OUR UNCLE SAM IS IN DEBT

He Owes Marshal Slaughter a Big Balance on Account.

JUDGE DUNDY PUZZLED ABOUT MAY COURT

No Money for Expenses if Mr. Staughter Compels a Settlement-Federal Court Without a Marshal Speculating on the Next Attorney.

There is a singular state of affairs in the United States court for the district of Nebraska. There appears to be danger that there will be no money on hand with which to pay the expenses of the May term and Judge Dandy is puzzled to know how the matter is going to be adjusted.

The exact situation could not be learned, as Marshal Slaughter was not in town yesterday but the facts, in brief, are that if the out going marshal insists on a full settlement of his accounts with the Department of Justice there will be but a few hundred dollars at most in his hands to the credit of the government, if indeed, the government may not come out behind in the balance. The department has been owing to the marshal all the way from $7,000 to $10,000 for more than a year, on account of the delay in allowing his claims for fees and expenses, board bills etc. He has at present quite a considerable sum of money on hand belonging to the department, but inasmuch as he is now out of office and the government owes him a large sum it is altogether probable that he will call for payment in full to square the account. Conditions almost similar existed at the time Marshal Bierbower went out of office, but he waited for some time for the government to settle up and pay what was coming to him.

Slaughter Has a Cinch.

Speaking yesterday of the matter, Judge Dundy said: "There have been instances where United States marshals have refused to turn over the moneys they held, on the ground that if a full settlement was made they would not owe the government any they would not owe the government anything. They have even let the government bring suit, and, of course, they won, for that prought on a full settlement. I do not know until I learn just what Mr. Slaughter intends to do in the case whether we are going to have money enough to carry on the May term of court or not."

The district of Nebraska has been without a United States marshal since the lifth day.

a United States marshal since the 19th day of March. On that day Marshal Slaughter's commission expired, and although he was ap-pointed by Judge Brewer to serve until Mr. White should qualify, he has not filed his bend or qualified to act during the interim. Mr. Frank White, who has been appointed the democratic administration to succeed Mr. Slaughter, has not yet received his com-mission. He has been notified that the commission would be forwarded to Judge Dundy and he will have his bond ready and will qualify as soon as the commission arrives. It is customary for the Department of Justice to send the commission to the judge of the district and let him deliver it to the man appointed when the bond is presented and approved by the judge.

In the present instance Judge Dundy has received no information whatever as to the appointment of Mr. White. The judge received a telegram yesterday from Washington authorizing him to proceed to Sioux Falls, S. D., to hold court in the place of Judge Edgerton, who has been taken seri-ously ill. Judge Dandy left for Sioux Falls last evening. The spring term of federal court, which was to have opened at Nor-folk next Monday, will, therefore, have to be postponed, as there are a number of im-portant cases on the docket for trial at Sioux Falls.

Bakers's Successor.

District Attorney Baker was not in the city yesterday morning but his assistant, Mr. Baldridge, was at work in the office preparing for the opening of the May term of court. Mr. shington news to the Baker intended to hand in his resignation.
"The statement that Attorney General Olney has given it out cold that Mr. Gering of Plattsmouth is the most likely candidate in the field is to me very improbable," said Mr. Baldridge. "In the first place I don't think the attorney general would indulge in that kind of talk, and in the second place is hardly probable that two Plattsmouth men will secure appointment in the same department when there are so many other capable democrats in the state that want

District Attorney Ben Baker returned from Fairbury yesterday afternoon and was asked by a BER reporter if he intended tourcsign.
"There is not a d-d word of truth in that stuff from Washington." was the forcible reply. "I have no intention of resigning." Judge Dundy administered the oath of office to Marshal Frank White yesterday afternoon and as soon as the commission arrives he will be a full fledged United States marshal. The bond which the marshal was required to give was for the sum of $20,000, and was signed by James M. Patterson, George E. Dovey, James D. Ritchies and Samuel Waugh, all citizens of Plattsmouth.

District Court Notes.

