STORMY SCENES IN THE HOUSE of national or tribal title to the lands in In-

Consideration of the Quarantine Bill Starts Many Warm Discussions.

IT BECOMES A LAW AFTER MUCH DEBATE

Passed After Numerous Amendments to it Had Been Made-A Badly Patched Up Measure -Vesterday's Business in the Senate.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 23 .- There have been many stormy and confused sessions of the house, but they have generally been held when a matter of political or personal interest has been at stake. Rarely has a more boisterous meeting been held over a nonpartisan and nonpersonal measure than that which occurred today. Members were at cross purposes over the quarantine bill. Its most carnest supporters believed that it did not go far enough, and while they acquiesced in some of the amendments made by the New York members, they did so under protest and in the belief that if they did otherwise the measure would meet a lingering death through filibustering. After many parliamentary wrangles the bill was finally passed. The house, in continuation of Saturday's ession, met at 11 o'clock this morning. This had the effect to continue the special order, under which the quarantine bill is being considered, and the house immediately proceeded, in committee of the whole, to further discussion of that measure.

Mr. Warner's Amendment

On motion of Mr. Warner, democrat, from New York, an amendment was adopted extending the provisions of the bill to immigration and importation across land boundaries as well as across sea boundaries. The object of this amendment, as explained by Mr. Warner, is to protect the Canadian and Mexican frontiers.

Passed. may be in conflict with this act. Passed. After the rejection of various amend-ments the committee arose and reported the bill to the house. Then the house found it-self in a tight parliamentary tangle, and every member who attempted to disentangle it only drew the knot firmer. The bill as reported from the committee of the whole was a substitute for the original bill infroduced by Mr. Rayner, and, as such substitute, was reported, although it had re-ceived several amendments.

Conversal amendments. Complaint was made that this was not the proper status of the bill, but the speaker was firm in the decision that there was but one amendment—the substitute pending. The previous question was finally ordered on the substitute reported by the committee of the whole by a vote of 139 to 29, and the substitute was acreed to

Mr. Reilly, democrat, from Pennsylvania then moved to recommit the bill with instructions to the committee on commerce t of the United States, or to permit the entry or discharge from any vessel in any port where quarantine regulations have been established by state or municipal authority until such vessel shall have complied with such regulations.

The New York & New Jersey bridge bill was then called up, but the Pennsylvania delegation compelled its withdrawal by fill-bustowing taction bustering tactics. The house then, in committee of the whole, proceeded to the consideration of the sundry civil appropriation bill. The general debate occupied about twenty minutes, though there was a tacit, but not expressed agreement, that Mr. Bland, democrat, from Missouri, would be allowed thirty minutes tomorrow to present his opinion as to the proposed repeal of the Sherman silver hill bustering tactics. proposed repeal of the Sherman silver bill, Without disposing of the bill, the committee rose and the house adjourned.

Would Defy the Boomers. Mr. Butler, democrat, from South Caro-na, denounced the means resorted to in order to forestall pending legislation in con-gress. He had been told today by a senator from Connecticat (Mr. Platt) that if the agreement between the government and the Indians was not carried out, thousands of Washington Notes.

Indians was not carried out, thousands of white men who were camping along the whole border, would rush into the Chero-kee Outlet and take possession of it. The senate was to logislate under the threat of a motive. The senate was told that if it did not legislate according to the peculiar notion of these people, they would go in, nolens volens, and take the land. That was the attitude in which the senate fund the attitude in which the senate found itself. For himself he proposed to defy the threats of the mob and to throw the protection of the government around these Indians -even if it took every soldier to enforce the treaty stipulations with the Indians. Mr Berry's amendment was agreed to, and the bill went over without further action, to be brought before the senate when the anti-option bill is not. The senate then went into executive session and soon adjourned.

