CHEROKES IN COUNCIL.

They Discuss the Proposed Sale of the Strip to the Government.

TABLESBURG, La., April 1.—In the senate of the Cherokee a substitute was presented for the bill brought in yesterday to accept the government's treaty and become the subject of a heated debate. The substitute provides that the passage of the bill should not be construed to mean the acceptance of the amendments until such acceptance should be formally filed with the secretary of the interior by a delegation to be appointed by the council, who should, before the title of the Cherokee outlet should pass in full to the federal government, receive payment in full in accordance with the terms of the act of Congress. The substitute further provides that the secretary of the interior must give a guaranty that the intruders shall be removed and also authorize the same delegation to negotiate the certificates.

The bill will not reach the house until Monday at the earliest, and the final action will be taken until Tuesday or Wednesday. The most trying question the Cherokees will have to settle before they get through is the agreement to share in the lands. The bill proposes to divide the lands among those who have Cherokee blood in their veins, to the exclusion of whites who have married into the tribe. Those who are not of the blood of the Cherokees naturally protest against this proposition, and in their protest they have the sympathy of their relatives. Were that question left to a vote of the people the whites would be barred out, but it is a question of law as well as of sentiment and the courts will be called on to decide the matter.

This is more than the Cherokees bargained for when they invited the aliens to come into their country. They are willing to take the whites and the whites are willing to work and raise families, but they shall only enjoy the fruits of their toil and be thankful that their wives and babies get a per capita share of the money that may be distributed. As the Indians are both jury and judge and not allowed to govern their own affairs, they may set their opinion up against them, it is likely that the adopted citizens will have to be satisfied with what they already have, for it is settled that the Cherokees themselves are to determine the question of eligibility without the aid or interference of the federal courts.

CHINESE REGISTRATION.

TEN COAL MINERS PERISH

They Meet a Fearful Fate in a Burning Pennsylvania Mine.

RELATIVES AND FRIENDS OF THE IMPRISONED MEN POWERLESS TO HELP THEM LEARN WHAT THEIR AWFUL FATE—BRAVE WORK OF RESCUERS.

SHAMONK, Pa., April 1.—A miner's lamp caused an explosion in the Nelson shaft, operated by Langdon & Co. this morning. Many miners were in the mine at the time of the explosion. But twelve or fifteen lost their lives and a number of others were suffocated. Yesterday being a holiday there were not as many men at work as usual. Ten dead have been recovered, as follows:

JOHN BOBLE, JAMES BRENNAN, MIKE BRENNAN, JOHN BYAN, NICK BALTON, FRANK SHUPES.

It is not certain how many other men are in the mine, which is burning fiercely with momentary danger of an explosion. Despite this a force of men and officials is battling the flames and gas. The dead were all found in a vein to which the smoke found its way from a vein 200 feet below. A thousand men will be drawn out of employment.

How it started.

The fire started about twenty feet from the bottom of the shaft, where there is an oil house, which is used by the men to change their working clothes for others stored in the mine. About 7:30, while a Hungarian was sitting in the oil house, his lamp exploded and spread the oil about him. He rushed from the oil house and the flames spread with fearful rapidity.

Attempts were made to fight the fire, but those who started to do so were compelled to flee for their lives. They succeeded in reaching the bottom of the shaft and were hauled to the surface along with some belated miners who were their lives to the fact that they did not go to work at their usual time.

The ten men who lost their lives were all at work in the Red Ash vein located nearly 100 feet above where the fire broke out. Through the airway from the lower vein to the Red Ash vein the smoke crowded, suffocating the unfortunate like rats in a trap.

Work of Brave Rescuers.

About midday a resplendent party of six brave men went down the shaft and entered the burning vein. The smoke was so dense that they were compelled to lie down on their stomachs and to keep wet sponges to their nostrils to avoid suffocation. When they had proceeded a short distance they came upon the bodies of two men locked in each other's arms. They were the Brennan brothers, James and Michael. Further on the bodies of eight more men were found, making ten men in all.

The bodies were removed to the surface with much difficulty. They were taken to the Mackintosh shop, where the most pathetic scenes were witnessed. Three of the men were married and had large families. The others were young men, averaging less than 25 years of age.

Thirty miners were also suffocated.

Five People Killed and Many Wounded in a Buffalo Fire.

BRADFORD, Pa., April 1.—Fire was discovered early this morning in Higgins' hotel, patronized chiefly by railroad men, of whom about twenty-five were asleep in the structure when the fire broke out. The escape of many was cut off by the flames and they were compelled to jump from the windows. The structure was entirely consumed, together with the Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburgh depot and freight house and one or two other structures. Three dead have been recovered, and two are known to be in the ruins, and twenty-five were injured, as the result of the fire. The dead are:

The hotel register was burned and it is impossible to get an accurate list of the missing.

MINISTER TO DENMARK.

John E. Risley Denies the Stories Circulated About Him.

New York, April 1.—John E. Risley, the newly appointed minister to Denmark, returned to this city from Washington last night. To a reporter he said today: "I do not know and I never have known the William Harrison, who, according to the recently published records, was the treasurer of the United States in 1854. I testified that I was initiated into an organization known as the Sons of Liberty or the Knights of the Golden Circle. What he has testified to is an absolute and unqualified falsehood. I was never a member of either of these organizations, never saw one of its rituals nor had any connection whatever with it."

Mr. Risley then denies the statements of Mr. Balke of Terre Haute, Ind. When Mr. Risley was asked whether he had any official denial to the State department he said: "Oh, my, no. They don't want the United States bothered with that. Why, when I went to Mr. Gresham's office and tried to make an explanation he just lifted up his hands deprecatingly and said: 'Don't say a word about it.'"

It is understood that Mr. Risley has taken the oath of office and will sail as soon as he can settle his affairs.
