

RED AND WHITE SAVAGES

Pine Ridge Troubles Contracted with Those of Homestead.

TESTIMONY OF A CORRESPONDENT

George Harris Inclined to Think the Cruelty of the Strikers Exceeded That Exhibited by the Sioux on the Warpath.

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE BEE, 1515 FOURTEENTH STREET, WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 25.

Mr. George H. Harris of the Evening Star of this city has had wide experience with savages. He was at Pine Ridge agency during the Indian uprising there two or three years ago, and last summer he was present during the terrible days at Homestead, and possessed the happy faculty of being able to tell what he has seen and express the excellent ideas he has obtained from it. Last night he lectured in the Young Men's Christian association on "Red and White Savages." Contrasting the horrors of Pine Ridge with those of Homestead, he reached the conclusion that the white men of the east were the superiors of their wild brothers of the plains when it came to real savagery. Mr. Harris is well known at Pine Ridge.

FILIBUSTERING SILVER MEN

Serious Fight Inaugurated in the House on the Sundry Civil Bill.

WEIGHTED WITH SENATE AMENDMENTS

Mr. Bland Leads the Opposition to the Sherman Bond Proposition—Omaha's Public Building—Senators Waste Four Hours in Debate.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 25.—A fight which, next week may prove to be a serious one, was inaugurated in the house today. It was over the sundry civil appropriation bill, which contains the Sherman bond amendment. There are in all 307 amendments to the bill.

Mr. Holman desired that all, except the Sherman amendment, upon which there was to be a debate, be nonconcurrent.

Mr. Bland, as leader of the opposition to the Sherman amendment, objected, unless it was agreed that the amendment should be nonconcurrent in order to debate.

Mr. Bland, as leader of the opposition to the Sherman amendment, objected, unless it was agreed that the amendment should be nonconcurrent in order to debate.

After routine business was disposed of, and an hour and a half wasted in debate, Mr. Holman renewed the request made by him that the senate amendments to the civil appropriation bill—with one exception—be formally nonconcurrent, and a conference be agreed upon. That exception was the Sherman bond amendment, and Mr. Holman proposed that when the conference should report upon the other amendments a day should be devoted to debate upon that proposition.

Mr. Hatch said that he would make no objection provided that a similar course should be taken with the anti-silver bill and that it should be sent to conference. But objection was made to his request, whereupon Mr. Hatch emphatically objected to Mr. Holman's proposition.

Appropriation Bills Considered.

Mr. Holman moved that the house go into committee of the whole for the consideration of appropriation bills. Notwithstanding Mr. Hatch's opposition, Mr. Holman's motion was agreed to, and the house went into committee of the whole for the consideration of appropriation bills.

The first bill on the calendar was the Indian appropriation bill. This bill Mr. Holman requested should be passed over for the present.

Mr. Hatch objected, and the committee was compelled to rise in order to submit the question to the house, which decided the bill should be passed.

The committee having resumed its session, the sundry civil bill was taken up.

Mr. Holman then asked unanimous consent that all the senate amendments be nonconcurrent in with the exception of the Sherman bond amendment on which debate should be had.

On this proposition Mr. Bland objected, unless it was agreed that at the close of the debate on the bond amendment, the amendment should be considered as nonconcurrent.

After a noisy discussion—few of the participants therein being able to make themselves heard—Mr. Cochrane, who had the routine work of considering the senate amendments was started, but the silver men were on the alert and Mr. Pierce raised the point of no quorum and motion to adjourn in the first senate amendment, which increases the limit of cost of the public building at Allegheny, Pa., to $355,000.

Omaha's Public Building.

On the motion to nonconcur in the next amendment, being one for the completion of the public building at Omaha, Neb., Mr. Bland raised the point of no quorum, burning the count of a quorum, the silver men had an informal conference, the result of which was that Mr. Bland withdrew his motion, and the next amendment, took the floor with a speech on the financial situation. He opposed the Sherman amendment and appealed to members to stand by the amendment.

The house then proceeded to pay a tribute of respect to the memory of the late Senator John Harboure of Virginia and then adjourned.

