FOR PURE FOOD PRODUCTS

One of the Objects of the Nebraska State Dairymen's Association.

NORFOLK, Neb., Jan. 12 .- [Special to THE BEE. |- Hon. S. C. Bassett of Gibbon, Secretary of the Nebraska State Dairymen's association, was in the city Monday on his way to Creighton to attend a meeting of the Knox county farmers institute at that place, which convened Tuesday. This is one of the series of some thirty institutes which are to be held in as many counties in the state this winter. The object of these meetings is to discuss matters pertaining to agriculture on the latest and best methods relative thereto. One of the most important questions under consideration at these institutes is that of state legislation in the interest of pure food for the people. And wherever the matter is presented it meets the most hearty endorsements of both producer

The Nebraska Dairymen's association at its annual convention declared itself in favor of pure food for the people. It also declared in favor of state legislation in this direction, and appointed a committee to present this matter to the state legislature. Food adulteration is locked upon by the association as a great and growing cvil, and many of the adjacent states have enacted laws designed to prevent such adulteration and the same are being enforced with very atisfactory results.

Carloads of that article which is sold for pure creamery butter contains a very small percentage of the genuine articles. Probably one of the most injurious results to the human family comes from the use of adulterated milk. So far as known Omaha is the only city in the state at which any attempt has been made to inspect the milk sold as been made to inspect the milk sold percin, and that is a municipal regulation. The association claims that this question of tate legislation in the interest of pure food for the people should receive prompt and gareful attention at the hands of the present legislature.

WATER PRESSURE FOR FIRES

Question Suggested by Recent Experience During Great Conflagrations.

WILL BE THOROUGHLY INVESTIGATED.

City Engineer Rosewater Speaks of Some of the Features of the Matter-Causes and Remedies of Insufficient Water Supply.

Since the recent destructive fires and the discovery that the firemen are handicapped in battling with fires in high buildings owing to inadequate water pressure, property owners have been discussing with deep interest some method of improvement. So great has been the interest in the matter that the city authorities have begun an investigation, which will doubtless result in needed improvements being made.

Yesterday afternoon, when asked to give the cause of the failure of the water pressure and to outline what improvements are necessary, City Engineer Andrew Posewater said "I am not prepared to answer either question. This matter cannot be treated offhand. It will require considerable investigation and study of existing conditions before I can state with any degree of accuracy what has reduced the water pressure and what has reduced the water pressure and what is needed to strengthen it. Of course, I could explain my impressions, but that would be just to neither the city or the water company. Plans of the mains, pipes, hydrants and so forth in the business portion of the city are now being prepared by the water company, and when they are pre-sented to me I can then express an opinion. Heavy Tax on the Mains.

"The pressure for the fire plugs is obtained from the upper reservoir, which is 307 feet above the low water mark of the Missouri river. In looking over a map containing the location of the various hydrants, prepared while I was city engineer in '86 and incorporated in my annual report, I find that the pressure at the smelting works and at the distillery was 129 pounds, which is very heavy. In the business centers there was a strong pressure. At Sixteenth and Farnam the pressure was ninety-one pounds and at Ninth and Farnam ninety-eight ounds.

"However, even when the source of the water remains unchanged, the quantity of water in the reservoir not diminishing at any time, the pressure is liable to vary according to the demand made upon the reservoir. cording to the demand made upon the reservoir to supply ordinary consumers. In the past ten years, the amount of water used in the business portions of the city has been constantly increasing. At all times of the day and night, the water mains are heavily taxed to furnish the ordinary supply needed by business houses and manufacturers. If the consumption has increased at such a rate as to make the supply barely at such a rate as to make the supply adequate for ordinary uses, then the pressure is so reduced that on extraordinary occasions it would fail to meet requirements "This is the best explanation I can make of the reduced pressure. If the pressure of 1886 could be maintained I think it would answer all needs. When the pressure was tested in that year a dozen streams were thrown over the roof of the opera nouse on Fifteenth and Farnam.

