TOLLE ROASTED AND ARRESTED IN COURT

Attorneys in the Meschendorff Case Pay Their Respects to the Young Man and Marshal Templeton Takes Him Into Custody for Libel.

All day yesterday was taken up in the district court wish the arguments of attorneys in the Meschendorf meat case. These arguments, together with that made by Judge Aylesworth the day before, were by far the most interesting part of the trial since the second day, and in spite of the fact that the jury has been at work on the case without cessation for over a week, the speeches were listened to with the closest attention. The time of the attorneys for the defendants was principally devoted to giving Tolle, the correspondent, such a roasting as he is not Electy to get again soon unless he lies in the near future, while the plaintiff's attorney tried to show that Tolle's co-de-fendants had conspired together to see that the alleged libelous article was published. Finitey had not finished at the hour for adjournment, and will commence again this. morning at 9:30 alcheck.

While listening to the arguments during the forenoon session Tolle was served with a warrant for his arrest by Marshal Templeton. Detective Vaughn of Omaha was waiting for him, he having been charged with criminal libel in writing up a hotel man in that city in a paper with which he now claims to be connected. When first arrested he seemed to be in some doubt as to whether he would better go at once to Omaha or make the officers get a requisition. Marshal Templeton reminded him of the roasting he (Templeton) had received after Tolle's first arrest, when the latter had been allowed to occurre the pick covered. sofa in the office instead of the cast iron bunk in the cell. He promised to throw him into the darkest dunceen he could find about the jail, whereupon Tolic concluded not to accept the irrate marshal's hospitality. Tolle was to have had a hearing yesterday before Justice Swearingen on the charge of beating a board bill at G. H. Jones' boarding house on Mynster street. Just before leaving for Omaha he called on the justice and * Heard From at Last. "What is that strip of track that was laid on North Eighth street two or three years age by the Inter State Railway company good for?" is a question that has puzzled people at different times, but it has finally found a solution.

A suit was commenced in the district court yesterday by Mrs. L. L. Hendricks, which is likely to cost the city some money before it is finished. Mr. and Mrs. Hendricks were out driving in a cutter last Smday after-noon. When they reached the corner of avenue D and Eighth street the cutter came into collision with the end of the rails which have been projecting over the edge of the last tie ever since the track was laid. The horse was going at a good gait, and the in-stant the collision occurred the harness snapped and the horse started to run, while the sleigh stopped so suddenly as to throw both occupants a distance of ten or fifteen feet, so they claim. They linded with considerable force on the ground. Mr. Hendricks was lucky enough to escape without a scratch, but Mrs. Hendricks sustained a number of bad bruises and some internal inrries which it is feared will result seriously The city authorities were served with a notice yesterday that a petition would be filed in time for the January term of court, claiming damages in the sum of $3,000. Jesse Hollenbeck states that his sleigh also collided with the same truck and was broken to pieces last Tuesday. This is the first thing that has been heard from in connection with the interstate railway project for a

Criminal Cases Tried.

Judge Smith commenced the trial of criminal cases yesterday morning. William Benzen was the first on the list. He is the man who was arrested by Officer Leuch several weeks ago and fired at the officer while in so close proximity to the officer's nose that his whole face was powder burned The evidence was all taken and the case was given to the jury, who brought in a verdict after a short deliberation finding the de fendant guilty of assault with intent to com-

Charges Against a Dead Man. A petition was placed on file yesterday afternoon in the district court which is rather out of the usual run of petitions on account of the startling freedom with which criminal charges are made against a man who is now in his grave. The American National bank of Salina, Kan., is the plain-tiff and Mrs. Mary E. Teats, widow of C. M.

Teats, defendant.

The petition alleges that during his life the deceased, by a system of discounting ferged notes and making leans in fictitious names, obtained large sums of money solely by fraud, and that he fraudulently turned over to his wife a part of the money thus obtained. The plaintiff claims that of the various amounts which were obtained in this crooked way $8,300 belongs to it, and it demands a writ of attachment for the amount, the defendant being a non-resident of lows.

The writ was issued, and the Council Bluffs Masonic Benevolent association of this city and the Northwestern Masonic Aid association of Chicago were served with notices of garnishment, two insurance policies having been purchased by Teats before his death, in which Mrs. Teats was named as #### Oberholser-Musser.

An elegant wedding took place yesterday noon at the First Presbyterian church. The parties were R. L. Oberholser, West Superior, Wis., and Miss Lizzie Musser of this city. The bride is a sister of Mrs. S. D. Sharples, whom she has been visiting at her home on Fourth street for some time past. She was attended by the Misses Treynor and Richardson as bridesmaids, while W. P. Officer officiated as best man. The bridal party entered the church to the strains of the wedding march from Lohengrin, and were met by Dr. Phelps at the palpit, where, surryimded by a mass of palms and hot house plants, the ceremony was performed. After the ceremony they left for the home of Mr. Sharples, where they were greated by their friends with congratulations. In the after-noon Mr. and Mrs. Oberholser left for West Superior, where the former is engaged as chemist in a large steel works.

Keller's a tore Entered. A young man named Coyne was passing up Broadway last evening shortly after 9 o'clock when he saw a man enter the basement of S. S. Keller's store by the front window. He went home and casually mentioned what he had seen, when some one asked him why he did not report the case. So he retraced his steps and notified the police of what he had seen. An examination was made by several officers and a BEE reporter, but nothing could be found of the burglar, excepting his footprints in the snow under the iron grating through which he had effected an entrance. The side door of the store was found to be unlocked. A thorough search through the basement and through both floors of the store failed to show that anything had been stolen. The safe had not been tampered with and the papers in the Gaught Stealing Coal.

A man was discovered stealing coal in Bradley's coal yard on upper Broadway Tuesday night. Officer Martin, who made the discovery, gave chase to him, but got his foot caught in the fence, so that the thief got the start of him. He drew his revolver and shot at the ground close to the fleeing figure, and the fleeing figure responded by send-ing a ball over his shoulder whizzing close to the officer's ear. Martin fired again just as the fellow cleared tile fence and fell in a heap on the other side. The ball was found later on about a foot from where the fellow was, if the officer's calculations are correct. The fugitive succeeded in making his es-cape, but took no black diamonds with him.

This This is all the roads have demanded. The men who two years ago built the Sioux City & Northern railroad to a connection with the Rock Island and the Great Northern systems were also deeply interested in the Sioux City stock yards and packing houses. The managers of the Chicago & Northwestern and the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul systems, which have brought nearly all the live stock into the city, complained that the stock yards people diverted shipments of the product out over the Sioux City & Northern. The upshot of it was that those companies, as it was alleged, arranged rates, train service and time tables so as to drain the hogs of the tributary territory away from Sioux City to competing markets, greatly crippling the market here.
