She was on her way to her son's home at Broken Bow, Neb., and stopped here to rest a few days and visit her daughter, Sister M. Arnold, at the convent. Her illness became serious and death finally released her from her suffering.

The new Madison street school house will be completed, if the contractors carry out their original intentions, about April 1. This will give a total seating capacity of 4,500 in all the various school buildings, which the board of directors are anxious to have in view of the fact that there are 7,000 persons of school age in the city.

The house of a man named Edelberg, at 207 Logan street, burned last evening about 10 o'clock. The fire started in the front hallway, and the indications were that they were of incendiary origin. The fire department was called and the fire was soon extinguished, the principal damage being to the furniture by the smoke and water.

The following officers were chosen yesterday by the medical board of St. Bernard's hospital: President, J. P. White; vice president, John Green; secretary, D. Macrae, Jr.; advisory board, Drs. Pinney, Seybert and Macrae, sr.; consulting surgeons, Drs. Macrae, jr. and Pinney; consulting physicians, Drs. White and Green.

The annual celebration of the birthday of "Bobbie" Burns will take place this evening at the Royal Academy, following which the Scotchmen of the city will put in the night in their usual way on occasions of this kind. A banquet will be given, which will be followed by dancing. The Burns festivities are always brilliant social events, and this will probably be no exception to the rule.

At the annual meeting of the Woman's Christian association, bills adopted as a standing order: Bills against the association shall be sent to the superintendent of the Woman's Christian association hospital, corner Sixth and Avenue B streets. It shall be the duty of the auditing committee to examine all such bills monthly and report to the association without delay the several amounts for payment.

The funeral will take place tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock from her residence, 1228 Third street, and the remains will be interred in Walnut Hill cemetery. A particularly sad feature of the case is that the deceased was married less than a week's day and was taken with her last illness within two weeks afterward.

An information was filed in Justice Fox court yesterday, charging William Beckwith a pecker living at Henderson, Ia., with assault. The complainant was Minnie Esgur, who lives in Keg Creek township. The house was alleged to have been committed November 30. Another information was filed charging Peacock with the larceny of a revolver from the house of Ernest Esgur, also of Keg Creek township. Beckwith gave bonds in the sum of $500 for his appearance on the 30th, when he will have a hearing. The impression seems to be that Beckwith is a pecker, and he has already had two preliminary examinations in other courts, and was discharged on both occasions.

Dr. Herbert L. Flint entertained another large audience at Bohay's last night in such a thoroughly satisfactory manner that if no interest was felt in the wonderful hypnotic influence of the operator, a good one would be attracted by the pure fun that is ever a startlingly original feature. This element brings up the performance to the level of the very best of the country, and the best interest that the educated person feels in the subject of hypnotism makes it a pleasant evening's entertainment for all.

Fully Answered. Dr. J. H. Cleaver, L. C. Huff and C. P. Butler, officers of the Fidelity Protective union, are out in a two-column affidavit explaining fully and elaborately all the details of the transfer of the business of the union to the National Fraternal association. The affidavit fully and completely answers the complaints made by Mr. Biederman in his open letter a few days ago and effectually contradicts any impression that the letter might have given by implication that the gentlemen had not acted for the best interest of the company when they agreed to the transfer.

Careful reading of the affidavit also corrects the impression that the reading of Biederman's letter seems to have given in some quarters, and which even crept into the Bee, that the officers of the National Fraternal association were unfavorably connected with the transaction. This, of course, was ridiculous and untrue, and arose from an unfortunate transposition of the names of the two companies. The transfer simply relieves the old officers from burdensome liabilities which they could not afford to take the time to discharge, and strengthens the Fidelity's affairs by placing the management in able and experienced hands.

NEWS FROM COUNCIL BLUFFS

Contractor C. Bosen's Hard Luck for the Past Year or So.

HARD WORK HAS AVOIDED HIM NAUGHT

He Loses a Large Amount of Money by a Fire in a Building Which He Was Erecting—His Creditors Inclined to Be Lenient.

Contractor C. Bosen of this city has executed a mortgage and a chattel mortgage upon his planing mill on North Main street and the machinery it contains, for $2,000, in favor of P. Wind, a rival contractor. Mr. Bosen has been in rather hard luck of late, by reason of some unfortunate circumstances over which he could have no control, but his friends thought he would pull through in time, and as he had always borne an excellent reputation for honesty and business ability his creditors showed him considerable leniency in making collections.

Last Friday the climax to his trouble came, when a large coal building which he had been erecting at Albany, Mo., for the Methodist church south, was destroyed by fire. He had put in $19,000 in labor and materials, and it was almost a total loss, excepting for those parts of the building that were composed of unburnable materials. He had covered by insurance to the amount of $10,000, but had turned over the policies to the church, and he expects to receive a business shortly, and he hopes to be able to make satisfactory arrangements with his creditors, by which he will be enabled to resume business shortly, and thinks that if a little more favor is shown him he will be able to meet all his obligations, so that not a creditor shall lose a cent.

