

THE DAILY BEE NEWS FROM COUNCIL BLUFFS

COUNCIL BLUFFS OFFICE: NO. 19 PEARL STREET. Delivered by carrier to any part of the city.

H. W. TILTON, MANAGER. Business Office, No. 43 Pearl Street. Telephone, 123. Night Editor, No. 23

MINOR MENTION.

N. Y. Plumbing Co. Council Bluffs Lumber Co. Coal. G. Morris Voss and Minnie Zimmatt, both of Omaha, were married by Justice Vien yesterday.

An important meeting of the Junior Order of United American Mechanics, council No. 7, to be held this evening. Mrs. C. H. Sherraden has issued invitations to a Kensington tea tomorrow afternoon at her home on Willow avenue.

Mr. Marcus, whose building was visited by fire last Sunday, states that there was no hole burned in the floor, as was at first reported.

A writ of abatement was issued by Justice Thomey yesterday in the Hyour, injunction case of the state against Arthur Zipp, a saloon keeper of Neola.

The ladies of Broadway church will serve meals in Masonic temple Saturday, April 1. There will also be a sale of fancy work at the same time and place.

The Ladies Aid society of St. Johns English Lutheran church meets Thursday afternoon at the residence of Mrs. G. W. Snyder, 217 South Seventh street.

The jury in the case of the state against Gordon Johnson, charged with the robbery of a revolver from William Grady, has returned a verdict of acquittal.

Joseph Gano, a young man employed in P. Wind's planing mill, had one of his fingers badly mangled yesterday by getting it between two heavy timbers while at work. It will probably have to be amputated.

The Women's Christian Temperance union will meet Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock in Young Men's Christian association chapel. The ladies are planning an entertainment which will need the co-operation of each member. Friends of temperance cordially invited.

In order to arrange for the art window, the World's Fair association of Council Bluffs will meet this afternoon at 3 o'clock in the Women's Christian association chapel. Each member and any one desiring to become a member are earnestly asked to be present. President, Mrs. R. M. Osborne; secretary, Miss Laura Marlowe.

The following jurors have been summoned to appear for duty April 3 in the superior court: G. W. Dellinger, James Kilday, T. C. Jackson, E. V. Thornton, G. H. Strong, W. H. Robinson, O. H. Lucas and S. Covell.

The assignment of cases for trial was made by Judge McGee yesterday afternoon, the most important of the lot being that of the city against the motor company for $5,000.

The executive committee of the theater company, which was organized a couple of years ago for the purpose of running Dohany's opera house, served notice on the stockholders yesterday that a levy of $10 per share had been made to pay the deficit in the treasury. There is still due $332 on the rent of the building. The notice was something of a shock to the stockholders, as they put up their $10 per month regularly while the theater was being run in one direction, and supposed that was the end of it.

Every young man and woman should hear "Your Mother's Apron String" tomorrow night, Broadway church. Admission, 25c.

Notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather, the display of spring dress goods and silks in the Boston Store show windows is very much admired by the ladies of the city.

The merchandise shown in the windows Nos. 1, 2, 3, 4 are all of a different character.

Window No. 1 shows all the new weaves and colors of plain goods, also trimming silk to match; choice of the line, 50c per yard. Same goods cash to import to 67c.

Window No. 2 contains different grades and makes of silk suitable for trimming suits and dresses in ladies, figures, plains and new phosphorus effects ranging in price from 48c to $1.50 per yard. Don't miss seeing new confined styles in ladies' silk waists from $3.19 to $15.00 each.

Window No. 3 shows our line of all wool challies imported direct through our New York office, in a choice line of chintz colors. Note our price, 45c to 65c per yard. Same grades sold from 50c to 65c.

Window No. 4 is composed of our domestic line of wool goods in Scotch plaids, tweeds, suitings, cashmeres, serges, etc., in an endless assortment at 50c. Every store has a 50-cent line, but this beats anything ever before offered. Spring novelties in all grades from the lowest price to the finest French novelties.

BOSTON STORE, Fotheringham, Whitlaw & Co., Council Bluffs, Ia.

You are cordially invited to attend the Easter opening this afternoon and evening at Miss Ragsdale's millinery parlors, No. 337 Broadway.

PERSONAL PARAGRAPHS. Mrs. W. J. Davenport and sister, Miss Jessie, have gone to Tacoma, Wash., for a visit with friends.

