BOTH ENGINES DOWN EMBANKMENT LESS They Consist of Botton, Liste Thread, Bal-

Cars Off the Rails-Down the Hill-Upside Down-Smashed to Splinters-Whole Sides Stove In-Goods Scattered Everywhere, BOSTON STORE buys all the DRY GOODS that were shipped ON THESE TRAINS.

As soon as possible after the wreck our eastern buyer made arrangements for the immediate purchase and shipment to Omaha of every case, bale and package, whether entire or broken, that the railroad had to buy.

When you figure the proportionate amount of dry goods in two through freight trains at this time of the year, you will easily see that the purchase is simply gigantic.

The claims against the railroad com-pany amounted to over $108,000, this amount covering the entire figures on all the dry goods invoices. In such cases the company retains the entire shipment, or as much of it as can be found, and pays the consignee for the whole bill.

In this wreck were the opening stocks of two new dry goods houses, one in Denver and one in Dallas, Texas, and several fail bills of dry goods to mer-chants on this end of the line. In securing these goods The Boston Store secures another argument in favor of spot cash, and a colossal bargain at he same time. For the last 10 days we have been receiving these goods—at the rate of about 150 cases a day—until now the walls bulge out with the vast quantities of dry goods which are stored in solid piles of cases over the whole upstairs of our

In this case, as always, Boston Store will turn over the entire wrecked goods to the public in a very short time, next Wednesday, November 2d, and continue to dispose of them at fabulously low prices until all is sold.

Boston Store promises at the sale of these goods the wildest excitement that ever shook Omaha.

Silas Cobb related some of his experience with Judge Scott and claimed that the latter had sat down on him on one or two occasions much harder than was compatible with the

nucle harder than was compatible with the dignity of his judicial office.

N. M. Hubbard, jr., testified that about two weeks after the death of Judge Love Judge Scott wrote a letter to his father, Judge Hubbard of Cedar Rapids. Ia., in which he said: "Do you tains old Love's soul is far enough into the retors yet so that he reconstruct." the retorts yet so that he repents of his in-famous rulings in the Ellicott case?" The witness also stated that some time ago he had case before Judge Scott in which he reprea case before judge Scott in which he repre-sented the defendant, a railroad company, and Judge Gillis was the attorney for the plaintiff. The case had been once de-cided in favor of the plaintiff and came before Judge Scott on appeal, Judge Gillis wrote to the witness asking his consent to a continuance, as his child was very sick. He answered in the affirmative, and Judge Gillis attached the letter to his stipulation for a continuance. When the has a was called Judge Scott refused to honor case was called Judge Scott refused to honor the agreement for a stipulation and denied the appeal. In conclusion Mr. Hubbard said that he thought Judge Scott to be unfit to perform the duties of his office.

Monday. HAYDEN BROS. KNOWS WHEN TO QUIT. Dr. Fulton's lectures in this city are creating great interest. He will speak in the Exposition hall Sunday at 3 p. m. Dr. Miller is Done as an Editor-His Great Camil Scheme, "No, sir," said Dr. George L. Miller, Subject, "Are Romanists fit educators there is no truth in the report that I am of American youth?" He also speaks at First Baptist church morning and even-contemplating another newspaper enterprise. Such a thing is entirely out of the question." With regard to the Platte river canal scheme Dr. Miller said: "It is true that I expect to take an active part in the organization of that which I consider the most important financial enterprise ever undertaken. in Omaha, the building of an immense canal through which the water of the Platte river can be brought to Omaha and furnish the greatest natural water power in the United States, with the single exception of that furnished by Niagara Falls. We are states, with the single exception of that fur-nished by Niagara Falis. We are simply waiting now for two very prominent citizens of Omaha to return before taking steps to find out at least what the neople of Omaha are willing to do to further this great enterprise. We know, ab-solutely, what can be done. We have sur-veyed and resurveyed the entire line and the veved and re-surveyed the entire line and the practicability of the scheme has been demostrated beyond the possibility of a doubt.

shall probably not become so prominent if the enterprise as some others who have as abundance of means and know exactly the situation, but I expect to help the enterprise along to the best of my ability in every sense of the word. There never has been a movement in Omaha that could possibly mean so much for the town as the building of this canal, and I believe that I shall live to see it are accomplished fact. When it is accomplished Omaha will certainly become one of the greatest manufacturing centers in the United States." Or. Fulton on the Reformation in Cuba. Dr. Fulton spoke before a large audience in the First Baptist church Friday night, To those not acquainted with the speaker, it is meet that it should be said that Dr. Fulton gave up a pastorate in Brooklyn, N. Y. in March, 1887, because he believes that Romanists are imperiled by error and must have the truth revealed in the word of God if they are to be saved.

As a result he says that Romanists have been among his best friends. They want and deserve clean homes, and a leadership in their priests worthy of our American opportunity. In the lecture to be delivered in the Exposition building at 3 this afternoon ne will relate how he was invited by Romai Catholics to visit their schools and pro tectory, and when he exposed the character of the teachings and the books used in con-trast with the privileges enjoyed in the American schools, bundreds of children were American schools, hundreds of children were withdrawn from the parochial schools. Dr. Fulton believes in the patriotism of the masses of the people, and claims that they only want to be informed to secure their help and support. For this reason he believes it is more than a mistake to ignore these vital interests in public discussion.

He stands with Father McGlynn on the school question and regrets that guttes elsewhere compel him to forego the pleasure of responding to the numerous invitations to speak in different towns in Nebraska. He speaks this morning and evening in the First Baptist church at the request of his friend Dr. Hellings.

