Invitations are out for the poverty social of Mizpah temple. No. 9, Pythian Sisters, Wednesday evening. Prizes will be awarded to the poorest dressed lady and gentleman.

The ladies of the Christian church enter-tained nearly 1,000 gnests at dinner and supper in Temple hall yesterday. Nearly every business man in the city uned there. Frank Hart was arrested yesterday afternoon while trying to dispose of some lewelry, some of which was gold and some of which was something else. He had five collar buttons, three gold rings and five scarf pins, all of which are supposed to have been stolen.

The Sunday school class of L. C. Dale gave an entertainment in the parlors of the Broadway Methodist church last Thursday even-ing, which was very successful in every way. An audience of over 500 people was present. and the net proceeds from the entertainment were something over $60. The money will go toward paying the church debt.

Charles Forbes, a Northwestern switch-man, has skipped out, leaving a number of unpaid bills. Mike Kildare is in the soup to the extent of $50 on a forged check and Dell Morgan loses $5, which he loaned Forbes. What makes the pill still harder to swallow is the fact that Forbes played the same trick about a year and a half ago on C. A. Tibbitts, M. Welker and others and the affair was thoroughly aired in the papers.

The Choral society of Council Rluffs will join with the Apollo club of Omaha in preparing music for a concert to be given by the latter organization sometime in Max, in con-nection with the Damrosch orchestra. Selections from Menuelssohn's "St. Paul" and Wagner's "Lohengriu" will be rendered, and it is the desire of those having the matter in charge that as large a chorus as possi-ble be brought together in this city for rehearsals from now on.

News was received yesterday of the par-don of James McIntosh, the old man who was sentenced to a year in the penitentiary for disposing of a mortgaged team. Serious Charge Made Against One of the Newly Elected Aldermen. GREAT EXCITEMENT OVER THE AFFAIR

C. R. Nicholson Accused of Attempting to Criminally Assault 13-Year-Old Vetura Brown-Said to Be a Case of Blackmail.

C. R. Nicholson, the newly elected alderman from the Sixth ward, is charged with having attempted a criminal assault upon Vetura Brown, the 13-year-old stepdaughter of G. W. Adams, who lives at the corner of Broadway and Seventeenth street. The circumstances of the case, so far as they have become known, have set the public in an uproar, and the excitement in the western part of the city is at fever heat. An information was filed by Adams with the city clerk Friday night. Nicholson at the time was in Nebraska engaged in working up a real estate deal, but as soon as he learned what had been done he returned and surrendered himself to the city officials. He found no difficulty in securing a bond in the sum of $1,000, and was immediately released. Heatonce qualified and took the oath of office as alderman. The bond, in fact, had been already secured for him by his friends before he returned. Adams is one of the notorious "Sandy-point" family, who have been cultivating records in police headquarters from 'way back, and his story is consequently taken with a good many grains of salt by the many people in Council Bluffs who believe Nicholson incapable of committing so outrageous a crime. Nicholson keeps his horse in a barn in the rear of the house occupied by W. C. Jenkins on Avenue C, near the corner of Twenty sixth street. On the evening of February 16 ne was at the barn, and it is there Adams claims the girl was assaulted. She informed one of her girl friends of what had taken place, only a few minutes later, and all the circumstances appeared to bear out her story.

Says it Was for Political Effect.

That something of the kind was in the the wind has been known to a few persons for the past three weeks, but it was kept very quiet, there being considerable uncer-tainty as to what effect the story. If told, yould have on the aldermanic contest in the Sixth ward. In the meantime the police have been busy working up the evidence, and the preliminary examination will take place Monday morning in police court. Nicholson claims to have known of the

Nicholson claims to have known of the charge that was made against him for several weeks past, but supposed that it was in-vented for political purposes, and that noth-ing would be heard of it after election. He deales absolutely knowing anything about it, although he admits having seen the girl run-ning about the Jenkins house on several oc-casions.

