Obscene Letters.

The federal grand jury ground away all ony vesterday with its accustomed vigor. and returned twenty-eight indictments against various parties, all of them, excepting two accused of bootlegging. Those two exceptions were Mrs. Alice Franks, wife of a man who is employed in one of the brick yards, and Wiltie Nelson, a small boy who was arrested some time ago for sending an obscene valentine to his young lady teacher. This is the crime for which he is now in dictor.

Mrs. Franks is charged with writing a letwirs, Franks is charged with writing a bit for to W. R. Shaw, who lives at the corner of Fifteenth street and Elighth avenue, which had but little literary merit, but hore evidences that the autior had a heart that was almost daten up with a great, soulful yearning for the society of Mr. Shaw That would have been all right, had not Mrs. Shuw discovered the letter in her hus and's effects one day while he was awa from home. She immediately raised an up roar and put the missive in the hands of the federal authorities No name was signed to the letter, but Mrs. Franks was induced back an envelope to Mr. Shaw, and the handwrilling on the two envelopes matched each other to a dot.
