MARSHALS AT THE POLLS.

Democratic Bosses in New York Greently Put Out at the Prospect. New York, Nov. 4.—Members of the democratic national committee fear trouble at the polls if the United States marshals carry out the United States law this year as they have in the past. The national committee approves the action of the state committee in advising the citizens to arrest the marshals who attempt to enforce those parts of the federal statutes which conflict with the state laws.

Chairman Carter of the republican national committee was asked his opinion of the situation as it stands with regard to Chairman Sheehan's instructions to his local subordinates, concerning the relations of federal and state officers at the polls. Mr. Carter replied that he had no opinion to offer, other than that he understood the controversy to be between Mr. Sheehan and the United States government, and he apprehended the government was abundantly able to take care of itself and to perform its obligations to the people in full.

Charles W. Hackett, chairman of the state executive committee, said that he had no attempt to interfere with United States marshals, whose duty is clearly defined, and who are to see to it that the voting will be free and fair. The special deputies, who will be paid $2.50 a day, are composed principally of men who are recommended by their respective ward associations.

Edward Mitchell, attorney for the southern district of New York, has written a letter to the United States marshal and inspector of elections, agent Mr. Sheehan's instructions, in which he cites the law as contained in the revised statutes, and continues: "Will you kindly advise me whether the law of election and deputy that whenever there is any conflict between the law of the United States and the law of the state, the law of the United States is paramount. You will also please inform all such supervisors of election and deputy marshals that the United States in ends to carry out the provisions of section 2019 of the United States revised statutes, and to see that every supervisor of election and deputy marshal who is requested to support him by such supervisor of election, shall be allowed to take any position behind the guard rail he sees fit on election day, and that any person interfering with him in any way will be in the performance of his duty behind the guard rail in any polling place on election day will at once be arrested without process under section 5522 of the United States revised statutes."

Chairman Carter and all the other members of the republican national executive committee were present at the meeting this morning, and with their staff of assistants at once proceeded to work. They expressed determination to be in full defiance at the eleventh hour, place their prospects in jeopardy. Necessarily the work in which they were engaged was one mainly of detail, but important detail.

The field on which the contest with the democratic forces is to be made on Tuesday next is a broad one, and from all quarters it reports were being received, to many of these reports it was necessary to give reply instantly and decisively, as many lieutenants and members of their chiefs. Vigilance, the keenest, is maintained, and will be maintained until the campaign that is now nearing its close by hourly steps has ended.

The work by the democratic national committee during the remaining three days of the campaign will be chiefly in the states of Connecticut, West Virginia, Indiana, Alabama and Virginia. Instructions have been sent out from democratic headquarters to the chairmen of the democratic party in those states warning them to be on the alert and not to relax their vigilance anywhere for a moment, until the votes are counted next Tuesday night. The chairmen of the five states are in daily, almost hourly, communication with the national headquarters by telegraph. Hourly communication is had with the democratic leaders in Connecticut by long distance telephone.

Judge Martine devoted today to election and false registration cases. Five men, who had been arrested by Chief of Police McLaughlin, were stood before him at the court of general sessions. Two of them were George C. Holland and William Green, charged from Harney. The other three pleaded not guilty. Holland said he was a minister and Green a porter and both declared their arrest an outrage. But yesterday when State Detective Jackson presented himself before them they yielded, and said they wanted to change their plea to guilty in order to gain the mercy of the court. Afternoon Judge Martine sentenced Holland and Green to two years in the penitentiary. The judge scolded for the violation of the law was more deserving of punishment.

The trial of John Kearney and John H. Griffin, the alleged instigators of a party of voters in the new Eighth assembly district, was next called by Judge Martine. The men were shown to have been implicated, Kearney admitting the charge. Griffin was arraigned at the bar for sentence, and Judge Martine sentenced him to three years and ten months imprisonment at hard labor in Sing Sing. Kearney was remanded for sentence until Monday, when he will probably be committed to Sing Sing for testifying against Griffin and Kearney.

The dwellers of Randall's island, about forty in number, for alleged false registration, were admitted to bail in the sum of $1,000 each. William F. Brown was arraigned before Commissioner Sheehan, charged with enticing voters at the house No. 35 East Twelfth street. He was admitted to bail.

