DISCHARGED IN DISGRACE

Juror Redey Dismissed from the Panel by Judge Trvine.

HALL ESCAPED WITH A REP. IMAND

An Investigation Into the Jury Room Hilarities Results in Finding a Pretty State of Affairs-Doings of the District and Other Courts.

The trouble that existed between Attorneys Guriey, Ransom and Marple and the two jurors, Redey and Hall, has been settled. Redey has been discharged in disgrace from the jury, while Hall will be allowed to serve out his three weeks.

The climax was reached in Judge Irvine's court yesterday morning, where it was proved that Redey did say in the jury room that the three lawyers were three blankety, blanked blanks. That was all that was attempted to be proved, and the charge that two corporation men sat around court rooms when corporation cases were on trial was not touched. This trouble grew out of the trial of the

James Hogan against the Omana Street Railway company. Frank T. Ransom, one of the attorneys for Hogan, was the first man who went into the witness box. He reiterated the statements regarding what he had heard the statements regarding what is the which while in the room adjoining the one in which the jurors were confined.

George W. Davis, one of the jurors, testified that on the night after the case was submitted one of the jurors said that the at-terneys for the plaintiff were a lot of blank-ety, blanked blanks.

Mr. Webster objected to the testimony, not to throttle the investigation, but because the testimony of what occurred in the jury room was not admissible in evidence. Mr. Ransom said that the Nebrasks courts had passed upon that question and cited law to show that the court could inquire into the misconduct of a jury.

The judge held that the juror could testify

Juror Davis heard the remark and thought it was Juror Redey who made the charge. the also beard Redey way that there would have been no suit if Hogan's attorneys had not gone to the hospital and asked Hogan for the case. Redey further said that Gurley, Marple and Ransom made it their business to go around and look up such cases. Davis remembered the cards being in the jury room and said that they were taken there by Juror Hall. taken there by Juror Hall. In reply to Judge Irvine, Davis said that instructions of the judge!" "No, sir."

"Was there any proposition made to base

the verdict upon the result of the game of cards!" asked Juige Irvine, "Oh, no," answered the juror. Mr. Webster wanted to ask a few ques-Mr. Ransom objected, saving that he would not allow "Citizen Webster" to ask quesappeared. The court said that Mr. Webster could question the witness.

The witness testified that when the cards were produced all of the jurors were talking in a loud tone of voice. He did not know that Frank T. Ransom was outside the door when the remarks were made.

Mr. Davis did not think that similar lan guage was used against the officers of the Winess did not hear Juror Buckley say that the officers of the street railway com-pany were blankety blanked blanks and that he would vo'e against them, no matter what the evidence was.

Thomas S. Boyd was present when the rouble was being had in the jury room. The epithets were not applied to Gurley, Marpie and Rausom, but to attorneys in general. He could not remember who applied the wicked names to the lawyers.

Gurley Did Some Denying. Lawyer Gurley allowed nimself to appear as a witness to deny that he ever sought out Hogan and induced him to bring the suit against the street railway company. Law-yer Marple offered the same general denial and then Juror Redey went on the stand in his own benalf. He denied calling the at-torneys the names charged.

Lawyer Webster, under the protest of the other lawyers, took charge of the witness and showed that similar epithets were ap-plied to other persons and to corporations in There was no time that the witnes used the language complained of and there was no time when he refused to consider or obey the instructions of the court. Regarding the introduction of the game of cards, there were several jurors who suggested playing. There were seven jurors who played

The witness denied that he had said that Hogan's attorneys went to the hospital and solicited the suit, though there were jurers who ridicated Webster and the street car company.

Laid it All on Redey.

Juror Hill went into the box and laid most of it on Redey. It was he who used all of the bad language, but it was Hall who introduced the cards. They were bought while the jurors were at supper. Hill denied that he was the man who threatened to throw Redey and Hall out of the window if they did not agree to give Hogan a judgment.

William L. Buckley, another one of the jurors, had heard all that was charged against Jurors Redey and Hall. He knew of his own knowledge that the charges were true, though he had never neard either of them say that they would not be governed by the would not be governed by the syldence or the instructions of the court. The witness did not hear Juror Hall say that Gurley, Marple and Ransom were blankety, blanked blanks. Redey was the enly man who used that language.

Jurot Horaco W. Gleason was sworn and testified to what he had heard and seen in the jury room. He could not state who called the three lawyers bad names, though he know that it was either Redey or Hall. From the start the jury stood 10 to 2 in favor of allow-ing Hogan damages. The evidence was being discussed when the remarks were made by the two jurors.

Juror Hall, in testifying, said that he had not called any attorneys blankety, blanked blanks and had not heard Redey call them these names. He did not know that there was anything wrong in playing the cards. They were bought before the arguments were made. The juror denied that he had ever told Marple that he had made up his ind before the evidence was submitted. Judge fryine said that it was apparent that Hall had not called the lawyers bad names, but he had taken the cards into the room. That was wrong and should not occur again. It was also clearly proven that Redey was guilty of using unbecoming language to in-fluence the other members of the jury.

