THE OMAHA BEE NEWS FROM COUNCIL BLUFFS

Columbian Day Observed with Due Pomp and Ceremony.

THOUSAND PEOPLE IN LINE

Festivities Commenced Early and Ended Late - Decorations of the Various Buildings-Every Room a Mass of Red, White and Blue,

Columbian day was celebrated in Council Bluffs yesterday with all due pomp and ceremony. In spite of the dubious looking early morning, lowa weather redeemed itself before the day was over, and a more agreeable day for marching the streets could not have been desired.

The day's festivities commenced at 9:30 o'clock in the morning, when the pupils of the public schools assembled at their various buildings and went through the exercises as laid down in the official program. The presicent's proclamation was read by one of the pupils, after which the flags were raised to the tops of the flag staffs by detachments of veterans. The flags were saluted with vigorous cheers from the children, who combined patriotism with their natural inclination to use their lungs in a very successful manner. After the singing of several patriotic sougs the children adjourned to presence of a large number of their friends, the remainder of the p. ogram was presented. The decorations of the different buildings

They were given an enthusiastic welcome are worthy of especial praise. The money last Sanday night, and will continue their to provide the material for decorating was furnished by the school children themselves and the work was done by them, the assistance of their teachers. E room was a mass of red, white and blue, and the scholars of the various rooms had appar-ently yield with one another to see which could have the finest and the most tasteful display.

Patriotism Ran Wild,

The afternoon, however, was the time when patriotism ran wild. The streets looked as if there had been a rain storm of red, white and blue during the noon hour. orated. Men, women and childrenthe latter-run about the streets bearing the national colors in every conceivable form, some of them going so far as to be clad from top to toe in them.

The parade formed about Bayliss park under the leadership of W. J. Davenbort, president of the day, and his aides. Promptly at 2 o'clock it left the park, headed by a platoon of police and Daisey's band, foilowed by the Board of Education, the clergy and the committee on arrangements. Then came the school children. Four thousand of them, everyone of them carrying the colors, made a sight not soon to be forgotten. Al most all the pupils were there, from the lit-tie tots a foot and half tall, of the primary grades, to the staid and dignified young misses of the senior class in the High school. Besides the 4,000 pupils there were ninety-five teachers, and they all kept step with soldier like precision to the music furnished by the drum corps of the various school buildings. The pupils of each room were preceded by a flag bearing the photograph of Columbus.

After the schools came one Dodge Light guards, who made a very creditable appearance in spite of their being so ewhat crip-pled by the absence of quite a number of the members, who are attending the opening of the World's fair. Then came the Grand Army of the Republic, the Sons of Veterans, Union Veteran Legion and L. dies' Auxiliary, the Woodmen of the World, armed with taxes, members of the Independent Order of Odo Fellows, the Danebo society with their band, the veteran firemen and the members

Ten Thousand in Line.

The pupils and teachers of the Catholic schools, who immediately followed the pupils of the city schools, made an especially fine appearance. St. Joseph's and St. Francis meademies, and St. Peter's parochial school were represented by their full membership, all in full uniform. The uniforms were very neat, and the general appearance of their part of the procession reflected great credit on those who had the management. parade, as nearly as can be estimated from the membership of the different societies who took part, and it was nearly two hours from the time it started until it had covered the circuit as published a day or two ago, and returned to Bayliss park, where the speeches were to be made.

President W. J. Davenport introduced the several speakers, who were limited to five minutes. Rev. J. H. Davis offered prayer, after which Clinton Spooner, one of the pupils of the high school, made the opening address, and covered bimself with glory. Then followed in turn Emmet Tialey, C. M. Harl, Judge W. I. Smith, John Ahles, Superintendent H. W. Sawyer and Cotonel D. B. Dailey. The program was interspersed with musical selections by the pupils of the schools, and the audience was held until the

From first to last the celebration was highly successful, and the credit of its being so must be given largely to Superintendent Sawver, who has been working on the details of the program for weeks past, President Davenport and Colonel Dailey, who had the management of yesterday's exercises, and to the teachers who co-operated in the preparations.