Rev. E. W. Allen and Mr. R. M. Birdsall left yesterday for Carson, where they will hold meetings every night this week, returning before Sunday.

A. W. Coffman, a well known citizen of Avoca, was in the city yesterday, on his way back home from Monona county, where he has just purchased a fine farm. He thinks of moving his residence to Monona county.

Mrs. E. Shubert has returned from an eastern trip, in the course of which she visited her mother, Mrs. J. H. Bowers, Dr. J. W. Hensley and Dr. H. A. Hensley at Peasie, Ill., and Postmaster I. A. Hensley at Yates City. She was accompanied on her journey by her sister, Mrs. J. A. Williams of Nebraska.

Special Performers Sale. 25c for 10c—regular large size 25c bottles of the famous Drexel's Bell cologne, the newest and finest thing out for 10c; 10c and the size for 5c at Geo. Davis'; 25c gross to be sold at these prices.

Williamson & Co., 106 Main street, largest and best bicycle shop in city.

Do you smoke? Have you tried T. D. King & Co.'s Paragars? It's a charmer. Just light one.

The Milk Case. George Scherer, the dairyman, was on trial in the court of Justice Ford yesterday on the charge of selling adulterated milk. A jury was drawn by C. Wesley, a special constable. The trial was just fairly under way when the defendant's attorney objected to the jury on the ground that it had been picked out by a special constable who had no authority of law to act in the case. The objection was sustained and the case was postponed until the next day.

Active demand for garbage in the Klein tract testifies to its location, cheapness and desirability for fruit, gardening and suburban property. From 40 to 40c for sale, 21 miles east of post office, by Day & Hess, 39 Pearl street.

Free treatments daily from 2 to 4 p. m. at the Council Bluffs Medical and Surgical Institute, 26th and Broadway.

Justice for Bootleggers. John W. Duncan, a well-known and influential citizen of Hamburg, was before the federal grand jury yesterday on the charge of using the mail for immoral purposes. There was a woman living in Nebraska City with whom he had been or less lately out. Duncan and the woman had a falling out, and several spicy letters passed between them.

One of them contained a great many epithets of a highly flavored variety, and bore Duncan's signature. The woman placed it in the hands of the United States authorities and had Duncan bound over to the grand jury, which had his case under consideration yesterday.

Among the "bootleggers" who were given sentences of various lengths yesterday were Zack Crandall, George McKewen, Frank Howe, George Durke, Andrew Nelson, J. Reynolds, J. E. McVey, William Hartman, James McFarland, James Scroves, W. S. Whittington, Thomas Wyatt and Charles Thorsen. The sentences average somewhat higher than those of last term, and Judge Woolson announces his intention of making the increase a steady one until people understand that the law compelling the payment of the internal revenue tax was passed with the expectation of its enforcement.

The World's Fair. Cannot remain such without the blooming look and radiant complexion which health alone imparts. Parks' tea, by clearing the blood of impurities, makes the complexion regain the hue of youth. All druggists.

Emma Kennard, stenographer, notary depositions, commercial work, letter writing, 106 Main.

Chaplain Lozier. Broadway church, Thursday evening, "Your Mother's Apron String." Admission 25c.

Stop at the Ogden-Council Bluffs, the best $2.00 house in Iowa.

Don't Learn His Part. C. A. Miner, alias C. A. Martin, was arrested several weeks ago by Bailiff Harrington for breaking into two empty houses in the northwestern part of the city. He was bound over to the grand jury, which is now sitting upon the case.

Since that time he has been working for M. S. Roop, a carpenter on Upper Broadway. He is now in jail on an equally serious charge, and unless something unforeseen interferes he will probably be taken to the penitentiary.

Monday night he went to Mr. Roop and asked for the key to the shop, in order that he might go in and change his clothes. The key was given to him. Yesterday morning when Mr. Roop called on the shop the door was open and a tool chest containing about $25 worth of tools was missing. Miner was at once suspected, and the police, upon making rounds of the neighborhood, found the tools in Gilinsky's place, on Broadway between Sixth and Seventh streets. Miner was identified as the man who did the selling, and was arrested at once. The check was executed on Sunday, and was therefore void, and if it was void, there could be no forgery within the meaning of the statute. Judge Thomey instructed the jury, however, he made no allusion to this point of law, thereby indicating that he did not hold it in very high esteem.