Some of its Provisions-Probable Action in the Senate.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 23 .- The quarantine bill, which passed the house today, though in its general purport similar to the senate measure on the same subject, will have to pass the scrutiny of the latter body. The senate bill still rests upon the speaker's table, and if it could have been taken up and amended in conformity with the house bill it could have been sent immediately to conference. As it is, the house bill will go to the senate with no more privilege than that enloyed by any other proposition originating in the house

Further Discussion of the Anti-Option Bill

-Opening of the Cherokee Outlet. WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 23.-Mr. Chandler, republican, from New Hamp shire diverted the senate today by arraigning two republican senators (Messrs, Hoar of Massachusetts and Platt of Connecticut) for putting forward against the anti-option bill a constitutional argument that would be equally strong in its application to the tariff law. He warned them that they would be called upon to defend the tariff law in the next congress if the democrats were true to the platform on which their presidential ticket had been elected, and he intimated that their contention that the taxes could be imposed only for the purpose of revenue, not for the purpose of protection, would be fatal to a high protective system.

At the coachision of Mr. Chandler's speech the anti-option bill went over without action, an agreement having previously been reached that the vote on that bill shall be taken on Tuesday of next week.

In the discussion of a proposed amendment to the Cherokee Outlet bill, Mr. Platt, repub-lican. from Connecticut, referred to the Hean, from Connecticut, referred to the president-elect as a man "whose desire to take care of the best interests of the country would get the better of any desire to serve his friends."

Certificates of election of Senators Cockerell, democrat. from Missouri, and Davis, republican from Minocosta, for the new terms from March 4, 1803, were pre-sented and placed on file. Also the certifi-cates from the presidential electors for the state of Louisian.

cates from the presidential electors for the state of Louisiana. House bill to provide for lowering the height of a proposed bridge across the Ohio river between Cincinnati and Covington by the Rapid Transit Bridge company was taken from the calendar and passed.

Took Up the Anti-Option Bill.

The secate then, by unanimous consent, proceeded to the consideration of the anti-option bill—the question being on the amend-ment offered by Mr. Vilas, democrat, from Wisconsin, to the George substitute.

Wisconsin, to the George substitute. Mr. George, democrat. from Mississippi, proceeded with the argument which he had partly made hast Saturday. He spoke one bour, and when he took his seat a proposi-tion was made by Mr. Washburn, republican, from Minnesota, to have the voie taken on Thursday next. This was objected to by Mr. White, democrat, from Louisiana, who said that the senators from New York and Delaware (Hill and Gray) desired to address the senate and were not present today, and he suggested Tuesday of next week as the time for taking the vote. After some coltime for taking the vote. After some col-loquy, Mr. Washburn consented to Mr. White's proposition, and the arrangement was finally made that at 1 o'clock on Tues-day of next week the vote shall be taken on the George substitute and not later than 2 o'clock on the bill itself.

In the Supreme Court.

The supreme court dismissed, for want of urisdiction, with directions to the United Jurisdiction, with directions to the United States circuit court for the district of South Carolina to do likewise, the suits brought by the Northwestera Railroad company against Walter and Els, to enjoin these county officers from collection of a tax imposed on the railroads by the state. The taxes were state, county and school taxes. The Tillman board of equali-zation accessed their property at a higher rate than other property and it is asserted that this is unconstitutional. The point at issue has stirred up the railroad companies of the state, and has been a political issue as well between the two wings of the South Carolina democracy. It is held that juris-diction cannot be made to attach by combin-ing the various forms of tax in a number of counties, and thus swelling the total amount involved to over $2,000, the amount necessary to take the case into the form

We have received two cases of these goods bought for early delivery, but were not received by us until this week. They were to be sold at $1.25 a garment, but rather than have them left on our hands would rather they were on the public's body; therefore, have put them down to the actual cost price.

CONSUMPTION CAN BE CURED. If Dr. Schenck's treatment and cure of Consumption were something new and untried, people might doubt; but what has proved it self through a record as old as our grandfatn-ers, means just what it is-A Specific for Consumption and for all diseases of the Lungs. No treat-ment in the worldenn place so many perma-nent cures of Consumption to its credit as Dr. Schenck's. Nothing in Nature acts so directly and effectively on the lung membranes and tissues, and so quickly disposes of tubercies, congestion, inflammation, colds, coughs and all the seeds of Consumption as HILDRETH & ALLEN, Proprietors.
