WAS DUE TO HEAVY SELLING

Speculators Were Anxious to Realize and Especially That Class Known as the "Country"-Later the Provision Market Improved.

CHICAGO, III., Jan. 9 .- Contrary to predictions May pork opened at $18.45 this morning a break of 25c a barrel from Saturday's closing This was due to the heavy selling and under the estimate of hog receipts. About 80,000 hogs was the entimate for today, but according to the reports anywhere from 31, 000 to 35,000 head were received. Speculators wanted to realize, and especially that portlor known as the "country;" and nearly every order was filled from $18.45 to $18.42%. low trade is yet undecided as to whether there

May is a long way ahead and it seems Improbable that any syndicate is at work on a corner at present for that month. Still pork is strong, though at present the pork suspects are "scalping" on the market. There is a general feeling among the traders that there is danger of a "squeeze" later on. Cudahy & Wright have been absolved and Philip D. Armour is given credit for the rapid advance, Armour ran a deal in pork several years ago according to general belief, in which a number of prominent traders were badly "squeezed." But for the nervous and strong market for pork and ribs it would have been a day to remember on the Board of Trade for its phenomenal duliness. Some of the apathy shown by the traders was ascribed to the election of directors, but there was nothing in the news of a stimulating character and that was probably the main cause for the duliness. Compared with Saturday's closing prices, wheat is 4c lower, corn is off from 1sc to 4c, oats 1sc, and lard 10c. Pork is 37 3c and ribs 7 5c higher.

and lard 10c. Pork is 37 se and ribs 7 se higher.

Wheat was slow all through the session and kept from \(\) ic to \(\) c range. The northwestern receipts were small for Monday, but the local receipts were nearly 175 cars above the estimate and trade was inclined to wait the announcement of the visible supply, which was late in coming in. The reports showed a smaller increase than was generally expected and tended to keep prices rather firm.

In corn initial transactions were at about final quotations of Saturday and sagged off under moderate offerings \(\) ic influenced by the decline in the surrounding pits, but at 46c for May there was quite an active demand and the price soon rallied, recovering the early loss, but again eased off on selling by brokers supposed to be representing local elevator concerns and by the local crowd in general, on liberal estimates for tomorrow and increase in the visible, the price reacting from \(\) ic to \(\) ic loss.

Only were moderately active and easier.

British Grain Trade Review.

LONDON, Jan. 9.—The Mark Lane Express in its weekly review of the British grain trade says: English wheat has risen 5d in London and 1s in several of the country markets. The sales have been even smaller than usual in mid-winter. For the first time in a long period the demand has exceeded the supply. The stocks have thereby been reduced 115,000 quarters. A continuance of this demand would greatly help trade out of the despondent stagnation that prevailed in December.

A decreased shipment for America and increased continental demand for Indian wheat has helped the market since New Year's day. The chief features of the stocks is the enormous increase in the supply of foreign. In Junuary, 1892, the stock of flour was 595,000 quarters. British Grain Trade Review

Traders' Talk.

CHICAGO, Ill., Jan. 9.—Counselman & Day to Cockrell Bros. Commission company: Trading was somewhat interrupted by the annual election of officers of the board of trade. Wheat was lifeless and futures closed itc lower. Sample lots were steady, with No. 3. northern spring in better demand and firmer. Corn futures were also a fraction lower, and the crowd was rather bearish for a turn. Sample lots were generally more active and ready sale at unchanged or slightly better prices. Outs were very quiet with a small trade in futures, sample lots steady. Pork opened 25c lower and advanced nearly 70c, an excited covering by a new crop of shorts, actuated by a rumor that Armour was running a buildeal. We can see no indication of any concentrated holdings and think that when stop orders are reached on the down turn the decline will be more rapid than the late advance. Lard closed lower on realizing by holders. Ribs sympathized with pork on a small trade.