By 7 o'clock the next morning after fire the secretary was on the ash heap, pencil in hand, ready to figure the loss down to bedrock, which he did, too, saying that' it was his duty and no small part of his business " So long as he did not go below bedrock we had no reason to complain, consequently the settlement was not only prompt, but in every way satisfactory, so much so that in addition to $9,200.00 (seven policies) carried by this company before the fire we now add to it $16,000,00.

Being intimately acquainted with the secretary and directors we cannot be persuaded that better indemnity can be obtained than that offered by our home company, besides we believe in patronizing worthy home enterprises, everything being equal, and unless we do we shall continue to be dependent on foreign capital and corporations.

Grand Lodge Adjourns, The Odd Fellows' grand lodge held its closing session yesterday. In the morning as amendment to the constitution was adopted, providing that the amount of weekly benefit shail not be less than $2 per week during the first year of disability, and not less than $1 per week thereafter. The con-sideration of the resolution providing for the $0.30 salary to the grand master was adopted mendments to make the salary $600 and 1,200 being lost. A scheme for adstricting the state was presented and referred to a committee to be appointed by the new grand master. It provided that every county baving a membership of 300 or more be constituted a district, and entitled to a delegate, with an additional delegate for each 200 members or fraction thereof over 300. It also provided that where a county has not

300 members it shall be annexed to the ad-joining counties until the required number is reached, the number of districts not to be more than 100. In the afternoon the grand lodge adjourned after transacting some routine business and fixing upon Clinton as the

Dr. G. W. Pangle Was in It. One of the most noticeable personages in yesterday's procession was Dr. G. W. Pangle, whose unique appearance attracted attention wherever he moved. Clad in a rich suit, a peautiful blue velvet coat with large white pearl buttons, red vest, Wellington lace boots, an odd shaped silk hat, from beneath which his ong hair and whiskers gave play to the breeze, he presented a striking figure. gracefully mounted on a white charger ecorated with national colors. Pangle is enthusiastic in his patriotism as he is in the healing of diseases. RUMOR OF TROUBLE OVER IRISH AFFAIRS

Release of Prisoners Convicted of Dyna mite Outrages the Cause of Differences-Dissatisfaction in Some of England's Crack Regiments.

[Copyrighted 1892 by the Associated Press.] Loxpox, Oct. 21 .- It is rumored that a serious difference has arisen in the cabinet over the question of the release of the prisoners who were convicted of having taken part in the dynamits outrages that occurred several years ago. A prominent conservative organ this evening declared that the situation is so scate that Mr. Asquith, the home secretary, has threatened to resign. It is an open secret that there has been a difference of opinion in the ministry as to the settlement of the Trafalgar Square question, but the matter was arranged by the general acceptance of the difference of the compromise which was announced in these dispatches of Wednesday last. These settlements were proposed by Mr. Asquith nimself, who converted the other members of the ministry to this simple solution of a knotty question which the con-servatives had expected would be a thorn in the side of the government for a long time to come. Making the Most of It.

The present difficulty has been greatly magnified in the tory districts. Sir William Version Harcourt, chancellor of the exchequer, is said to be resolute against the release of any of the dynamite prisoners, while Mr. Asquith favors the granting of amnesty to many of them, though even be hesitates to favor the general pardon of all the dynamiters. The literals ridicule the idea that there is any serious dissenindependent circles, that Mr. Asquith who is young and ambitious, is not likely to jeopardize his newly won position, to which some months ago be had no idea of attaining, by serious opposition to any solution of the dynamite problem which has received the general approval of his colleagues.

Owing to reports from radical centers one item from the Newcastle program is certain of execution. Sir William Vernon Harcourt has decided that the next budget, which he intends shall be thoroughly democratic, shall include proposals providing for a "free breakfast table," by the abolition of duties on tea, coffee and cocoa, the resulting reduction in the revenue to be made by increased taxation on land. Such a scheme would give immense satisfaction to the working classes which have for a long time been agitating this subject.

Mutineus Troops.