At 11 o'clock last evening the jury was still out, and although the bars were up to all intruders, it leaked out through the transom that it stood 9 to 3 for conviction.

A World's Fair Window. The Pearl street show window of F. H. Evans' big shoe store is not only the handsomest thing on the street, but the handsomest thing in the city, and is attracting as much attention as a circus. It is not only a new window (one of the largest in the city) filled with new goods, but the method of displaying the goods is new, and as attractive as any in the city. The display that ever delighted the ladies. The central fixture is a magnificent piece of bronze art work, all the points finished with cut glass. It is loaded with the finer goods, and scattered around in artistic fashion are a few hand-painted figures of the stock that Mr. Evans has on his three-quarters of a mile of shelving. They embrace every grade of ladies' and children's footwear, from $1.50 Oxford tans to the wonderful creations of the shoe maker, and plenty of money.

The window is a bit of decorative art work that will bear study and fully justifies the remark made so frequently yesterday that it is the handsomest thing of the kind ever attempted in the city. The furnishing outside of the stock is rich enough to attract more than passing attention, and the beholder needs only a suggestion to imagine himself to be on State street, Chicago, or Fifth avenue, New York. The work is largely the result of the talent of Mr. Frank Hough, who came to Mr. Evans from the largest retail shoe houses in Chicago, and who will have charge of Mr. Evans' fine trade.

Wood of all kinds, coals and coal. L. G. Knotts & Co., 700 Broadway.

Boston chips at Driesbach's today.

The Grand Hotel. Council Bluffs. Most elegant hotel in Iowa. Dining room on seventh floor. Rates, $3 to $5 per day. E. F. Clark, Prop.

Attention, Grand Army Comrades. Chaplain Lozier will be at Broadway church tomorrow evening. Turn out with your families and friends, give him a rousing reception. Admission, 25c.

If you have property to sell, list it with me. I have customers for bargains. H. G. McGee, No. 109 Main street.

Funeral of John Hawthorn. The funeral of John Hawthorn took place yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock from the residence of his daughter, Mrs. Lougee, on Oakland avenue. In the presence of a large number of the sympathizing friends of the bereaved family. Rev. E. J. Babcock, pastor of St. Paul's church, conducted an impressive service, and music was furnished by Mrs. W. H. Wakelind and Miss Neale M. O'Connell. The casket was borne by five floral tributes. After the exercises the remains were carried from the house by the pall bearers, Messrs. D. C. Bloomer, H. H. Berthelot, T. J. Evans, H. L. Stewart, W. M. Shepard, M. Duquette, John Beno and T. Laskowski, and were taken to Fairview cemetery, where they were laid away out of sight of the loved ones.

Millinery Opening. The annual opening of Miss Ragsdale's millinery establishment took place yesterday. The windows of her establishment on Broadway are arranged very handsomely, and the visitor gets a very faint idea of what is to be seen inside, if she contents herself with this portion of the store. Miss Ragsdale's millinery openings have become one of the social events of the year, and her stock, while larger and more complete than ever before, is arranged with the same consummate skill that has marked all her previous affairs of the kind. Many ladies visited the store yesterday, and the opening will be continued today in order to give those who have not yet made their Easter purchases an opportunity to look in and see what is in store for them.

Finest Artistic cabinet photos, $2 per dozen. Astor's studio, 18 North Main.

Mme. Helen Merrill, hairdressing and manicure. Room 312 Merriam block.

Active demand for garbage in the Klein tract testifies to its location, cheapness and desirability for fruit, gardening and suburban property. From 40 to 40c for sale, 21 miles east of post office, by Day & Hess, 39 Pearl street.

Free treatments daily from 2 to 4 p. m. at the Council Bluffs Medical and Surgical Institute, 26th and Broadway.

Justice for Bootleggers. John W. Duncan, a well-known and influential citizen of Hamburg, was before the federal grand jury yesterday on the charge of using the mail for immoral purposes. There was a woman living in Nebraska City with whom he had been or less lately out. Duncan and the woman had a falling out, and several spicy letters passed between them.

One of them contained a great many epithets of a highly flavored variety, and bore Duncan's signature. The woman placed it in the hands of the United States authorities and had Duncan bound over to the grand jury, which had his case under consideration yesterday.