Opening of Court.

The January term of district court opened yesterday morning, with Judge Thornell on the bench. Most of the day was occupied with the reading of the docket and making of an assignment for the trial of cases for the next two or three weeks. The grand jury was appointed and set to work on the cases of the following men: John Clausen, J. R. MacRae, W. C. VanPelt, Robert McElrath, J. H. Shields, Lars Jensen, R. E. Williams, Henry Siepkes. The trial of cases will be begun this morning; the first case on the assignment being that of the Laconia Savings bank against W. E. Johnson.

A motion for a change of venue was filed in the case of Laura Kessler against Estman Kessler, in which the plaintiff wants a divorce. The defendant wants a change of venue from this county to the district court of Guthrie county on the ground that he has lived there since last June. He asks the court further to compel his wife to pay him for the expenses to which his wife has put him by commencing this suit against him. Among the items of expense for which he wants to be reimbursed he mentions $6 for transportation from Guthrie county here and return, $2.50 for the two days' stay and $25 for his attorney fee.

Gentlemen's Roadster Club Anxious to Protect the Interests of the Public.

WHEELS OF VEHICLES OFTEN DAMAGED

Councilmen Petitioned to Have the Danger Lessened as Much as the Circumstances Will Permit—Annual Election of Officers.

An important meeting of the Gentlemen's Roadster club was held last night at the Merchants hotel. When President Richard Smith called the meeting to order, about 25 members were present. After reports from Treasurer George Weldon and Secretary H. C. Terry were read the annual election of officers took place.

The nominations for president were E. M. Bartlett and G. C. Metcalf. Mr. Bartlett received a majority of the ballots and on suggestion of Mr. Metcalf his election was declared unanimous.

D. T. Mount was elected first vice president, George C. Metcalf second vice president and A. W. Paxton, jr., third vice president. H. C. Terry was re-elected secretary and H. H. Martin was made treasurer. The board of directors chosen was composed of Messrs. H. K. Barker, William Snyder, C. H. Collins and C. H. Fowler.

The members casting votes in the election of officers were Messrs. E. M. Bartlett, George C. Metcalf, Alexander W. Paxton, H. C. Terry, J. H. Egan, W. M. Fowler, W. M. Rogers, Charles A. Cox, L. W. Hill, M. L. Hooper, Louis Littlefield, William Littlefield, J. K. Gieby, George W. Clark, W. C. Alexander, W. B. Fleming, A. P. Johnson, J. G. Forrest, T. J. Millard, J. J. Collins, H. L. Hughes, H. C. Terry, W. W. Maco, W. H. Beckman, Walter Phelps, G. C. Metcalf, R. Smith, Robert Wells, C. P. Reed, W. E. Barker, R. E. Smith, W. H. Hamer, H. Hamilton, Thomas Swabe, Chat Redick, H. H. Nason, H. B. Ivey, W. H. Hooper, E. W. Lee, W. H. Hoffman and Harry Lawrence.

Good humored speeches were made by the retiring president, Mr. Smith, and Secretary Terry.

Book Charge Immediately.

Immediately after the election, the new officers assumed their official duties and in the absence of President Bartlett, first on appeal, Edward Mount relieved Mr. Smith in the chair.

Mr. Metcalf then offered the following resolution: Whereas it is an almost daily occurrence for buggy wheels to be caught in the slot of what was formerly the cable car line on Harvard street, and by reason thereof the wheels are damaged, but lives are endangered thereby, and the public interest is thereby injured, and in view of the street car company, therefore be it resolved, that it is the sense of this club that the city council of Omaha should take immediate steps for the abatement of the evil, and further:

Resolved, that the secretary be instructed to forward a copy of this resolution to the city council before its next meeting.

The resolution was amended so as to apply to all streets, and except by the secretary will also ask that cable slots be made narrower.

Robert Wells then offered a resolution authorizing the secretary to dispose of a silver cup to be given to the member whose horses make the best showing each year. He thought competition for the cup would be keen, and that the member whose horses would be a good thing for the club. The resolution was adopted.

The report of Messrs. H. C. Terry, W. H. Beckman, H. A. Bouslog and D. T. Mount on the new by-laws was then read. The report was adopted after a lively debate over rule 33, relative to racing rules.

GRAND CIRCUIT TROTTING.

Plans Arranged for the Year, New Clubs Admitted and Dates Fixed.

New York, Jan. 24.—The board of stewards representing the various tracks on the Grand circuit held a meeting today, and settled all their differences. The meeting was a secret one. At its conclusion Secretary Archer announced that everything was settled, and that the Grand Circuit Driving Club and the Detroit club, which Daniel Campau is the moving spirit, to the circuit.

That was agreed, and then came the question of the winter meeting. It was agreed that the season, which, as finally agreed upon, are as follows: Pittsburgh, July 14 to 14; Detroit, July 17 to 21; Cleveland, July 24 to 28; Buffalo, August 4 to 8; Chicago, August 11 to 15; Springfield, August 22 to 25; Hartford, August 29 to September 1; New York Driving Club, September 2 to 5; Philadelphia, September 12 to 15. All the dates are inclusive.