Want the Arrest Made Before Election. The committee of democratic lawyers just appointed at a meeting of Tammany leaders to look after the interests of the democrats arrested by federal officers before and on election day has sent a communication to the Superior Court of New York, asking that the order be issued for the arrest of the men named in this paragraph: "As 300 cases as well execute your warrants for illegal registration now as on election day, we have to request that you will forthwith issue and execute any warrants you may intend to issue for illegal registration in order that the elector, if entitled to his vote, shall not receive the same in time to cast his vote."

From Newbury, on the students, come intelligence that in the first ward of that city eighteen names of voters were registered. They are inmates of the almshouse, which is situated in that district. Application has been made to Judge Brown to have their names stricken from the registration list. He has ordered the names of all but four, who are residents of the district, to be taken off.

Further Instructions. Charles M. DeWolfe, supervisor of elections of the district of New York, has issued final instructions to the supervisors of elections appointed to serve at the coming election. He says Mr. Sheehan's pronouncement is revolutionary, and it seems hardly possible that any sane person will attempt to follow Mr. Sheehan's directions, but feeling that such may be made, I again instruct supervisors of elections that they are to go inside the guard rail on election day and remain there before and behind the ballot boxes, as they may deem best, until the voting is done, the law is obeyed, the returns made and the Board of Inspectors of elections adjourns. The supervisors are to perform the duties required of them by law, to personally scrutinize each count and canvass each ballot in the election district voting precinct.

With a Point Deputies. LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Nov. 4.—United States Marshal Sheehan, for the district of Arkansas, today issued instructions to deputy marshals. He has decided to appoint deputies throughout the district, and deposes that the Attorney General's address upon their service should not be confined to cities containing 20,000 inhabitants, as is held by the democratic state committee.

RED HOT RALLY.

Third Ward Colored Republican Club Has a Rousing Time. A rousing rally was held last evening at the old Olympic theater under the auspices of the Colored Republican club of the "Third ward, and there was not only a large attendance, but an abundance of enthusiasm. It was not for the purpose of hearing long political speeches, but rather to give the voters an opportunity to see and size up the various candidates on the party ticket, and from the reception accorded each and all of them it was evident that their appearance as well as what they had to say was eminently satisfactory.

Chairman Hubbard of the ward club, presided, and assured the candidates that when the members of the club were for a man they were for him, and that when they were against him they would come pretty near dumping him. W. N. Nasson, who was on a sick bed in a Chicago hospital a week ago and hardly able to be out, was present because of a promise made some time ago to that effect, and spoke for a few minutes.

T. K. Sudborough, president of the Fourth Ward club was given an opportunity to make a statement regarding the charges that had been made to the effect that he had discriminated against the colored club in the distribution of tickets for the rally at Boyd's theater Thursday evening. His statement had given the chairman of the colored club sixty-five tickets, as against thirty-five for the sixth Ward club, and said that the individual who had charged that he had discriminated against the colored club was a contemptible liar.

Five minute speeches were delivered by John D. H. Steyer, Dr. M. O. Crockett, C. A. Goss, A. S. Churchill, Charles Stevens, Henry Livesey, E. D. Crane, P. O. Hayes, A. D. White, Sol Prince and J. L. Knapp. Mr. Knapp was the only one who charged with the World-Herald that he was a prohibitionist. He said that when he was in the legislature in 1888, he represented the counties of Webster and Franklin, and he was petitioned by both counties to work for and vote for the bill providing for the submission to the people of the question of prohibition. He was a representative of the people of those two counties and not of himself, and he did not think that he would have been true to the trust reposed in him if he had not acted in accordance with the wishes of the people who elected him, and more especially as the bill was a measure that had been introduced by the legislature, and he was supporting it at the time and was urging the legislature to pass it. That paper had also charged that he was friendly to the workingmen because he had opposed the tariff bill, which provided that all convicts in the penitentiary should be kept locked in their cells until the expiration of their term. He said that he had not been so friendly to the workingmen as he had been to the mechanics in the towns and cities of the state. At that time the speaker was a resident of the western part of the state, and when he looked out on the broad acres he felt that there was room for work enough for every man who wanted it, and that was the report of the penitentiary officials in all the older states that the tendency was to put the convicts to work on the same lands under that plan because of the want of anything to occupy their minds, had been opposed to keeping them locked up in their cells.

