

THE DAILY BEE

COUNCIL BLUFFS

OFFICE, NO. 12 PEARL STREET.

Delivered by carrier to any part of the city

H. W. TILTON, - MANAGER

TELEPHONES: Business Office, No. 43

MINOR MENTION.

N. V. Plumbing Co.

Council Bluffs Lumber Co. Cont.

Miss Stella Peterson

The Commercial Pilgrims of America

The case of Hendricks against Peterson

The Women's Relief Corps will give a

There will be supper served at 2313 Broad-

The members of the people's party will

John Snyder, who broke open the Court-

The case against Lee Carlin, who was

Meers, Michener and Magee desire to

John Cottingham, a carpenter, had his

The Little Dutch society of St. John's

Miss Mabel Edna Bower, daughter of

The following nominations have been

A good portion of the day was occupied

The case of M. F. Bouquet against

Chambers, the great English dentist,

The Boston Store contemplates having

Why let children die with diphtheria?

The electrician of the electric light

Richard Green returned yesterday from

Miss Nellie Cleveland.

Frank Huff, who has been connected

E. Hart returned yesterday morning

President Gates of the Iowa college

An alarm of fire was turned in at 3

Constitution cured by De Witt's Early

Stop at the Ogden, Council Bluffs, the

Nothing Can Be Worse

For the stomach than strong purgatives and aperients. The genuine Carlsbad

Spring water is natural, pleasant and secure only the genuine.

NEWS FROM COUNCIL BLUFFS

How the Motor Company has Evaded Doing

Its Duty to the City.

OBSERVER'S FEW CAUSTIC REMARKS

He Suggests a Remedy for a Settlement of the Existing Differences Between the City and the Corporation

-Timely Hints.

Council Bluffs, Ia., Feb. 27.-To the

The Commercial Pilgrims of America

The case of Hendricks against Peterson

The Women's Relief Corps will give a

There will be supper served at 2313 Broad-

The members of the people's party will

John Snyder, who broke open the Court-

The case against Lee Carlin, who was

Meers, Michener and Magee desire to

John Cottingham, a carpenter, had his

The Little Dutch society of St. John's

Miss Mabel Edna Bower, daughter of

The following nominations have been

A good portion of the day was occupied

The case of M. F. Bouquet against

Chambers, the great English dentist,

The Boston Store contemplates having

Why let children die with diphtheria?

The electrician of the electric light

Richard Green returned yesterday from

Miss Nellie Cleveland.

Frank Huff, who has been connected

E. Hart returned yesterday morning

President Gates of the Iowa college

An alarm of fire was turned in at 3

Constitution cured by De Witt's Early

Stop at the Ogden, Council Bluffs, the

Nothing Can Be Worse

For the stomach than strong purgatives

and aperients. The genuine Carlsbad

Spring water is natural, pleasant

and secure only the genuine.

CHICAGO CLUB LIFE EVILS

Millionaire Allerton (Gives Reasons for Re-

signing from the Chicago

THEY ARE WORSE THAN PUBLIC SALOONS

Such is the Statement Made by the Wealthy

Porter-Two Much Attention Given

to Serving Drinks - Club

Men Are Angry.

Chicago, Ill., Feb. 27.-[Special Telegram

to THE BEE.-Samuel W. Allerton is no longer a member of the Chicago club.

The millionaire banker, who has figured so prominently in public enterprises, said something to a newspaper reporter which started a flurry of polite indignation at the exclusive club house on Monroe street. Mr. Allerton, in the blunt and direct way which he has said there was too much drinking at the Chicago club. When a well known business man,

Mr. Allerton, was asked at his home after his return from the meeting. Who was present at the meeting and what was the subject, he said that he could not be fully

stated, but it is quite certain that besides

Mr. Scanlan there were John Devey, Patrick

McCarthy and Maurice Moran. Mr. Allerton

said: "I cannot tell as yet what will be done about employing additional counsel. That matter is being considered. The extent of the interview Mr. Allerton sent in his resignation. On the same day, which was one week ago last Saturday, the regular meeting of the executive committee was held and the resignation was accepted by unanimous vote. The whole transaction was accompanied by a deal of secrecy.

It was in the afternoon that a reporter for a morning newspaper called on Mr. Allerton at his office in the Board of Trade building. He was in a friendly and cordial mood. In answering he took occasion to talk of clubs in general. While he was on the subject he spoke as follows:

"I was thinking today when I was coming home that the four clubs that I belong to

were doing mighty little good in the world.

