

EASTER DAYS IN SIGHT

One Week More for Reflection and Retrospection, Then Flowers and Brightness.

DULLEST EVER EXPERIENCED BY SOCIETY

Mrs. Judge Keyser Reads an Interesting Paper About "Types of Shakespeare's Women"

See the Lenten maid demure, With her serene face and her And that transcendent, tender smile upon it;

Let the pretty maid alone, She is giddy—what will she do, But she'll give you a life upon it!

Seek the pentecostal stool and kneel upon it; Hear her "foss" all sorts of sins, Sifted from clerical to him—Easter bonnet!

A week more and the followers of the beam must still lay aside the earthcloth and ashes

The period just closing has been generally observed than ever before by the devotees of society, and the churches have felt the influence that has been at work since Ash Wednesday dawned.

Women have entered more into the spirit of the season, and a larger measure of self-abnegation has seemingly been abroad in the community than is recalled by the writer at the same period in past years.

As for the future, there is little in prospect to give comfort to the assiduous follower of Dame Fashion.

Do you want to be beautiful, even in old age, then follow these rules and you will be all you desire:

Bathe every day and change the garment next the skin very frequently.

Take plenty of outdoor exercise.

Use soap of a high quality and pure palm oil soap at night; rinse with cold water to restore a healthy tone to the skin.

Do not wear the same veil very long, as the dust settles in it and will injure the complexion.

Try to preserve a happy, contented disposition, and you will be beautiful even though an old woman.

Stories innumerable have been told of the devices to which people will resort to ward off the sunbeams that are so annoying upon their faces.

Invitations to the number of fourteen had been issued for the coming week, but at the moment, when too late to find a substitute, one of the ladies failed to put in an appearance.

Miss Lemist has returned from Denver, but expects to go to St. Louis on Tuesday.

Miss Ella Nixon of Clarinda, Ia., is visiting Mrs. J. J. Hardin, 2816 Hamilton street.

Governor Crouse's daughters have returned from school at Minneapolis for the Easter holidays.

Mr. E. M. Morsman, who has been on a tour of the Pacific Express company's system, returns this week.

Mr. David Mercer returned Sunday from Washington. He was accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Taylor.

W. A. L. Gibson was called to Chicago Friday night by a telegram announcing that his only sister was dying.

Miss Lee Holsley, who has been in Salt Lake for five months, has returned to her home Friday evening somewhat improved.

Mrs. John Horbach, accompanied by Mrs. Bourke and her children, arrived on Monday. Mrs. Bourke has gone to Chicago for a few days.

Mayor Bemis has invited the mayor of Lincoln to occupy a box with him at the minstrel show to be given April 1 by the Lincoln Light Infantry.

David L. Young, son of Mr. Erastus Young of the Union Pacific, who has been very ill with typhoid fever, is recovering after a siege of two weeks.

Rev. C. W. Savidge united in marriage Wednesday evening, March 22, John S. Innes and Miss Gertrude J. Haas at the residence of the officiating clergyman.

Miss Slaughter and Miss Alice Slaughter were to Lincoln Saturday last to attend a party given by Mrs. Wheeler of that city. They returned to Omaha Sunday.

The ladies of the Episcopal church will hold an Easter sale and social Wednesday, April 5, from 8 to 11 p. m., at 1214 Broadway.

The author of the paper brought forth from the past, in which the personality of those associated with them, stating that the plays in which their characters were delineated are associated with a Fortia, Isabella, and a Desdemona, as well as a Hermione, an Isabella or an Imogen, women above everything else beautifully feminine, and yet stronger than these girls of tragedy, in that they are more fully and long-suffering is stronger than many fortified with all in times and places of moral corruption.

Cleopatra, that rare creation of the east, was said: "She stands so peerless in her domain we do not classify her. She is a species by herself, unmatched and unmatchable."

ENTERTAINMENTS WHICH THEY INTEND GIVING IN THE NEAR FUTURE.

From the time the guests commenced to arrive on the morning of the 23d, the program was unexcelled, the music splendid, Mr. Redfield's address, in which he gave the guests the objects and intentions of the evening, was most interesting, all were features of the evening. At 11:30 p. m. the doors to the dining room were thrown open, and the guests ushered in to a most delightful and enjoyable evening.