Decisions and New Cases. The South Omaha Live Stock association has learned that it cannot expel the firm of Jacason, Higgins & Co. from the organiza tion and caucel the membership. The case was started some months ago, when at a meeting it was voted to vote them out, charging that the members of the firm had violated some of the rules of the exchange. They enjoined the association from doing this, and the matter went into court. Yesterday morning Judge irvine passed upon the case, allowing the injunction to stand until the case proper could be reached for trial.

In the case of the Lewis Investment company against Baccus, the application for the appointment of a receiver was denied, it beg shown that the only property that the efendant had was his homestead.

Thomas J. Baldwin has sued the Missouri Pacific Railway company, in an action to recover the sum of $50,000 for the loss of his left ler, alleging that it was cut off by one of the defendant's trains through carelessness upon defendant's part.

The criminal division of the court is engaged in hearing the evidence in the case of the state against Charles Sherman, a back driver, who is charged with having robbed Charles Anderson of $55. The testimony shows that Anderson came to town with the fixed determination of carmining the municipality, and to help him he secured the services of one Flora Russell, a woman of the street. His next move was to load up

> Those who entertain delegates at their homes are not required to furnish dinner or supper for their guests, as the ladies of the church have arranged to serve dinner and supper to all the delegates at the church. This will b a great convenience for both the delegates and those who entertain and those who wish to attend the sessions of the convention. The First Baptist church will have charge of the serving of means for the first two days of the convention, Beth-Eden church and South Omaha church will serve the meals of Wednesday and the other Baptist churches of the city will take up the work for Thursday, the last day of the convention.

All the sessions of the convention will be held in the First Baptist church, corner of Davenport and Fifteenth. The convention will have to do with all the interests of the church and its various departments. The Sunday school, the educational work and the missionary cause will all have a share of the time and receive due consideration. Attending to Business.

The session began at 2 o'clock and was attended by a targe number of ministers and lay delegates. The session was called to order by Rev. G. W. Read of Rushville, president of the association.

Rev. H. W. Tate presented an atle paper upon "Church Growth." He touched upon many excellent points and awakened a deep interest in the theme. Rev. L. D. Pettit read a paper on the subject of divine guidance and the choice that ministers make in selecting their fields of labor. Rev. H. W. Stearns spoke upon "How to

It was one of the finest looking congregations ever gathered in a church in Omana. A very large propor-tion of the audience was composed of bright, intelligent young men and women and as most of them were neatelly badges pinned upon their breasts they looked like "an army with banners." There were just enough old and middleaged people in the congregation to suggest that life has its midsummer and its winter of old age as well as its spring of youth and hope.

The young people of this state met at Grand Island four years ago and organized the first Baptist Young People's society that was ever organized. This movement went from the west to the east and has found its way to almost every state. The speaker went over the important points in the Baptist faith and exhorted the brethren to be zealous, courageous and active in every department of the church work and particularly in the work that naturally devolved upon the young people's organiza-tion. Dr. Wilkins offered an earnest plea for the founding fund of $25,000, which he is attempting to raise for the purpose of push-ing forward the organization of the young people of the church. #### Right from the shoulder

Today we open and begin selling in our overcoat department on second floor-the first shipment of our eastern representatives recent great purchases in New York. The overcoats placed on sale today comprise about a thousand garments-in Kerseys, Chinchillas and Cassimeres-in blues-blacks-brownsmodes-and mixtures-and at the prices we have made on them they are the cheapest heat producers ever sold in Nebraska.

----you save two dollars-Will buy you today a good heavy blue chinchilla overcoat, cut double breasted-lined with substant'al twilled lining-with fancy sleeve lining-velvet collar andcanton flannel pockets.

_____you save four dollars_____ No more—no less—is the price today for a splendid heavy dark blue cassimere overcoat-lined with double warp Italian-with fancy striped sleeve lining -velvet collar-and canton flannel pockets. Six dollars here-ten elsewhere.

$8----you save four-fifty----For eight dollars you can buy of the Nebraska today an overcoat that would give the average clothier heart disease tosell for less han twelve and a half. You can have either kersey or chinchilla. The chinchillas are all wool-so are the kerseys. The chinchillas are lined with double warp black lining—the kerseys with plaid cassimere. The chinchilla sleeve linings are fancy stripes-the kerseys of heavy surah silk. The chinchillas are blues and blacks-the kerseys fancy shades of browns and modes. $10.50 ______ you save four-fifty ____ _ $10.50 Ten fifty buys a fifteen dollar overcoat teday. These garments are made of elegant fine heavy kersey-with fancy plaid cassimere lining-pinked