IN THE SENATE

Legislative Appropriation Bill Took Up Most of the Time of the Session.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 25.—After four hours spent in discussing various amendments of little importance to the legislative appropriation bill, the senate passed the bill by a vote of 35 to 15.

On motion of Mr. Sherman, the bill was referred to a conference with the house on the disagreeing votes. As a motion for a conference at that stage of an appropriation bill is not usual, Mr. Dawes—in charge of the bill—explained that he made the motion at the request of a member of the house committee on appropriations. The reasons given to him were not at all worthy to state, but he thought senators could understand the situation.

A motion which was made by Mr. Sherman, to go into executive session, was defeated by the compact democratic vote, aided by three votes on the republican side of the chamber and one populist. One of the leading democratic senators stated to a reporter that the particular significance of the vote was that the time of the session should be given to legislative business and not frittered away in petty nominations or in considering the Hawaiian treaty. No action on the treaty, he said, would be taken this session.

The Legislative Appropriation Bill.

The legislative appropriation bill was amended by the insertion of an item for $75,000 for the purchase of George Bancroft's historical manuscripts, pamphlets, etc.

On motion of Mr. Sherman, the bill about "slums" investigation was struck out of the bill.

Mr. Allison offered an amendment relating to the exportation of commodities by the United States to foreign countries. It requires collectors of customs to make reports of exports to foreign countries, and Mr. Sherman said that he would like to see the United States by rail. It provides for a manifest to be delivered to the collector of the customs at the frontier port through which the goods pass, and for a manifest to the customs officer at the last port in the United States. These requirements, however, are not to be held applicable to goods in transit for American ports by routes passing through foreign territory, or to merchandise in transit between places in the Dominion of Canada by routes passing through the United States or to merchandise arriving at the ports designated under the authority of section 3665 of the tariff statutes and which may be destined for places in the republic of Mexico.

Mr. Allison explained that the object of the amendment was to facilitate the preparation of statistics as to the commerce to which it applies. The amendment was agreed to.

FATAL PRIZE FIGHT AT SAN FRANCISCO

Fifteen Rounds Ended by a Deadly Punch—Will Wind Up Pugilism in California—Where the Gladiators Elsewhere Are Doing.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Feb. 25.—The bantamweights, Del Hawkins and Billy Miller, fought last night before the Pacific club in the fifteenth round Miller went down under a light blow and failed to rise. He was taken unconscious to a hospital and Hawkins and his seconds were arrested. Later in the night Miller's condition took a turn for the worse and he died this morning of consumption of the brain.

Both men were bantamweights, tipping the scales, as they entered the ring, at 122 pounds. Miller was 21 years old. He came from Sacramento and had no science, relying on brute strength, while Hawkins was very clever. Miller was terribly punished, but Hawkins was unharmed. When it became evident that Miller could not win his friends tried to persuade him to throw up the sponge, but he refused, declaring he was not severely punished. This is the third man killed in the prize ring in San Francisco in the past four years.

Will Be a Blow to Pugilism.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Feb. 25.—The indications are that the killing of Billy Miller by Dan Hawkins in their fight last night will be a serious blow to pugilism in California. All the evening papers have printed editorials denouncing prize fighting as conducted here, and calling on the legislature to prohibit prize fighting. A bill introduced to prohibit exhibitions of boxing, advised from Sacramento says that the bill has been passed. There have been a number of bills introduced in the legislature in the last few years and the killing of Miller will revive interest in the slaughtering of Tom Avery and the case at the crematorium, the killing of Kelly by Tom Watson and the murder of Harry McBride by Frank Larue at the Golden Gate club.

Billy Miller, the dead pugilist, was a sturdy little Swede about 31 years of age. He fought because he loved it, and not for a business. He was a blacksmith by trade and worked at that calling.

Dan Hawkins is well known in local sporting circles. He was born in this city and has a mother and other relatives residing here. He has followed pugilism for years, and has earned the reputation of being a hard man to beat in his class.

The men arrested last night for connection with the fight have been charged with the murder and the chief of police has ordered the arrest of William Harrison, president of the Pacific Athletic club.