Among those present were, Misses J. C. Johnson, Rosefield, Misses Wallace, Maud Wallace, Schenck, Swanson, Cox of Burlington Junction, Mo., Patten, Gilligan, Vom Vogt, Mrs. Wardlaw and Rhoads, D. H. Moore, Mrs. Charles Wornie, Fred Wearne, Redfield, Ahmanson, Short, Cox, Atterbury, Fuster, Lohsch, Wardlaw, Larson, George, Fogarty, Robert Fogarty.

Played High Five Mr. and Mrs. H. Hart entertained their friends at high five at their apartments on South Eighth street Wednesday evening.

Married an Heiress Mr. A. B. Roeder, now of Denver and one of the big men of that city, for a number of years a resident of Omaha, was united in marriage Thursday evening to Miss Lillian Armstrong Seales, daughter of John E. Seales, the millionaire sugar king.

Married an Heiress Mr. A. B. Roeder, now of Denver and one of the big men of that city, for a number of years a resident of Omaha, was united in marriage Thursday evening to Miss Lillian Armstrong Seales, daughter of John E. Seales, the millionaire sugar king.

Married an Heiress Mr. A. B. Roeder, now of Denver and one of the big men of that city, for a number of years a resident of Omaha, was united in marriage Thursday evening to Miss Lillian Armstrong Seales, daughter of John E. Seales, the millionaire sugar king.

Married an Heiress Mr. A. B. Roeder, now of Denver and one of the big men of that city, for a number of years a resident of Omaha, was united in marriage Thursday evening to Miss Lillian Armstrong Seales, daughter of John E. Seales, the millionaire sugar king.

Married an Heiress Mr. A. B. Roeder, now of Denver and one of the big men of that city, for a number of years a resident of Omaha, was united in marriage Thursday evening to Miss Lillian Armstrong Seales, daughter of John E. Seales, the millionaire sugar king.

Married an Heiress Mr. A. B. Roeder, now of Denver and one of the big men of that city, for a number of years a resident of Omaha, was united in marriage Thursday evening to Miss Lillian Armstrong Seales, daughter of John E. Seales, the millionaire sugar king.

Married an Heiress Mr. A. B. Roeder, now of Denver and one of the big men of that city, for a number of years a resident of Omaha, was united in marriage Thursday evening to Miss Lillian Armstrong Seales, daughter of John E. Seales, the millionaire sugar king.

Married an Heiress Mr. A. B. Roeder, now of Denver and one of the big men of that city, for a number of years a resident of Omaha, was united in marriage Thursday evening to Miss Lillian Armstrong Seales, daughter of John E. Seales, the millionaire sugar king.

Married an Heiress Mr. A. B. Roeder, now of Denver and one of the big men of that city, for a number of years a resident of Omaha, was united in marriage Thursday evening to Miss Lillian Armstrong Seales, daughter of John E. Seales, the millionaire sugar king.

Married an Heiress Mr. A. B. Roeder, now of Denver and one of the big men of that city, for a number of years a resident of Omaha, was united in marriage Thursday evening to Miss Lillian Armstrong Seales, daughter of John E. Seales, the millionaire sugar king.

Married an Heiress Mr. A. B. Roeder, now of Denver and one of the big men of that city, for a number of years a resident of Omaha, was united in marriage Thursday evening to Miss Lillian Armstrong Seales, daughter of John E. Seales, the millionaire sugar king.

Married an Heiress Mr. A. B. Roeder, now of Denver and one of the big men of that city, for a number of years a resident of Omaha, was united in marriage Thursday evening to Miss Lillian Armstrong Seales, daughter of John E. Seales, the millionaire sugar king.

Married an Heiress Mr. A. B. Roeder, now of Denver and one of the big men of that city, for a number of years a resident of Omaha, was united in marriage Thursday evening to Miss Lillian Armstrong Seales, daughter of John E. Seales, the millionaire sugar king.

Married an Heiress Mr. A. B. Roeder, now of Denver and one of the big men of that city, for a number of years a resident of Omaha, was united in marriage Thursday evening to Miss Lillian Armstrong Seales, daughter of John E. Seales, the millionaire sugar king.

Married an Heiress Mr. A. B. Roeder, now of Denver and one of the big men of that city, for a number of years a resident of Omaha, was united in marriage Thursday evening to Miss Lillian Armstrong Seales, daughter of John E. Seales, the millionaire sugar king.

