That's the story on boys' overcoats for today. We also open in the boys' department several new styles in our popular line of knee pant suits at $2.50.

This line of suits has done more to build up our enormous trade in boys' wear than perhaps any other one thing. They're made first of all to wear--the cloths being selected for durability. The suits opened today are in both double and single breasted -- in plain colors--in plaids--in stripes--in checks--in cassimeres and cheviots -- and are as handsome a line of goods as you'll find. Remember, we make a specialty of this line of suits, and that this quality commands four dollars usually. We will also place in stock today for the first time -three hundred of our new line of Young Sabine on Trial Charged With the Crime of Forgery.

HE WAS A LIQUOR INSTITUTE GRADUATE

WHISKY WROUGHT HIS RUIN

A Man Who Suffered from the Visit of I Woman Burglar-Mrs. Pringle's Damage Case Auginst Her Brotherin-law-Court Notes,

8

The case of the state against A. B. Sabine is on trial in the criminal division of the district court. The prisoner is charged with having forged and uttered a forged paper, a state warrant for $9.75. As the story goes, the defendant was in company with one Sullivan when he obtained a letter from the Omaha postoffice, a letter that belonged to another Sullivan and containing the warrant which has caused all of the trouble. The warrant was cashed, and then both of the men landed in the county jall. Last week Suilivan pleaded guilty, but Sabine decided to stand trini.

There'is a sad feature connected with the case. A few months ago, Sabine having laid up quite a sum of money, decided to marry. This he did and was getting along nicely, holding a good position as a bookkeeper in one of the South Omaha packing houses. His wife wanted to visit her parents, who resided in an eastern city, and a short time ago she left for the old homestead. Almost immediately after her departure the young husband feil into bad company and at once took to drink. His employer tried to reason with him, but it was of no use and a few weeks later he became a perfect sol, adding crime to his record. His acquaintances induced him to enter one of the numer ous drunk cures of the city. There he was cured, for the time being, but he left the institution weak in body and mind. While in this condition he fell by the wayside and be-came a party to the theft of the letter containing the warrant.

She Took the Furniture.

John S. Buck has a tale of woe which he has unfolded in a petition now on file in the office of the clerk of the district court. He avers that on October 22, 1800, he was enjoy-ing the quiet of his own home; that in the night time of that iden-tical day, with a great noise and without any provides the defind without any pravious warning, the defend-ant, Amy Douglas, broke into the residence, taking away the furniture. Two days later. so the plaintiff avers, the same defendant again visited the bouse and broke in a second time, making a still lovder noise. Now the plaintiff seeks redress in the courts, asking that he be allowed to recover the sum of $5,000 from the defendant. He makes the value of the property taken at $10 and says that he is entitled to recover $4,930 on ac-count of the shame, distress of mind and minimized when he has a formed as the humiliation which he has suffered in the premises.

Myra Pringle has filed a suit in which she hopes to be able to prove to the court that she should recover a judgment for $3,000 from her brother-in-law, Robert Pringle. She avers that this prother of her husband in a public place and in the presence of numerous persons, said that she was a lewd woman and not fit for respectable persons to associate with.

The Boy Lost His Life.

Juage Scott is hearing the testimony n the case of Fannie E. Richards, administra-trix of the estate of George Bertram Weston. deceased, against the city of Omaha, W. J. Connell and W. E. Clarke, defendants. The plaintiff alleges that on June 29, 1891, George Weston, a boy some 10 or 12 years of age, was playing in the vicinity of Twenty-fifth and Mason streets, near the Mason school On that day, together with a lot of other other boys, he was playing in a pond that had been formed by a heavy rain which fell a few days previous. The boys had a raft on the water and in floating about the Weston boy fell off and was drowned. Sult is brought against the city because the pond extended over and across the street, and against Connell and Clarke because they owned the abuting property, which was also flooded. The plain-tiff seeks to recover $5,000 damages, alloging mealleance upon the state of a state of the second negligence upon the part of all the defend-
