HOW OMAHA FIGURES IN THE BUSINESS

Local Merchants May Export for Foreign Consumption, But Must Import as Usual Through Collector Alexexander -Expect to Correct the Mistake.

A number of business men have been somewhat puzzled over the fact that imported goods intended for Council Bluffs merchants keep on coming through the Omaha custom house, notwithstanding a collector of castoms for Council Bluffs was appointed several months ago in accordance with the provisions of a special law which Congressman Thomas Bowman engineered through both houses of congress at the last session. Inquiry develops the fact that the law only made Council Bluffs a port of entry, and not a port of delivery, so that Council Binffs merchants can export direct all the goods they want to for foreign consumption, but have to import through Omaha as before. The passage of this kind of a law was due to the efforts of Collector Alexander of Omaha, so it is claimed, and to an oversight on Mr. Bowman's part. The defect will be remedied at the coming winter session of congress, when Mr. Bowman will introduce another bill. When it is passed the office of collector for the Council Bluffs port will be worth something, but as it is now it is practically worthless.

Consumed a Gallon of Whisky. John Linues of Omana has been in jail for the past few days suffering from the effects of a political jubilation which words fail to describe. He had simply been in the seventh heaven of delight, if imbibing a gallon of the strongest kind of whisky has anything to do with bringing about such a result. He was picked up on the streets in an apparently in-same condition, and during his confinement his actions were of the most disgusting sort. Yesterday afternoon the insane commissioners gave him a turn. He modestly admitted that he had put a gation of whisky out of sight during the two days preceding his incarceration and he thought that fact might have had something to do with bringing on the glorious managerie which had been unfolding itself to his vision ever since. The com-missioners came to the conclusion that he was not insone, but was only suffering from too much exhibitation over election results. They ordered him sent to his home in Omaha.

That School Tax. President Waite of the school board appeared before the Board of Supervisors yesterday in response to aif invitation extended to him for the purpose of getting his views as to whether the school poard would be willing to pay $400 for having the old tax levy, upon which so much newspaper space was wasted a few weeks ago, entered upon the tax books. It seems that Auditor Handricks did not put the levy on the books at the time it was decided illegal by the court, and now that the court has modified its order and now that the court has modified its order than the levy to be a few to be levy to be a few to be levy. of injunction so as to allow the levy to be made to the extent of $10,000, with which to pay the interest on bonds, he refuses to do it without extra pay to the amount mentioned above.
