Fire Brandway and Corner of Benton

Our late loss by fire was covered by two policies, both in the COUNCIL. BLUFFS INSURANCE COMPANY. By 7 o'clock the next morning after the fire the secretary was on the ash heap, pencil in hand, ready to figure the loss down to bedrock, which he did, too, saying t hat' it was his duty and no small part of his business" So long as he did not go below bedrock we had no reason to complain, consequently the settlement was not only prompt, but in every way satisfactory, so much so that in addition to $9,200.00 (seven policies)

carried by this company before the fire

we now add to it $16,000.00. Being intimately acquainted with the secretary and directors we cannot be persuaded that better indemnity can be obtained than that offered by our home company, besides we believe in patronizing worthy home enterprises, everything being equal, and unless we do we shall continue to be dependent on foreign capital and corporations.

Distributing the Ballots. The newly printed Australian ballots have arrived at the office of County Auditor Hendricks, who is now busy doing them up into packages containing the required number for each voting precinct in the county. Each township has 100 ballots for each nfty or fraction thereof in the total vote at the inst election, and that makes a total for the county, which polls a vote of about 10,000, of 28,000 ballots. Besides these official bal-lots 20,000 samples were also printed for distribution previous to the election. Tomorrow Mr. Hendricks expectate commence the work of distributing the packages to the work of distributing the packages to the judges of the various precinets, and this job will take not less than three days. Next Monday aftercoon the ballots to be used in Kane township will be ready for distribution to the judges at the office of the county

Burglars Eurprised in an Attempt to Rob a House.

LEADEN BULLETS FAIL TO STOP THEM

D. J. Hutchinson Wastes Ammunition on One of the Midnight Prowiers Who Had Atmost Succeeded in Entering His Steeping Apartments.

The Modern Order of United Burglars held another encampment Tuesday night on High street and narrowly escaped losing one of their running delegates. D. J. Hutchinson was awakened by a dim, religious light shining in at his bedroom window on the second floor of his house at 1009 High street. After he had become wide enough awake to wonder what had nappeared he looked up and saw the head and shoulders of an unknown man sticking in at the window. One hand was seen holding a match above the nead and a pair of eyes wers gazing about the room, looking for pantaloons with money in their pockets. Mr. Hutchinson lost his presence of mind and asked the stranger what he wanted. There was no response, but the window went down with a bang and the burgiar turned several somersaults while falling from the top of the fifteen-foot ladder to the ground. Mr Hutchinson then grabbed his revolver and sent two or three shots after the fugitive, who had got about sixty feet away from the ouse and could be seen running as fast as he could under the giare of the electric light. One of the shots evidently made an impression, however, for he threw up his hand and an investigation. an investigation in the morning showed that he had decreased the length of his footsteps from seven feet to four at that point.

The same man, with a companion, nad tried to enter W. H. Thomas' house, who lives next door to Hutchinson, a short time before, but Mr. Thomas was awakened and was waiting at the window armed with a revolver when they evidently gave it up as a bad job and left for his neighbor's house. Thomas watched the whole proceeding from his window, but did not get rid of his load of lend until the fellow had gotten safely out of reach, of the Campaign.

TORCHLIGHTS AND POLITICS.

Republicans Hold the Grand Closing Ratty

The first and last big rally of the present presidential campaign took place last evening under the auspices of the republicans of Council Bluffs. It is reported that other ralties have been held in this city during the past few wooks, but last evening's demonstration had the entire responsibility of sustaining the reputation of Council Bluffs for getting up rousing things in the way of political jubilations, and it filled the bill to the satisfaction of every one.

The rally opened with a torchlight procession in the evening. The threatening weather had reduced the spirits of the republicans to a very low state during the afterneon, but preparations for a big time were made notwithstanding the bad outlook, and during the evening it was fully demonstrated that it takes something more than bad weather to dampen republican ardor. A parade was formed that contained fully three times as many as the democratic parade of last Thursday evening. It was headed by the Grapa Army Drum corps. Then came a delegation of Lewis and Keg Creek township men and maidens on horseback, all of them dressed in the national colors. These, with the Hardin township and the other delegations from the contributions from the contributions of the contr tions from the country numbered about $400. Another interesting feature of the parade was about 400 railway employes, with a big headlight drawn by horses at the head of the line. Omaha sent the entire Fifth Ward Flambeau club in full uniform, and the Colored Republican club and South Omaha was represented by the Young Men's Republican club, also in full uniform. Dalbey's band, Voight's band and the drum corps furnished the excellent music. Council Bluffs furnished about 1,000 men, to say nothing of fully 500 boys who carried the torches given them at the democratic rally last Thursday.

The parade was somewhat slow in starting on account of the failure of the Omaha contingent to be on hand at the time agreed upon. They fell into line after the parade had started, however, and went to make up one of the finest processions ever witnessed in Council Bluffs. The line of marca covered Main street and Broadway, commencing at Bayliss park and ending at the Masonic temple, after marching to South First street and back. All along the line of march the business houses were decorated and illuminated brilliandy, and American flags wers draped everywhere in the reddest, whitest and bluest profusion. Thousands of tin horns tooted the hallelejah chorus, and the red lights, Roman candles and other fire-works made the night resemble an adjourned session of the Fourth of July. Broadway was packed all along the line with inter-ested spectators, and the number of exthusiastic republicans who howled was almost equalled by the number of disgusted democrats who groaned.

