

HERIDAN STILL BOOMING Under the Benign Influence of the General Chinoik Building Progresses. MANY NEW FIRMS OPENING FOR TRADE. Success for Live Business Men Attracting Talent to Fill Them—Manifold Attractions of the Place for Miners and Pleasure Seekers.

SHERIDAN, Wyo., Feb. 11.—[Special to THE BEE.]—Sheridan still goes ahead. Notwithstanding the cold weather that lasted a few days and was quickly followed by a "Chinoik" wind, mechanics of all kinds are working on buildings that are being rapidly pushed to completion for the spring trade. Several new brick business houses are about completed, and contracts have been let for others. The banking firm of Frank Brown, as opened up for business and has let the contract for a two-story brick building on Main street. Another new business started here is the Sheridan Lumber company. This firm will have large yards on the sidewalk and be prepared to fill all orders for building material. The members of the company are eastern capitalists and are well known as men of enterprise. There are several openings here for just such parties and a careful examination will convince the investor that this section offers inducements second to none in the country.

City property that is wanted at a price that is not excessive is the investment of a paying one. Fine ranches for farming and stock purposes, well watered, good grazing lands adjacent, all on the best of water, are for sale. As proof of this in regard to stock the writer has been in the last week steers that have been running in pasture, and during storms, are now fat and ready for market.

Mines and Mining. The Fortunate Mining company of New York, which put in a large claim and has placed an order with the Bureau Steam Dredge company for a larger amalgamator. It is to be placed on the ground and has about completed arrangements with an eastern company to put up machinery for the dredging of the river. The dredge will be a system of hydraulics and will push the work in Dayton gulch this coming season. J. B. Dougherty, a New Yorker, who has been in the mountains in the south-west, and who visited Bald Mountain in 1891, made a careful examination of the place ground, and has written to claim the rights he had in the mountains in the south-west, and who has written to show that the spring. All of which goes to show that the Big Horn mountains will have a boom this spring that will give the town and country surrounding it an impetus that will be felt. This new mining company has an advantage over many of the camps discovered in former days. Hereafter they have a more certain and less expensive way to reach them, while here the H. & M. railway, passing by the mountains, makes it possible to reach the distance of private conveyance only thirty miles from Sheridan to the mines over good roads. Another thing that makes the mine in the mountains a more attractive proposition is the fact that the trend of the valley is southward. Through the mountains there are no signs of life or vegetation are visible. The level is a mass of small rounded boulders of a dull brown color, evidently caused by fire. Intense heat if one glides through this desolate section on a summer afternoon he will receive a dose of superheated air unaccompanied outside of the mountains. The water here is of the kind to cool the mind and places the railroad company placed near the center of the mountains a telegraph station and considerably named it Sibley.

Mountain Resorts. The city of Sheridan is truly called the Denver of the northwest. A visit to the mountains west of the city, ten to fifteen miles, will afford the miner, the pleasure seeker or the invalid what could have been found in Colorado in the early days. The writer in the '70s spent a season among the mountains in the south-west, and his recollection of imbibing a considerable quantity of it with the mercury at 125° in the shade in the mountains, and in places the mind to cooler times and places the railroad company placed near the center of the mountains a telegraph station and considerably named it Sibley.

Winter Cholera. A mild form of bowel complaint, popularly known as winter cholera, made its appearance recently at Fairbury, Minn., and several other places. No apprehension need be felt from it, as a few doses of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy will effect a cure in every case. For sale by all druggists.

Preparations were made last season to work the placer in a larger scale than ever during the current year. Ditches have been repaired, pipe lines overhauled and extended and all in readiness for an active campaign.

The season there, according to the Mining Age, does not open till nearly the beginning of July, and is a short one, ordinarily, on account of the limited water supply. When the water is abundant, however, the winter operations can be continued until late in August or early in September. The present season is a full quota of snow, according to reports from Idaho. The geography of the section may be thus described: South of Snake river and north of the Snake river, the Snake river, close to the northern border of Routt county. The creek heads in Colorado, twin peaks close to the great range, flowing west into Wyoming and emptying into Snake river about two and one-half miles southwest of Bear Lake, Wyo.

