Mrs. John Montgomery, who has been living with her mother, Mrs. W. S. Cass, at 221 Washington avenue, for some time past, died yesterday morning, after a protracted illness, aged 54 years. For several weeks she has been considered moribund, but she died suddenly.

A writ of prohibition was issued by Judge Smith yesterday in the case of the Kearney Milling and Elevator company the Union Pacific Railway company and the Citizens' State bank. The intervenors filed an affidavit previously alleging that Charles T. Brown of Lincoln, one of the firm of Brown Bros., which formerly had charge of the Union Pacific mill, was a necessary witness in the case, but that he was afraid to enter the state, as threats had been made against him, to the effect that all the powers of civil and criminal process would be brought into play against him on account of his connection with the elevator case. The writ is an order giving notice that the service of any notice or paper in any civil or criminal action shall be in contempt of court if made during the time when the services are required in such cases, but he has had a reasonable time to get out of the state after he has testified.

THE BOSTON STORE

Words of Timely Warning UNDERWEAR DEPARTMENT. Our fall order of winter underwear is now on sale. We invite inspection on this line of merchandise; it always has been the pride of the store, and we intend making it even better than ever this season. Having placed our orders early in the year when the mills were running light, it enabled us to make better contracts with the manufacturers, which represented some of the most reliable in the east.

Our New York buyer placed our orders along with our eastern connections, making an order of over 500 cases of underwear, and for this reason we think our merchandise better than any merchant in Iowa.

LADIES' UNDERWEAR. Gray ribbed vests, extra long, also white at 25c. Pants at 35c. Three cases ladies' plain and ribbed vests and pants, nicely finished goods, at 25c and 35c, is worth comparisons.

Our 50c line of ladies' underwear is composed of five cases, all different makes, white, cream, gray, natural, both plain and ribbed.

ALL MEN'S UNDERWEAR. Ladies' fine ribbed vests and pants in white, cream and natural is a bargain at 75c. Plain knit vests and pants $1.00, $1.25 and $1.50, very nice wool.

Saxony wool ribbed vests in high colors at $1.25 each worth seeing. Ladies' all wool black vests and pants reduced from $1.30 and $1.75 to $1.25.

Equestrian lights in black all wool, extra weight, $1.50 and $2.50.

GENTS' UNDERWEAR. Gents' gray shirts and drawers, all well made, 25c, 35c, 35c.

At 50c we show a fine soft gray, random-mixed and camel's hair mixtures, the best line of goods in the market.

Our 75c, $1.00 shirts and drawers in natural wool are better this season than ever, our $1.00 garment being made from pure Australian wool.

Children's underwear $1.50 and $1.75. We carry six different lines and a full line of sizes.

NEWS FROM COUNCIL BLUFFS

Blizzards Started by an Inevitable Cause a Great Deal of Damage.

HE IS PURSUED BY A FIERY MENESIS. S. Goldstein's Hard Luck—Harmed Out for the Third Time—Hard Work for the Firemen—An Accident During the Excitement.

The fire department was called out Thursday night by an alarm that came in from the Northwestern depot. A building that had been occupied by S. Goldstein as a saloon and feed store, on Broadway, just west of the Indian creek bridge, was on fire, and was almost entirely consumed before the department arrived. The fire was communicated to the tool house of the motor company, to Goldstein's barn, and to several shanties occupied by colored people, which were also consumed.

A horse that was in the barn was killed by the fire. The entire damage to property was estimated at about $10,000. Mr. Goldstein has had bad luck, this being the third fire that has occurred in buildings which he was occupying within the last few years. The first was when he was near the corner of Broadway and Seventh street. The second was about a year ago, in the same place where the Thursday night fire started. All three were supposed to be of incendiary origin, and the last undoubtedly was.

The insurance on the buildings that suffered during the fire was estimated at about $10,000. THE OMAHA DAILY BEE: SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 19, 1892.

Marriage That Never Came Off. Charles Manker applied to the county clerk yesterday afternoon for a marriage license to wed Belle Mowery, a young lady who lives in Drake Hollow, but the clerk refused to issue the license without the consent of the young lady's father, who being under the legal age, left the office saying he would return as soon as possible with his prospective father-in-law, who would meet his daughter's legal qualifications for getting married. On the way home he met a lively old gentleman who was in the city buying goods to take to his store down in Page county, and the two sat in a pleasant conversation on the way home and cultivating each other's acquaintance. During the afternoon Manker learned that his newly found friend had $20 in his inside pocket, and the police say that he and a young man named Charles Howard were overheard talking up a job to get the old man in a hack and take him to the city, intending to rob him on the way. All three were run in soon after and Manker was charged with larceny from the person, the other two being charged with conspiracy. Whether Manker took the money or not the police do not know, but the old man claims to be out of the amount. The wedding in Drake Hollow has been indefinitely postponed.

Chief Seavey Suggests an Association of High Police Authorities. For some time past Chief of Police Seavey has been working on a scheme to form an association of the heads of the police departments throughout the country, and has sent the following letter to the chiefs in cities containing over 10,000 inhabitants.

Dear Sir: I have the honor to suggest for your consideration the advisability of organizing an association composed of the chief authorities and heads of police of all cities in the United States and Canada having a population of 10,000 or more. If it is a desirable proposition, I would be glad to have the chief of police of New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Chicago, St. Louis, Cincinnati, Cleveland, Pittsburgh, Baltimore and San Francisco send for the scheme, the first would readily fall into line. Inasmuch as the World's Columbian exposition will be held at Chicago next year, it is reasonable to suppose that the heads of the police departments of all cities in this country will some time during the session visit the exposition, and it occurs to me that next summer is the time, and Chicago is the place, to effect the organization. I shall be glad to have you call on me at my office, or to write me, if you desire. I shall be glad to have you call on me at my office, or to write me, if you desire. Inasmuch as the World's Columbian exposition will be held at Chicago next year, it is reasonable to suppose that the heads of the police departments of all cities in this country will some time during the session visit the exposition, and it occurs to me that next summer is the time, and Chicago is the place, to effect the organization. I shall be glad to have you call on me at my office, or to write me, if you desire. I shall be glad to have you call on me at my office, or to write me, if you desire.

WANTS TO ORGANIZE. For some time past Chief of Police Seavey has been working on a scheme to form an association of the heads of the police departments throughout the country, and has sent the following letter to the chiefs in cities containing over 10,000 inhabitants.

Dear Sir: I have the honor to suggest for your consideration the advisability of organizing an association composed of the chief authorities and heads of police of all cities in the United States and Canada having a population of 10,000 or more. If it is a desirable proposition, I would be glad to have the chief of police of New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Chicago, St. Louis, Cincinnati, Cleveland, Pittsburgh, Baltimore and San Francisco send for the scheme, the first would readily fall into line.