"Since then, though the consumption of ASHLAND, Neb., Jan. 12.—[Special to The water has increased, the pipes have been en-Bee.]—A pleasant party was held at the larged and better facilities adopted for an enlarged supply. Just how much the pressure is weakened, if at all, can only be decided when I learn what proportion of the supply is used in operating elevators, sup-plying boilers, and filling all the other nu-merous wants of office buildings, stores and factories. It will take some time for me to gain the necessary information. "One of the possible causes of the insufficient pressure at the recent fires was that the firemen may have neglected to turn on the full force of the hydrant. The water, escaping through a half-obstructed opening into the hose, would necessarily lose much of its force. Then, too many streams may have been supplied from one hydrant. These are only surmises that may be worthy of consideration, if the water pressure should be as great today as in 1886, after the in-creased supply and increased consumption

May Easily Be Remedied.

"I see no reason why the water company cannot supply high pressure. There is no necessity for pumping. If there is anything faulty with the present system it certainly can be changed so that the water pressure will be sufficiently high to meet all emergen-cies. When the water capacity and the draft are estimated there should remain a good excess for fires. If this excess does not exist it can be created, though a too heavy pressure should be guarded against, for safety's sake, quite as much as a too weak

"It is idle, however, to talk of this matter until I am better informed. As yet, I do not know what the plans of the water company "To give a simple illustration of the most plausible theory of the cause of the trouble take a large house for an example. There are water pipes on every floor, but if the people on the lower floor use all the water that they can contrive to have flow from the various outcontrive to have low from the various of the carry water up in buckets. If consumers use all the water in the company's pipes, nothing is left to afford pressure in case of 'I cannot go into the matter more fully until I have made a thorough investigation. Piles of people nave pues, but DeWitt s Witch Hazel salve will cure them.

GOING AND COMING.

Police Officials Feel Certain of Catching Dug McGuire Both Ways. The fact that the police of Des Moines, Ia. are not wise in their generation is only be ginning to dawn upon the sleuths of that city. With the feeling that they were doing the state of Nebraska much good in turning over "Dug" McGuire to the police of this city, they unwittingly deprived Iowa's penitentiary of holding behind its bars as clever sneak and all round petty thief and crook as ever climbed a porch or robbed a

It will be remembered that at the time of the arrest of "Cad" McGuire and the finding in his home of a lot of stolen property, quickly collowed by the confession of McGuire's ac complice, a young boy, the Omaha police had suspicions that Dug McGuire had had a hand in his brother's work. This was confirmed when the boy told all he knew concerning the systematic thievery that had been going on for weeks. Dug and Cad had been not only brothers in relationship, but "brothers in crime" to the extent that the city's de tective force had been at its wit's end to dis cover the perpetrators of the offences, which had become as frequent as exasperating. Efforts were at once made to locate Dug McGuire and in answer to the queries sent out a reply was received from Des Moines that the young man was under arrest there on the general charge of "suspicious charac-ter." But the suspicions were only gener-ous, and on the arrival at Des Moines of Detective Sergeant Haze the prisoner was cheerfully turned over to the care of the Nebraska officer. Only a few days before this Detective Haze and his men found a quantity of jewelry in Omaha, which answered the de-scription of a lot of goods that had been secured in the burglary of a store at Des Momes. #### OVERHEAD LIGHT WIRES.

Some Chance of Their Going Under Ground This Year. Several members of the council entertain the impression that Manager S. L. Wiley of the Thomson-Houston Electric Light company intends soon to submit a proposition by which all the overhead wires of the concern will be placed under ground. This impression, they say, was obtained from conversations had with Mr. Wiley. versations had with Mr. Wiley.

