A petition for a writ of error was filed in the district court vesterday in the seventeen cases commenced by W. E. Franser, a Sioux City collector, against the railway employes of Pistis Phill. Neb. A bill of exceptions is filed, calling attention to the particulars in which it is claimed Justice Fox erred in his rulings. There are twenty or more exceptions, but one of the principal is the fact that the justice refused to allow the defendants to have their cases tried by a jury. The cases will now be reviewed in the district court, and if the petition is sustained the will all have to be tried again by Justice Fox.

Queer Explanation Growing Out of the Biggs Will Case.

OBEYED HIS FIRST WIFE'S SPIRIT

Mrs. Webb Declares This to Be the Reason Why She Received No Part of the Estate as Previously Agreed

The Biggs will case was put upon trial in the district court yesterday. Although the amount of the estate is not large, the attempt now being made by Mrs. Webb of Boulder, Colo., a daughter of the deceased, to have the will broken is of considerable interest. W. L. Birrs married a second wife when he was 82 years of are and quite feeble. He died in a couple of years. When his will was opened it was found that he had left all his property to his wife. Mrs. Webt cinims to have spent several hundred iolians on the place in the way of improvements with the understanding that at the death of her father she was to have the place. The most interesting thing about the affair is the statement made by Mrs. Webb in a paper filed yesterday, in accordance with an order of court requiring her to state who it was that had influenced her father unduly in the matter of deciding who should be his beneficiaries. She states that it was the second wife who prejudiced her father against his children and other relatives, and by means of flathery induced him to favor her to the exclusion of all the other beirs. She also claims that Mrs. Biggs, who is a trong spiritualist, pretended to her husband hat she had had direct communication with dd her that it was her wish that she Birrs the second) should have all the property horself.

Caught a Burgiar.

B. S. Harrington, who lives at 2807 avenue I, had an interesting experience with a burglar about 2 o'clock yesterday morning. He was awakened by his wife, who heard some one rattling the blind and trying to get in at the window. The fellow tried several windows, but all were securely fastened. Harrington, in the meantime, sat up in bed with a shotgun in his hand, prepared to let the contents fly at him in case he managed to get the window open. Either the visitor heard a noise inside that told him it was time to leave, or else he gave it up as a bad job, for he left and went to the next house. where he epened a window and got in with-out much trouble.

Harrington got up and put this ciothes on, and galling his little boy to go with him and carry a lantern, he started on the warpath When he got outside the door he could see the fellow with a lighted match in his hand walking about the next house, both the houses he had entered being without ten-ants. By the time Harrington had reached the house the man had disappeared, but Harring-ton climbed in the window and prepared to search the house. The fellow was found at hast crouching in the corner of one of the rooms. He refused to leave the house alive, but was finally persuaded to go by the sight of a gun and Harrington's threat to get some of his neighbors to assist him. He some of his acignors to assist him. He was marched to the water works power bouse, and a call for the pairol wagon was sent in. At the police station he was booked with burgiary, and gave his name as C. A. Martin, although he had previously told Harrington that his name was George Minor, and that he had riends in the city. It is supposed that he look the houses for those of the employes of the motor company, who had just been paid off, and he was expecting to make a cash haul. He claims however that he had been to Cut-off on the ice and in returning to his home near St. Bernard's hospital be got cold and somewhat turned around, so that he de-cided to get in some house and get warm.

August Jensen, a simple young foreigner who lives at Denison, came into the city yesterday morning over the Northwestern to make some purchases which he expected to make some purchases which he expected to take home with him in a market basket he was carrying. The first thing he ran up against was a bunko man who had $10 worth of experience to sell. He bought it and is now looking for the man who sold it to him, as he claims that particular brand of experience is not satisfactory.

The man met him on the train and said he lived in Oklahora, and was looking for a man to drive a team for him at $50 per month. Jensen immediately acquired for the place.

