

KANSAS "RAIN-MAKER'S" SUIT

Required to Show Proof of His Part in Producing Moisture.

THINKS HE SAVED A BIG FIELD OF CORN

But a Lincoln Man is Not Thoroughly Satisfied that Such is the Case—Presents Features of a Lancaster County Case.

LANSING, Neb., Oct. 25.—[Special to The Bee.]—A novel suit has been filed in the district court in this county in which William H. Swisher, the "rainmaker" of Lancaster, Kansas, sues J. H. McMurtry for $500. Last summer during a prolonged spell of dry weather McMurtry proposed to save a big corn field belonging to himself from the effects of the drought. Accordingly he made a contract with Swisher to produce an inch of rain, amounting to pay him $500 for the same providing the rain came within a certain specified time. Swisher commenced his wash boiler operations and on the afternoon of the day specified in the contract a heavy rain fell. It continued for several moments and then the sun came out brightly. This storm was general over the entire country. The rain fell over the entire state. McMurtry refused to pay the $500 unless Swisher would produce the proof which was caused by his efforts. Hence the suit.

Wants Heavy Damages. J. E. Wierick today commenced suit against the owners of the Brown block in this city for damages in the amount of $10,000.

Will Receive Patrick Egan. The general committee have in charge the arrangements for the reception to be tendered to Hon. Patrick Egan, United States minister to Chili, here on Monday.

A proposition was made to the Rapid Transit company last night by the Brattle Street Railway company for the sale of its line to the Rapid Transit company.

Knocked Down and Robbed. GENEA, Neb., Oct. 25.—[Special Telegram to The Bee.]—A man named Franklin from York was knocked down and robbed of $80 by a stranger when he was on the street and retained for some time. Two young toughs were displaying considerable money and many suspicious circumstances.

shot him dead. Claire spent four years in prison, and on the day of her release her husband and his mother-in-law plotted her death. A reconciliation was effected, but Claire had been very ill in prison and died at the moment of starting for her home.

The drama is notable for the unusual boldness with which it discusses a rather delicate matter, judged from the American, or at least the Puritanical, point of view. The country mother, the country girl, the country story with an unimpeded detail and Claire condemns his lustful conduct with a violence of description which is rather unusual.

Byron Theater and Wonderland. For excellence the program at the Bijou has never been surpassed. The new program is exceptionally good and promises to attract large audiences during the week.