This assignment of dates was agreed to unanimously. It was decided that no change of dates should be made without a majority vote of the association in the circuit. The agreement under which this assignment is made is to cover a period of five years.

In this connection it was decided that hereafter no other track would be admitted except by a two-thirds vote of all the members. It was further arranged that hereafter the president will call a meeting of the board of stewards early in each year.

Ex-Governor Buckley fought a resolution through providing that each association in the circuit should offer a series of races for 3 and 4-year-olds. The condition governing the events to be decided upon later, but the purses offered to aggregate at least $75,000 were regarded as most generous.

Secretary Archer had a resolution passed which apparently nullified the foregoing by providing each association the right to change its program and stakes as it saw fit.

BANDIT LEADERS IN CUSTODY

News of the Capture of Benavides and Gonzales Has Been Confirmed.

SKIRMISH WITH GARZA'S FOLLOWERS

Lieutenant Dickman Has a Smart Fight with the Mexican Invaders—Fallout Work of Sergeant Cramp and Three Privates—Hernandez's Fate.

New Orleans, La., Jan. 24.—The Times-Democrat's San Antonio special says, regarding the capture of Mexican bandits: The following is the official dispatch received by military headquarters here today from Captain George F. Chase, who commands the cavalry troops, from Fort Sam Houston, and is at present at Baluarte ranch, Zapala county: "Lieutenant Dickman, while scouting from this camp on January 22 with a detachment of troops D and K, Lieutenants Walker and Conrad, captured Francisco Benavides and Francisco Gonzales, leaders in the San Ignacio camp. They are now prisoners in my camp.

"Dickman has returned to camp. He had a sharp fight with a party of bandits yesterday afternoon. It resulted in wounding and capturing Escavario, captain, and one of the most desperate of the bandits. Escavario is a deserter from the Winchester before he was captured.

"Sergeant Cramp, with three men of troop D captured the bandit chiefs Benavides and Gonzales. They saw the bandits first and laid for them in the brush.

"The officers and men of the squadron have worked night and day, through cold and storm, conducting themselves with bravery, patience and judgment worthy of commendation during the execution of plans for the capture of the bandits. The high merit of General Wharton telegraphed Captain Chase today, expressing his thanks and heartfelt congratulations on the capture of the bandit leaders.

Hernandez Will Be Shot.

The Times-Democrat's City of Mexico special says: It is expected that a decision will be rendered tomorrow by the military court of Mexico in the case against Colonel Nieves Hernandez, the Mexican army officer who was found guilty of treason and desertion, and sentenced to a term of military court martial several months ago for treachery and neglect of duty and sentenced to be shot. The charge was convicting him of the escape of General Garza, whom he was detailed to pursue. Colonel Hernandez is a young man of pleasant countenance and manly bearing. The case on appeal before the high court was concluded today.

General Juan Mendez, president of the tribunal, asked the accused officer if he had anything to allege in his own defense beyond what had been brought out by his counsel. He replied that he had not.

It is generally believed that the verdict of the court martial will be confirmed.

"There are always some of the old guard around, an not afraid. Are you among them?"

"I told him I was, and then I told him the story of the diamonds.

"All right," said he, "we will stand together."

"Well, nobody molested us. We got to Washington all right and my friend Lawrence got the bulk of his diamonds in the hotel safe. I met Butler the next day down at the capitol and spoke of the day before.

"Pshaw," said he, "my life is threatened twice a day on an average. Probably more people have been killed by bandits than any man who ever lived. I'll die of old age long after the miscreants are hanged."

Through British Eyes.

The following interesting scraps of information about Americans have been collected by English travelers and published in foreign journals:

"Umbrellas in use in America are fitted with a small oblong peep-hole glass, through which the pedestrian views the surrounding country while protecting himself from the storm."

"Americans sweeten their tea and coffee with rock candy."

"Dark gray is the favorite color for American table decorations."

"The burglers who broke into the house of Wagoner, near D. Pillsbury on Blackwell's island, opposite New York, and stole a big cedar chest containing $1,500 worth of silver ware and got away certainly knew their business. Mr. Pillsbury slept in a room about ten feet from the treasure chest, and he has two little flights of four steps that a man not thoroughly familiar with would stumble over. On one landing stood the chest which was heavy enough to tax the strength of two big men. They moved it out of its place, down the little turn, down the stairs, and through a narrow space between two tables, on which are several pieces of brass and porcelain, out through the parlor window, on the veranda, down two flights of stone steps and northward along the river, over about 600 feet and landed head or saw them. The thieves tried open the chest, emptied the silver into a bag or something of that kind, got into the boat in which they had descended on the island and dropped off into the darkness, while the other passengers, insane persons and penitentiary prisoners snored peacefully.