In the bed of the stream and on the adjacent ground, particularly that on the south side, for the full distance, between sixteen and twenty miles, is to be found the richest far as the Iron Springs divide, that separates the watershed of Bear river from the Snake, and which is twelve miles due west of Four Mile, where the first find was made.

So far as prospected the placer ground extends northward and eastward to the Snake, with Putnam creek in the center. The Bear river on the south. Prospect holes have been sunk over an area of eight or ten miles in length, and the richest has been found in a case pay dirt was found. Bedrock is from a few feet to several feet below the surface. From actual tests made on these prospects, by washing the dirt in salt to average about 27 cents to the yard, and this from the grass roots to bedrock.

The gold doesn't seem to have come from the mountains, but occurs in a broad belt running across the country, the limits of which have not yet been defined. It is however gold strictly that is found there, fine and exceedingly heavy, so that it has been saved in the first sluice boxes. Reports sent to the United States branch mint at Denver showed that the gold was worth $100 an ounce, which is a high degree of fineness.

Bedrock is a blue clay that dissolves readily in water and doesn't rob the sluice boxes, never building up. The gravel is the same as that of the Colorado, allowing the gold to settle free. The action of the water on the gravel is similar to that of the Colorado. The conditions will be recognized by all.

placer miners as particularly advantageous. In fact, it was due to these causes that attention was attracted to this section. In all that country it is said there isn't a boulder as big as a man's fist. There are numerous small streams that furnish a good supply of snow water in the spring and early summer that make of certain tracts what might be termed the "poor man's diggings."

The great opportunities of the section, however, are for companies that will build ditches and put water on ground remote from streams or permanent or reliable water supply.

Wyo. Coal Monopoly. The feeling of the Wyoming people regarding the railroad coal monopoly was forcibly expressed at a public meeting in Rock Springs last Wednesday. The following was adopted and forwarded to the legislature:

Whereas, The recent action of the Union Pacific company in so changing freight rates and reducing the selling price of its coal as to cause the practical shutting down of our private mines, and

Whereas, It is a well known fact that the only salvation for the prosperity and growth of this state is in the coal and iron industry, and that the action of said Union Pacific company is without any regard to morals or justice between man and man in this matter;

Resolved, That we have faith in their devotion to the welfare of this state, and all in it, that they will not act and do as to bring about the passage of this bill.

Genius Resorts of Summer. The Death Valley of North America, near the Mojave desert, which was named by the soldiers of a gold-seeking party in 1850 after their companions had been overcome by its heat and aridity, is the subject of an interesting article in a recent issue of the California Magazine. In summer it is a veritable type of the fabled hell.

Today I am a well man thanks to KICKAPOO INDIAN SAGWA. It is the best medicine in existence, and all of my friends think my cure is nothing less than a miracle.

Kickapoo Indian Sagwa is the greatest remedy of the universe. The simplicity of its grandeur is the strongest that binds it to the confidence of the people.

Nature provides a cure for every disease of every living creature. Man in his wisdom can best understand these remedies, and the Indians who have been obliged to depend upon nature alone for their curative helps, best understand the wisdom of nature.

Kickapoo Indian Sagwa, made by the Indians from roots, berries and herbs of their own gathering and curing, is obtained only through our agent, and is sold in bottles for five dollars, and one dollar per bottle, six bottles for five dollars.

BOSTON FIREMAN SAVED Rescued on the Shadowy Shore of Spirit Land. His Friends Summoned to His Dying Bedside—All Hoped Abandoned—The Doctors Said He Could Not Possibly Live—Then Kickapoo Indian Sagwa Cured—Greatest Triumph on Record.

(From the Boston Globe.) The strong and positive assertions of the great curative value of Kickapoo Indian Sagwa are easily susceptible of proof.

John C. Harrington, Boston, Mass. Under date of Oct. 27, 1892, he writes: "A year ago last Christmas I was taken sick with the grip. A complication of troubles followed which developed Dropsy in its worst form, and for months I was obliged to sit in a chair, day and night, my body being down in bed. During that long period I had the best medical skill obtainable, and two doctors attended me at different times, but they could do nothing for me. I was kept in bed for three weeks, and I felt as if I were in a coffin."

Today I am a well man thanks to KICKAPOO INDIAN SAGWA. It is the best medicine in existence, and all of my friends think my cure is nothing less than a miracle.
