ENTERED ON ITS LAST WEEK

Many Important Measures Awaiting the Action of Congress.

INDIAN APPROPRIATION BILL PASSED

Senate Amendments to the Sundry Civil Bill Nonconcurred in by the House-Unruly Members Called Down-In the Senate.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 27 .- There was a good deal of interest manifested when the ouse this morning entered upon the last legislative week of the Fifty-second congress. Many important measures were yet awaiting action

Mr. Peel of Arkansas was the first gentleman to catch the speaker's eye and he moved the passage of the Indian appropriation bill under suspension of the rules.

There was no objection to the measure, but it was made a pivot around which circled a general discussion of the anti-option

Mr. Peel's motion having been agreed to a discussion of the Sherman bond amendment to the sundry civil appropriation bill was discussed with some warmth, but finally all the senate amendments to the measure were nonconcurred in and the bill was sent to

When the speaker indirectly refers to the house as a "beer garden," as Speaker Crisp did today, the provocation must be very great, and it was. A dozen members were on their feet speaking at the top of their volves, which were rendered shrill through their efforts to out vie each other. The trouble occurred over the motion made by Mr. Wise of Vir-ginia to suspend the rules and concur in the senate amendment to the "ear coupler" bill, which amendment was finally concurred in-yeas, 154; nays, 85.

Indian Appropriation Bill.

The demand for the regular order by Mr. Simpson in the house blasted the hopes of a number of gentlemen who desired to have pet bills passed during the closing hours of congress. Mr. Peel moved to suspend the rules and pass the Indian appropriation bill. Although more than itso-thirds of the bill had already more than two-thirds of the bill had already been agreed to in committee of the whole, and though Mr. Peel requested that the reading of that part be dispensed with, Mr. Kilgore objected and the clerk proceeded to read the bill in extenso. The bill was then passed under suspension of the rules.

rules At the conclusion of the reading of the Indian appropriation bill, the anti-option bill came In for some talk. Taylor of Illinois said this was being pressed on the senate by the greatest combination of millers over formed in the world to limit the markets. Combs of New York sent to the clerk's desk and hind read a newspaper dispatch from Mankato, Minn., declaring such to be the determination. He then called attention to the fact that the gentleman presenting the bill in the senate is one of the most im-portant millers in the United States. Hatch replied at some length and said the Hatch replied at some length and said the bill would limit sales, not sales of wheat, but sales of wind on the Chicago Board of Trade After some further badinage the house got back to business and passed the Indian appropriation bill.

Mr. Holman moved to suspend the rules and nonconcur in the senate amendments to the sundry civil appropriation bill, including the Sherman bond amendment. After a rather warm discussion the motion to susend the rules was agreed to by a vote of 209 o 104, and Messrs. Holman, Sayres and Cogswell were appointed conferees. Mr. Wise moved to suspend the rules and agree to the senate amendments to the car

Mr. Richardson demanded a second, which after some delay was ordered by a vote of 162 to 65

Mr. Richardson moved an adjournment and on this motion the nays and ayes were Rebuked by the Speaker.

Then for some moments there was great confusion and noise in the house which com-pelled the speaker finally to state in tones of stern reproof: "Gentlemen must understand that this is the house of representa-tives and not a 'beer garden.'" [Applause.] The motion to adjourn was defeated-yeas,

WORKING EXPEDITIOUSLY.

Both the Senate and House Rapidly Disposing of Business.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 27 .- Both houses did a good day's work and took a long step in the direction of winding up the business so as to lessen the danger of an extra session. Few members of the house anticipated the smooth sailing that was met with today, and when the senate amendments to the sundry civil bill were disagreed to informally and sent to conference there was a sigh of relief all over the house. It was expected that there would be a stubborn fight on the Sherman bond amendment and the fact that it was disposed of so expeditiously was a matter for general congratulation. Under a suspension of the rules the house also passed the Indian appropriation billiand removed that prolific subject of debate from the calendar. Une callendar. One of the surprises of the day was the ability of the friends of the car coupler bill to secure, under suspension of the rules, an agreement to the senate amendment. The bill now goes to the president. The con-ference report on the military academy bill was also agreed to, and inasmuch as the re-port was also agreed to in the senate that