Married an Heiress Mr. A. B. Roeder, now of Denver and one of the big men of that city, for a number of years a resident of Omaha, was united in marriage Thursday evening to Miss Lillian Armstrong Seales, daughter of John E. Seales, the millionaire sugar king.

Married an Heiress Mr. A. B. Roeder, now of Denver and one of the big men of that city, for a number of years a resident of Omaha, was united in marriage Thursday evening to Miss Lillian Armstrong Seales, daughter of John E. Seales, the millionaire sugar king.

Married an Heiress Mr. A. B. Roeder, now of Denver and one of the big men of that city, for a number of years a resident of Omaha, was united in marriage Thursday evening to Miss Lillian Armstrong Seales, daughter of John E. Seales, the millionaire sugar king.

Married an Heiress Mr. A. B. Roeder, now of Denver and one of the big men of that city, for a number of years a resident of Omaha, was united in marriage Thursday evening to Miss Lillian Armstrong Seales, daughter of John E. Seales, the millionaire sugar king.

Married an Heiress Mr. A. B. Roeder, now of Denver and one of the big men of that city, for a number of years a resident of Omaha, was united in marriage Thursday evening to Miss Lillian Armstrong Seales, daughter of John E. Seales, the millionaire sugar king.

Married an Heiress Mr. A. B. Roeder, now of Denver and one of the big men of that city, for a number of years a resident of Omaha, was united in marriage Thursday evening to Miss Lillian Armstrong Seales, daughter of John E. Seales, the millionaire sugar king.

Married an Heiress Mr. A. B. Roeder, now of Denver and one of the big men of that city, for a number of years a resident of Omaha, was united in marriage Thursday evening to Miss Lillian Armstrong Seales, daughter of John E. Seales, the millionaire sugar king.

Married an Heiress Mr. A. B. Roeder, now of Denver and one of the big men of that city, for a number of years a resident of Omaha, was united in marriage Thursday evening to Miss Lillian Armstrong Seales, daughter of John E. Seales, the millionaire sugar king.

Married an Heiress Mr. A. B. Roeder, now of Denver and one of the big men of that city, for a number of years a resident of Omaha, was united in marriage Thursday evening to Miss Lillian Armstrong Seales, daughter of John E. Seales, the millionaire sugar king.

Married an Heiress Mr. A. B. Roeder, now of Denver and one of the big men of that city, for a number of years a resident of Omaha, was united in marriage Thursday evening to Miss Lillian Armstrong Seales, daughter of John E. Seales, the millionaire sugar king.

Married an Heiress Mr. A. B. Roeder, now of Denver and one of the big men of that city, for a number of years a resident of Omaha, was united in marriage Thursday evening to Miss Lillian Armstrong Seales, daughter of John E. Seales, the millionaire sugar king.

Married an Heiress Mr. A. B. Roeder, now of Denver and one of the big men of that city, for a number of years a resident of Omaha, was united in marriage Thursday evening to Miss Lillian Armstrong Seales, daughter of John E. Seales, the millionaire sugar king.

Married an Heiress Mr. A. B. Roeder, now of Denver and one of the big men of that city, for a number of years a resident of Omaha, was united in marriage Thursday evening to Miss Lillian Armstrong Seales, daughter of John E. Seales, the millionaire sugar king.

IS MARRIAGE A FAILURE?

Statistics Demonstrate a Strong Tendency in That Direction.

MATRIMONIAL DECLINE IN THIS COUNTRY

While Divorces Are Steadily Increasing—Startling Facts of Marriage and Separation Produced by an Emminent Authority.

The March number of the Political Science Quarterly contains an important paper on marriage and divorce by Prof. W. F. Willcox, the eminent political economist. His investigations have been thorough, and from figures covering a period of twenty years, from 1875 to 1892, he has been able to sift out averages which indicate the rather startling circumstances that marriage in the United States is becoming a failure.

"Down in the mountain regions of Virginia," said a commercial traveler to the Indianapolis Journal, "there exists a good deal of the old-fashioned piety which prevailed in the days when it was customary to run a dagger into an obnoxious person's gizzard and then pray for the repose of his soul."