The New Hampshire Insurance company of Manchester has brought suit against the old Omaha Republican company in an action to foreclose a $35,000 mortgage upon the property at Tenth and Douglas streets, made and executed some four years ago. In addition to foreclosing the mortgage the holders of the document seek to secure some of the money that is due on policies that covered the building when it burned last spring. Last October Mrs. Hubbard Wills tripped on a spike protruding from a Twentieth street sidewalk and was injured. She has begun suit against the city for $15,000, and her husband has sued for $10,000. Court Calendar.

Collector Alexander Teaching Down Easters the Tariff Law.

They held that the goods should have been

They held that the goods should have been assessed as knit fabrics, wool or worsteds, at 44 cents a pound and 50 cents ad valorem.

The friendly dispute was ended by a decision rendered by the supreme court in a similar case, which of course makes it final, and the assessment put upon the goods by Mr. Alexander is sustained. The case in point was carried from the customs house in New York to the United States circuit court, and as the decision of the court did not please the importers interested, and was not in accordance with the opinion of the not in accordance with the opinion of the surveyor general, they carried the matter to the supreme court, where the decision of the lower court was sustained and the ruling of the surveyor general was overruled. The supreme court holds that knit fabri's are goods in piece and that manufactured articles must be classed as wearing apparel.

DEPOT INJUNCTION

Advanced on the District Court Call for Today.

ALL DEPENDS UPON JOHN D. HOWE'S ACTION

An Effort to Be Made to Have the Injune tion So Modified that the Depot Negotiations May Be Completed-Mr. Clark's Power.

Another move has been made upon the Union depot checker board, but the game is very little nearer completed than before, the medium sizes was closed out before I and the winner cannot yet be picked. Yesterday the Stuht injunction case was placed upon the call in Judge Hopewell's court, upon request of City Attorney Connell, and it will be reached for hearing this City Attorney Connell has informed John D. Howe of this fact and insists that the hearing take place today, as he cannot consent to further delay. The case was permitted to rest during Mr. Howe's absence in the west, and it was agreed that upon his return it should be taken up and disposed of In case Mr. Howe does not desire to argue the case and submit it for final judgment today Mr. Connell insists that the injunc-tion be so modified as to permit of the city disposing of the bonds by cancellation. If this is done the city can then proceed to business about the proposed adjustment of the depot muddle, regardless of the injune tion. Ernest Stuht is desirous, or at least he so expressed himself to the south side citizens, of having the injunction dissolved. But Mr. Howe is the power behind the throne, and all depends upon the action he

At the meeting in New York, which will be undoubtedly regarded as an epoch in the history of the "Overland Roate," the concensus of opinion was that Mr. Clark should not be hampered in any way by even so much as the wishes of the directors as to the policy to be pursued. Easy Escape of Four Prisoners from the County Jail.

The prisoners at the county jail had a reg ular old fashioned picnic yesterday after on, and while it was at its height four of them managed to make good their escape. Sheriff Bennett was out in the country hunting the festive ducks, while his brother the head jailer, was down at South Omaha giving the residents of that town some points on how to run a city election. In this laudable enterprise he was assisted by two or three of the deputies and helpers from the sheriff's office. The result was that As-

During the afternoon a lot of the prisoners vere set at work shoveling back some of the nard coal in the bins in front of the furnace. They had worked an hour or so, when four of the men concluded to sever their connec-tion with the sheriff and his jail fare Watening their opportunity, they climbed out through the coal hole and lit out in four directions. Deputy Lewis and Assistant Jailer Ernest were notified by some of the eople who saw the men running away, and hey at once started in pursuit, but, owing to the fact that the escaped men had nearly an hour's start, the trail was a cold one and nothing was accomplished. All of the men who got away are considered good people to have behind the bars, as they have been implicated in a dozen robseries, the latest job being to crack an Eik sorn car which contained a quantity of mer handlse consigned to merchants of this city but not yet delivered. After the robber the plunder was tracked to the resorts of the members of this gang, and the result was that the whole outfit was arrested and bound over to the district court.
