WORLD FAIR COIN GIVEN AWAY Tewelry Department-Our Watch and Clock Boston Store Commences Tomorrow a Cloak Sale Absolutely Without Parallel OR EQUAL-8,000 LADIES' CLOAKS

Our Entire Present Stock Ladies' Stylish Jackets Will Be Closed at Prices Which Will Make Them Go in Next 10 Days.

BOSTON STORE WILL GIVE AWAY FREE.

An elegant black fur muff of real monkey or bear fur, worth from $2.50 to $5.00, will be given away free to every cloak purchaser in this sale. Or a World's fair souvenir coin, issued by the United States government.

Those wishing to take advantage of either of these liberal offers must bring this advertisement with them. We have now about 8,000 ladies' cloaks or jackets, every one of which was made this fall. Every one of these is made in the latest style, but we NEVER CARRY OVER anything from one season to the other, and we are willing and do make ALL SORTS OF SACRIFICES in order to carry out this rule. We go so far that, no matter how great the loss will be, we are positive that no garment will be allowed to remain if some kind of price will move it. For instance:

We have a number of very fine garments that sold before the holidays at from $45 to $60; you can buy them now for $18.75.

All those beautiful fur-trimmed jackets in black or tan beaver, with full shawl collars of astrachan, coney or possum, half satin lined, and which sold for $25, go now at $11.25. All those elegant tailor-made, swell and stylish jackets, in dark browns, tans, or black, with half lining of changeable silk, and big pearl buttons, which used to sell at $19.00, go now at $8.75. Then there's a big lot of Lady Franklin coats, with real astrachan notched collars and trimmed sleeves, that would be worth $15.00 at wholesale, go now at

And if that is not enough we cut the price of all the black diagonal reefer jackets that sold for as high as $9.00 each 0 $3.75

So take your choice before this great, good lot of bargains is exhausted. We pledge our word that we will not carry over one single garment until next

And if there's any virtue in cutting prices we won't have a cleak in the house before the week's out. BOSTON STORE, Sole Agents for McCalls' Patterns,

MUCH IMPORTANT WORK. Executive Council of Woodmen of the World

Closes a Busy Session. The executive council of Woodmen of the World spent the day in closing up the business of the session. It was decided to establish the southeastern jurisdiction and make J. B. Frost of Atlanta, Ga., the official head and manager of that jurisdiction.

The sovereign commander and the sover eign physician were authorized to revise the application blanks so as to make them con-form, as nearly as practicable, to the form adopted by the national fraternal congress. Resolutions of condolence and sympathy were passed upon the death of Sovereign Advisor Tuthill.

Advisor Tuthill, The Woodmen circle, which is the ladles' auxiliary to the order, was recognized under the protectorate of the sovereign camp. The colors of the order to be used in flags and banners, hereafter will be white, red and black, and aluminum will be the metal used in the jewels and badges of the frater-nity.

The remuneration that shall be allowed the committees which will be obliged to hold meetings during the year was agreed upon and established.

The board of managers was instructed to neet semi-annually to investigate the affairs of the order. Favorable information was received during

The day from Canada with regard to the probable action of the Dominion parliament upon the bill to perreit the order to incorporate in Canada.

INVADED THE REALMS OF ART

Pugilists, Divorced Women and Ball Players in the Roles of Actors.

SLIMY FOUNDATIONS FOR A REPUTATION

Utilizing the Wreckage of Ruined Lives as Stepping Stones to Wealth and Fame in the Histrionic Profession-With the Legitlmates.

NEW YORK, Jan. 21 .- The public has witnessed the spectacle of women endeavoring with step ladders made from the wreekage of their private lives, to climb into the dramatic profession. The attack of the sluggers Sullivan, Corbett, McAuliffe and a dozen of others upon the dramatic art is now a part of history ; and this week Mike Kelly, the professional base ball player has come. He adopts the stage and intends to "act" for convict will soon display himself as a prison cure, and incidentally as an actor. The scheme is to realize an honest living from a burglar's reputation, and the stage, forsooth, is seized upon as an accessory to that end. Dunlap, who was an actor before the North ampton bank robbery, proposes to renew and to reproduce that, melodrama upon the stage. The star actors in the original, Scott, Red Leary and the rest, are all dead and there is no one to dispute Dunlap's assumption of the leading role in the reproduction pardoned for his part, has supplied the data. It makes no difference, probably, that the average sensibilities are shocked at the notion of a condemned and lib-erated criminal seeking thus a cash capital on his own degradation. Deceny would demand, if it had a chance, that a least the personality of the woman who effected Dunlap's release, because her husband misled him, would be left out of this malodorous him, would be left out of this malodorous play. But no, the woman and her present husband, it is affirmed, are to be led forth as a part of the scheme to exploit a pardon for cash returns. The wife of the old burglar Scott, now happily remarried and 1 ving on Fifth avenue in this city, is to be personated in the play. If the public gorge does not rise at this commercial trailing of man's crime and of wifely shame, it would be fair to con-clude that new standards of dramatic measurement have been set up among the people.

Has Been a Week of Endings.

The closing week has been one of endings in theatrical seas. Next week will be one of beginning. John Drew, in "The Masked Ball," at the Standard will wind up tonight a successful run. And, by the way. Drew nearly killed a man the other night. The man was close down in front and during the second act the fun drove kim to paroxysms of laughter that made him hysterical, which finally wound him up in a fit. An ambulance lugged him away to his hotel.

She was expected, so literature runs-and her handlers say that she has been hiding somewhere since the stars of the text. That lust? say that she has been hains somewhere since she stepped into town. That lust? drama, "Captain Hearne," will quit at the Union Square today and thus the decks will be fairly cleared for the incoming weak decks will be fairly cleared for the incoming week. On Monday evening "My Official Wife" will be performed at the Standard, involv-ing the principal acting in New York by Robert Gutting, ir., as a stage companion o his bride, Minnie Seligman-Gutting. Tues-day will see the start of the grand opera season at the Manhattan, and a revival of the "School for Scandal" at Daly's. On Wednesday the New Em-pire will be opened by Charles Frohman's stock company. On Thursday Marion Manola and John Mason will produce "Friend Fritz" at Hermann's. The ensu-ing week will be scarcely less proficient in dramatic novelties, and so the last half of the theatrical season will be greatly en-lyened. These are the strong theatrical livened. and Bijou theater an entirely new program will be introduced. During the past ten days the Bijou stock company has been carefully rehearsing the sensational melodrama. "The Streets of New York," a play that has received the honest praise of both press and public throughout the east. It will also give the patrons of this house an opportunity of hearing Mr. George Wessells, the new leading man, and Miss Nellie Elting, the new leading lady, in another line of charac-ter work. Both are great performers, and no role will suffer in such capable hands. Mr. Wessells is the best actor the management has as yet secured actor the management has as yet secured and Miss Elting with her high spirit, humor, pleasing voice and graceful manner has created a great impression. With the capa-ble support of the other members of this ex-cellent company "The Streets of New York" should prove a big winner. The speciality program will also prove a strong feature, as it includes the Sisters Dayton, a duo of hand-some vocalists, dancers and banjoists.