Jensen immediately applied for the place and got it. After leaving the train they sauntered up First avenue, where they were met by the inevitable agent for the express company, who had a mackage for the bunke man. Jensen was called upon to relieve his new friend's financial embarrasament, and $10 of his wealth changed hands. The two men went into the south door of the Grand hotel to fix the matter up, and when Jensen was found by a policeman half an hour later he was still waiting for them to return. He describes one of the men as large, with smooth face and wearing a brown overcoat, while the other was quite small, with a full face and wearing a black overcost.

TALKED OF OMAHA.

Dr. Miller's Inspiring Address to the Sundown Club. The business and professional brains of Omaha were well represented last night in the meeting of the Sundown club at the Mercer hotel. Prominent lawyers, bankers, physicians, merchants, and elergemen lined the long tables that stretched along three sides of the dining room. The banquetters are to music, for an orchestra stationed in the lobby filled the atmosphere now and then

A hose wagon at No 3 engine house is needed badly, and that matter was dis-cussed. Mr. Smith thought that a hose wagon should be placed at or near Twenty-sixth and Capitol avenue, but Mr. Hartman thought not. Mr. Smith favored the idea of forcing the

PROMINENT BANKERS GIVE THEIR VIEWS

It is Thought by Some New Bonds Will Have to Be Issued-Others Think the Key to the Situation is Purchase of Silver Repeal.

NEW YORK, Feb. 13 -- In regard to the financial statement, the Herald prints the following: George C. Williams, president of the Chemical National bank, and president of the Clearing House association said yesterday: "I do not regard the situation of things as satisfactory. In my opinion it will soon be necessary to issue bonds to increase the gold reserve in the United States treasury. Something must be done and the secretary cannot make a mistake if

NEW YORK, Feb. 18,-An Ottawa special to the Times says: The silver question is causing no little anxiety here in view of the effect on Canada of a crisis in the United States. The Toronto Board of Trade has appointed a subcommittee to ascertain the increase in United States silver coin and notes circulating on this side of the line. Canadian commercial circles would naturally be affected by any depreciation of American currency, which has a large circulation in the border countles and in Montreal and Toronto. A Toronto banker is authority for the statement that the amount of American merency received over the counters of various Canadian banks is 22 per cent of all moneys. This currency competes mostly with notes and displaces a corresponding Canadian silver and Canadian $1 and $2 amount of dominion currency. The loss by the shrinkage in the value of silver, should the artificial means by which the price is sustained cease, should be brought to the attention of the Canadian government. It is suggested that the government should levy a tax on all American silver paid out by the banks.

Want the Gold Reserve Increased.

NEW YORK, Feb. 13-Secretary Foster of the treasury passed a quiet morning Sunday. In the afternoon a number of bank presidents and bankers called on The secretary talked with these him. gentlemen about the financial situation, and it was elicited in this discussion that a number of bank presidents in Wall street believe that the secretary, even though his official life is to close within three weeks, should take steps under the refunding act to sell bonds to increase the gold reserve. The secretary listened to all the arguments and decided to visit the subtreasury at noon tomorrow and discuss the matter with a large number of bank presidents and bankers. It was very pointedly said last night that if the secretary and president de-cided that it would be good policy to sell bonds they would not undertake such a measure until they had communicated with Mr. Cleveland and his coming secretary of the treasury. Decisions in the Panama Case.

LONDON, Feb. 13.—The Paris correspondent of the Times reiterates his statement that the trials and decision in the Panama case were influenced by political considerations and quotes current gossip in Paris to prove the cor-rectness of his belief. The decision was altered, he says, after the speech of M. Cassagnae, so that it might weaken the speech by surpassing M. Cassagnae's declarations as to integrity, honor and national pride. On the other hand, several hours before the reading of the decision. M. Eiffel was informed that he had been acquitted. The decision had been completed originally the night before, but was so hastily and generally altered shortly before it was delivered that Judge Perevier could hardly read it.

