LIGHT ON MONTANA'S SENATORIAL FEUD

New Complications in the Famous Davis Will Contest in Montana—Divorce as an Advertisement—Summary of Northwest News.

DEARWOOD, Jan. 28.—[Special to THE BEE.]—One of the most remarkable exhibits at the World's fair will be the mineral display from the Black Hills. Those familiar with the resources of this region know that it possesses a larger variety and more quantity of mineral wealth than any other part of the earth of equal size.

A Block of Gold. Probably the most interesting single display on the entire grounds will be the great block of gold shown by the Homestake Mining company. This will take the form of a three-months' trial mine.

The Homestake is the richest mine on earth. Not even the famous Constock lode, in its best days, equaled it in yield. For fifteen years it has been grinding away, and every year finds the ore in slight more vast and the deposit growing richer.

The Harney Peak Tin Mining company will also make a display of great interest. It is now more than 200 feet in width.

Significance of the Senatorial Feud in Montana. The daily report of the senatorial contest in the capitol of Montana parallels the vote in this way: Sanders, 30; Clarke, 21; Dixon, 11; Collins, 2;attering, 7.

Sanders is the republican candidate, the other represent democratic factions. W. A. Clarke is the well known millionaire of Montana, one of the democratic "big four."

Clarke's interests were concentrated in Butte. He lives there, his residence being conspicuous because of its prominent and attractive surroundings.

Daly and at the same time hold him up for a good round sum. Twenty-five thousand dollars was the sum paid by Clarke for what Daly could have had for $10,000.

Other Claimants Appear. During the month following the death of the multi-millionaire a number of sons and daughters appeared.