The recent manifestations of mutiny, coming one on top of another, in crack regiments like the guards and Thirteenth Hussars, are creating a feeling bordering on consternation throughout the country, and causing a general outery for a thorough inquiry into the cause of what appears to be widespread discontent. Letters published in the news-papers from soldiers, some of whom still be-long to discontented regiments, force the belief that the officers are greatly to blame. It is asserted that many officers of the Life guards are quite ignorant of their duties, rarely attend drills and are obliged to have subordinates near them on field days to tell them the word of command to give. Soldiers have even been known to execute movements without commands from their officers in order to save the crodit of the troops. Yet the same officers, when the troops. Yet the same officers, when they inspect troops, rooms and stables, find the most stupid and most trivial faults and impose extreme punishment on the soldiers for their alleged carelessness. The radical members of the House of Commons have been discussing the situation recently, and when Parliament reopens Mr. Campbell-Bannermin, the secre-tary of war, will be closely questioned on the subject. A result of this questioning will probably be an official inquiry that will probe the whole matter to the pottom. The impression that the chief fault for the mutinous manifestations is not wholly on the side of the men is The fact is shown by an article in an outspoken tory organ, the evening News, which, after severely criticising the dismissal of noncommissioned officers of the Life guards, "They were expelled from the army because they did not correct the blundering policy of superiors. It would be far better to cashier some of the ornamental idiers who only upset the discipline of the regiment and display their own vanity and incompetence.

Injustice to Noncommissioned Officers. Particularly hard as the case of the married "noncoms" who were dismissed. They were put to the expense of moving their homes from Windsor to Sperin Cliffe before they were told of their dismissal, The cases enlist even the sympathy of the Times, which says their dismissal has caused a serious feeling throughout the regiment. Great indignation is expressed in regard to the matter, and the other men do ciare it is their intention to buy their discharge. One of the noncommissioned officers who were discharged was confined by illness to the hospital when the outbreak occurred. which fact did not prevent the authorities dealing as severely with him as those officers on active duty. A significant fact in connection with the insubordination of the Tairteenth Hussars, stationed at Cork, when twenty of the troop ers refused to parade as a protest against what they claimed were useless and arduous inspections, was the exceedingly light pun and the discontinuance thereafter of the parado in question. This was accepted as an admission of the higher authorities that the mutinous action of the men was not entirely unprovoked. The transfer of several officers of the company has been expected.

Lord Dunraven's Challenge. Little interest is shown in vachting circles in regard to the proposed race for the America cup. The apathy is chiefly due to the fact that Lard Dunraven's challenge emanates from himself privately and without the sanction of any existing club. Captain Cook, Lord Dunrayen's private secretary writing to the Pail Mall Gazette, of which be was appointed editor last week, expressed his confidence that the projected race will take place. He says he has little doubt that an agreement satisfactory to all concerned

The Standard, in an editorial commenting on this matter, says that all yachtsmen would be glad to see a renewal of the international contests for the America cup which the paper adds, ought to be conducted annually and in a spirit of frank and generous rivairy. Don Carlos After the Spanish Throne,

A portentious fact in connection with the illness of the king of Spain is the revival of activity in the Carlist centers in London and Paris. Signs are not wanting that proparations are being made by the Carlists to strike a blow ere long for the possession the Spanish throne. Carlists abroad are active communication with the network of committees with which Spain is overrun. Every town in the nighlands of Spain and a majority of the towns in other parts the country bave Carlist clubs. The Carlists in London complain that aithough they are supposed to be free to prosecute political agitation, their letters are tum pered with in transit and undue influence is exerted against them at the politing booths Carlos was greatly affected by the loss of life in the last war, and he is determined that the Carlist standard will not again b raised until there is an absolute certainty of

On top of the discovery than an American bullock imported into this country was infected with pleuro-pneumonia comes the an-nouncement that the disease has also been dis-covered in a Canadian cow which was landed in Dundee and taken to Fifeshire, where the disease exists. An inquiry as to he destination of other cattle conveyed on the same steamer with the infected cows has been instituted and a stricter inspection of all Canadian cattle in future has been
