ANTI-OPTIONS BILL PASSED

It Receives a Decided Majority in the Upper House of Congress.

MUCH INTEREST TAKEN IN THE DEBATE

Washington, D. C., Jan. 31 .- The senate got rid today of the legislative incubus under which it has labored since the first day of the session. The anti-options bill reached the point at which voting began at 3:15 p. m. The first vote was on the amendment offered by Mr. Vilas, democrat, from Wisconsin, to the George substitute, and the amendment was rejected-yeas, 21; nays, 50. Then the George substitute itself was rejected-yeas, 19; nays, 51. And finally the bill was passed by a vote of 40 to 29. There were many members of the house of representatives, at times almost as many of them as there were senators present, in the senate chamber during the votes and the preliminary discussions of the bill; and the deepest interest was manifested in the proceedings on the floor as well as in the crowded galleries.

Chandler's Annexation Resolution. Mr. Harris reported the senate quarantine bill with the appropriating clause omitted as a substitute for the quarantine and immigration bill passed by the house.

Mr. Hill objected to immediate consideration, as he wished time to examine it, and the bill went over till tomorrow.

The senate then took up Mr. Chandler's resolution requesting the president to transmit to the senate any convention he may make with the provisional government of Hawali, and Mr. Chandler proceeded to discuss it. He then moved its reference to the committee on foreign relations.

Mr. Dolph made a long statement on the subject, giving details as to the population, commerce, etc., of the islands, and favoring annexation.

Before Mr. Dolph had concluded, the antioptions bill was taken up in order to have the arrangement changed as to the taking of the vote. It was decided that the vote on the George substitute be taken at 3 p. m., and the final vote on the passage of the bill at 4

Chandler's Hawaiian resolution having been laid aside without having been acted on and the anti-option bill having been taken up, arguments in opposition to it were made by Wolcott of Colorado and Gray of Delaware.

Given More Time.

On motion of Sherman the time for taking votes on the anti-options bill was extended fifteen minutes to give Higgins of Delaware an opportunity to conclude his argument in support of the bill.

At 3:15 the senate proceeded to vote. The first vote was on Vilas' amendment to strike the words deout of the George substitute the words de-claring options and futures to be obstructions to commerce and illegal and void. The amendment was rejected. The George substitute was then rejected.

Mr. Vest spoke of the action of the house of representatives of the Missouri legisla-ture instructing the United States senators from that state to vote for the bill, and said he preferred his own self-respect to personal or political applause. There was sunshine in other places besides Washington city, and the air of the prairies was purer than that of the senate chamber. He should therefore, with the greatest pleasure, vote

Passed the Bill.

Various amendments were offered and rected, and the bill was then passed-yeas,

The following is the vote in detail: Yeas -Messrs Allison, Blackburn, Call, Carey, Chandler, Cockrell, Cullom, Davis, Dubois, Faulkner, Felton, Frye, Gallinger, Gordon, Hale, Hansbrough, Hawley, Higgins, Hun-ton, Irby, Kyle, McMillau, Manderson, Mitchell, Morgan, Morrill, Peffer, Perkins, Pettigrew, Proctor, Sherman, Shoup, Squire, Stockbridge, Teller, Turpic, Voor-hees Waithail, Washner, and Wilson, 40 Squire, Stockbridge, Teller, Turpie, Voorhees, Waithail, Washburn and Wilson—40.
Nays—Messrs. Berry, Biodgelt, Butler, Caffery, Cameron, Coke, Daniel, Dawes, Dixon, Gibson, Gorman, Gray, Harris, Hill, Hiscock, Hoar, Jones of Arkansas, McPherson, Mills, Palmer, Platt, Pugh, Ransom, Sawyer, Stewart, Vest, Vilas, White and Wolcott—29.

The bill is the one passed by the house of representatives on the 9th of June, 1893, with various senate amendments thereto. Fortifications Bill.

The fortifications appropriation bill was then taken up.

