CHIEFLY WHAT THEY HEARD

Witnesses in the Contest Cases Give Some Second-Hand Stories.

LAYS ON THE FIFTH AND SIXTH WARDS

Chief Effort of the Prosecution Devoted to the North Part of the City-What Was Brought Out at Yesterday's Hearing.

The taking of evidence in the legislative contest cases was not commenced yesterday until nearly 11 o'clock.

The contestees gave notice that consent would be given the contestants to consume the balance of this week in adducing testimony, provided the republicans were given the remainder of the time until December 29. The contestants' attorneys will decide today whether to accept the proposition. But two witnesses were examined at the forenoon session, Hon, T. M. Mullen, a voter In the Seventh precinct of the Fifth ward, and John Zellar, a voter in the Ninth district of the First ward. The former witness had seen a ticket voted with the word "yes" opposite a candidate's name instead of an X, but was unable to say whether the ballot had been counted. The latter witness was placed upon the stand to prove that nearly all of the judges and clerks in the First ward were republicans. Although he had understood such was the case, he could not say so

Edmund Burke, a democrat who cast his ballot at the booth of the Fourth district of the Ninth ward, was the first witness called at the afternoon session. He cast his ballot early in the morning and went to Kansas City. His interest in the outcome was so intense that he hurried back that night and was present during the progress of the count. A democratic judge was reading from the ballots to the republican clerks One of the clerks called the count as it pro gressed. There was a discrepancy of six votes on the legislative ticket when the count was finished. The clerks credited these to W. N. Nason, a republican candidate. The witness said he saw where the error existed, but he failed to explain that in his testimony. He didn't know whether the clerk had checked up ahead or not. The only irregularity he saw was the discrepancy of six votes credited to Candidate Nason.

John McGorry, a member of the democratic county central committee, who resides in the Fifth ward, was called to tell of the fraud he had seen practiced. Mr. McGorry's knowledge consisted chiefly of what others had told him. Some one had informed the witness that there were but three or four democrats on the election board in the Fifth ward, and in his opinion there were not to exceed four, although he was not certain. He saw a man enter the booth and hand to one of the clerks a pink slip of paper, which he thought was an American Protective as-sociation ticket. Each voter was given three tickets when entering the booth and voted one, returning the others. He was not certain whether the returned ones were sample ballots or not. Didn't see any of-ficial ballots outside of the booth. He was there as a challenger and was inside most of

of the time.
At this juncture the witness material had run short, and Attorney Sheean conferred for a few minutes with Charles H. McEachron, a Sixth ward democrat, who was called to the stand. The witness stated he was a member of the county central committee. To the best of his knowledge he thought that there were not to exceed ten democrats on the election board in that ward. American Protective association ticket pedd-lers on the outside, and saw two of the tickets handed to men who entered the booths but could not say whether they were voters He went to the Twelfth district booth and found the doors locked and windows screened. He was refused admittance, as was another party. He did not know who was in the booth while the count went on, and could not say whether a representative of each political party was present. The only places where he saw the American Pro-tective association tickets peddled were at This concluded the day's session, no more witnesses being present. The taking of testimony will be continued this morning at 10 o'clock.

Major Wilcox Gets a Verdict-Criminal Case on Trial. The jury in the case of the Republican

Newspaper company against the North-western Associated Press, returned a verdiet in federa! court yesterday morning in favor of the plaintiff, damages being assessed The case was given to the jury Thursday evening and the agreement was not reached until yesterday morning. It is said that one man on the jury, a lawyer from McCook, was opposed to allowing any damages to the plaintiff and five jurors held out for $15,000, and eight for $7,000. The matter was finally compromised by bringing the two diverging wings of the panel together.

In this case Major Wilcox, acting for the alleged Republican Newspaper company, brought suit for $50,000, which he claimed as damages sustained by reason of the cancella-tion of the telegraph franchise formerly held

In the case of the Omaha Banking com-pany against Mrs. Ashby, a verdict was re-turned for the amount of $5,540,90. Mrs. Ashby was a stockholder in the defunct con-cern and a personal friend of C. E. Mayne, the chief hustler in the company. When the concern went to the wall some of the stock-holders liquidated its liabilities. Mrs. Ashby refused to pay her share of the losses, hence the suit. The only defense set up by the defendant was that the stock was pre-sented to her and there was no consideration in the acquiring of it.

Walter C. Leightey of Lincoln became the focal point of attention in federal court during the afternoon. He is accused of using the United States mails for the purpose of defrauding.

The indictment charges that Leightey, while acting as postal clerk on the Lincoin and Hastings line of the Burlington, wrote a number of letters to Mr. R. C. Outcalt of Lincoln, in which the writer threatened to expose certain alleged irregularities of personal conduct in which Mr. Outcalt and a necessary of matrix line character, but here the woman of unstable character had been the principal performers, and offering to squelch the story for a certain monetary considera-

The evidence is to a considerable extent circumstantial. Mr. Outcalt at once placed the matter in the hands of local detectives who proceeded to throw out bait and in this way suspicion was fastened rpon Mr Leightey. Several letters were sent to the blackmailer in accordance with the instructions, directed to Hastings, Neb., It was noticed that when these letters were mailed on the train upon which Mr. Leightey was the carrier they never reached their destination. They were evidently nipped from the mails somewhere between Lincoln and Hastings and the reaction of the second Hastings and the prosecution thinks this is pretty conclusive proof that Mr. Leightey did the nipping. The defense will did the nipping. The defense will hold, however, that those letters might have been taken out of the mails by some one in the Lincoln postoffice and that the work might have been done in such a way as to throw the suspicion upon Mr. Leightey. The case will be fought very tenaciously on both sides, as Mr. Leightey has a number of influential friends who will stand by him to the end. The personal ap-pearance of the accused is that of a respect-able young business man. There is nothing in his makeup that would suggest anything of a criminal nature and this will doubtless weigh a good deal with the jury.