Omaha Police Will Treat Them as Prize Fights. Chief of Police Seavey issued a pronun-ciamento yesterday against prize fights, and he puts the so-called "glove contests" at the Omaha Athletic club in that category. Several times during the past ten years the local admirers of the manly art have en-deavored to put the sport on a permanent basis in this city and in each case after one or two events had been pulled off the author-lties have stepped in and prohibited the further indulgence of tastes poglistically in

The present Omaha Athletic club, through its officers and representatives, hold severa conferences with the police authorities early give a series of giove contests, for purses with the understanding that the entertain ments were to be kept free from every ele-ment of brutality and should be conducted in an orderly manner. That the entertain-ments have been orderly Mr Seavey does not dony, but the fact that the most representative citizens of the city have been spec tators at the various events does not change his opinion, that when one, man knocks on other out for a purse the contest is a prize fight and contrary to the law, no matter how quietly the affair is conducted.

Acting on this proposition Chief Senvey dictated the following letters, which explain themselves and seem to put a quietu on entertainments now contemphated by the club. The first was directed to the presi-dent of the club, as follows:

dent of the club, as follows:

To the President of the Omaha Athletic Club: Isea Sir-I have the board to request that you will not permit the Delay-O'boaneil prize fight to take place in your club rooms. It seems to be that two men fighting or boxing with glores for money and carrying on the contest until one or the other is 'knocked out' or knocked conseless is nothing more not less than a prize fight. As I have problemed prize fights in Omaha during the past five years so shall I continue is long as I purchief of police of the city. I therefore more that it will please you to co-operate with me in enforcing the law in this respect. Very respectfully.

W. S. Savery, Unef of Police.

dered to arrest any and all persons might be found training for prize within the corporate limits of the city A letter was also addressed to Mayor Bemis requesting that official to promulgate some instructions in reference to the matter County Attorney Kaley was requested to give a written opinion concerning the law in the case so that the chief might act intelligently in his efforts to enforce the law. In discussing his somewhat unexpected action. Chief Seavey said that no one in Omaha had more to say in favor of legitimate ath-letics than himself. He considered boxing excellent exercise and altogether permissible if rightfully indulped. But where it was continued until one or the other was knocked senseless it was a prize fight and nothing less, according to his interpretation of the law, and it had always been and would be his policy to suppress affairs of that character as long as he occupied his present position.

The Omaha Athletic club will bow grace fully to the edict of the chief of police if the course of its president fairly indicates the sentiment of its managers. President Amesentiment of its managers. hast evening sent Chief Seavey the following letter:

Printers Enjoy a Night Off. The fourth annual ball of Omaha Typo graphical union, No. 190, was given at Washington hall last evening and furnished an enjoyable evening's entertainment to over 100 couples. The unpleasantness of the exterior atmosphere had no dampening effect on the spirits of the dancers, and with good busic and compenial company the evening passed all the quickly.

The grand march was led by Mr. C. E. Matthews in the Miss Strickler and a program of twenty-four dances was augmented by several extras. The general committee of arrangements combined of Messrs. C. W. Bigelow E. E. Himmin, A. L. Nelson, C. E. Matthows, J. W. Hill and W. B. Palmor.

You' Are Suffering From Nothing More-

Serious Than Indigestion. There are few things in life," said an experienced physician to a writer in the New York Leduer, "to which many none and women cling is something the marter with the heart. They have a little palpitation, a life, hustering, or little palpitation, a life, hustering, or little palpitation, a life, hustering, or little palpitation, a fittle hustering, or little palpitation, a sea to a hustering, or little distress, and straightensy they are trightened and imagine that they have some form of heart discuss, and a minuty time cases out of a hondred they simply have some form of indigention."

This is a solicium fact. The cause of indigention in the majority of cases is cratarrh of the stomach. People will person in distellering this statement, but it is true. And it is entirely true that out of 1,00 persons who then they have an organic disease of the heart 80 have
