

FOUGHT WITH THE OFFICER

Determined Resistance of a Desperate Lincoln Crook.

HE DARED THE POLICEMAN TO SHOOT

Sergeant Kinney Seizes a Prisoner That Did Not Propose to Be Taken Alive—Revolvers Drawn But Not Used.

LINCOLN, Neb., Nov. 29.—[Special to THE BEE.]—Sergeant Kinney of the Lincoln police force had a desperate fight with a crook last night shortly after midnight, and a tragedy was narrowly averted. The authorities have been after two men for some time. One was a man named Wick, who was wanted for an assault on a man at Brown's restaurant several evenings since. The other man goes by the name of Carroll and is suspected of being connected with the gang of footpads that is operating in Lincoln with so much success at the present time.

Sergeant Kinney found the man eating a lunch in Bennett's restaurant about midnight and at once placed them under arrest. He was alone with Carroll immediately, and placed with him while Wick escaped and ran. Kinney had all that he could handle in his man and a fierce struggle ensued. The men were in such close quarters that the officer could not use his club, while Carroll was unable to use his revolver he had pulled from his pocket. Finally the officer managed to pull his own gun, but he hesitated to fire at the man who had just been so bravely dared him to shoot. There were a number of reasons for wishing to bring the man to the station alive and Kinney hesitated to fire at the man who had just been so bravely dared him to shoot.

A quiet and happy wedding was celebrated this evening at the residence of Hon. W. S. Summers, assistant attorney general of Nebraska. The contracting parties were Miss Mattie Summers, sister of the assistant attorney general, and Dr. Leland H. Moss of St. Charles, La., the ceremony being performed by Dr. W. W. Kinney, pastor of the Methodist church, Archibald, Kan. The ceremony took place in the presence of only the intimate friends of the contracting parties. The happy couple left for their honeymoon in the morning and will make an extended trip through the east and south, reaching their future home at St. Charles during the holidays.

EVIDENCE OF POISON.

Sensational Testimony in a Criminal Case at David City.

DAVID CITY, Neb., Nov. 29.—[Special to THE BEE.]—A jury in the Armagost poisoning case was secured yesterday afternoon after occupying the time of the court for four days and exhausting the regular panel and special venire of 150 names. County Attorney Hastings has been assigned assistance by the county board. The only witness put on the stand so far is Dr. A. J. Chamberlain of Olysses, who attended Mr. Roberts during his last illness. He was called February 20, 1887, and diagnosed the case as a bilious attack. Mrs. Roberts expressed the opinion that her husband could not recover. The patient was suffering from pains in the bowels, headache and pain in the chest side. He denied having eaten anything that would cause the attack, and the statement was made by Mrs. Roberts, the doctor left the medicine used for such cases and returned the next day. He was surprised that he had not had the desired effect. He found the patient suffering from impaction of the bowels, and, as he thought, bilious colic. The doctor described the symptoms produced by arsenical poison and said they were the symptoms of the case of A. J. Roberts. He had inquired particularly at the time of the second visit in regard to what the patient had been eating, and at that time Mrs. Roberts told him that her husband had eaten a large quantity of cabbage a few days before; that he had on former occasions had sick spells similar to this from eating cabbage and that the doctor had told him that if he ever ate cabbage again it would kill him. Mrs. Roberts was the only person to whom directions for giving medicine were given.
