FIGHTING MAHONEY

Lively Skirmish Being Made for Nebraska's District Attorneyship.

BAKER MAY DISPOSE OF MOSHER'S CASE

When that is Settled He Must Give Way to One of Grover's Hungry Pavorites-Judge Ogden in the Hace.

> WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE BEE,) 513 FOUNTEENTH STREET, WASHINGTON, D. C., March 24.

There is a lively skirmish being made for the Nebraska district attorneyship. The leading candidates are said to be Judge Charles Ogden, T. J. Mahoney and Matt Gering. It was not known until a few days ago that Judge Ogden had made application for the place, but, on the contrary, it was stated by other applicants that the judge had given it out among his friends that he would not apply for the attorneyship. The fact that his application is now on file in department, however, is taken to mean that Judge Ogden had never stated he would not be a candidate for the place. T. J. Mahoney has made an active canvass for the place and has filed endorsements from most of the district judges in Omaha and also from leading attorneys and democratic politicians generally. It was reported by a Nebraskan at the Arlington last night that the candidacy of Mahoney has met with bitter opposition at the hands of ex-Governor Boyd, and if the appointment is made it will be con-sidered an affront to the ex-governor.

The only chance Gering has is in a possible compromise. Mahoney has been mentioned for a place in the department of justice, herectofore held by L. W. Colby of Beatrice This would, of course, take Mahoney out of Omaha for four years. It is stated on good authority that the new district attorney will not be appointed for a few weeks, the idea being to let Attorney Baker dispose of the Mosher case, of which there are so many ugly features that the democrats are not anxious to Lincoln and Grant Not to Be Disturbed. Close professional and personal friends of Minister Lincoln have been in the city for several days, and yesterday one of them was asked how soon Mr. Lincoln would return from England, and this was the reply: "We have just heard strange news. We have have just heard strange news. We have been down upon Wall street today and we have heard something from one of the president's friends which leads us to think that 'Bob' (as Mr. Lincoln was called) may change his plans after all. In fact. we heard that unless he insisted upon his resignation being accepted he would not be disturbed, and we judge that communication has already been made with him from the State department. If another name is sent in it will be because 'Bob' does not want to stay. This did not come from the president direct, but from Mr. tiresham, who says that he wants both Bob and Colonel Grant to stay where they now are and thinks that the American people want them to also." I think that Mr. Lincoln's law partner, Mr. Isham, has recently been informed that this is the purpose of the administration, and the belief certainly is general—here that nothing but Lincoln's refusal longer to serve will make it necessary for President Cleveland to select some one for the English mission. Anson's Political Curves.

Captain A. C. Anson, the baseball maglate this afternoon the sporting fraternity claimed to have caught on to "Uncle" Adrian's political curves. In short, it is rumored that Anson is seeking for his father rumored that Anson is seeking for his latter the appointment as postmaster at Marshall-town, Ia., and by the way the baseball in-fluence in American politics is not to be underestimated, especially from this point. President Cleveland himself is a devoted admirer of the game, and in the old days at Buffalo he used to bask for hours on the grand stand while the conflict raged furi-ously. Captain "Anse" was presented to Mr. Cleveland during his forner administration by Colonel Frank Lawler of Chicago. Captain Anse was then arranging for a trip around the world and came to ask for a let-

PAID OUT MONEY WRONGFULLY.

Promulgation of an Important Ruling of the Pension Office.

Washington, D. C., March 24.-It was discovered today that one of the most important rulings ever made in the administration of pensions has remained unpromulgated in so far as the public knows for more than five months past, and that this decision reverses a ruling under which fully $2,000,000 have been wrongfully paid out, as it would now appear. The facts are so important as to require a statement at length.

It is learned that on September 28 last Assistant Secretary Bussey made a pension decision, heretofore unpublished, which radically changed the practice of the department as to the disposition of accrued pensions in certain cases, and established a new and important rule as to reimbursement of 'expenses, last sickness and burial," under section 4,718, Revised Statutes. Hitherto it has been uniformly held that under sections 4,692, 4,693, 4,702 and 4,718 of the Revised Statutes minor grandchildren of the de-ceased soldier, who at the date of his death ceased soldier, who at the date of his death was either a pensioner or a lawful claimant for invalid pension, could hold a pensionable status as minors of the soldier so far as to receive accrued pension in case of his death and the death of the parent of the children, thereby constraing the words of the law, "any person entitled to a pension," to apply not only to the soldier, but to his widow, his children, dependent prothers and sisters or children, dependent brothers and sisters or to dependent parents.

What the Words Mean.

In his decision the assistant secretary says the words of the act "any pensioner and "any person entitled to a pension, evidently mean the same character or a class of persons—persons who had incurred lisabilities in the military service—the only difference being that the first words quoted apply to persons to whom a pension has already been granted, while the words secondly quoted apply to the same sort of person to whom a pension has not been granted, but who, under the law, is "entitled granted, but who, under the law, is "entitled to a pension, having application therefor pending," based upon a "wound, injury or disease, which, under the con-ditions and limitations of such sec-tions, 4,694, 4,698, would have entitled him to an invalid pension had he been disabled." And furthermore, it is obvious that the after quoted words, "any pensioner and any per-son entitled to a pension, having an application therefor pending," refer exclusively to a person of the masculine gender, inasmuch as the accrued pension that shall result from the death of "such a person" as may leave a widow who shall be entitled to his accrued pension, or, "if there is no widow, may leave child or children, under 16 years of age," who, by reason of the widow's death, shall take the accrued pension that would otherwise go to the widow during her widowhood. The assistant secretary holds that accrued pensions can be fully paid to grandchildren as to reimbursement for "last sickness and Accrued Pensions.