Mr. Sherman moved to have the Nicaragua bill taken up so as to make it the unfinished business after the appropriation bill. After some discussion the motion was rejected. The first amendment to the fortifications bill (an item of $50,000 for gun and mortar platforms) having been read. Mr. Dolph took the floor and continued the speech which he had begun this morning on the subject of the annexation of the Hawaiian islands. He yielded later temporarily to permit notice be given of the memorial services on Fri-

Mr. Dolph then went on with the rending of his speech, most of it was devoted to the question of the Nicaragua ship canal, it having been originally prepared as an argument in favor of the pending bill on that subject. When he closed, the consideration of the fortification bill was proceeded with. No Progress, however, was made. House bill to amend the act for the construction of a wagon bridge across the Mis-souri river at Sioux City. Ia., was passed and the senate adjourned.

In the House.

A resolution was adopted calling on the secretary of the interior for information whether manufacturers and refiners of sugar have refused to answer questions propounded to them by census officials, and if so, whether steps have been taken to compet them to the whole the consideration of the sundry civil appropriation bill.

The next order to be taken up was that section which appropriates for rivers and harbors, and against this item Butler, democrat from Iowa, raised the point of order that the appropriation for this object did not rest within the jurisdiction of the committee on appropriations, but within that of the committee on rivers and harbors. action, the house then adjourned.

ADMISSION OF TERRITORIES.

Republican Senators to Take Further Action -Washington Notes.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 31 .- The republican members of the senate will held another caucus at a very early day for the purpose of reconsidering the action by which the bill for the admission of territories was agreed upon. There appears to be a feeling that Arizona will be unjustly treated and that if the other three territories are to be admitted, the fourth ought to be taken in also.

LINCOLN, Neb., Jan. 31 .- [Special to THE BEE.]-The criminal docket will be commenced upon in Judge Hall's court tomorrow afternoon, when the case against Charles Hoppy, charged with the burglary of Loomis store, will be called. Hoppy pleaded guilty in police court, but put in a different one this morning when arraigned. Frank Hart, charged with larceny from the person of James McSweeney, who had taken him in out of the cold, pleaded not guilty, and his trial was set for Thursday.

Late yesterday afternoon Frank Hubbard, the missing farm boss of the asylum, walked into court with his counsel, F. I. Foss of Crete, and pleaded not guilty to seven of the twenty-three indictments against him. He was released on $1,000 bail, furnished by Foss, for his appearance Thursday morning, and the same recognizance was taken on the six others. There is but little doubt that Hubbard is here to give testimony for the state, as he was closeted with Assistant Prosecutor N. Z. Snell the greater part of yesterday afternoon. MESMERIC MR. REYNOLDS.

He Gives a Unique Performance at the Y. M. C. A. Parlors Last Evening.

That Prof. Reynolds is the possessor of mesmeric powers that are truly marvelous was the unanimous verdict of the large audience that witnessed his performance at Young Men's Christian Association hall last evening. The entertainment was at once unique and enjoyable, and the mesmerist and his subjects kept the spectators in a continual roar of laughter for over two hours

The professor prefaced his entertainment with a few remarks concerning mesmerism in general and related a number of anecdotes illustrating the effect of magnetism as a panacea for all human ills. He then invited those who were ready to test his power to take seats on the platform and about twenty men responded. Seven of these were selected as the most susceptible to the mesmeric influence and Prof. Reynolds soon demonstrated that he had a complete mastery over the volitions and the imaginations of his subjects.

After the usual introductory tests in which he demonstrated his influence over the physical faculties of the subjects he pro-ceeded to show that his power extended over every mental function as well. He made visions of playing fountains appear before their eyes and convinced them that the seeming water was in reality the sweet-est of perfumes. They sprang forward to dip their handkerchiefs in the odoriferous spray and in a moment the odor was changed to indicate the immediate presence of pole cats and the young men threw the handkerchiefs away and clapped their hands to their loses with a horror so natural as to be ludicrous in the extreme. The docile subjects were made to see in an inoffensive walking stick a wrigging, twisting serpent and their faces were convulsed with horror as they sprang frantically onto the nearest chairs and endeavored to frighten the monster away. Then they were made to see an orange tree grow upon the rostrum and picked and ate the luscious fruit, declaring that it was the sweetest they had ever tasted. A word, and the fruit was changed to peaches and they fell over one another in their haste to gather the succulent product. A subject was made to imagine that his mother, who was a hundred miles away at the time, was sitting in the chair at his side, and when a man from the audience was placed in the chair he put his arms around his neck and kissed him, believing implicitly that he was caressing the maternal