THE BRE. |-Democratic comment upon Presi dent-elect Cleveland's cabinet among mem bers of congress, when not actually sarcastic is openly hostile. This is especially true among members of the senate who will be called upon to confirm these proposed nominations. The determination of Judge Gresham not to resign his place upon the bench until after he has received official notification that the senate has confirmed him as secretary of state, has led to reports that there would be an organized attempt in the senate to defeat him. This report has received increased circulation because of the undoubted fact that an anti-administration cabal is being organized among democratic members of the senate. This anti-Cleveland combination, however, the formation of which was indicated in THE BEE & week ago, is not likely to go so far as to combat the confirmation of any of Mr. Cleveland's selections for cabinet portfolios. Lesser nominations, including some of great importance and possibly involving that historic battle ground of politics, the New York custom house, may, however, ome the object of attack. Questions of itigation also will form the ground work for bitter contests. It now appears certain the republican minority of the democratic senate will either vote to confirm Mr. Cleveland's #### minations, or else will not vote at all. Some Who Are Against Him.

The list of democratic senators who are active in organizing opposition to Mr. Cleveland has grown during the past week. It now includes Messrs. Hill and Murphy of New York, Butler of South Carolina, Ransom of North Carolina, Harris of Tennessee, Daniel of Virginia, Coke of Texas, Berry and Jones of Arkansas, Pugh of Alabama and Blackburn of Kentucky. The exact attitude of Senator Lindsay, Mr. Carlisle's successor, is as yet uncertain. Senator Morgan of Alabama is known to be in sympathy with the anti-administration democrats, and were he in Washington on March 4 would certainly be one of the aggressive leaders. Mr. Morgan, however, has just departed for Paris, where for several months he will be engaged as one of the American commissioners in the Bering sea tribunal of commissioners in the Bering sea tribunal of arbitration. In addition to these democratic senators there is a group of three or four re-publicans who, on account of their free sil-ver proclivities—such men as Messrs. Teller, Wolcott, Jones and Stewart—upon whom the democrats are counting for aid. It can be seen from all this that the grand hurrah of inanguration day. load as may ring the of inauguration day, loud as may ring the shouts of the mob on Pennsylvania avenue, will be drowned by the shouts of battle be-tween the friends and foes of Mr. Cleveland in the United States senate Why the Democrats Are Disgruntled.

It is entirely from these anti-Cleveland democratic sources that spring the most bit-ter criticisms of the personnel of the incom-ing cabinet. Republicans as a rule, while they may find much to smile at, are content to let Mr. Cleveland go his own gait without ill-natured comment. It is the demo-crats who are pointing out the preponder-ance in Mr. Cleveland's cabinet of such ance in Mr. Clevennu's caonet of such corporation attorneys and representatives as Messrs. Olney, Bissell and Lamont, and who are dwelling upon the capitalistic in-fluences which are believed to be pleased by the transfer of Judge Gresham from the

This vulgar feature of plotting for the loaves and fishes of politics is only merof the minor in-dications that the alignment of parties is subject to material change during the next four years. How far the mere distribution of party patronage will affect the new attitude of the democratic and republican parties, especially in relation to the forces which favor the wildcat finan-cial and the free trade theories of the Chic-ago platform which have been discoved by ago platform which have been disowned by Mr. Cleveland, is a question. As to these broader problems the skirmish line of the broader problems the skirmish line of the office seeking army which is about to invest Washington is all in the dark. At present these persons are confining their efforts to cultivating the acquaintance of republicans in office. It is to be remarked also that a few -a very few -of these republicans have already become renegades and upon their side are exerting every effort to cultivate friendly relations with the new powers that are to be. are to be

What Congress May Do.