The assistant secretary concludes that while only the widow or minor children of the deceased soldier can take the accrued pension, the only person for whom the ex-penses of the last sickness and burial can be allowed is the soldier himself. From the date of and under the authority of an opinion by Solicitor General Phillips, rendered August 10, 1876, until now, less sickness and burial expenses have been allowed in all cases where the deceased was an impecunious pensioner or entitled to a pension, whether soldier, minor children, grandchildren or dependent parents, it is stated that fully $2,000,000 have been wrongfully paid to claimants under the Phillips opinion as reimbursements for last sickness and burial expenses for which section 4,718 Revised Statutes did not provide.

CASES OF APPOINTED SENATORS. Minority and Majority Reports Will Be Submitted on the Subject. Washington, D. C., March 24 -Mr. Vance, chairman of the committee on privileges and elections, is preparing the majority report of the committee on the cases of senators appointed by governors of the states of Montana, Washington and Wyoming, and will finish it tomorrow. It will not be long, but will present the reasons why the majority of the committee do not believe the certificates of these governors are sufficient authority upon which to seat the senators in question. It will contain many references to the past sessions of the senate in cases where the question raised here has been passed upon in an incidental way.

Mr. Hoar, who prepared the minority report favoring the scatting of the senators.

port favoring the scating of the scnators, has completed his work. It is probable that both reports will be printed and laid upon the senators' desks when the senate convenes Monday. In that event the debate relative to these cases may be precipitated at once. There is a desire on the part of the senators who expect to par-ticipate in this discussion to get at it as soon as possible. With the present numerous re-cesses the debate may be strung out to an indefinite length. One prominent republican senator said today that he believed the senate would not adjourn until the middle of next month, unless daily sessions were held.

Revoked the Appointment. WASHINGTON, D. C., March 24 .- The secretary of state has revoked the appointment of Mr. Dean E. Curry of Albion, N. Y., as commercial agent at Yarmouth, N. S. The reasons for this action are said to be political, but this is denied at the State department.

cai, but this is defined at the State department.

The appointment was the result of a misunderstanding. Mr. Curry had applied for the office and went to see Private Secretary Thurber about it. The latter told him to go and see Assistant Secretary Quincy. He gave him a short note of introduction. When his simple and insignificant message was delivered to Mr. Quincy it had assumed the formal proportions of an order from the president and the appointment was made out accordingly. The mistake was not discovered until the president read of the appointment in the papers, and on making inquiry was surprised to learn it was based on a mythical order supposed to have been made by him. The appointment was then revoked.

Washington, D. C., March 24.-The cabinet meeting today resulted in the issuance of a notice by the president directing that the offices of members of the cabinet shall not be opened on Tuesdays or Fridays, cabinet days, this action being rendered necessary for an uninterrupted and more efficient transaction of the government bus-

VALUABLE PAPERS TAKEN FROM THE FILES

One Hundred Dollars Offered by Interested Parties for the Return of the Property - Independents and Democrats in Line.

LINCOLN, Neb., March 24 .- [Special to THE Beg.]-C. W. Cockrell is willing to pay $100 for information leading to the recovery of a petition he filed in district court on the 28th of February, 1892. The defendant in the case was George Bowerman, late deputy state auditor, and the suit was for $1,100. Bowerman had dropped on the wrong side of the grain-market while operating through Cockrell's option house.

Last fall when George was running for auditor, subject to the action of the republican convention, the papers mysteriously disappeared, especially the petition setting forth the grounds of action; and they have never been found. The case is set for hearing next week, and there is great skirmishing to find the papers. The attorney for Cockrell today filed a motion asking leave to supply the missing files, but it is probable a fight will be made on that point tomorrow. Lydia M. J. Let the Contract.

The council today let the contract for the building of the West C street viaduet to the Milwaukee Bridge and Iron works, the proprictors of that institution having signified their readiness to accept the contract after considerable haggling and numerous objec-tions. The amended contract provides that all masonry shall be of the best Colorado sandstone at $11.25 per cubic yard. This cuts out the $9.929 extra recommended by the Board of Public Works for some unexplained reason. The company was required to put up bonds in the sum of $55,000.

Fusion Completed. The independents and democrats got to-gether last night in time to fix up their little difficulty, and fusion is complete, except in the First ward, where James O'Shee, the democratic nominee for the council, is de-manding that J. Johanna Johnson Got a Verdict of Three Hundred Dollars. When Johanna Johnson sued Charles E. Bates she alleged that on account of certain remarks that Bates had made her good name had been injured to such an extent that the sum of $15,000 would be required to place it in as good condition as before the re marks were made. On this issue the case went into court and found its way to Judge Davis' room, where for three long days judge and jurors listened to a lot of testimony that was not fit for publication. The case was submitted and all Thursday night the jurors deliberated, yesterday returning a verdict, finding that the woman had been slandered and fixing her damages at $300, instead of $15,000.

The clerk read the verdict, and after asking the stereotyped question, "Is this your verdict, gentlemen of the jury!" Judge Davis took hold of the matter and remarked to the attorneys, "If you will make a motion, I will set this verdict aside for the reason

I will set this verdict aside for the reason that I do not propose to stand any such business in my court."

The attorney for the woman was the first to gain his feet, and promptly he made the desired motion, which left the case in good condition for a new trial. The verdict was a surprise, as all of the lawyers expected that the jury would find for the defendant, they cluming that the plaintiff had no case. they comming that the plaintiff had no case, and that if she had, they claimed, the defendant had justification. It is known that when the jurors took the first ballot there were seven of the votes for the defendant, while one man was for returning a verdic for the full amount, but by some method of reasoning they got the amount down to $300 and then agreed.