Chicago, Ill., Jan. 9.—Kennett, Hopkins & Co. to S. A. McWhorter: Provisions have been the sensational feature in today's market. There was free selling by outside holders of provisions, but their offerings were absorbed by brokers, the decline being quickly recovered and a considerable further advance established. It is certain that stocks of provisions of all sorts are very small, and that the present price of hogs continues above the price of the product. Even the excitement in provisions could not drag wheat out of its sluggishness. The trade has been entirely of a scalping nature. The only noteworthy feature which we see in wheat today is the fact that the increase in the visible supply was only 548,000 bu, indicating that we have at last arrived at a tirring point in the stocks. Corn and oats were very duil, and trading chiefly of a scalping character. News was scarce in either article, corn or oats.

Chicago, Ill., Jan. 9.—F. G. Logan & Co. to Duncan, Hollinger & Co.: This has been election day on the board and the markets have been quiet in consequence. Foreign advices continue dull and lower. There is no immediate prospect of any urgent demand for what is now at the scaloard unless for the hard Kansas winter, which is selling from 4c to 5c under the regular contract grade. Values in the near future are a good deal of a weather question. The growing crop is hardly up to the near future are a good deal of a weather question. The growing crop is hardly up to the near future are a good deal of a weather question. The growing crop is hardly up to the near future are a good deal of a weather question. The growing crop is hardly up to the near future are not not only the same bull party is still in control. There is no feature to corn. The lowest point was 46c. In onts the trade is light, with fluctuations from 34%c to 34%c. In hog product the business was light, with violent fluctuations. The eleventh hour bulls were the best buyers. There was good realizing in lard. All we can say about the future is that it all depends on receipts.

STOCKS AND BONDS. Securities Were Unusually Active Yesterday

New YORK, Jan. 9.—The stock market was unusually active today but withal was strong, although considerable irregularity in the fluctuations occurred. The irregularity was in a great measure due, first to the bull manipulations of the industrials as opposed to the outlook for gold shipments and prospects as regard to the same and the repeal of the Sherman law at this session of this congress. The sterling exchange nurket was not higher, but while the demand was not ex-cessive, commercial bills are reported becoming scarcer and the prospect of further shipments was looked upon as good. There is no ship likely to take any of the precious metal before Saturday and estimates of the probable out-go have not yet been made. The feature was naturally Reading and its transactions again amounted to very large figures. but this was largely due to the selling chiefly of the specularive element.

Reading was heavily soid in the afternoon after the statement of the Jersey Central withdrawal became public, and its price was driven down from 51½ to 49½. A partial recovery to 50 occurred, but at that figure it was left 1½ per cent lower than on Saturday.

With this decline the rest of the market sympathized to a limited extent, but as a rule prices were higher. Among the particularly strong stocks of the day Rock Island and Burlington may be mentioned, both being much more active than usual of late, and the buying apparently came from good sources.

The strong features of the forenoon were the industrial stocks and S. V. White was a buyer both of Sugar and Distillers. Bullish talk on the former was reiterated with considerable effect, the stock rising to 118½, settling back under the influence of the decline in Reading. Distillers, however, were still pressed for sale by the professional operators and falled to score advances which its kindred stocks enjoyed. Notwithstanding the weakness in Reading, Lackawanna rallied from the late depression and closed ½ per cent higher; the Grangers, including Atchison, were unusually prominent in the dealings and all showed strength, but other groups developed no feature of interest. The declaration of a 2 per cent cash dividend on Louisville & Nashville had no apparent influence on the list or that stock.

The Post says: The conditions were on the whole of a naturalizing nature and gave few points of legitimate advantage in a concerted effort to affect the general list. The market opened in a somewhat weak and irregular manner, especially as regards a few of the more active stocks, although the general list was not affected. Support developed for those stocks attacked, with the result that the market opened in a somewhat weak and irregular manner, especially as regards a few of the more active stocks although the general list was not affected. Support developed for those stocks attacked, with the result that the market quickly swing into a c of the speculative element. Reading was heavily sold in the afternoon

LONDON, Jan. 9.—[New York Herald Cable—Special to THE BEE.]—Business on the Stock exchange has been confined within narrow limits, while the miscrable weather naturally contributed to the feeling of depression that prevailed. Consols have given way 1-16d and Indian sterling rupee paper 4d to 3d. Foreign government securities fully reflected the flatness on the Carls bourse, although a slightly better tendency prevailed at the close. Americans close somewhat irregular. Denver preferences have met with most attention in the course of the day and closed it per cent higher. Atchison preferred and income bonds were bid for about the close, resulting in a risk of $\frac{1}{2}$ per cent for the former and is per cent for the latter. A small improvement was established in Atlantic first mortgage, Northern Pacific preference, Ohio & Mississippi and Union Pacific, while several others were is to $\frac{1}{2}$ by an extendams opened steady, but during the afternoon became weak and closed flat. Cattle Trade Decidedly Stronger - Hogs Shade Off a Trifle.

