

JACOB HENRIK'S BEHEMETH

Death of the Well Known Economic Leader Announced. STORY OF THE SOCIETY HE REPRESENTS Model of the Primitive Church the Basis of the Organization Present Loss May Seriously Cripple the Member's Interests.

FRANKFURT, Pa., Dec. 25.—The bells of Economy this morning tolled the passing away of Jacob Henrik, first trustee of the Harmonist society.

Father Henrik, who was generally known as "Big" Henrik, was born in the village of Lützow, Prussia, in 1830. He was 20 years of age, and shortly after connected himself with the Harmonist society.

The Harmonist society was founded in Wurttemberg, by George Rapp about the year 1800. Rapp believed that he had a divine call and was charged with the duty of the Christian church.

At their most prosperous period, which was about eighty years ago, there were fully 800 persons who acknowledged allegiance to the society. "Trouble came in 1832 and about three-fourths of the members left the society and formed a new organization.

AS REGARDS DISCOUNT THE SITUATION HAS NOT IMPROVED.

LONDON, Dec. 25.—As regards discount, if any change for the past week is to be noted, the situation becomes worse.

The effect of the Panama scandal is felt mainly in the financial markets. It has clinched a point in the views of Spain and Italian securities fell 1/2, Greek 1/2 and Turkish 3/4.

Paris, Dec. 25.—The market for the past week has been showing unusual fluctuations. The entire action of the government, however, somewhat checked the depressing influence of the Panama scandal.

Havana Market Review. HAVANA, Dec. 25.—Business in the sugar market has been dull. Buyers have continued eager for purchases, but planters are unwilling to sell, owing to their belief that prices will advance soon.

WAS BRICHTLY MANGLED

H. C. Feildman Meets With A Sudden Death at East Omaha. CAUGHT ON A SWIFTLY TURNING SHAFT His Body Mangled in a Most Horrible Way, Virtually Torn Limb From Limb.

YESTERDAY forenoon a horrible accident occurred at the Carter mill, east works in East Omaha and the victim now lies a mangled corpse on the cooling board at the morgue.

There was a little extra work to be done at the lead works yesterday and the foreman asked Feildman to come on and do a little extra work.

When Coroner Maughlin arrived he found it necessary to cut the rope in a dozen places in order to get at the body of the man.

Feildman was a single man and had been employed at the mill for some time and was considered a good steady hand.