The most ludicrous scenes were produced at the will of the operator. The subjects were taken to the circus and they laughed and clapped their hands like a lot of school boys at the antics of the performing elephant and the stereotyped clown. At his will the mesmerist filled their clothing with fleas. made a silver dollar burn ther hands and wound up by having them don imaginary skates and cavort around the stage with as much apparent enjoyment as though they were in reality on the floor of a rink. One young man broke away at the beginning of the performance and retired to the farthest corner of the room, but was compelled to return under the influence of the operator's magnetic power. These were but a few of the experiments which entertained the audience during the evening and an entirely new program will be presented each evening.

At the Bijou Theater

Strengthening the stock company of the Bijou-theater has added not a little to smoother performances, a better cast and in many respects a performance worthy of the liberal patronage that is being given the house. Within the past few weeks several new people, in addition to George Wessells and Miss Nellie Elting, have been added, and, with a possible exception or two added, and, with a possible exception or two, creditable presentations are the rule.

The well known English melodrama, "The Ticket-of-Leave Man," is the bill this week, and, barring minor incidents, the play is well staged and well acted. As Hawkshaw, the detective, George Wessells is clever, cunning and always in the nick of time. Cast in leading characters in the meloding characters. time. Cast in leading characters in the mel odramas being presented weekly, Mr. Wessells has ample place and opportunity to display powers that made the actor a prime favorite even as long ago as when he played prominent roles with McCullough. Miss Elting's interpretations show the result of careful study and at times arising to a point of finish rather surprising in one of her years—for she is scarce 19. This is true of years—for sae is scarce in. This is true of her acting in the various characters in which she has been cast since her advent here. That she gives promise of developing into a thorough artiste there can be no question. In this week's cast she takes the part of May Edwards, Harry Barlow cleverly filling the role of Bob Brierly, a Lancashire lad with a dialect that is excellent. The others of the cast are fair. The vaudeville special-ties preceding the drama include Madame Zecondia, the female Hercules, Arthur Pryor of Sousa's band, in trombone solos that are excellent, the Warren sisters, aerial gymnasts, Jennie Smythe, in songs and dances and Fowler and West, comedy sketch team. The Warren sisters, little tots, one about 6, the other 10, do some remarkable work on the rings and trapeze. The bill continues all week.

New York, Jan. 31 .- A local paper says Charles Coinc, ex-secretary of the American Panama company, who is said by ex-Secretary of the Navy Thompson to have vouchers and other papers rowing in detail the expenditures of the company, lives at 98 Hooper street, Williamsburg. When asked if he would show the vouchers, he answered:

"I have not been connected with the company for four years; I have no vouchers

"Do you know where they are!" he was asked. "I suppose those who should have them

"Colonel Thompson says you have all the papers showing the transaction of the comany."
"Colonel Thompson is a very old man. He has said many things which he would not say if he was not so old."
"Colonel Thompson says a large item in the expense of the American company was the cost of building and transporting a large dredge, which at the time it was made was the largest in the world."

"As I said before, Colonel Thompson is an old man and he does not mean what he said There were seven of those dredges and they were not built in California. They were constructed by the American Dredg Contract company and were built in Brooklyn and Philadelphia." "How much did the American company

"We found that American machinery was the best in the world. Colonel Thompson says he wants to correct a statement that we purchased 500 cars in Terre Haute, and then he states that he had but 300 cars built, and that they were built by Robert S. People have no idea how crude and cruel soap can be. It takes off dirt. So far, so good; but what else does

It cuts the skin and frets the under-skin; makes redness and roughness and leads to worse. Not soap, but the alkali in it. Pears' Soap has no free, alkali in it. It neither reddens nor roughens the skin. It responds to water instantly: washes and rinses off in a twinkling; is as gentle as strong; and the after-effect is every way

All sorts of stores sell it, especially druggists; all sorts of people use it.