Among the "bootleggers" who were given sentences of various lengths yesterday were Zack Crandall, George McKewen, Frank Howe, George Durke, Andrew Nelson, J. Reynolds, J. E. McVey, William Hartman, James McFarland, James Scroves, W. S. Whittington, Thomas Wyatt and Charles Thorsen. The sentences average somewhat higher than those of last term, and Judge Woolson announces his intention of making the increase a steady one until people understand that the law compelling the payment of the internal revenue tax was passed with the expectation of its enforcement.

The World's Fair. Cannot remain such without the blooming look and radiant complexion which health alone imparts. Parks' tea, by clearing the blood of impurities, makes the complexion regain the hue of youth. All druggists.

Emma Kennard, stenographer, notary depositions, commercial work, letter writing, 106 Main.

Chaplain Lozier. Broadway church, Thursday evening, "Your Mother's Apron String." Admission 25c.

Stop at the Ogden-Council Bluffs, the best $2.00 house in Iowa.

Don't Learn His Part. C. A. Miner, alias C. A. Martin, was arrested several weeks ago by Bailiff Harrington for breaking into two empty houses in the northwestern part of the city. He was bound over to the grand jury, which is now sitting upon the case.

Since that time he has been working for M. S. Roop, a carpenter on Upper Broadway. He is now in jail on an equally serious charge, and unless something unforeseen interferes he will probably be taken to the penitentiary.

Monday night he went to Mr. Roop and asked for the key to the shop, in order that he might go in and change his clothes. The key was given to him. Yesterday morning when Mr. Roop called on the shop the door was open and a tool chest containing about $25 worth of tools was missing. Miner was at once suspected, and the police, upon making rounds of the neighborhood, found the tools in Gilinsky's place, on Broadway between Sixth and Seventh streets. Miner was identified as the man who did the selling, and was arrested at once. The check was executed on Sunday, and was therefore void, and if it was void, there could be no forgery within the meaning of the statute. Judge Thomey instructed the jury, however, he made no allusion to this point of law, thereby indicating that he did not hold it in very high esteem.

At 11 o'clock last evening the jury was still out, and although the bars were up to all intruders, it leaked out through the transom that it stood 9 to 3 for conviction.

A World's Fair Window. The Pearl street show window of F. H. Evans' big shoe store is not only the handsomest thing on the street, but the handsomest thing in the city, and is attracting as much attention as a circus. It is not only a new window (one of the largest in the city) filled with new goods, but the method of displaying the goods is new, and as attractive as any in the city. The display that ever delighted the ladies. The central fixture is a magnificent piece of bronze art work, all the points finished with cut glass. It is loaded with the finer goods, and scattered around in artistic fashion are a few hand-painted figures of the stock that Mr. Evans has on his three-quarters of a mile of shelving. They embrace every grade of ladies' and children's footwear, from $1.50 Oxford tans to the wonderful creations of the shoe maker, and plenty of money.

The window is a bit of decorative art work that will bear study and fully justifies the remark made so frequently yesterday that it is the handsomest thing of the kind ever attempted in the city. The furnishing outside of the stock is rich enough to attract more than passing attention, and the beholder needs only a suggestion to imagine himself to be on State street, Chicago, or Fifth avenue, New York. The work is largely the result of the talent of Mr. Frank Hough, who came to Mr. Evans from the largest retail shoe houses in Chicago, and who will have charge of Mr. Evans' fine trade.

Wood of all kinds, coals and coal. L. G. Knotts & Co., 700 Broadway.

Boston chips at Driesbach's today.

The Grand Hotel. Council Bluffs. Most elegant hotel in Iowa. Dining room on seventh floor. Rates, $3 to $5 per day. E. F. Clark, Prop.

Attention, Grand Army Comrades. Chaplain Lozier will be at Broadway church tomorrow evening. Turn out with your families and friends, give him a rousing reception. Admission, 25c.

If you have property to sell, list it with me. I have customers for bargains. H. G. McGee, No. 109 Main street.

Funeral of John Hawthorn. The funeral of John Hawthorn took place yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock from the residence of his daughter, Mrs. Lougee, on Oakland avenue. In the presence of a large number of the sympathizing friends of the bereaved family. Rev. E. J. Babcock, pastor of St. Paul's church, conducted an impressive service, and music was furnished by Mrs. W. H. Wakelind and Miss Neale M. O'Connell. The casket was borne by five floral tributes. After the exercises the remains were carried from the house by the pall bearers, Messrs. D. C. Bloomer, H. H. Berthelot, T. J. Evans, H. L. Stewart, W. M. Shepard, M. Duquette, John Beno and T. Laskowski, and were taken to Fairview cemetery, where they were laid away out of sight of the loved ones.

