NEBRASKA SUNDAY SCHOOLS

Progress and Scope of the Work Considered by the Baptists.

STATE ASSOCIATION OFFICERS CHOSEN

Addresses on the Manner of Conducting This Great Branch of Church Work-Bushing Children Into the Church-The Convention's Work.

The Sunday school interests occupied the forenoon session of the Baptist church con-

Rev. J. A. Whitting spoke upon "The Sunday School as an Elucator." He he.d. that the Sunday school could and should be made a means of education not only for children but for adults as well.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year to act as leaders of the State Sunday School association: President, Rev. F. E. Hodsen, Texamah; vice president, L. M. Bryan, Grand Island; secretary, E. A.

Rusning Children Into the Church. Dr. Stone, an aged but enthusiastic Sunday school worker, offered some very appropriate remarks. He was not in favor of rushing children from the Sunday school into the church without a full assurance that the little ones knew what they were doing. He had seen children persuaded that they were Christians and coaxed into the church, when as a matter of fact they knew but very little about the essentials of Christianity. He believed in taking the children into the church intelligently, not rashly. He thought that the home was an excellent place to fit children for active church work and true

Sunday School and Home.

J. H. Rodgers of Hastings talked upon "The Sunday School and the Home." It was the fittle things, he said, that made the Sunday school work a success. As large buildings were composed of bits of brick and stone and lumber so the Sunday schoo work was made up of small but important things. The teacher who aimed at success in the Sunday school should do something every day in order to have the preparation complete. The children of every home should have the special attention of their parents and their older brothers and sisters every day in the week along the line of bible study touching the lessons being taught in the Sunday school. It was a bad idea for parents to speak disparagingly of the Sunday school teacher. It was better to pray over the matter or talk to the teacher The speaker held that the little ones should always be supplied with a few pennies to place in the contribution box at the Sunday About Baptist Publications.

Dr. C. C. Bithing of Philadelphia, general secretary of the Baptist Publication society, was introduced and addressed the convention at some length.

He compared the Christian army with an army of conquest, going forth to conquer the world. The Baptist church was an import ant division of this great army.

He spoke of the essentials of success at tending the movement. In order to succeed it was necessary to pay attention to the commissary department, the source from which the supplies must be forwarded. The publication department, which issued the bibles and tracts and all the literature needed for the conquest, was the storehouse of supplies, and it was of vital importance to the success of every department of the church.

The speaker presented the various branches of the publication society's work and urged upon the convention the great importance of supporting the publication department with good, liberal collections.

"You may think that the day of tracts is absolete, but let me tell you comething," said Dr. Bitting. "I went into the republican national headquarters in New York the other day and asked them if they had any literature for distribution. They took me into a room where there were wagon leads of circulars and pamphlets going out on every mail. The democratic headquarters was visited and the same condition of affairs rrevailed. I tell you the good thing in politics they are a good thing in religious work. We should sow the coun-try knee-deep with good literature." The cry for more money for missions was all good enough, but it would never do to neglect the publication department, Through that department the masses could be most

In closing the speaker urged the convention to secure and support at least one col porteur for every district association in the Dr. Fulton's Talk.

Or. Fulton of Boston was present and was eagerly called to the front. He is a very fascinating speaker and nails his points dow with strokes so vigorous and well directed that everybody knows what he is driving at He said a number of things about the Baptis Publication society that were very compli-Speaking of the dedicatorial of the Columbian expo-Dr. Fulton said that Bishop Fowler's prayer was the grandest effort of the kind be ever heard. He thanked God that Protestant Christianity had the upper hand in the dedicatorial services.

Dr. Fulton is a man who fairly boils and butbles with epigrammatic eloquence. He stirs his audience in a remarkable manner. He lectured last night upon "Spurgeon and Dr. Heilings of Omaha made a brief but very interesting address after which the convention adjourned for dinner which was served in the basement of the church by the ladies of the Beth-Eden and South Omaha Baptist churches.

Tackled the Regular Order.