After the parade an audience that fitled the room to its utmost capacity assembled at the Masonic temple and listened to an address by Senator Hager, republican candi-date for member of congress from the Ninth district. Mr. Hager held the audience for about an hour, and not once in all that time did the interest flag. While he announced that he did not propose to abuse any man for his views he did not throw the same mantle of charity aver the democratic views thembut attacked them at every weak selves. point. He called attention to the fact that a democratic congress had spent $1,200,000,000 in running the government after being elected largely on the strength of their "billion doi-lar congress" howl, and to the significant silence that the last two party platforms had maintained on the subject. He attacked the plank of the democratic platform which de clares in favor of state banks that have never issued a dollar that did not deteriorate in value at least 2 per cent, and said he had never heard a democratic orator that did not pologiza for the presence of the plank in tre platform, if, indeed, he said anything about it. The tariff question also received a generous share of attention. The whole speech was highly interesting, delivered as it was in the speaker's crisp, energetic style. The rally made a fitting climax to the campaign which comes to an end next Tuesday. On all sides were heard expressions of ap-proval of the way the details were managed, and it is to be greatly doubted if there ever been a rally in Council Bluffs that was more successful in every respect.

Sorry He Found It. Sam Walker, who lives near the North western round house, found a check yesterday afternoon on the street it as unguarded moment, but if he had to do it over a gain he would go around a block to get out of its way. The check was made payable to L. O. Beery and bore the signature of D. L. Royer. It belonged to E. McCaudlish, who has been stopping at the Pacific house for the past day or two, but dropped out of its owner's pocket. Walker and a friend named Frank Jackson at once proceeded to find out what they could do with it. They took it to Officer & Pusey's bank and Jackson asked to have it cashed, but he would not sign the name of the payee and he left. At last the pair brought up at a saloon near the corner of Broadway and Bryant street, and after bowling up a few times they prescuted the chock in Dayment.

times they presented the check in payment

NEWS FROM COUNCIL BLUFFS | The partender refused to take it, and it was not long before the two men wandered into a policeman's arms. They were put behind the bars and a charge of uttering forged instruments was placed against their names. Argued for Free Trade. At the regular meeting of the Live Issue club at the Lininger art gallery last night J. P. Kohter discussed "Free Trade, Pure and Simple," He took the ground that free trade was the only system for any country and brought the usual arguments in support of his theory. Each nation should raise the products that it was best adapted for and leave other nations to manufacture articles that they could produce cheaper. This the speaker produce cheaper. This the speaker maintained would make each nation prosperous. The tariff on tin amounted to over $15,000,000 per annum. The people could afford to buy their tin at European prices and keep the 30,000 men employed in the tin in-dustry in this country in idleness by paying them the same amount that they paid for tariff. It was the same in the case of iron. The railroads could afford to pay the wages of every man now employed in the iron mills of the United States if the tariff were removed and still their expenses would be no greater.

Railway Employes Mect. The Omaba Railway Employes' club held an executive session last evening, at which there was a very representative attendancesome 300-all roads in the city being represented. A report of the executive committee of the club was presented, giving the re-sult of its interviewing of candidates for legislative offices in Douglas county. The report indicated that while there were i dividual preferences, there were no candidates upon either the democratic or republican lickets who were not in harmony with the interests of the employes generally. Final action of the club on the matter of a constitutional amendment governing the se lection of the board of transportation by di rect vote of the people, was deferred until next meeting. It is understood that the members of the club will be advised by the committee as to their preference for legisla tive candidates before election day comes.

Sugar Workers on a Strike. NEW ORLEANS, La., Nov. 2.-On October 1, the Sugar Workers Protective union, American Federation of Labor, adopted what they called "Our wage tariff," increasing the pay of the general foreman in every department 8 cents per hour; all classified laborers to receive 25 cents per hour; all gen-eral laborers, 20 cents; Sunday work 50 cents additional; they also demand an extra man at all granularies; a half hour lunch with payment for same, or one hour without pay: none but union men to be employed, said men to be allowed to purchase their refreshments wherever they choose. The above do mands having been refused by the Ameri-can sugar refliery officials the laborers struck work at 5 o'clock this afternoon.

Dr. Ullum created some excitement by stating that when lams was cut down he told the prosecutor to feign sickness so that the regiment would have the impression that he had been severely punished.

BAKER'S SUBMARINE BOAT.

Unique Experience of Those on Board While in a Terrific sale.

CHICAGO, Ill., Nov. 2.-The submarine boat of Prof. George C. Baker arrived in this city today from Detroit, and is now anchored in the outer harbor. The vessel, which was towed from Detroit by a tug, passed through the heavy gate of Friday night when the C. W. Gilener is supposed to have foundered.

The boat weathered the storm by being lowered about ten feet below the surface and was raised once every two hours to enable those on board to get a supply of fresh air. She was live days overdue and Prof. Baker, who was awaiting her arrival in this city was nearly frantic with anxiety lest she had

It Has Come To This

That every successful, meritorious article has its imitations. This is a grave injustice, for the genuine pure article will often be judged by the imitation. No preparations require for their manufacture more care and skill, more costly and purer materials, than Flavoring Extracts.

In this instance cheap materials mean inferior flavors. Dr. Price's Delicious Flavoring Extracts have won their way to public confidence by the pure and costly materials used, the new processes employed for extracting from the fruits their natural flavoring principles. In using Dr. Price's Orange, Lemon, Vanilla or other flavors the housewife will never fail to obtain the grateful flavor desired