Millinery Opening. The annual opening of Miss Ragsdale's millinery establishment took place yesterday. The windows of her establishment on Broadway are arranged very handsomely, and the visitor gets a very faint idea of what is to be seen inside, if she contents herself with this portion of the store. Miss Ragsdale's millinery openings have become one of the social events of the year, and her stock, while larger and more complete than ever before, is arranged with the same consummate skill that has marked all her previous affairs of the kind. Many ladies visited the store yesterday, and the opening will be continued today in order to give those who have not yet made their Easter purchases an opportunity to look in and see what is in store for them.

Finest Artistic cabinet photos, $2 per dozen. Astor's studio, 18 North Main.

Mme. Helen Merrill, hairdressing and manicure. Room 312 Merriam block.

Active demand for garbage in the Klein tract testifies to its location, cheapness and desirability for fruit, gardening and suburban property. From 40 to 40c for sale, 21 miles east of post office, by Day & Hess, 39 Pearl street.

Free treatments daily from 2 to 4 p. m. at the Council Bluffs Medical and Surgical Institute, 26th and Broadway.

Justice for Bootleggers. John W. Duncan, a well-known and influential citizen of Hamburg, was before the federal grand jury yesterday on the charge of using the mail for immoral purposes. There was a woman living in Nebraska City with whom he had been or less lately out. Duncan and the woman had a falling out, and several spicy letters passed between them.

One of them contained a great many epithets of a highly flavored variety, and bore Duncan's signature. The woman placed it in the hands of the United States authorities and had Duncan bound over to the grand jury, which had his case under consideration yesterday.

Among the "bootleggers" who were given sentences of various lengths yesterday were Zack Crandall, George McKewen, Frank Howe, George Durke, Andrew Nelson, J. Reynolds, J. E. McVey, William Hartman, James McFarland, James Scroves, W. S. Whittington, Thomas Wyatt and Charles Thorsen. The sentences average somewhat higher than those of last term, and Judge Woolson announces his intention of making the increase a steady one until people understand that the law compelling the payment of the internal revenue tax was passed with the expectation of its enforcement.

The World's Fair. Cannot remain such without the blooming look and radiant complexion which health alone imparts. Parks' tea, by clearing the blood of impurities, makes the complexion regain the hue of youth. All druggists.

Emma Kennard, stenographer, notary depositions, commercial work, letter writing, 106 Main.

Chaplain Lozier. Broadway church, Thursday evening, "Your Mother's Apron String." Admission 25c.

Stop at the Ogden-Council Bluffs, the best $2.00 house in Iowa.

Don't Learn His Part. C. A. Miner, alias C. A. Martin, was arrested several weeks ago by Bailiff Harrington for breaking into two empty houses in the northwestern part of the city. He was bound over to the grand jury, which is now sitting upon the case.

Since that time he has been working for M. S. Roop, a carpenter on Upper Broadway. He is now in jail on an equally serious charge, and unless something unforeseen interferes he will probably be taken to the penitentiary.

Monday night he went to Mr. Roop and asked for the key to the shop, in order that he might go in and change his clothes. The key was given to him. Yesterday morning when Mr. Roop called on the shop the door was open and a tool chest containing about $25 worth of tools was missing. Miner was at once suspected, and the police, upon making rounds of the neighborhood, found the tools in Gilinsky's place, on Broadway between Sixth and Seventh streets. Miner was identified as the man who did the selling, and was arrested at once. The check was executed on Sunday, and was therefore void, and if it was void, there could be no forgery within the meaning of the statute. Judge Thomey instructed the jury, however, he made no allusion to this point of law, thereby indicating that he did not hold it in very high esteem.

At 11 o'clock last evening the jury was still out, and although the bars were up to all intruders, it leaked out through the transom that it stood 9 to 3 for conviction.

