Senator Talk of the Perils of a Railroad Man's Life.

BILL FOR THEIR BETTER PROTECTION

Custom and Chandler Advocate its Passage—Opposed by Democrats—A Sarcastic Speech by the New Hampshire Senator—In the House.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 7.—The senate bill for the relief of assignees or legal representatives of John Booth, deceased, to pay the balance due on the United States steamship Dolphin, $16,450, was taken from the calendar and passed.

Mr. Turpie, democrat, from Indiana, offered the following resolution, which was laid on the table and ordered printed:

Resolved, That the doctrine of asylum, as practiced and maintained by a very large majority of the members of the family of nations, is highly expedient and the jurisdiction in what are known as political offenses, ought not to be extraditable. It is concluded as a matter of fact that a treaty should be approved which proposes to out the courts of the United States from the jurisdiction of the extradition of political or non-political offenses of a political or non-political nature.

The senate, by a vote of yeas 23, nays 34, refused to take up the New York and New Jersey bridge bill.

The senate then resumed consideration of the substitute reported from the committee on Interstate Commerce to promote the safety of employees and travelers on railroads by compelling common carriers engaged in interstate commerce to equip their cars with automatic couplers and continuous brakes and their locomotives with driving wheel brakes.

Mr. Cullom in explanation of the bill Mr. Cullom, in charge, said there were forty different patterns of automatic couplers and he thought it would be better to have one standard freight car agreed upon a particular type of coupler the Interstate Commerce commission would fix that as the one to be used.

Mr. Harris asked Mr. Cullom whether the railroad companies were not adopting the automatic couplers as rapidly as their financial condition would allow.

Mr. Cullom said the railroads so claimed, but not one-third of the freight cars were provided with such couplers.

Mr. Vilas asked Mr. Cullom whether he knew of any instance where any company deferred paying dividends in order to adopt means to protect the lives of its employees.

Mr. Cullom gave no instance of the kind. He said that in the case of the Pullman company he was looking more to finances than to the protection of the lives and limbs of their employees.

Mr. Wolcott, republican, from Colorado, inquired whether the association of freight men had not protested against the adoption of the automatic coupler, expressed a preference for the link and pin.

Mr. Cullom admitted that the freight men would prefer the link and pin rather than have a variety of couplers that were now in use.

Mr. Chandler said that the bill should be passed without any restriction.

ANNEXATION KNOCKED OUT

City Council Knocks Out the Plan to Take in Suburbs.

ALLEGED LEGAL OBSTACLES IN THE WAY

One of the Charter Amendments Will Remove the Difficulty—A Quiet Meeting and Business Mostly of Minor Importance.

The city limits will not be extended just yet. At last night's session the council effectually disposed of the proposition to take in certain suburbs, and it did so by a decisive vote.

The report of the judiciary committee influenced the votes of some councilmen, who stood in great favor of doing something which that committee had said would be illegal, although they had written opinions from the city attorney that the action could be taken and would be perfectly legal.

The judiciary committee reported adversely to the passage of the ordinance, holding that the city does not possess the power at the present time to extend its corporate limits, as there has been no official showing of the requisite increase in population.

The committee argued that the extension cannot be made until the amendment now pending in the legislature becomes a law, which will give to the city the power to extend its corporate limits to not exceed thirty square miles.

One of the members made a gallant fight to secure the passage of the ordinance, but their efforts availed naught. Steel and Munro were willing to take the opinion of the city attorney and believe the ordinance should be passed.

The board approved the contract between the American District Telegraph company and the city for a night signal service to be placed in the city hall.

The board also submitted the estimate by the Board of Fire and Police Commissioners of the probable cost of conducting the departments of fire and police for this year, as follows: Fire, $125,000; police, $100,000.

The council was invited by Mayor Veir of Lincoln to attend the complimentary concert to be given to the legislature by the Conservatory of Music on the evening of February 10.

The board and contract with the Chaffee Lumber company were approved.

The committee on public property and buildings was instructed to hold a public hearing on the matter of the Board of Education request to quarters for the board in the city hall.

Mr. McLenzie introduced a resolution instructing the plumbing inspector to rigidly enforce the existing plumbing ordinance, and to make a careful inspection of all school buildings.

The Board of Public Works was directed to have the grading on Howard street, west of Twentieth street, and the paving on Howard street, in order to permit the leveling of a grading assessment.

Comptroller Olson was instructed to advise the city for or against the report of the annual reports of the city officers.

The report of the Judiciary reported adversely on the resolution calling for a four minute service from 6 to 9 o'clock in the morning, and from 5 to 7 o'clock in the evening.

The petitioners have accompanied his application with an elaborate printed argument in which he contends with great force for the appointment of three additional members to the board.

LANCASTER, Neb., Feb. 7.—[Special to The Bee.]—The district court was called upon this morning to decide a question that would probably be a poser to an eastern caddie. Five months ago J. T. McKinstor made a contract with Jacob Shaffer whereby the latter was to board a herd of horses during the winter for a stipulated sum.

Mr. Cudady started in reply that he had been very much pleased with the management of the branch of his business in this city by W. H. Maurice, and that if he had not had such confidence in him he would probably not have made the move.

RUSSIAN EXTRADITION TREATY

Its Confirmation Opposed by Senator Turpie—Washington Notes.

RUSSIAN EXTRADITION TREATY

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 7.—When the senate committee on foreign relations reported the Russian extradition treaty today to the senate in executive session it was with an amendment to the effect that attempts to monitor the czar or any member of the royal family be considered a non-political offense, regardless of what the motive of the criminal might be, and that, being non-political offenses, they should be extraditable. The same clause was productive of a good deal of debate. The opposition was led by Mr. Turpie, who has all along been a champion of the doctrine of the right of asylum.

COFFEE AND TEA AT MEALS.

Effect Upon the System of Their Constant Use.

Action on the Nerves, Brain and Feelings.

Need Not Be Stopped, But Their Influence Must Be Counteracted.

"Do you drink tea and coffee?" "Certainly, every one does."

"The speakers were a prominent Fifth avenue physician and a Wall street financier, says the New York Tribune, continuing, the physician said:

"It is true that nearly every one does drink tea and coffee. Why? To make blood, to make nerve, to make brain, to make muscle, to make nerve! Not a bit of it. There is no nourishment in those articles; they simply 'keep up' the feelings."

"But, doctor," said the business man anxiously, "must I stop their use?" "Not necessarily," was the physician's reply. "It is true they do not nourish, but they can be taken in moderation without any special injury, providing a good nerve food is used at the same time."

"What do you mean by a good nerve food, doctor?" "I mean," said the physician, "something which provides a food for the nerves, a nerve tonic. It is difficult to find just the ingredients for this purpose, but it seems to have been found in the discovery made by Prof. Phelps of Dartmouth college, known as Paine's celery compound. The way in which the ingredients of this compound are combined, make it an actual nerve food. It contains just the properties which the nerves require for growth, development and strength."

"The physician expressed a great truth in a few words. The nerves do require a special food, and there are a wonderful number of people throughout the land who have found this compound to meet their wants. A recent letter from General Alexander Hamilton, who now resides in Tarrytown, N. Y., bears a strongly on this point. He writes:

"I have, for many years, suffered from wounds received during the late war, there being one over my left lung and heart, and have carried round a musket ball for twenty years. But after using Paine's celery compound for the past year or two, I am vigorous and well, and free from the great nervousness and hemorrhage from which I suffered as the effect of the ball over my heart."

"My family would not be without Paine's celery compound in the house. It builds up the system, and is the best medicine that we ever used."