FINAL REPORT OF COMMISSIONER LUDDEN

State Board of Transportation Requested by a Farmers' Alliance Association to Compel the Burlington to Furnish It Cars.

LINCOLN, Neb., Dec. 19 .- [Special to THE BEE.]-Luther P. Ludden who was appointed by Governor Thayer to superintend the colection of Nebraska's contribution to the Russian famine sufferers, made his final report to Governor Boyd this afternoon. For this relief work the people of Nebraska contributed 987,865 pounds of corn and $3,119.19 in cash. This relief passed through the hands of Mr. Ludden. In addition to this seven cars of corn were forwarded from the state through other agencies and $5,431 collected in the various Russian settlements in Nebraska and forwarded to friends in Russia. The railroad companies deing business in the state furnished free transportation in the collection of the supplies. After the corn had beed collected it was transported to Chicago by the Burlington and North-western roads free of charge. From Chicago the corn went to the mills of the American Cercal company at Akron, O., where it was kiln dried and ground into meal. The com-pany did this work and placed the meal in new sacks free of charge. Governor Boyd appointed W. C. Edgar and C. McC. Reeve of Minneapolis commissioners to take charge of the contribution. The meal was shipped from New York on the steamer Missouri on March 15 of the present year. It reached Libau on April 3. From Libau it was shipped into various points in the interior in ears furnished by the grand duke. Arriving at its destination the meal was baked into bread at bakeries designated by designated by the grand dude's relief committees.

Can't Get Cars Enough.

The State Board of Transportation has received a complaint from A. E. Otto, agent of the Cairo Farmers Alliance Business as-sociation at Cairo, Neb., to the effect that the B. & M. refuses to furnish cars as fast as wanted. Mr. Otto informs the board that the company bases its refusal on the ground that the Farmers Alliance association does not ship as much grain as the clevators. He asserts that the B. & M. gives the clevators twelve cars to one that is given the associa

Secretary Dilworth notified General Manager Holdrege of the complaint and that offi-cial has replied that the matter will be investigated at once. Wants a New Trial.

Thomas A. Stratton, the young man who was last week ordered to pay several thou-sand dollars to Miss Florence Dole for refusing to carry out his agreement to marry her came into court today with a voluminous re quest for another new trial. He alleges mis conduct on the part of the jury and misconduct upon the part of the attorneys who represented Miss Dole in that they read decis-ions not bearing on this case. He also avers that the court made a serious error in not permitting that part of Thomas Rowley's deposition in which he related a conversation he had had with Miss Dole, the purport of which was that she had said that if she got $10,000 it was all that she expected.

Denham of this city has commenced a suit against the Fremont, Elkhorn & Missouri Valley Railroad company in which he asks for damages to the amount of $2,500. The track takes up the entire width of the street and readers it martically width of the street and renders it practically impossible for him to gain access to his home. In addition to this he alleges that his peace and comfort is greatly interfered with by the action of the company in keeping trains and engines constantly in motion on the track in close promisity to his house. He thinks that $2,500 will restore peace and

CHRONIC MALARIA.

The Symptoms When Accompanied by Caterrh and Billousness. In the practice of a skillful physician there occur many cases where the pa-tients have pains about the chest and sides, and sometimes in the back. They feel dull and sleepy; the mouth has a bad taste, especially in the morning. A sort of stick y slime collects about the teeth. The appetite is poor, there is a feeling like a heavy load on the stom-ach, sometimes a faint, all-gone sensa-tion at the pit of the stomach which food does not satisfy. The eyes are sunken, the hands and feet become cold and feel clammy. After a time a cough sets in, at first dry, but in a few months it is attended with a greenish-colored expectoration. The patient feels tired all the while, and sleep does not seem to afford any rest. After a time the patient becomes nervous, irritable and gloomy, and has evil forebodings. There is a gladiness, a sort of whirling sensation in the head when rising suddenly. The bowels become costive, the skin is dry and hot at times; the blood becomes think and stagnant; the whites of the eyes become tinged with yellow; the kidney secretions become scanty and high-colored, depositing after standing. There is frequently a spitting up of the food, sometimes with a sour taste; and sometimes with a sweetish taste; this is frequently attended with palpitation of the heart and asthmatic symptoms. The case of Miss Gussie Wittrien, 1307

Capitol avenue, Omaha, has greatly interested this young lady's friends and neighbors, among whom she is a great personal favorite. Miss Gussie, in reply to recent questioning, had this to

I seemed to be full of ague, or matarial poison, for I had billious attacks right along, with chilis and fever. My stomach and ilver would get sore and tender, and oloated up. My catarrh gave we headache and the dripping of macus from the nose and throat into the stomach gave me nauses and disguss for food, and poisoned my blood all through. I notleed how sallow my skin would be, and when my billous spells came on I would get perfectly yellow. Always I felt an inward fever with flashes of heat and cold. My mouth and tongue were parched and bilstered sometimes, and I had a wretched general feeling that is hard to express in words. I knew my system was clorged-up in some way, and that my blood needed cleansing, and as soon as this was done everything was so different.