Mrs. Sophia Jenkins and Percy Thornton, the former the wife of an employe of the motor company, and the latter a son of a the former the wife of an employe of the motor company, and the latter a son of a prominent stock dealer living in the western part of the city, were also arrested on in-formation filed by Adams, and if they have been connected with the case in the way Adams states there is an opening for a couple of score of men and a couple of stout hemp roves. Young Thornton is charged with the same kind of offense as Nicholson, and the woman is accused of being an ac-cessory to the crime. Adams says he gave his stepdaughter permission to stay at the Jenkins house, as Mrs. Jenkins was alone a good share of the time. On the night of February 12 Mrs. Jenkins managed to get Thornton and the girl into a bed room together and locked the door on them. Thornton, he claims, had all but accom-plished his flendish purpose when some one came to the house. He escaped by clamber-ing out of the window.

Offered to Compromise for Money,

Considerable discredit attaches to these stories as told by Adams, on account of his previous bad reputation. The girl is a daughter of Jack Brown, another notorious character about town. Her mother was divorced from Brown and shortly afterwards vas married to Adams. Nicholson claims Brown offered to compromise his share of the difficulty for $1,000, but the offer was re-The affair has caused a tremendous sensation, and it is the subject of discussion on all street corners, to the almost entire exclusion of all other topics. A number of sturdy democrats offered to see that the Adams outfit was run out of town before Sunday thorning if Nicholson would only say the word, but Nicholson wisely concluded to let the word remain unsaid. Percy Thornton, the young man who is charged with being concerned in the case, denies ever having done anything wrong, although he admits having been at the Jen-kins house on the night in question. He chains his arrest is simply a blackmailing scheme scheme. A rather sensational feature was added to the case last evening by the circulation of a rumor to the effect that the arrest of Mrs. Jenkins and young Thornton was part of a scheme on the part of Nicholson to injure the girl's reputation and make his own es-cape certain. Those who circulated the rumor thought that Mrs. Jenkins was a party to the plan. This theory has a very improbable appearance at first sight, but today's developments may throw some light on the case.

He thought a free bridge, to enable the 150,000 people of Omnha and the 35,000 of Council Bluffs to mingle freely in business was the one thing most necessary to the financial welfare of both eities. #### FIRST BLOOD FOR HATHAWAY.

Luck is with the Democratic Candidate for Third Ward Alderman.

A meeting of the city council was called for last evening for the purpose of allowing Messrs, F. O. Gleason and J. J. Hatherway to decide by drawing lots which of them should represent the Third ward in the council during the next two years. It had been intended first to have the drawing take place on Monday, but Captain Hatha-way received word of his father's serious iil-ness in Conneaut, O., and to accommodate him the date was changed.

The council ebamber was well filled with the friends of the parties most intimately concerned, in spite of the fact that no public announcement had been made. Ten situs of paper were cut, nine of them blank and the containing that interesting word, elected.

The slips were then deposited in a hat and the drawing was about to begin, when it was suddenly discovered that one of the requissuddenly discovered that one of the requis-ites to the drawing, viz., Gleason, was not there. His attorney, C. G. Saunders, an-nounced that Gleason did not care to take part in the drawing, although he did not in-tend to raise any question as to the legality of the notice which had been served on him. Captain Hathaway was on the floor and was about to draw the first slip out of the hat when his attorney. The Capady called him when his attorney, T. E. Casady, called him lown A hurrled consultation ensued, at the end of which Hathaway decided to follow Gleason's example and withdraw from the drawing. Mayor Lawrence then undertook the duty of drawing for both candidates, as the law provides. He took out two blanks each for Hathaway and Gleason, and on the fifth crack out of the hat came the mend unlead " the word "elected."

A whoop from the assembled democrats followed the announcement of the result, with Hathaway, who had left the council chamber as soon as the drawing commenced. What they did when they caught him is not a matter of record, but it is presumed that

Vote for the Ladies.

