies, both in the COUNCIL BLUFFS INSURANCE COMPANY.

At 7 o'clock the next afternoon after the fire the secretary was on the ash heap, pencil in hand, ready to figure the loss down to bedrock, which he did, too, saying that it was his duty and no small part of his business.

So long as he had not got below bedrock we had no reason to complain, consequently the settlement was not only prompt, but in every way satisfactory, so much so that in addition to $9,300 (seven policies) carried by this company before the fire we now add to it $10,000.

Being intimately acquainted with the secretary and directors we cannot be persuaded that better indemnity can be obtained than that offered by our home company, besides we believe in patronizing worthy home enterprises, everything being equal, and unless we do we shall continue to be dependent on foreign capital and corporations.

G. R. WHEELER, JAS. A. HERBELD.

No bankrupt, fire-smoked, damaged furniture at Meyer's, 393-397 Broadway. Clean goods, less than any Omaha prices.

NEWS FROM COUNCIL BLUFFS

Great Preparations for the Celebration of Columbus Day.

PROGRAMS OF UNUSUAL EXCELLENCE

School Children in the Morning Will Observe the Day with Singing Exercises.

The Grand Parade in the Afternoon—Other Features.

The committee on arrangements for the celebration of Columbus day held a meeting at the city council chamber yesterday, and spent a good share of the afternoon in talking over matters and arranging the details of the celebration in a way that will probably strike Mr. Columbus dumb with amazement when he looks down—or up—to-morrow and sees what a furor he has caused.

Mr. Steadman was present and reported that he had been interviewing the railway officials with a view to ascertaining how many railway employes can be secured to take part in the parade. From his observation he judged that between 300 and 500 of them would fall into line.

How the Parade Will Be Formed.

The parade will form around Baylis park between 12 and 2 o'clock, and will move at 2 o'clock sharp. The following will be the order of march:

After the parade there will be a program presented at the park. At 12:30 o'clock the First Baptist church will open the exercises with prayer, after which five-minute speeches will be made by Clinton Sponner of the High school, Judge J. H. Reed, Rev. C. W. Brewer, Emmet Binley, C. M. Harl, L. S. Steadman, Judge W. L. Smith, J. E. Ables, J. N. Baldwin and Superintendent W. Sawyer. After long talks will close the exercises with a benediction. Musical selections will be interspersed in the program.

Today as early as possible all the societies that intend to take part in the parade are requested to name one of their number to act as aide to the marshal of the day.

In the Public Schools.

The day will be observed in the public schools with appropriate exercises, the official program being followed and separate exercises being held simultaneously in the several school buildings, commencing at 9 o'clock.

ODD FELLOWS IN SESSION.

Public Meeting Held—Arrangements for Today's Parade.

The grand lodge of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows commenced its annual session yesterday morning at the Masonic temple, which was filled to overflowing with members of the order and outsiders who gathered to witness the opening ceremonies. The morning was taken up entirely with a public reception. Mayor Lawrence was to have made the address of welcome and tender the keys to the freedom of the city, which they had already captured by their own leave, but in his absence Judge W. J. Smith presented them the keys to the city in his own graceful way. The rest of the morning session was spent in a social way, no business being transacted until the afternoon session.

Grand Secretary W. M. Garrett read his annual report, which contained some interesting figures showing the growth of the order during the past year. The number of lodges now in existence in the state is 544, with a total membership of 29,951, the gain during the year being twenty-seven in the number of lodges and 2,600 in the number of members. The total receipts have been $101,637.77. There have been 107 deaths out of a membership of nearly 30,000. The receipts of the secretary's office have amounted to $12,102 and the expenses $6,020, both of these amounts being larger than for any preceding year.

This morning's session will be taken up with business of a routine nature and the final adjournment will take place about noon.

At 1:45 the members will assemble at the Grand hotel to take part in a parade that is to take in not only the Odd Fellows of Iowa, but those of Nebraska as well. The grand parade of Nebraska, which is in session in Omaha, will come over and join the procession. About 4 o'clock the whole party will return to the Masonic temple, where they will be entertained in the evening with a banquet.

Making War on the Saloons.

Mrs. Hettie Britton has commenced a crusade against the saloons in the town of Underwood, where she lives, and, judging from the number of petitions that were placed on file in the district court yesterday, the saloons of that place will have a very rocky road to travel from now on. She alleges that the proprietors of four of the places sold in locating liquors to her husband, R. Britton, at different times, although he was in the habit of drinking beer.

Schroeder, one of the saloonists, sold Britton liquor every month since last October, and she demands a judgment of $100 in favor of the school fund for each month, making a total judgment of $1,200 in all. Fisher & Son are made defendants in a suit for $400 for four months, J. W. Norris for $300, and A. H. Dornas and Henry Hagerdorn for $100.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Dora Davidson and Miss Ramie Austen will present the new successful comedy drama "Dangers of a Great City," at Boyd's theater tonight, and for the three succeeding nights, with Saturday matinee, which has made the most pronounced hit, Miss Ramie Austen, an excellent and proven comedienne, while Dora Davidson sustains her reputation as the foremost character. The Cincinnati Enquirer says: "Dangers of a Great City" is a melodrama of the most interesting, combining all the elements of a popular success. The climaxes are startling in the extreme, situations of novel and original, holding the audience spellbound and astonished at the many thrilling instances. The narrative introduces a love story, tender, pathetic, effective and touching. A rich comedy vein is interwoven, giving the necessary relief to this stellar play. Of the stars it would be difficult to offer them too much praise, for they are thorough masters of their art. Miss Ramie Austen is a beautiful young lady, she lends her performance refined grace and beauty. Dora Davidson excels all actors in his particular line.

Clara Morris, with practically the same excellent cast that supported her on her last visit here, comes to Boyd's Monday and Tuesday night. On Monday her familiar, but perfect portrayal of the heroine of the bill—Tuesday evening for the first time on any stage will be given Miss Morris' own adaptation from the German, entitled Claire.

Mr. Will O. Wheeler, agent for Patti Ross, is in the city. Miss Ross comes to the Boyd on October 25, 26 and 27.

Herbert Hall Winslow's comedy drama "A Barrel of Money" will be the attraction at the Forum street theater for four nights commencing with a Sunday matinee. "A Barrel of Money" is a comedy of the most successful productions of the past few seasons. It was presented without any extravagant claims of excellence and its popularity has long won for it a high reputation. The play is devoid of any of the violent efforts to amuse which are so frequently employed in a comedy, and is frequently and it depends upon its strength in this direction entirely upon the perfectly natural complications which result from the pure and honest story. The plot is finished. The melodramatic part of the play occurs in the third act, which represents a vivid interior of an iron mill, showing the large and massive machinery, the whistles, belts, buzzings, wheels whirling and steam escaping. During the first and second acts numerous high class specialties are introduced. The company includes Jerome Loomis, Lloyd Neal, Rosabelle Russell, D. Jay Mann, Edith Ellison, Will Scudling, Ralph Durman, Matt McChinnis and others. Matinee Wednesday.

De Witt's Sarsaparilla is reliable.
