Fenator Carlisle Thinks Something of the K nd May Pe Necessary.

WILL NOT BE OCCASIONED BY THE TARIFF

Congress May Be Convened to Discuss the Subject of a Deficiency-Other Questions That May Develop Before That Time.

> WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE BEE, | 513 FOURTEENER STREET, WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 16.

Senator Carlisle passed through the city today on his way to Chicago, where he is to visit a branch of his family. The senator discoursed fluently to an assemblage of newspaper correspondents in the Western Union Telegraph company's office this afternoon on the possibilities of an extra session of congress. Mr. Carlisle settles all question of Mr. Cieveland's attitude on the subject so far as the New York newspapers have claimed to be his spokesman. Mr. Carlisie says frankly that neither Mr. Cleveland nor any one else can know what conditions may arise to make a special session necessary and he says that Mr. Cleveland does not know today whether he will call a special session or not. Mr. Carlisie settles pretty wall was a special session or not. Mr. Carlisie settles pretty wall call a special session or not. session or not. Mr. Carlisle sottles oretty well the question of holding such a session in the spring, however, by saying finally that if it is called it will probably not meet till late in the fall and the question of the tariff, he says, will not be the one which the congress will be called to consider. Mr. Carlisle does not expect any revision of the tariff for more than a year. The democratic party in the beginning of its new lease of power is not going to antagonize the manufacturing intergoing to antagonize the manufacturing inter coing to antagonize the manufacturing interests of the country. To do so at this time would be to invite defeat two years hence. The democrats are going to put off the settlement of the ugly tariff question just as long as they can if the democratic newspapers of the country will let them.

Mr. Carlisle says that the business which would call congress together possibly in the fall will be the question of a deficiency. Whether this necessity will arise or not will depend very much on what congress does at the next session. Remembering the long list of public debts and deficiencies in appropriations which the last democratic congress left and which have not been made good yet, and the deliciencies which this hypocritical house is bound to leave, Mr. Carlise says: "There is an accum-ulation of deficiencies and obligations that have been contracted and will come over to us. It may be that this will furnish a rea-son for an extra session. We shall see what congress will do at this session. If it does not repeal the Sherman law relating to the Speculation over the possibilities of President Cleveland's cabinet became very lively today when Congressman Wilson of West Virginia went to New York presumably to see Mr. Cleveland about the attorney gen-eralship. Mr. Wilson is the gentleman named by Cleveland democrats at Chicago for permanent chairman of the convention who failed so lamentably in the duties of that office and allowed the mob in the gal-leries to run the convention. But Mr. Wilson is also a very active democrat and earnest tariff reformer, and it is not at all im-probable that he will go into the cabinet of Mr. Cleveland.

Another name which is being brought up in connection with the cabinet, is that of Mr. Hatch of Missouri, chairman for many years of the committee on agriculture. Mr. Hatch labors under several disadvantages. One of these is that Missouri has another applicant for a cabinet position in the person of David R. Francis, the retiring governor of the state. Mr. Francis' claims on Mr. Cleveland consist solely in the fact that he once entertained Mr. and Mrs. Cleveland at his home in St. Louis. At that time he was mayor of the city. His friends immediately began to discuss the possibilities of a cabinet position for him and not even the fact that Mr. Francis cut down the nermal democratic majority in labors under several disadvantages. One of down the normal democratic majority in Missouri alarmingly four years ago has abated their ardor. Another of the disad-vantages of Hatch is the fact that he has a constant and unsuccessful seeker after honors. He was an unsuccessful candidate for the position of secretary of agricul-ture when the office was created.

Hatch Has Little Chance. lie went into a foolish and altogether unwarranted canvass for the speakership a year ago and was made a laughing stock. He wanted the nomination for governor o Missouri oadly and could not get it, and now he pops up as a candidate for a cabinet Mr. Cleveland's old agriculture, Norman J. browsing around in Louis somewhere, and no doubt he would be glad of a reappointment. Mr. Cleveland made him commissioner of agriculture as the result of a memorable interview in the white house, when Mr. Colman became so enthusiastic over agricultura matters that be slapped the president violently on the knee to emphasize his remarks. Mr. Cleveland immediately committed one of those freaks for which he was far famous and appointed Mr. Colman commissioner of agriculture for his carnestness.

Mr. Cleveland has become a better poli-tician and he is not likely to overlook the claims of his many adherents for those of an agricultural onthusiast.

James C. Carter, a prominent New York lawyer was mentioned today as a possibility for secretary of state. The fact that he is altogether unknown to the country is no ba to his promotion to the highest place unless Mr. Cleveland is going to reverse his policy of eight years ago. No one had ever heard of E. J. Pheips outside of Vermont until he was made minister to England by Mr. Cleve-land.

Miscellaneous.

The secretary of the interior today reversed the decision of the land office denying a rehearing to John S. Eilis in his contest with Mary J. Abbe in the Huren district. Ellis' case went by default. He is to have thirty days to make a new case. The secretary dismissed the appeal of J. A. Orton, the contestee in a case in the North Platte dis ariot, in which Cordelia Talbot was P. S. H.

Council Committee on City Hall Blunders Has Finished Its Work.

The special committee of the council, apnointed to investigate and report upon the elleged biunders of the architect in the construction of the city hall, has about completed its laters. At least these labors have been so far completed that a final report will be made to the council at the regular adjourned session, to be held tonight.

The committee held a meeting yesterday afternoon and made the decision and at the same time decided what the report would be Mr. Prince of the committee said that it was possible that the architect had made mistakes, but in his opinion the building was better constructed than most public buildings, and, on the whole, it was an ele-gant building in every detail.

Chairman Lowry voiced the same senti-