"I was traveling on horseback, of course, through that region last summer, when I came across an old fellow half hidden in the underbrush by the side of the road. He was sitting so quiet and his weather-beaten clothes so well watched the prevailing tints of the locality that I should have probably passed without seeing him if my horse had not stopped when he saw that he was discovered he stood up and looked at me for a moment or two without speaking. As he had a rifle that looked at that instant to be near seven feet long thrust across his arm I felt it my duty to be sociable. I said:

"'Hello,' said he 'I ain't 'Pm a waitin' for Jim Allison to come this way, and if he don't 'no!' I low to blow the top of his head off."

New York Tribune: "Two English country yokes recently met in a lane. 'Hello!' said one, 'there's been a conference.' 'What conference?' 'What conference?' 'Don't you know what a conference is?' retorted the first speaker. 'Why, it's a place where parsons meet and swap sermons.' 'Swap sermons, do they? Well, then, our parson must be an unlikable man, for he alters each a crop of bad ones.'"

Philadelphia Record: "Grandmother, here's the minister," said her pet granddaughter in an awe-struck voice. Minister and parishioner talked very pleasantly until he touched on sanctification and foreordination, and in a sudden burst of eloquence, said: "Madam, do you not believe in Him who first took you out of the land of Egypt out of the house of bondage?" "Egypt?" shrieked the irate old lady, lifting her hands in pious horror. "The way lies to the east, but I have never been past the Falls of Sebouyville in all my life."

Rev. Dr. Fourthly was making a pastoral call. "Mr. Fourthly," said the good housewife, with a troubled sigh, "will there are any peddlers in heaven?" "No, madam," he replied, "but calm your agitation, my dear madam. They will not peddle."

"They are going to try the minister for heresy," said Deacon Trotter. "How so?" asked the minister. "Why, we have a number of people who have been talking very pleasantly until he touched on sanctification and foreordination, and in a sudden burst of eloquence, said: 'Madam, do you not believe in Him who first took you out of the land of Egypt out of the house of bondage?'"

Rev. Dr. Fourthly was making a pastoral call. "Mr. Fourthly," said the good housewife, with a troubled sigh, "will there are any peddlers in heaven?" "No, madam," he replied, "but calm your agitation, my dear madam. They will not peddle."

"They are going to try the minister for heresy," said Deacon Trotter. "How so?" asked the minister. "Why, we have a number of people who have been talking very pleasantly until he touched on sanctification and foreordination, and in a sudden burst of eloquence, said: 'Madam, do you not believe in Him who first took you out of the land of Egypt out of the house of bondage?'"

Rev. Dr. Fourthly was making a pastoral call. "Mr. Fourthly," said the good housewife, with a troubled sigh, "will there are any peddlers in heaven?" "No, madam," he replied, "but calm your agitation, my dear madam. They will not peddle."

"They are going to try the minister for heresy," said Deacon Trotter. "How so?" asked the minister. "Why, we have a number of people who have been talking very pleasantly until he touched on sanctification and foreordination, and in a sudden burst of eloquence, said: 'Madam, do you not believe in Him who first took you out of the land of Egypt out of the house of bondage?'"

Rev. Dr. Fourthly was making a pastoral call. "Mr. Fourthly," said the good housewife, with a troubled sigh, "will there are any peddlers in heaven?" "No, madam," he replied, "but calm your agitation, my dear madam. They will not peddle."

"They are going to try the minister for heresy," said Deacon Trotter. "How so?" asked the minister. "Why, we have a number of people who have been talking very pleasantly until he touched on sanctification and foreordination, and in a sudden burst of eloquence, said: 'Madam, do you not believe in Him who first took you out of the land of Egypt out of the house of bondage?'"

Rev. Dr. Fourthly was making a pastoral call. "Mr. Fourthly," said the good housewife, with a troubled sigh, "will there are any peddlers in heaven?" "No, madam," he replied, "but calm your agitation, my dear madam. They will not peddle."

"They are going to try the minister for heresy," said Deacon Trotter. "How so?" asked the minister. "Why, we have a number of people who have been talking very pleasantly until he touched on sanctification and foreordination, and in a sudden burst of eloquence, said: 'Madam, do you not believe in Him who first took you out of the land of Egypt out of the house of bondage?'"

