CHICAGO'S BIG REGISTRY.

As an expression of sympathy for President Harrison in his great affliction, the parade of republican business men planned for yesterday was abandoned. Organizations with a membership of over 20,000 intended to turn out.

THE DEMOCRATS VIEW THE INCREASE THROUGH SPECULATIONS OF A DIFFERENT ORDER.

The Chicago Tribune publishes the lists in detail of wards and claims that on the whole it is favorable to the republicans. "It will be noted at a glance," says the Tribune, "that the gains are proportionately larger in the republican wards, like the Third, Fourth, Tenth, Eleventh, Twelfth, Thirteenth, Fourteenth and Twentieth wards of the old city than in the democratic wards."

IRVINE SAFE AT HOME.

Banker Montgomery's Slayer Welcomed by His Many Old Friends. SALT LAKE, U. T., Oct. 29.—(Special Telegram to THE BEE.)—W. H. Irvine arrived in this city today. His coming was unannounced, but as soon as his presence became known he was overwhelmed by old friends who called to congratulate him upon his escape from the Utah prison.

CATTLEMAN'S WAR NOT OVER.

All Wyoming Ranchmen and Cowboys Carry Winchester and Searns. RAPID CITY, S. D., Oct. 29.—All reports from Wyoming agree that the cattlemen's war yet smolders and that the situation is still critical. Parties who arrived here today, after making a trip through Johnson county, say that every ranchman, small stockman and cowboy they met carried a Winchester and wore sidearms.

A Card from Mr. Lobeck.

OMAHA, Oct. 29.—To the Editor of THE BEE: In your issue of Friday evening there was published a set of resolutions adopted at a meeting held at 1608 Cass street, by the Swedish American Republican club, endorsing the Aurora above all other Swedish papers published in Nebraska, as a republican paper. These resolutions appear with my name as vice-president of the club.

I wish to state that I have not authorized any one to use my name in connection with these resolutions and whoever had them published and used my name did so without my consent, or even inquiry of me. There are other papers published in the Swedish language in this state that are doing yeoman work for the republican party, and I should certainly do an injustice to them by in any way endorsing them and whoever had them published and used my name did so without my consent, or even inquiry of me.

County Commissioners.

The county commissioners held the regular weekly meeting yesterday afternoon without transacting any important business. Henry W. Geiselman, an old veteran, was ordered sent to the Soldiers home at Grand Island.

Burgled a Station.

POINTS ON THE BATTLE.

Current Notes of the Campaign Clipped from the Local Press.

Governor Plowden recently asserted that the democrats would carry New York by 50,000 majority. Within three days Chairman Harrity of the democratic national committee, after wrestling with the registration statistics, managed to figure out a majority of 15,000. The discrepancy between the two claims serves to show how rapidly democratic pretenses are dwindling in the Empire state.

Democratic Authority is Not Wanting to Show that New York is far from ready for the democracy, nor can republican claims be substantiated.

In its news columns last Monday the Sun declared the state was no man's, and such was the experience of the Philadelphia Ledger, "if not absolutely the closest, is the most doubtful state of all. In 1884 there was a difference of only nine one-hundredths of 1 per cent between the party votes. The small change required was effected in 1888, when the state was turned to Harrison, the republicans getting 49.10 per cent of the vote and the democrats 48.01, a difference of little more than 1 per cent. It is worth noting in this connection that the democratic vote fell off very little, though the republicans gained 1 per cent, the main loss per cent being in the third party. In a state polling a million and half of votes, with great centres of population like New York and Brooklyn, it is manifest that purely local causes must be sufficient to turn over enough votes to change the result one way or the other, though the remainder of the state should stand steadfast in party ranks. It is impossible to canvass such a big state closely enough to determine its probable vote where the margin is so small. A child can guess quite as well as Chairman Carter or Chairman Harrity what the result will be, unless there should be signs of a political revolution."

The remarkable increase in registration in the country districts, the arrest of democratic repeaters and the arrival of Matt Quay to take a hand in the campaign have given republican managers a confidence not heretofore shown.

Speaking on this point the Sun says: "The democrats at Mr. Sheehan's bureau, some of them the most practical men in the party, could not for the life of them understand the cause of the confidence of the republicans who gathered at the Fifth Avenue hotel. These democrats admitted frankly that the republicans were confident not only of carrying New York state, but of electing Harrison. This changed feeling on the part of the republicans has been particularly noticeable since Friday night and the election at Mr. Sheehan's bureau has observed that the feeling is growing. Mr. Sheehan and his friends are so certain of carrying New York state that they cannot understand the solid chunks of confidence at the Fifth Avenue hotel."

There will be five sets of presidential electors to be voted for in New York--republican, democratic, socialist labor, people's and prohibition parties.

It is reported by the World "on good authority that at Delmonico's Michael F. Dwyer, the well known horseman, had bet $10,000 to $7,000 that Cleveland will be elected."

Much interest is manifested at both national headquarters as to the exact result of the secret ballot on the party vote.

Various modifications of the Australian ballot law are now in force in twenty-eight states, and in nearly all of the number it has been adopted since 1888. This will be the first presidential year in which the secret ballot will be decisive in the election. The republicans must cast these new style ballots in fifteen states which have been more or less solidly in the republican column for years. These states are California, Indiana, Maine, Massachusetts, Minnesota, Nebraska, New Hampshire, New York, Ohio, Oregon, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, Illinois, Wisconsin and Vermont. The Sun opines that the result will determine the comparative intelligence of the two parties.

Senators Matt Quay and Arthur P. Gorman have settled down to work at the respective national headquarters.

The appearance of these distinguished campaigners at the party halls proves that a mighty struggle is being made for New York's thirty-six electoral votes.

"Few men can imagine," says the Sun, "the number of telegrams and letters which are daily received at the two national head-