A World's Fair Window. The Pearl street show window of F. H. Evans' big shoe store is not only the handsomest thing on the street, but the handsomest thing in the city, and is attracting as much attention as a circus. It is not only a new window (one of the largest in the city) filled with new goods, but the method of displaying the goods is new, and as attractive as any in the city. The display that ever delighted the ladies. The central fixture is a magnificent piece of bronze art work, all the points finished with cut glass. It is loaded with the finer goods, and scattered around in artistic fashion are a few hand-painted figures of the stock that Mr. Evans has on his three-quarters of a mile of shelving. They embrace every grade of ladies' and children's footwear, from $1.50 Oxford tans to the wonderful creations of the shoe maker, and plenty of money.

The window is a bit of decorative art work that will bear study and fully justifies the remark made so frequently yesterday that it is the handsomest thing of the kind ever attempted in the city. The furnishing outside of the stock is rich enough to attract more than passing attention, and the beholder needs only a suggestion to imagine himself to be on State street, Chicago, or Fifth avenue, New York. The work is largely the result of the talent of Mr. Frank Hough, who came to Mr. Evans from the largest retail shoe houses in Chicago, and who will have charge of Mr. Evans' fine trade.

Wood of all kinds, coals and coal. L. G. Knotts & Co., 700 Broadway.

Boston chips at Driesbach's today.

The Grand Hotel. Council Bluffs. Most elegant hotel in Iowa. Dining room on seventh floor. Rates, $3 to $5 per day. E. F. Clark, Prop.

Attention, Grand Army Comrades. Chaplain Lozier will be at Broadway church tomorrow evening. Turn out with your families and friends, give him a rousing reception. Admission, 25c.

If you have property to sell, list it with me. I have customers for bargains. H. G. McGee, No. 109 Main street.

Funeral of John Hawthorn. The funeral of John Hawthorn took place yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock from the residence of his daughter, Mrs. Lougee, on Oakland avenue. In the presence of a large number of the sympathizing friends of the bereaved family. Rev. E. J. Babcock, pastor of St. Paul's church, conducted an impressive service, and music was furnished by Mrs. W. H. Wakelind and Miss Neale M. O'Connell. The casket was borne by five floral tributes. After the exercises the remains were carried from the house by the pall bearers, Messrs. D. C. Bloomer, H. H. Berthelot, T. J. Evans, H. L. Stewart, W. M. Shepard, M. Duquette, John Beno and T. Laskowski, and were taken to Fairview cemetery, where they were laid away out of sight of the loved ones.

Millinery Opening. The annual opening of Miss Ragsdale's millinery establishment took place yesterday. The windows of her establishment on Broadway are arranged very handsomely, and the visitor gets a very faint idea of what is to be seen inside, if she contents herself with this portion of the store. Miss Ragsdale's millinery openings have become one of the social events of the year, and her stock, while larger and more complete than ever before, is arranged with the same consummate skill that has marked all her previous affairs of the kind. Many ladies visited the store yesterday, and the opening will be continued today in order to give those who have not yet made their Easter purchases an opportunity to look in and see what is in store for them.

Finest Artistic cabinet photos, $2 per dozen. Astor's studio, 18 North Main.

Mme. Helen Merrill, hairdressing and manicure. Room 312 Merriam block.

Active demand for garbage in the Klein tract testifies to its location, cheapness and desirability for fruit, gardening and suburban property. From 40 to 40c for sale, 21 miles east of post office, by Day & Hess, 39 Pearl street.

Free treatments daily from 2 to 4 p. m. at the Council Bluffs Medical and Surgical Institute, 26th and Broadway.

Justice for Bootleggers. John W. Duncan, a well-known and influential citizen of Hamburg, was before the federal grand jury yesterday on the charge of using the mail for immoral purposes. There was a woman living in Nebraska City with whom he had been or less lately out. Duncan and the woman had a falling out, and several spicy letters passed between them.

One of them contained a great many epithets of a highly flavored variety, and bore Duncan's signature. The woman placed it in the hands of the United States authorities and had Duncan bound over to the grand jury, which had his case under consideration yesterday.

Among the "bootleggers" who were given sentences of various lengths yesterday were Zack Crandall, George McKewen, Frank Howe, George Durke, Andrew Nelson, J. Reynolds, J. E. McVey, William Hartman, James McFarland, James Scroves, W. S. Whittington, Thomas Wyatt and Charles Thorsen. The sentences average somewhat higher than those of last term, and Judge Woolson announces his intention of making the increase a steady one until people understand that the law compelling the payment of the internal revenue tax was passed with the expectation of its enforcement.