Rev. Dr. Fourthly was making a pastoral call. "Mr. Fourthly," said the good housewife, with a troubled sigh, "will there are any peddlers in heaven?" "No, madam," he replied, "but calm your agitation, my dear madam. They will not peddle."

"They are going to try the minister for heresy," said Deacon Trotter. "How so?" asked the minister. "Why, we have a number of people who have been talking very pleasantly until he touched on sanctification and foreordination, and in a sudden burst of eloquence, said: 'Madam, do you not believe in Him who first took you out of the land of Egypt out of the house of bondage?'"

Rev. Dr. Fourthly was making a pastoral call. "Mr. Fourthly," said the good housewife, with a troubled sigh, "will there are any peddlers in heaven?" "No, madam," he replied, "but calm your agitation, my dear madam. They will not peddle."

"They are going to try the minister for heresy," said Deacon Trotter. "How so?" asked the minister. "Why, we have a number of people who have been talking very pleasantly until he touched on sanctification and foreordination, and in a sudden burst of eloquence, said: 'Madam, do you not believe in Him who first took you out of the land of Egypt out of the house of bondage?'"

Rev. Dr. Fourthly was making a pastoral call. "Mr. Fourthly," said the good housewife, with a troubled sigh, "will there are any peddlers in heaven?" "No, madam," he replied, "but calm your agitation, my dear madam. They will not peddle."

"They are going to try the minister for heresy," said Deacon Trotter. "How so?" asked the minister. "Why, we have a number of people who have been talking very pleasantly until he touched on sanctification and foreordination, and in a sudden burst of eloquence, said: 'Madam, do you not believe in Him who first took you out of the land of Egypt out of the house of bondage?'"

Rev. Dr. Fourthly was making a pastoral call. "Mr. Fourthly," said the good housewife, with a troubled sigh, "will there are any peddlers in heaven?" "No, madam," he replied, "but calm your agitation, my dear madam. They will not peddle."

"They are going to try the minister for heresy," said Deacon Trotter. "How so?" asked the minister. "Why, we have a number of people who have been talking very pleasantly until he touched on sanctification and foreordination, and in a sudden burst of eloquence, said: 'Madam, do you not believe in Him who first took you out of the land of Egypt out of the house of bondage?'"

Rev. Dr. Fourthly was making a pastoral call. "Mr. Fourthly," said the good housewife, with a troubled sigh, "will there are any peddlers in heaven?" "No, madam," he replied, "but calm your agitation, my dear madam. They will not peddle."

"They are going to try the minister for heresy," said Deacon Trotter. "How so?" asked the minister. "Why, we have a number of people who have been talking very pleasantly until he touched on sanctification and foreordination, and in a sudden burst of eloquence, said: 'Madam, do you not believe in Him who first took you out of the land of Egypt out of the house of bondage?'"

Rev. Dr. Fourthly was making a pastoral call. "Mr. Fourthly," said the good housewife, with a troubled sigh, "will there are any peddlers in heaven?" "No, madam," he replied, "but calm your agitation, my dear madam. They will not peddle."

"They are going to try the minister for heresy," said Deacon Trotter. "How so?" asked the minister. "Why, we have a number of people who have been talking very pleasantly until he touched on sanctification and foreordination, and in a sudden burst of eloquence, said: 'Madam, do you not believe in Him who first took you out of the land of Egypt out of the house of bondage?'"

Rev. Dr. Fourthly was making a pastoral call. "Mr. Fourthly," said the good housewife, with a troubled sigh, "will there are any peddlers in heaven?" "No, madam," he replied, "but calm your agitation, my dear madam. They will not peddle."

"They are going to try the minister for heresy," said Deacon Trotter. "How so?" asked the minister. "Why, we have a number of people who have been talking very pleasantly until he touched on sanctification and foreordination, and in a sudden burst of eloquence, said: 'Madam, do you not believe in Him who first took you out of the land of Egypt out of the house of bondage?'"

STATISTICS DEMONSTRATE A STRONG TENDENCY IN THAT DIRECTION.

MATRIMONIAL DECLINE IN THIS COUNTRY

While Divorces Are Steadily Increasing—Startling Facts of Marriage and Separation Produced by an Emminent Authority.

The March number of the Political Science Quarterly contains an important paper on marriage and divorce by Prof. W. F. Willcox, the eminent political economist. His investigations have been thorough, and from figures covering a period of twenty years, from 1875 to 1892, he has been able to sift out averages which indicate the rather startling circumstances that marriage in the United States is becoming a failure.

