Grand Success.
 We regret if we have disappointed any of our customers in our egg sale Saturday. Our competitors over ran us with boys and men! After selling 50 cases we got on to the racket and stopped selling to the big fry house and other small dealers. We, however, were compelled to sell two dozen eggs to each customer and had enough to meet the demands of all up to 10 o'clock in the evening. In our sale of yesterday we passed over our counters the enormous quantity of 48,000 eggs.

 Grand Opening Next Week of All Departments.
WATCH THE BEE FOR THE DATE
 Dry Goods, Carpets, Furniture, Crockery, Jewelry, Stationery, Hardware, Groceries—In Fact, Every Department Will Have Big Bargains.
 Our dry goods are being opened and marked at eastern prices.
 Two car loads have already arrived and more are on the way.
 You will be astonished at the prices we will mark on our goods for the opening.
 To thoroughly and quickly introduce this and our carpet department to the public, we propose to make prices and give you values you will never forget.
 The beauty of these stocks is that they are
ALL NEW FRESH GOODS.
 Direct from the best markets in the east. They have never been wet even by a spray from the ocean. They are straight and dry goods; nor have they ever been on any other firm's shelves; they are first hands goods.
 Take our advice and reserve your purchases until we open.
 In the meantime we want to reduce stocks in our crockery, furniture and wood ware; all of the above are now in our annex basement.
 We are making prices that move the goods.
 We are making cuts in our hardware, stationery, jewelry, grocery, and on our second floor, where we carry baby buggies, doll buggies, child's chairs, tables and dressers, trunks, satchels, etc., etc.
 Come and get our prices all next week.

J. F. Ponder, who has been with Max Meyer & Bro. Co., in charge of their optical department for the past four years, has organized the Omaha Optical company, of which he is manager. The new concern starts in business at 222 South Sixteenth street. Mr. Ponder has a wide circle of friends and acquaintances, and being a thoroughly practical optician of many years' experience, will no doubt succeed in doing a good business.
 Mrs. Hickman never was so rushed this early in the season. No wonder, for her stock is the prettiest ever brought to the city. Call and see her. 211 S. 16th.
 Domestic soap is best for hand water.
 On draught tomorrow, book beer, brewed by Omaha Brewing association.

AMONG THE GERMAN SOCIETIES.
Plattdeutscher Verein Prepares for its Annual Ball—Other Events Promised.
 The people who talk in the language employed by Fritz Wirth, the most realistic of German writers—in his famous works and who are so very proud of this great poet that they never let an occasion pass to show their admiration for his poetic and prose labors are very strong here in Omaha, both financially and in numbers. They pride themselves on having a treasury better filled than that of any other German Verein.
 The Omaha Plattdeutscher Verein counts among its members such men as City Treasurer John F. Metz, ex-president of the Germania Savings and Loan bank, who was one of its founders, Henry Osthoff, John Baumer, Henry Eide, Julius Pecko, Councilman Specht and others, equally as prominent in business, political and social circles.
 Since the celebration of its ninth anniversary on January 6 last the society has done very little in the way of entertainments, has rested on its oars and listened to other German society and theatrical doings, with which the last season has been pregnant, and which culminated last Sunday in the conclusion of the engagement of the Germania theater company at Boyd's and the performance at Turner hall. But at the last meeting this Verein decided to give the customary Easter ball on April 15, to which invitation will soon be issued.
 The meeting of the Central Verein of North America, which takes place at Chicago about June 19, probably concurrent with the German Verein, has been decided by twelve delegates from this Verein. John P. Lund is treasurer and Theodore Heuck financial secretary of the national organization, of which this city has the most members of any society in the United States. Omaha has therefore always been accorded the right to fill the ranks of the national ranks of its membership. Who is the Low German that has not read "Hanne Nucte in der Letzte Pudel" while he belongs to this society?
 An evening entertainment at which amateur theatricals and recitations will be given has been arranged for by the Bavarian Verein, which will be held at corner Tenth and Farnam streets, tonight.
 Members of the Baerengien intend to organize a bicycle club composed of members only of this city. At the last meeting Dr. Oberleber, weighing 280 pounds, mounted one of the treacherous things.
 The Ladies Social club, composed of members from all over the city, the ladies section of the Turnverein are sending out invitations for a dancing party to be given at New Metropolitan hall on April 11.
RIFLEMEN ACTIVE.
Raising Funds for the National Tournament Next Summer.
 The Omaha Riflemen's association is waking up to the necessity of having suitable buildings for the tournament which is to be held here this summer. Something like $10,000 is to be expended in the erection, and Architect Henry Voss has been engaged to draw the plans.
 A pavilion 90x150 feet in size and in Queen Anne style is contemplated. The total height of building and tower will be 50 feet. In the center will be a large dining hall 105x50 feet, with a refreshment room adjoining of 50x30 feet.
 It will front south toward a lake which is to be formed, and will have a veranda 15 feet wide. The height of the ceiling will be 12 feet. The building will be on the west and the other on the east, will run the whole length of the building. The entire room of the west wing, 20 feet in width, will be taken up by thirty-six shooting stands, so that that many rifles can be discharged at once at the same number of targets. The addition on the east will contain four leveling alleys, a large kitchen and dressing rooms.
 The plans will be submitted and in the main probably adopted at the next meeting of the association.
A Teacher in Error.
 FARMINGTON, Neb., March 29.—To the Editor of The Bee: A teacher affirms that any law passed by the legislature after the sixty days of session is unconstitutional. Is there any truth in this statement? Please answer in The Bee.

STANDS ON HIS RECORD.
Ben Baker Satisfied with His Course as United States Attorney.
 Speaking today of the intimation contained in a dispatch from Washington to the effect that charges would be preferred against him, setting forth that he had not conducted the business of his office strictly in accordance with the regulations, Mr. Baker said: "I know that the business of my office has been conducted in strict accordance with the law, and if anybody can find fault with it they are perfectly welcome to get all the glory out of it that they may be able to make up. If I had the work of the past three years to do over again I would do it in exactly the same manner. I said to Inspector Chalmers this morning, with regard to the talk about the alleged practice of carrying extra fees by holding jury trials in cases where parties might simply plead guilty to the charge, I have just this to say: Mr. Baker, if you are a man, who knows how the business of this office ought to be conducted, look into it if he wants to. I am confident it is all right. If I had the work of the past three years to do over again I would do it in exactly the same manner. I said to Inspector Chalmers this morning, with regard to the talk about the alleged practice of carrying extra fees by holding jury trials in cases where parties might simply plead guilty to the charge, I have just this to say: Mr. Baker, if you are a man, who knows how the business of this office ought to be conducted, look into it if he wants to. I am confident it is all right.
