

MUSICAL MATTERS IN OMAHA

Miss Clara's Plans for a Week of Grand Opera About Consummated.

TICKET SALE BEGINS THIS WEEK

Everything seems to point to success—Choral Society started under very favorable circumstances—Here Joseph Gahn's experience.

One week from this evening the season of grand opera arranged for Omaha will be inaugurated at Boyd's new theater by a New York company under the leadership of Max Maretzek.

The office will be open for the holders of subscription tickets to locate their seats on November 3, 4 and 5. No seats will be sold during these dates, the subscribers having the first choice of seats, after which the sheet will be open for the general purchasers.

Leader Maretzek will leave New York for Omaha on November 2 and the members of the company will arrive on the morning of the 3rd. The first performance will be given on the evening of the 3rd.

Miss G. G. Fennant, who has taken the management of this operatic festival, writes from New York that everything is very promising for the success of the venture. Last March Miss Clara began her work. She estimated that for about $4,000 she could give a week of grand opera with a company of acceptable singers.

Subscriptions amounting to $3,800 have been made, which is enough money to pay all the expenses of the production. Some of the tickets subscribed for from the amount of the office if possible, the subscribers having merely guaranteed the amounts of their subscriptions. Should they be willing to surrender some of their tickets to the box office and get a chance of turning them into money they may do so.

Should the performances demonstrate the possibility of a grand opera being presented in Omaha without the usual enormous outlay Miss Clara will go forward with her enterprise. Her first move will be to secure from reliable sources a company that will enable her to give grand opera in Omaha for five years to come.

CHORAL SOCIETY PROSPECTS.

Desires and Intentions of the New Local Musical Organization.

Last Thursday evening Omaha's new choral society started in its work with nearly a full attendance of chorists. President Jules Lombard and all the officers of the society were present and expressed themselves as hopeful of earnest study under Mr. Gahn, culminating in as perfect a concert performance as has ever been presented in the west.

All preliminary business necessary to organization has been concluded, everything is in full and permanent working shape and hereafter the Thursday evening at the Hayden's comfortable music room will be devoted solely to study and practice of the winter's selected work. All signs augur success.

The society's directory is anxious to correct what it considers a somewhat disparaging remark in these columns last Sunday. The Omaha Choral society was not founded in any spirit of rivalry to other established musical organizations; the only rivalry its conductor will confess to is a most earnest desire to reach the highest possible standard of choral excellence.

WITH THE OMAHA CHURCHES

Organization and United Effort the Spirit of the Present Age.

CHURCH MIDGETS FORM A SOCIETY

Visit to Omaha of a Noted Prison Evangelist—The Associated Charities Work for the Week—Points from Pew and Pulpit.

The civilized world and particularly the United States is now in the midst of that which may properly be called the organizing era. All kinds and conditions of men and women are coming for all kinds of purposes. People who want to do anything in these days of associations and societies and all sorts of unions must make up their minds to organize at the outset or leave behind them.

This applies to religious matters as well as to secular affairs. And religious people have not been slow to learn the lesson or catch the spirit of the age. Among the young people this spirit of united effort has become especially prominent. Young people in all the leading churches are found either in the Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor or in some other society more intimately connected with the church to which they belong.

The following letter from the children of the First Universalist church, Omaha, is a capital illustration of the spirit of organization that has taken hold of this generation. While the communication is thoroughly delicate, it possesses elements of business fact and practicality very characteristic of the present age.

OMAHA, Oct. 24.—To THE OMAHA BEE: The children of the First Universalist church have organized a Junior League Young People's Christian union and we would like to put it your paper as it will be known throughout the city.

An evangelist of national reputation, Mrs. Elizabeth Wheaton Watson, has been visiting in Omaha during the past few days. Her mission is to preach the gospel in the state prisons, and for ten years she has been engaged in visiting all the prisons in the United States, Mexico and British America.

The highest skirmish firing per cent was won by company G of the Seventh infantry. In the cavalry troop H of the Sixth took the highest rank in skirmish firing. Company G, Seventh infantry, had the highest rank in volley firing and troop H, Ninth cavalry, the highest in the same line of work.

Colonel Benham calls special attention to the exceptional work done by company I, Eighth infantry, Captain Ray's company of Indians. The company has six sharpshooters and sixteen marksmen. The company has also seven "first class" men who have made a total of 25.71 per cent at skirmish firing, 41.90 per cent at volley firing, a general average of 34.81, an individual figure of merit of 111.03 and a general figure of merit of 72.95.

ONE FARE EXCURSION. To the City of Mexico and Return.

This is an excellent opportunity to visit Mexico, one of the most delightful places imaginable, at very little cost.

A special party will leave Omaha Saturday, November 19, and join a large party from Boston and other eastern cities at Kansas City.

During the week the secretary found homes for three orphan children. This makes seventy-two children who have been furnished homes since last April. Not many societies accomplish more than this in the same period of time. Few realize the necessity and value of this department of the work. Some of our best doctors have come from these orphan children since they went out into permanent homes.

A number of cases of distress have been reported to the secretary for having been relieved. Employment was found for a much larger number than usual last week. To great many donations of clothing, provisions, furniture, etc. were received, and will be properly distributed to the worthy poor.