The regular program of the Baptist state convention vesterday afternoon embraced the annual sermon, the address of welcome, the response and the reports of the board of managers, the treasurer and other routine business belonging to the association,
All the sessions prior had been devoted to the auxiliary departments of the church Dr. E. T. Allen, president, presided. The devotional meeting was led by Rev. James The annual sermon was delivered by Rev. W. G. Evans. He selected a text from the seventeenth verse of the third chapter of Matthew. The theme was the responsibility resting upon the followers of Jesus Christ. The speaker held that the success of the Christian church depended entirely upon the earnestness and activity of the individual members of the church. God could not be well pleased with those who professed to follow Christ unless they did their duty. Little Late but Very Cordial. Rev. Frank W. Foster of Omaha delivered velcoming the brethren to Omaha thrust upon him. He congratulated the delegates upon the growth and prosperity church in the state. From one small strug-gling congregation a quarter of a century age, the denomination had increased its congregations to over 250, and its total membership in the state to almost 15,000.

"We welcome you to Omaha," said the speaker, "and as I look into the bright, friendly faces of the brethren and sisters before me, I feel almost sorry that the good, and manufacture manufacture of saintailing has been before me, I feel almost sorry that the good, and amount of saintailing has been been seen to be seen the saintailing as the seen that the good of the seen the seen that the good of the good of the seen that the good of the seen that the good of the seen that the g old apostolic manner of salutation has be-

Several of the sisters smiled pleasantly at this and some of them gave their husbands a gentle shove with their elbows and smiled

The speaker said there was no new plan of action that amounted to anything in the fight against sin. What the modern church needed was a consecration of the old system.

The good old way of wrestling with God in prayer was the post and surest way to secure spiritual strength and conquering power.

Very Glad They Came. The response to this address of welcome was delivered by Dr. E. T. Alles, president of the association. His speech was liberally sprinkled (if that word can be applied to a Baptist speech) with good points. The present rate of increase, which was last year about 1.200, or 5 per cent of the membership, if continued, would make the church a mighty power in the state in the near future. He made a special plea for the destitute churches where there were no preachers. He believed that much good might be accomplished by the practice of a liftle more of the itinerant plan followed by the Methodists. This would help the masteriess churches. The president gave an account of the work done dur-ing the year for the assistance of struggling churches in various parts of the state and urged the appointment of a general superintendent of church bullding to assist in the raising of funds for the assistance of new churches and others needing help.

Pleasing Church Concert.

A large and very appreciative audience as sembled Tuesday night at the Knox Presbyterian church where a concert was given under the auspices of the Young People's society. Every number on the program was rendered in a very artistic manner and elicited hearty applause.

Miss Grace Williams won new laurels as a pianiste, while Misses Mason and Macomber in a vocal duot entitled, "Till We Meet Again," captivated their hearers, and were

The playing of the Symphony Banjo quartet, led by Prof. G. F. Gillenbeck came in for its full meed of praise. Under such skillful leadership this quartet has become one of the leading musical organizations of Omaha. No part of the entertainment was more thoroughly enjoyed than the singing of the Chapel quartet, composed of Messrs, Wedge, Harding, Conover and Rockwell. Their rendition of "Evening Bells" was faultless, and "The Luitby," a soprano solo by Miss Wedge, supported in the chorus by the quartet, was rapturously cheered. Mrs. Filta Matheson, one of the instructors in the University of Omaha, convuised the audience with a declaration very effectively given, entitled, "A Dudo's Experience in a Horse Car." Master Joe Jonasen, a lad of 11 years, exhibited no small degree of pro-ficiency in the use of the violin, and won much onthusiastic praise. The proceeds, quite a handsome sum, are to be given by this Young People's society to the Theological seminary of the Presbyterian church in

A SOLDIER'S STORY.

"Given up to Die" by the Doctors.

He Thanks God for Sagwa and Prays for Its Success.

LEAVENWORTH, KANSAS, Aug. 15, 1892. I deem it my duty to tender this my testimonlal as an offer of gratitude for what "Kickapoo Indian Sagwa" has done for me. I came out of the army in the fall of '65, brogen down by chronic dyspepsia in its worst gen down by chronic dyspepsia in its worst form, and also enlargement of the heart. I consulted the best physicians, and visited institutions in the East, and one and all told me the same thing, —I never could get well.

By suggestion of an old comrade I took Kickapoo Indian Sagwa, and thank God for it. Sagwa has changed my life from misery and pain to one of health and gladness, and I can now eat anything without distress. My heart is all right and my friends are astonished.

The physician who knew of my case and heard of my cure said that a medicine that is capable of making such a cure, he not only endorses but cheerfully recommends to anyone.

If this testimonial comes under the notice of any soldier who is suffering, let him take of any soldier who is suffering, let him take the word of an old comrade,—buy a bottle of Indian Sagwa at once, and may God prosper you with the success of this remedy is the grateful prayer of JAMES WARRINER.