"Down in the mountain regions of Virginia," said a commercial traveler to the Indianapolis Journal, "there exists a good deal of the old-fashioned piety which prevailed in the days when it was customary to run a dagger into an obnoxious person's gizzard and then pray for the repose of his soul."

"I was traveling on horseback, of course, through that region last summer, when I came across an old fellow half hidden in the underbrush by the side of the road. He was sitting so quiet and his weather-beaten clothes so well watched the prevailing tints of the locality that I should have probably passed without seeing him if my horse had not stopped when he saw that he was discovered he stood up and looked at me for a moment or two without speaking. As he had a rifle that looked at that instant to be near seven feet long thrust across his arm I felt it my duty to be sociable. I said:

"'Hello,' said he 'I ain't 'Pm a waitin' for Jim Allison to come this way, and if he don't 'no!' I low to blow the top of his head off."

New York Tribune: "Two English country yokes recently met in a lane. 'Hello!' said one, 'there's been a conference.' 'What conference?' 'What conference?' 'Don't you know what a conference is?' retorted the first speaker. 'Why, it's a place where parsons meet and swap sermons.' 'Swap sermons, do they? Well, then, our parson must be an unlikable man, for he alters each a crop of bad ones.'"

Philadelphia Record: "Grandmother, here's the minister," said her pet granddaughter in an awe-struck voice. Minister and parishioner talked very pleasantly until he touched on sanctification and foreordination, and in a sudden burst of eloquence, said: "Madam, do you not believe in Him who first took you out of the land of Egypt out of the house of bondage?" "Egypt?" shrieked the irate old lady, lifting her hands in pious horror. "The way lies to the east, but I have never been past the Falls of Sebouyville in all my life."

Rev. Dr. Fourthly was making a pastoral call. "Mr. Fourthly," said the good housewife, with a troubled sigh, "will there are any peddlers in heaven?" "No, madam," he replied, "but calm your agitation, my dear madam. They will not peddle."

"They are going to try the minister for heresy," said Deacon Trotter. "How so?" asked the minister. "Why, we have a number of people who have been talking very pleasantly until he touched on sanctification and foreordination, and in a sudden burst of eloquence, said: 'Madam, do you not believe in Him who first took you out of the land of Egypt out of the house of bondage?'"

Rev. Dr. Fourthly was making a pastoral call. "Mr. Fourthly," said the good housewife, with a troubled sigh, "will there are any peddlers in heaven?" "No, madam," he replied, "but calm your agitation, my dear madam. They will not peddle."

"They are going to try the minister for heresy," said Deacon Trotter. "How so?" asked the minister. "Why, we have a number of people who have been talking very pleasantly until he touched on sanctification and foreordination, and in a sudden burst of eloquence, said: 'Madam, do you not believe in Him who first took you out of the land of Egypt out of the house of bondage?'"

Rev. Dr. Fourthly was making a pastoral call. "Mr. Fourthly," said the good housewife, with a troubled sigh, "will there are any peddlers in heaven?" "No, madam," he replied, "but calm your agitation, my dear madam. They will not peddle."

"They are going to try the minister for heresy," said Deacon Trotter. "How so?" asked the minister. "Why, we have a number of people who have been talking very pleasantly until he touched on sanctification and foreordination, and in a sudden burst of eloquence, said: 'Madam, do you not believe in Him who first took you out of the land of Egypt out of the house of bondage?'"

Rev. Dr. Fourthly was making a pastoral call. "Mr. Fourthly," said the good housewife, with a troubled sigh, "will there are any peddlers in heaven?" "No, madam," he replied, "but calm your agitation, my dear madam. They will not peddle."

"They are going to try the minister for heresy," said Deacon Trotter. "How so?" asked the minister. "Why, we have a number of people who have been talking very pleasantly until he touched on sanctification and foreordination, and in a sudden burst of eloquence, said: 'Madam, do you not believe in Him who first took you out of the land of Egypt out of the house of bondage?'"

Rev. Dr. Fourthly was making a pastoral call. "Mr. Fourthly," said the good housewife, with a troubled sigh, "will there are any peddlers in heaven?" "No, madam," he replied, "but calm your agitation, my dear madam. They will not peddle."