The World's Fair. Cannot remain such without the blooming look and radiant complexion which health alone imparts. Parks' tea, by clearing the blood of impurities, makes the complexion regain the hue of youth. All druggists.

Emma Kennard, stenographer, notary depositions, commercial work, letter writing, 106 Main.

Chaplain Lozier. Broadway church, Thursday evening, "Your Mother's Apron String." Admission 25c.

Stop at the Ogden-Council Bluffs, the best $2.00 house in Iowa.

Don't Learn His Part. C. A. Miner, alias C. A. Martin, was arrested several weeks ago by Bailiff Harrington for breaking into two empty houses in the northwestern part of the city. He was bound over to the grand jury, which is now sitting upon the case.

Since that time he has been working for M. S. Roop, a carpenter on Upper Broadway. He is now in jail on an equally serious charge, and unless something unforeseen interferes he will probably be taken to the penitentiary.

Monday night he went to Mr. Roop and asked for the key to the shop, in order that he might go in and change his clothes. The key was given to him. Yesterday morning when Mr. Roop called on the shop the door was open and a tool chest containing about $25 worth of tools was missing. Miner was at once suspected, and the police, upon making rounds of the neighborhood, found the tools in Gilinsky's place, on Broadway between Sixth and Seventh streets. Miner was identified as the man who did the selling, and was arrested at once. The check was executed on Sunday, and was therefore void, and if it was void, there could be no forgery within the meaning of the statute. Judge Thomey instructed the jury, however, he made no allusion to this point of law, thereby indicating that he did not hold it in very high esteem.

At 11 o'clock last evening the jury was still out, and although the bars were up to all intruders, it leaked out through the transom that it stood 9 to 3 for conviction.

A World's Fair Window. The Pearl street show window of F. H. Evans' big shoe store is not only the handsomest thing on the street, but the handsomest thing in the city, and is attracting as much attention as a circus. It is not only a new window (one of the largest in the city) filled with new goods, but the method of displaying the goods is new, and as attractive as any in the city. The display that ever delighted the ladies. The central fixture is a magnificent piece of bronze art work, all the points finished with cut glass. It is loaded with the finer goods, and scattered around in artistic fashion are a few hand-painted figures of the stock that Mr. Evans has on his three-quarters of a mile of shelving. They embrace every grade of ladies' and children's footwear, from $1.50 Oxford tans to the wonderful creations of the shoe maker, and plenty of money.

The window is a bit of decorative art work that will bear study and fully justifies the remark made so frequently yesterday that it is the handsomest thing of the kind ever attempted in the city. The furnishing outside of the stock is rich enough to attract more than passing attention, and the beholder needs only a suggestion to imagine himself to be on State street, Chicago, or Fifth avenue, New York. The work is largely the result of the talent of Mr. Frank Hough, who came to Mr. Evans from the largest retail shoe houses in Chicago, and who will have charge of Mr. Evans' fine trade.

Wood of all kinds, coals and coal. L. G. Knotts & Co., 700 Broadway.

Boston chips at Driesbach's today.

The Grand Hotel. Council Bluffs. Most elegant hotel in Iowa. Dining room on seventh floor. Rates, $3 to $5 per day. E. F. Clark, Prop.

Attention, Grand Army Comrades. Chaplain Lozier will be at Broadway church tomorrow evening. Turn out with your families and friends, give him a rousing reception. Admission, 25c.

If you have property to sell, list it with me. I have customers for bargains. H. G. McGee, No. 109 Main street.

Funeral of John Hawthorn. The funeral of John Hawthorn took place yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock from the residence of his daughter, Mrs. Lougee, on Oakland avenue. In the presence of a large number of the sympathizing friends of the bereaved family. Rev. E. J. Babcock, pastor of St. Paul's church, conducted an impressive service, and music was furnished by Mrs. W. H. Wakelind and Miss Neale M. O'Connell. The casket was borne by five floral tributes. After the exercises the remains were carried from the house by the pall bearers, Messrs. D. C. Bloomer, H. H. Berthelot, T. J. Evans, H. L. Stewart, W. M. Shepard, M. Duquette, John Beno and T. Laskowski, and were taken to Fairview cemetery, where they were laid away out of sight of the loved ones.

Millinery Opening. The annual opening of