They were doing nothing but making a mess of the city. I was thinking that there is a law. I was thinking that

there is a law. I was thinking that

there is a law. I was thinking that

there is a law. I was thinking that

there is a law. I was thinking that

there is a law. I was thinking that

there is a law. I was thinking that

there is a law. I was thinking that

there is a law. I was thinking that

there is a law. I was thinking that

there is a law. I was thinking that

there is a law. I was thinking that

there is a law. I was thinking that

there is a law. I was thinking that

there is a law. I was thinking that

there is a law. I was thinking that

there is a law. I was thinking that

there is a law. I was thinking that

there is a law. I was thinking that

there is a law. I was thinking that

there is a law. I was thinking that

there is a law. I was thinking that

there is a law. I was thinking that

there is a law. I was thinking that

there is a law. I was thinking that

there is a law. I was thinking that

there is a law. I was thinking that

there is a law. I was thinking that

there is a law. I was thinking that

there is a law. I was thinking that

there is a law. I was thinking that

there is a law. I was thinking that

there is a law. I was thinking that

there is a law. I was thinking that

there is a law. I was thinking that

there is a law. I was thinking that

there is a law. I was thinking that

there is a law. I was thinking that

there is a law. I was thinking that

there is a law. I was thinking that

CHICAGO CLUB LIFE EVILS

Millionaire Allerton (Gives Reasons for Re-

signing from the Chicago

THEY ARE WORSE THAN PUBLIC SALOONS

Such is the Statement Made by the Wealthy

Porter-Two Much Attention Given

to Serving Drinks - Club

Men Are Angry.

Chicago, Ill., Feb. 27.-[Special Telegram

to THE BEE.-Samuel W. Allerton is no longer a member of the Chicago club.

The millionaire banker, who has figured so

prominently in public enterprises, said something

to a newspaper reporter which started a

flurry of polite indignation at the exclusive

club house on Monroe street. Mr. Allerton,

in the blunt and direct way which he has

said there was too much drinking at the Chicago club. When a well known business man,

Mr. Allerton, was asked at his home after

his return from the meeting. Who was

present at the meeting and what was the

subject, he said that he could not be fully

stated, but it is quite certain that besides

Mr. Scanlan there were John Devey, Patrick

McCarthy and Maurice Moran. Mr. Allerton

said: "I cannot tell as yet what will be done

about employing additional counsel. That

matter is being considered. The extent of

the interview Mr. Allerton sent in his

resignation. On the same day, which was

one week ago last Saturday, the regular

meeting of the executive committee was

held and the resignation was accepted

by unanimous vote. The whole transaction was accompanied by a deal of secrecy.

It was in the afternoon that a reporter for

a morning newspaper called on Mr. Allerton

at his office in the Board of Trade build-

ing. He was in a friendly and cordial

mood. In answering he took occasion

to talk of clubs in general. While

he was on the subject he spoke as follows:

"I was thinking today when I was coming

home that the four clubs that I belong to

were doing mighty little good in the world.

They were doing nothing but making a

mess of the city. I was thinking that

there is a law. I was thinking that

there is a law. I was thinking that

there is a law. I was thinking that

there is a law. I was thinking that

there is a law. I was thinking that

there is a law. I was thinking that

there is a law. I was thinking that

there is a law. I was thinking that

there is a law. I was thinking that

there is a law. I was thinking that

there is a law. I was thinking that

there is a law. I was thinking that

there is a law. I was thinking that

there is a law. I was thinking that

there is a law. I was thinking that

there is a law. I was thinking that

there is a law. I was thinking that

there is a law. I was thinking that

there is a law. I was thinking that

there is a law. I was thinking that

there is a law. I was thinking that

there is a law. I was thinking that

there is a law. I was thinking that

there is a law. I was thinking that

there is a law. I was thinking that

there is a law. I was thinking that

there is a law. I was thinking that

there is a law. I was thinking that

there is a law. I was thinking that

there is a law. I was thinking that

there is a law. I was thinking that

there is a law. I was thinking that

there is a law. I was thinking that

there is a law. I was thinking that

there is a law. I was thinking that

there is a law. I was thinking that

there is a law. I was thinking that

there is a law. I was thinking that

there is a law. I was thinking that

there is a law. I was thinking that

CHICAGO CLUB LIFE EVILS

Millionaire Allerton (Gives Reasons for Re-

signing from the Chicago

THEY ARE WORSE THAN PUBLIC SALOONS

Such is the Statement Made by the Wealthy

Porter-Two Much Attention Given

to Serving Drinks - Club

Men Are Angry.

Chicago, Ill., Feb. 27.-[Special Telegram

to THE BEE.-Samuel W. Allerton is no longer a member of the Chicago club.

The millionaire banker, who has figured so

prominently in public enterprises, said something

to a newspaper reporter which started a

flurry of polite indignation at the exclusive

club house on Monroe street. Mr. Allerton,

in the blunt and direct way which he has

said there was too much drinking at the Chicago club. When a well known business man,

Mr. Allerton, was asked at his home after

his return from the meeting. Who was

present at the meeting and what was the

subject, he said that he could not be fully

stated, but it is quite certain that besides

Mr. Scanlan there were John Devey, Patrick

McCarthy and Maurice Moran. Mr. Allerton

said: "I cannot tell as yet what will be done

about employing additional counsel. That

matter is being considered. The extent of

the interview Mr. Allerton sent in his

resignation. On the same day, which was

one week ago last Saturday, the regular

meeting of the executive committee was

held and the resignation was accepted

by unanimous vote. The whole transac-