"They are going to try the minister for heresy," said Deacon Trotter. "How so?" asked the minister. "Why, we have a number of people who have been talking very pleasantly until he touched on sanctification and foreordination, and in a sudden burst of eloquence, said: 'Madam, do you not believe in Him who first took you out of the land of Egypt out of the house of bondage?'"

Rev. Dr. Fourthly was making a pastoral call. "Mr. Fourthly," said the good housewife, with a troubled sigh, "will there are any peddlers in heaven?" "No, madam," he replied, "but calm your agitation, my dear madam. They will not peddle."

"They are going to try the minister for heresy," said Deacon Trotter. "How so?" asked the minister. "Why, we have a number of people who have been talking very pleasantly until he touched on sanctification and foreordination, and in a sudden burst of eloquence, said: 'Madam, do you not believe in Him who first took you out of the land of Egypt out of the house of bondage?'"

Rev. Dr. Fourthly was making a pastoral call. "Mr. Fourthly," said the good housewife, with a troubled sigh, "will there are any peddlers in heaven?" "No, madam," he replied, "but calm your agitation, my dear madam. They will not peddle."

"They are going to try the minister for heresy," said Deacon Trotter. "How so?" asked the minister. "Why, we have a number of people who have been talking very pleasantly until he touched on sanctification and foreordination, and in a sudden burst of eloquence, said: 'Madam, do you not believe in Him who first took you out of the land of Egypt out of the house of bondage?'"

Rev. Dr. Fourthly was making a pastoral call. "Mr. Fourthly," said the good housewife, with a troubled sigh, "will there are any peddlers in heaven?" "No, madam," he replied, "but calm your agitation, my dear madam. They will not peddle."

"They are going to try the minister for heresy," said Deacon Trotter. "How so?" asked the minister. "Why, we have a number of people who have been talking very pleasantly until he touched on sanctification and foreordination, and in a sudden burst of eloquence, said: 'Madam, do you not believe in Him who first took you out of the land of Egypt out of the house of bondage?'"

Rev. Dr. Fourthly was making a pastoral call. "Mr. Fourthly," said the good housewife, with a troubled sigh, "will there are any peddlers in heaven?" "No, madam," he replied, "but calm your agitation, my dear madam. They will not peddle."

"They are going to try the minister for heresy," said Deacon Trotter. "How so?" asked the minister. "Why, we have a number of people who have been talking very pleasantly until he touched on sanctification and foreordination, and in a sudden burst of eloquence, said: 'Madam, do you not believe in Him who first took you out of the land of Egypt out of the house of bondage?'"

Rev. Dr. Fourthly was making a pastoral call. "Mr. Fourthly," said the good housewife, with a troubled sigh, "will there are any peddlers in heaven?" "No, madam," he replied, "but calm your agitation, my dear madam. They will not peddle."

"They are going to try the minister for heresy," said Deacon Trotter. "How so?" asked the minister. "Why, we have a number of people who have been talking very pleasantly until he touched on sanctification and foreordination, and in a sudden burst of eloquence, said: 'Madam, do you not believe in Him who first took you out of the land of Egypt out of the house of bondage?'"

Rev. Dr. Fourthly was making a pastoral call. "Mr. Fourthly," said the good housewife, with a troubled sigh, "will there are any peddlers in heaven?" "No, madam," he replied, "but calm your agitation, my dear madam. They will not peddle."

"They are going to try the minister for heresy," said Deacon Trotter. "How so?" asked the minister. "Why, we have a number of people who have been talking very pleasantly until he touched on sanctification and foreordination, and in a sudden burst of eloquence, said: 'Madam, do you not believe in Him who first took you out of the land of Egypt out of the house of bondage?'"

Rev. Dr. Fourthly was making a pastoral call. "Mr. Fourthly," said the good housewife, with a troubled sigh, "will there are any peddlers in heaven?" "No, madam," he replied, "but calm your agitation, my dear madam. They will not peddle."

"They are going to try the minister for heresy," said Deacon Trotter. "How so?" asked the minister. "Why, we have a number of people who have been talking very pleasantly until he touched on sanctification and foreordination, and in a sudden burst of eloquence, said: 'Madam, do you not believe in Him who first took you out of the land of Egypt out of the house of bondage?'"