Some of the leading republicans of the city take aception to the statements made in certain quarters that the nomination of Mrs. Sims and Mrs. Aylesworth as candidates for the school board was a compromise with defeat. The report was industriously circulated that the main reason for nominating the two ladies was that by nominating any one else the election of the democratic candidates would have been assured. This is a much mistaken notion, for at that time, as now, the twa ladies stood a better chance of being elected than any one better chance of being elected than any one else that either republicans or democrats could put up. It is a fact that at the time of the republican convention a strenuous effort was made by the friends of some of the banks of the city to get control of the convention and induce it to nominate men who would be a part of the ring that has so long manipulated affairs, so that the banks might be becomen in constant to banks song manipulated analys, so that the banks might be brought in for a share of the profits in the same way as heretofore. The same effort was made in the democratic conven-tion, and with what success the result shows. It was a failure in the republican is done a grand victory will be their convention, however, and the two ladies were nominated as the two who would come nearer managing the affairs of the board in nearcr managing the affairs of the board in a businesslike and nonpartisan way than any others that might be chosen. It was the belief of the delegates that the noard should be a nonpartisan body, and with this end in view the step was taken which, it was thought, would prevent, as far as possi-ble, any taint of politics. The idea proved a nonular one and there are busis of vaters popular one, and there are hosts of voters who will go to the polls tomorrow, if indica-tions are not wrong, and cast their ballots for purity and good management in school affairs. A Magnificent Music Store.

The enlargement of Swanson Bros, music store in the Masonic temple gives them the distinction of having the finest establishment in the city, if not the finest in the state. It is certainly the most metropolitan in appearance, and the grand instruments sound even grander as they fill the great hall with their melody. While everything is on a big scale, and a grand square pian looks small, yet the place is filled with all kinds of musical instruments and music goods. The popular Schubert piano, of course, holds the place of honor, and in its new quarters it makes a stronger appeal than ever as the queen of pianos. People of Council Bluffs, Omaha and vicinity are invited to come in and see what a first-class metropolitan music house looks like.

Stop That Car.

The manager of the motor company is coming in for another generous kicking at the hands of the citizens who are disgusted with the rules which he makes and causes. his employes to enforce. This time it is the rule providing that motors shall stop only at the farther crossing of streets to let passengers on and off. PLANNING FOR A FIVE-CENT FARE.

Five Hundred Citizens Hold a Meeting at the Court House and Discuss Measures.

A genuine New England "town meetin" was held at the court house last evening for the purpose of discussing ways and means for securing the much coveted reduction in transportation rates between Omaha and Council Bluffs. Fully 500 representative citizens were present, and while there was not a great deal of the effervescent kind of enthusiasm on tap that usually disappears before the next day rolls around, there was ample evidence of a determination to see that the results of the meeting do not end in talk. Lucius Wells was called to the chair and Spencer Smith was chosen secretary. After the object of the meeting had been briefly stated James McCabe was called to the floor and made an address, in the course of which he reviewed the history of the moter company's operations from the time its $87,-000 of capital stock had been invested until now, when by repeated dilutions with water it has come to be quoted at $1,500,000, and the company has become able to declare dividends of 55 cents on the dollar. He referred to the repeated violations of faith on the part of the com-pany in the matter of paying for paving intersections and between the rails and ting the streets into good condition after being torn up by the company. He called attention to the bad faith that was mani-

being torn up by the company. He called attention to the bad faith that was mani-fested by the company in trying to get rid of the duties imposed upon it by its charter, by claiming never to have laid down a rail under the provisions of the charter. Mr. McCabe's effort was greeted by a vig-orous round of applause at its counclusion, and then T. J. Evans was called upon for a speech. He told how the property owners along Broadway had been taxed to the amount of $200,000 in order that the street might be paved to the river, thus enabling the company to secure a good driveway to and from its bridge. The company is able, said he, to run its trains on a 5 cent basis and make money—not so much at first, perhaps, but after the brief temporary shrinkage caused by the change there would undoubtedly be enough of an increase in the amount of business done to more than would undoubtedly be enough of an increase in the amount of business done to more than make up the difference. When he was a member of the company he was always in favor of a straight 5 cent fare, and not any partial reduction in the shape of a commu-tation ticket good for thirty days. He then read the paper which he circulated among the merchants of the city a few days ago and which was mentioned in Tur Brs at the time, and the signatures of more than 100 time, and the signatures of more than 100 business men who had put themselves down in black and white as favoring a 5 cent fare. All but two of the representative bus-

Just what Gleason's action in the matter means it is impossible to say at present, as his attorney is very reticent on the subject. From other sources, however, it is reported that he means to contest Hathaway's election, and withdrew from the contest in order that he might lose none of his privileges in case he turned out to be the loser. The matter will undoubtedly be brought into the courts before it is settled, and something is expected to drop in the course of the next two or three days.