The question of an extra session of con-gress before next fall will be determined during the coming week. Such an extra ses-sion would be made absolutely necessary by the failure of any one of the great appropria-tion bills now pending. One of these bills is in serious danger. This is the sundry civil bill, the peril of which is due almost exclusively to the Standard Standa Sherman amcodment inserted by the Sherman amendment inserted by the senate, authorizing the secretary of the treasury to issue 3 per cent bonds. This amendment will be violently opposed by the free silver democrats of the house, despite the efforts of Chairman Harrity of the demo-cratic national committee to obtain for Mr. Cleveland a congressional blacklist upon the silver question. It is not safe to make a positive prediction, but the chances are that the Sherman amendment, after a hard fight, will be defeated. This will be more easily th will be defeated. This will be more easily accomplished because the secretary of the treasury already has the power to issue a 4 per cent bond, which would command such a premium as to reduce the interest paid by the government practically to 3 per cent. The defeat of the Sherman amendment would send the sundry civil bill to a confer-ence committee, and upon the influences controlling that committee would probably lepend the creation or the avoidance of the necessity for an early extra session of the Fifty-third congress. Whatever the fate of the Sherman amendment, it seems to be generally conceded that this administration, while opposed to issuing bonds to maintain the parity of gold and silver, is prepared to take that step at an instant's notice should the necessity arise. Nicaragua May Suffer.

There are two great subjects pending be-fore the senate upon which action at this session does not seem probable. One of these is the bill giving the guaranty of the United States government to the bonds of the Nicaragua Canal company. The argu-ments in tavor of such action have been so frequently and forcibly stated as to need no reputition. Nevertheless, the press of busi-ness is so great and the legislative days be-tween now and March 4 are so few that the Nicaragua bill has little chance of successful action ful action. The other measure of international im-portance still pending before the senate is the treaty annexing the Hawaiian islands. So strong is the partisan desire among dem-ocratic senators to rob the Harrison admin-istration of the eclat of this addition to our istration to desire addition to our istration of the eclat of this addition to our territory that it now seems quite probable either that the pending treaty will be de-feated or that its ratification will be delayed until after March 4.

There are indications that the Cleveland administration will have to deal with other propositions of annexation besides that of Hawaii. The acquirement by a United States syndicate of the control of the finances of the republic of San Do-mingo has been followed by the arrival in Washington of a new minister from Hayti whose connection with revolutions has caused him to be friendly to annexation. The caused nim to be friendly gammexation. The movement for the purchase of Cuba from Spain is continually growing in strength, while the agitation for the annexation of British America will certainly not cense with the new administration. At the same time the diplomatic relations between the United States and Mexico have for a long time been growing more and more intimate an mines and railroads, and many crats who point out that these same capital-istic influences may meet little difficulty in controlling the conduct of the Treasury deconces sions to investors of the Context and govern likely to be granted by the Mexican govern P. case against him. One of the less notorious members of the gang named Clark was not connected di-rectly with any of the robberies and was sentenced to twenty days for vagrancy. His time was up Saturday and Doyle boldly walked up and demanded to be released, claiming that he was the Clark in question. The impersonation succeeded and the notori ous housebreaker was permitted to walk out unmolested and the jailers did not discover their mistake until the real Clark set up a howl and wanted to know why he was not released as his time was up according to his calendar. The jail officials are saying nothing about the manner in which they were hoodwinked, and the de-tectives who elated over the fact that the most dangerous burglar in Nebraska was safely caged will pin a tag on his back the next time they catch him so that the jail officers will be able to recognize him.

Time of Yesterday's Session.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 27 .- In the senate, after the agricultural bill had been placed on the calendar, the pension appropriation bill was taken up, and Mr. Gorman called attention to the fact that a bill appropriating $166,000,000 was being run through the sen with very few senators giving any atten a to it. This was the commissioner's estition to it. mate of what would be needed, but the fact was the commissioner did not know how many pensioners would be added to the roll this year, and it was beyond question that there would be at the end of the fiscal year on the 30th of June next a deficiency of from $5,000,000 to $20,000,000.

After some further discussion the bill was passed without amendment. The conference report on the military

DEFICIENCY APPROPRIATIONS.