OMARA, Jan. 9.—Receipts of both cattle and hogs show a fair increase over last Monday's run, while as on last Monday there were no sheep received.

The offerings of cattle included a very respectable showing of fair to choice beef steers. Speculative shippers were encouraged by the tone of eastern markets to take hold freely, and with a very fair demand from local houses the trade was in tolerably satisfactory shape. Anything the buyers were after sold stendy to a shade stronger than last week, several bunches of good to choice 1,250 to 1,400-1b, steers selling at from $4.35 to $5.15. Fair to good 1,000 to 1,200-1b, steers sold at about Saturday's prices, from $3.60 to $4.15. If there was any change in the medium and poor stuff it was in the direction of lower prices, but sales were mostly at from $3.25 to $3.50. Business was moderately active throughout, and although eastern markets closed weaker, the peas here were practically cleared by noon, with no apparent casing off in prices.

Cows sold very generally at Saturday's quotations. Offerings in this line included about a third of the entire offerings, and the movement was free. Extreme sales were at from $1.50 to $3.25, the bulk of the fair to good stuff at from $2.10 to $2.85. Bulis, oven and stags were in good demand and strong at from $1.50 to $3.35. There was no particular change in the calf trade. Common large calves and yearlings sold about as usual from $2.00 to $3.00, with good to choice veals at from $3.50 to $5.00.

There was a lively trade in stockers and feeders and prices in general ruled strong. Offerings were not very liberal and sales out of first hands were all the way from $2.00 to $3.35, while sorted lots sold freely at considerably higher figures. Representative sales:

Chicago Live Stock Market. Chicago Live Stock Market.

CHICAGO, Ill., Jan 9.—[Special Telegram to THE BEE.]—The dressed beef concerns wanted stock and so did eastern buyers and exporters, and what at first looked to be a somewhat excessive cattle supply was disposed of without extra effort. Although the offerings included some choice beeves there was a large preponderance of common and medium qualities and trading at better than $5.00 did not cut much figure in the day's transactions. Common half fatted steers were to a certain extent neglected and some salesmen quoted that grade a trifle lower. Sales were on a basis of from $3.25 to $6.00 for common to extra steers, $2.25 to $3.85 for stockers and feeders, and from $1.50 to $3.75 for cows, helfers and bulls.

steers, $2.25 to $3.75 for stockers and feeders, and from $1.50 to $3.75 for cows, heifers and buils.

For a little while this morning it looked as though holders of hogs might have to accept considerably lower prices. The increased receipts and the bearish attitude of buyers made salesmen a little nervous as the start, but their fears proved groundless, for an hour after the ball was set in motion buyers were taking the stuff freely at Saturday's prices. Further along they were induced to pay a small advance, the close being about 5c higher. There was a sale or two at an advance on the highest price previously reached of 10c, $7.85 being paid. There was an active demand for local and eastern account at from $7.10 to $7.85 for medium and heavy weights. Few lots changed hands below $7.50, the popular figures being from $7.50 to $7.70. Culls were quoted anywhere from $4.50 to $6.50.

There was fair activity in sheep and last week's closing prices were frequently paid for all offerings of useful quality. A string of over 400 choice fed westerns averaging 107 lbs. sold at $5.05, and good native muttons went readily at from $4.65 to $5.00. The market continued firm throughout for all good grade mutton stock and the pens were cleared in good season. Choice to prime native muttons are quotable at from $5.00 to $5.40; fair to good mixed ewes and wethers at from $4.25 to $4.75, and culls and feeders at from $4.25 to $4.75, and culls and feeders at from $4.20 to head; sheep, $000 head;