UNCLE TOM REPRODUCED IN ENGLAND

It Will Be Staged with Grand Effects-Plays Which Meet with the Approval of Critical Audiences-Gossip About Tennyson.

LONDON, Oct. 29.-Ailsie Craig, Miss Eilen Terry's daughter, who is well known in smateur circles, will make her debut as a professional in a small part in "Liberty

Mr. Sidney Alport, manager of Terry's theater, has purchased the Pomoreaman prize dog, Queen, which was exhibited at the Crystal Palace. The dog swill appear in Saple's farcical comedy, "A Lucky Dog," which has met with such success at Terry's. Messrs. Sims and Raleigh, the well known dramatic authors, have agreed to collaborate in their production of a new series of farcical comedies similar to "The Gray Mare" and "The Guardsman," both of which were written by them. "The Guardsman," it may be mentioned in passing, continues to draw good houses at the Court theater. The play is preceded by a curtain raiser, called "Crazed," in which Messrs, C. P. Little and

R. Namby and Miss Sibyl Gray appear. The Independent Theater company gave a second performance of "The Duchess of Malfi" on Tuesday at the Theater Comique. A critical audience was present, including Swinburne, the poet, and George Watts, the artist. Apropos of the Independent theater, it may be mentioned that "The Visit," by Edward Brady, originally produced under his auspices at the Royalty theater, was re-cently submitted by Miss Fortesque to the verdict of a Birmingham public with a re-sult which can hardly be described as encouraging. The piece, according to the Birmingham Daily Post, was "faced by a large audience with respectful but horrified interest." "It is not," adds the writer, "one to look back upon with pleasure and certainly could not oscome permanently popular in Birmingham." Mr. Edouin thinks of producing the Eug-lish version of "Les 28 Jour de Claireite," in the provinces in the first place, and after wards of submitting it to the Loudon audi ences at the Opera Comique. Mrs. Clements Scott is said to have de-layed his departure from London for his tour around the world until November 11.

Uncle Tom's Cabin, Mr. Rollo Ralmain, lessee of the Royal theater, Plymouth, and proprietor of various first-class provincial dramatic and operatic companies, has taken a lease of the Princess theater, London, from October 29. He will open his season with a powerful and elaborate production of "Uncle Tom's Jabin," under the direction of Charles

The operatic season has been so successful that Sir Augustus has renewed his lease of the Covent Garden theater.

Mme. Patti has written to Sig. La-gona, promising to appear for him after the November concert if the terms can be arranged. In an interview with the representative of the Associated press Mr. Alexander Mc-Kenzie, principal of the Royal Academy of Music, expressed himself as very much pleased at the prospect of going to the United States. He said he had not decided what works he would produce at the World's fair at Chicagof but they would probably be "The Rose of Sharon," "Bethlehem" and another work. He described "Bethlehem" as being something in the style of the old passion or mystery play. He added that he hoped to gain some useful experience in America that would prove of benefit to his pupils. He has no prejudice, he said, in favor of any particular composers. He thinks that the musical taste of the English public equals that of other countries. He gave as an instance of musical taste the enthusiastic reception given in Germany. France, Italy, England and America to Mascagnis' "Cavelleria Rusticana," which he described as a crude and rough hewn though powerful work, while the same con posers, in "Amico Fritz," with its simple plot, fine and delicately constructed music and artistic, masterful treatment, met with only limited success in those countries, Before the Queen. The queen has commanded the Carl Rosa company to perform Donizettl's "Daughter of the Regiment" at Balmoral castle. Her majesty has presented to Mr. Leo Stern a

M. Patteron refused to allow the Comedie Fran caise to perform his new play unless Hading created the chief role. The managers at first declined to accept Mile. Hading, whose reputation is hardly litted to the traditions o the Comedie Francaise. The negotiations of pointed to the conclusion of an agreement with the directors of the Vaudoville theater to produce the play, when M. Clarietie, the director of the Comedie Francaise, relented and signed a contract with Mile. Hading. George E. Vaill, an American, has just had a one-act play accepted by one of the boule-vard theaters. This is believed to be the first time that an American has had such success here.

Messrs, Macmillan & Co. will shortly send to press a new poem by Mr. Alfred Austin called "Fortunatus, the Pessimist." In form it more resembles "Prince Lucifer" than any of the author's works The Academy says: We believe that the general concensus of foreign opinion would assign the first place among Tennyson's works to "Enoch Arden." A few months ago M. Beljame, professor at the Faculte des Lettres de Paris, published an anotated edition of it, to which was appended a continental bibliography. From this we learn that there are seven translations in French and six in German. Of the former, one is by the late Xivier Marmier and another has an introduction by Of the latter, one with illustra tions has passed through more than thirty editions. It has also been translated twice into Dutch (with a frontispiece by Josef Artix) and into Spanish by D. Vincente d'Arpah (with illustrations), into Norwegian, into Hungarian and into Bohemian. Wellan, into Hungarian and into Bonemian.

With the exception of the Spanish and some of the French, all these translations are in verse. In addition, there are no less than four editions in French and one in German. A dramatic version was produced at Boston in January, 1865, within a year after this publication, and another at the Royal Surrey theater in 1899. A series of articles on the traits of Tennyson will be commenced in an early number of the Magazine of Art from the pen of his friend, Ma Theodore Watts. Arthur Waugh's "Study of Lord Tennyson," which has been in preparation for the last two years, and was intended for the spring season, is now annunced by Mr. Heinmann for immediate publication.