Statement by the Clerk of the House Committee on Appropriations. WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 27.-At the request of the committee on ways and means, Mr. J. C. Courts, clerk of the house committee on appropriations, has submitted to the committee a statement of deficiencies and appropriations during the past year. It shows that the deficiency appropriation bill, as it passed the house at this session. amounted to $21,209,638, of which a little more than $14,000,000 was for pensions. The deficiency for 1894, exclusive of pensions, if it reaches the average deficiency appropriations for the past five sessions, will probably be $5,000,000. For five sessions, including the measure the deficiency of the sessions of the session of t present, the deficiency appropriations amounted to $47,220,960 or an average of $9,440,193, of which the largest was $13,205,-541, in the first session of the Fifty-first congress. The pension deficiencies during the five sessions amounted to $84,481,274, or an average of $16,806,254, the largest being $29,305,508 in the second session and $25,321 927 in the first session of the Fifty-first con The miscellaneous appropriations for gress. The miscellaneous appropriations the five sessions amounted to $34,918,015. , an average of $6,983,603, the smallest year being the first session of the present congress, $3,208,000

Mr. Courts also laid before the committee a statement of the appropriations, exclusive of miscellaneous matters, made by the house at this session. It shows an aggregate of $581,783,085, and this amount has been in-represent to $550,077,147, but the the session. used to $539,273,447 by the changes made in bills by the senate.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 27 .- Two views relative to the Sherman bord amendment obtain in the senate. The indications are, however, that the senate will recede from its amendment in this particular, and that the result of the struggle will be that the sund ry civil bill will be passed without this amendment attached to it.

Teller, one of the most ardent of the antibond faction, said this evening that there was a very visible weakening of the forces that passed this amendment when it was up for consideration, and that when it came back from the house the motion to recede from the amendment would probably There has been a quiet canvass of this matter going on for the past two days and the opponents of the issue of bonds say that they have ascertained that certain senators voted for the proposition under a mis-apprehension and the action of the house will permit them to change the record as it now stands. It is also said that word has come from Mr. Cleveland that he would rather not see the sundry civil bill a law than have it imperiled by the attempt to force the bond amendment on the house. No one proposed to speak for Mr. Cleveland in this matter.

A well known senator who enjoys the confidence of the president-elect said today there was no reason why the bond amendment should not prevail and he believed it would in the end, for the reason that it was a clean cut business proposition that could result in nothing but a saving of expense to the country at large. The administration was in favor of the amendment and in the event of a contingency the friends of the administration, the senator said, would resist any attempt to defeat the amendments as passed by the senate. The indications seem to be, though, that a material change of sentiment has been going on in the senate and that the amendment will be receded from rather than the bill should be defeated.

Work of Stock Speculators.

WASHINGTON, D. The export of gold had the effect of bearing stocks. By selling stocks and then, exporting gold the profit made on the stocks not only compensated for the freight charges, insurance, etc., on the gold shipped, but left a profit. Then, too, as France and Austria are in the market after gold specie it found a ready sile on the other side.

Doyle was the ringleader of the gang of nine burgiars which the local detectives uncarthed in an old building at Tenth and Jones streets some time ago. They were all good men to have under lock and key and Doyle in particular was considered well worth keeping there as long as possible. It

The kiln of red pressed brick that was opened a few days ago at North Galveston, Tex., revealed a quality of material which was pronounced by experts as fully equal in density, durability and color to the best St. Louis pressed brick. The North Galvestom Louis pressed brick. The North Galvestom Brick company is a pretty big concern. The machines, buildings, yards and general capacity equals some of the best plants in the country. More factories being built, a steady increase in population and an abundant influx of capital seems to be the present record of this thrifty young city. r particular call on or address Franklin Williams, First National bank, Omaha, Neb., the local agent, or address the North Galveston association, box 963, Minneapolis, Minn.

The officers of the union say that Klopp & Bartlett agreed to discharge the three rats and that the union on its part was to receive their applications for membership and give them impartial consideration. Mr. Klopp them impartial consideration. Mr. Klop asserts that the union agreed to take th three printers into its membership if the firm made its concern a union office. In support of his statement he says the rats were given permits to work and that matters wen on peacefully

At any rate the union refused to receive one of the trio of rats into its membership, alleging that he belonged to the Printers Protective fraternity and that he had a habit of taking the places of union men dur-ing strikes. His permit was annulled, and yesterday morning the union printers of Klopp & Bartlett were ordered to walk out if the firm refused to discharge the rat. The firm objected to the demand, and the strike was on. Klopp & Bartlett charge the union with bad faith and say they will now run their office with nonunion printers. -----