Yesterday afternoon, when seen by a BRE reporter, Mr. Wiley said: "We have no intention of making any request or submitting any proposition to the council. Last year we desired to place our wires under ground and sought permission from the council. Our application was stored away in some committee pigeon hole and ignored throughout the session. So far as I know, not the the session. So far as I know, not the slightest consideration was given the matter. We were not asked to appear before any committee and the indications are that the council and the committee to which our application was referred deliberately neg-lected to pay it any attention. Why this was, I cannot say. Other companies were authorized to lay conduits. Considering our treatment, we are not again going to give the council something to ignore. Perhaps we will call the attention of the councilmen to our treatment during the past session."

Mr. Wiley admitted to a councilman that overhead wires are a nuisance and that public opinion is strongly against them. The company does very well, he said, with overhead wires, and when it wanted to accede to the wishes of the people and place the wires under ground, the city authorities disre-garded a matter which they have been dis-cussing for a long time, and seemed not only to favor, but to be on the point of demanding.

Maine and Massachusetts Parties Go Into the Business Deep. Boston, Mass., Jan. 12.—There is apparently excellent authority for the statement that a combine has been formed by Maine and Massachusetts parties which will practically control the lumber business of the United States. The syndicate is said to have secured 30,000 acres of lumber land in Maine; 25,000 acres in Florida; 30,000 in Kentucky and over 200,000 in New Mexico. It proposes to erect mills in Maine, Massachusetts, Kentucky, Illinois and New Mexico, and sell direct to dealers. The syn-dicate is said to have a capital of $80,000,000. A number of lumber dealers who have ima number of number dealers who have important timber interests in all sections of the country, were seen today and all of them declared the control scheme absurd in every respect. Said one: "The number of acres said to be under the control of this synditation of the control of the syndicate is only a drop in a bucket when com-pared with the timber acreage of the country."

TO PAVE SUBURBAN ROADS

Part of the Funds Voted Last Year to Be Used This Spring.

MATERIAL NOW UNDER DISCUSSION

What Shall the Surface Be is the Point to Be Decided-Testimony as to the Durability of Different Articles.

A portion of the $150,000 voted last summer for paving improvements will be expended in putting into good shape one or more of the roads leading from the city to the suburbs. This was decided upon at a meeting of the county commissioners held vesterday. The board will as soon as practicable personally inspect a number of roads to determine where the improvements shall be made. As soon as this is settled upon bids will be asked for, and the work started in the

Just what materials shall be used is a question to be decided after the various roads have been inspected. In this connection the address of City Engineer Dornelly of Kansas City before the Engineers club of that city furnishes some food for reflection. Speaking of paving in general Mr. Donnelly

"Macadam will last as long as you repair and take care of it. Cetar blocks on con-crete will continue in fair condition for five years, and with some attention and sprink-ling and repair it may answer for service for four years longer. Cedar blocks on boards will last about four to seven years, when it gets beyond repair and must be renewed. Cypress blocks, about three years; the material appears to rot and becomes very bad a short time after being laid. Colorado sandstone, under heavy traffic, about five to ten years, at which time, if relaid, using some new blocks, it will last an equal period.

new blocks, it will last an equal period. Granite blocks will ordinarily need relaying in fifteen years, but it is the only kind that will endure heavy city traffle.

"Brick, if of the right kind, will endure under ordinary traffle, about ten years; on narrow streets, under heavy traffle, it can hardly last that long. Of the durability of asphalt I am not as well prepared to speak. The city of Washington, among the first to pave with asphalt, is still using streets paved more than fifteen years ago; although portions of it have been natched and reportions of it have been patched and re-paired, no general reconstruction of the streets has been made. Our neighboring city of Omaha has pavements in fair condi-tion after ten years of wear, and while seamed and cracked from shrinking of the wearing surface, are apparently good road-ways, and can yet be cleaned fairly by a street sweeper, and are as good for general travel as when first laid down."

That the question of the materials to be used will form a subject of controversy when the expenditure of the amount voted last