VALLEY'S LARGEST RALLY. Great Crowds of People from the Surrounding Country Present. VALLEY, Neb., Nov. 4.—[Special Telegram to The Bee.]—The largest rally of this campaign was held in the opera house this evening. Great crowds of people from the country and from neighboring towns swarmed to the meeting until the house was overflowing. A number of candidates in the persons of Messrs. Isaac Noyes, C. O. Lobbeck, A. Lousner and G. R. Williams were present and made short speeches. But Mr. E. C. Crockett of Turley was the speaker of the evening. He said: "I am surprised to find you in your town and find such a commodious opera house and think that it is filled with such an audience. We are now on the eve of a great contest, and what will be settled next Tuesday. Yet the people are not concerned as they should be. The present administration has been a good one and it is a general feeling that the same should be continued. The republican party has carried this great nation to victory, yet it is constantly accused of robbing the people. But these accusations are never substantiated. A nation must defend her industries as well as her people, and the tariff is that defender. The increase of Omaha's population is due to her manufactures, the tariff is a big fence around the United States which compels the people to patronize home industries."

The speaker dwelt at length on the free coinage of silver and public finances and closed by showing up the records of the independent party in the last session of the legislature. He said the independent party too much in futures. In closing he said: "Go to the ballot box and vote your honest convictions. Harrison has made a fine president; elect him again. Put men in office to represent your principles that have a character."

The attention of the large audience was held nearly two hours.

DUNLAP'S DEMOCRATIC RALLY. DUNLAP, Ia., Nov. 4.—[Special Telegram to The Bee.]—Hon. W. H. Ware of Council Bluffs spoke here this evening, discussing the political issues from a democratic standpoint. There was no demonstration, but the attendance was fair and the speech orderly.

REPUBLICANS TURN OUT IN LARGE NUMBERS AND ENTHUSIASTIC SPIRITS.

FACTS FOR THE GREAT THINKING PUBLIC. Judge Crouse Preaches the Doctrine of Protection and Patriotism to an Appreciative Audience—His Remarks Loudly Applauded. The closing rally of the campaign in South Omaha was held last evening. Republican enthusiasm was on tap in quantities unmeasured and as free as the air. The announcement that Judge Crouse would be present and deliver an address brought out a large number of professors of other political faiths, who regard Judge Crouse as the best equipped and most trustworthy of the candidates for governor, and will vote for him on Tuesday.

Previous to the meeting at Blum's hall, Colonel Loti's Uniformed Marching club paraded the streets to the music of the South Omaha band. The boys made a fine appearance and a large crowd followed the procession to the hall. The hall was filled to overflowing, a large number of ladies being present.

Will Gurley Talks. C. C. Stanley was introduced as chairman of the meeting. He presented Will F. Gurley, who had just returned from a tour of government in the present. He called attention to the unparalleled prosperity of the country under thirty years of republican rule and predicted that the republican government would continue to prosper and that the republican party would continue to be the party of the people.

Mr. Gurley urged the republicans to not be forgetful of their duties on election day, and to vote for the republican party. He said that the republican party was the party of the people, and that it was the duty of every citizen to vote for the republican party.

In the hands of actors capable of bringing out its merits fully "The Colonel" would be an irresistibly funny play. As presented by the company which began an engagement at the Boyd last evening it is moderately amusing. A husband who has an adventure with a pretty woman he meets at night on the streets tries to put off the affair when the young woman calls at his home, and of course he gets tangled in a web of falsehood. The woman gets mixed up with the man's niece, just arrived from America, and a suspicious mother-in-law complicates matters by insisting on explanations at the most inopportune times. The old lady is the widow of a colonel and is known in the family by that title, hence the name of the farce, "The Colonel" is a comedy of the farcical type, but with very few specialties.

Lams Case Gone to the Jury. PITTSBURGH, Pa., Nov. 4.—Final arguments in the Lams case were heard this morning and Judge Porter delivered his charge to the jury. The charge was strongly favorable to the accused, the court holding that the jury could not find Colonels Hawkins and Strickland guilty of assault if they acted under orders of a superior officer, nor under any circumstances unless Lams' punishment was inflicted unlawfully and maliciously.
