The right to express his opinion is his by nature, and the right to have that opinion made a part of the records of the body of which he is a member becomes the sacred right of himself and those he represents, and no pretext er anibble can justify members in abridging this privilege, and when on April 5 I arose to a question of personal privilege I did so because I befieved that my rights as a member of this body were being interfered with upon that occasion by reason of the rules of the senate not being enforced. The role providing for a call of the house was willfully with upon that occasion by reason of the rules of the senate not being efforced. The rule providing for a cull of the house was wilfully broken by the very members who had noved and were holding the call. The president ignored the same rule by issuing passes to members without authority, and the attempt of yesterday evening of the presiding officer and certain members to hide behind the filmsy pretext of that call to strip me of my rights and east contempt upon the good people which I represent, I denounce as a most infamous and unwarranted proceeding and exercise of force without a color of justice, and exercise of force without a color of justice, and exercise of force without a color of justice, and exercise of force without a rule of justice, and exercise of force without a rule of justice, and exercise of force without a rule of justice, and exercise of force without a rule of justice, and exercise of force without a rule of justice, and privileges as a senator simply because he is a voiliteal opponent.

Short Cut Toward Adjournment.

Short Cut Toward Adjournment.

Senator Babcock, from the joint committee on final adjournment, reported that the com-mittee had agreed that the legislature should adjourn at noon on Saturday, April 8. The report was adopted.

The report was adopted.

Senator Smith then suggested a short cut through the mass of business ahead of the senate by moving that from this on no bills be placed on final passage except. This motion was agreed to and the senate took a recess until 2 o'clock.

Conference on the Appropriation. Immediately after the senate convened after recess Senator Clarke moved that the refused to appoint a conference committee on the general appropriation till be reconsidered. His motion was agreed to, and after the motion of the forencen had again been put and carried, the chair appointed as members of the conference committee Senators Meore, Hahn and Mattes.

The senate then went into committee of the whole to consider the salary appropria-tion bill. Nearly every line of the bill was amended, and it was handled almost as severely as the general appropriation The independent senators protested in vain, and finally most of them refrained from voting and many of the amendments went through with practically no opposition.

Some House Rolls Passed.

The regular order was then taken up and the following bills read the third time and passed: House roll No. 371, to appropriate $10,000 to be used by the governor in employing attorneys to prosecute cases against the parties who are accused of defrauding the state; house roll No. 252, amending the laws governing cities having a population of from 10,000 to 25,000; house roll No. 55, appropriating $2,457 to reimburse Blaine county for expenses incurred in the trial of one Michae Yocum; house roll No. 76, to provide for the incorporation of villages situated in two or more counties; house roll No. 34, to allow school children in country districts to attend schools not in the district in which they live, providing such schools are nearer their Senator Everett's motion was not agreed to, the vote standing 16 to 16. The chair decided that the motion was lost. The house amendments to senate file No. 14 were concurred in.

House Rolls Passed,

The senate then took up bills on third reading and passed the following: House roll No. 388, to legalize the State Poultry association; house roll No. 246, to compet the use of safety valves on receptacles for car-bome acid gas; house roll No. 20, to prohibit lumber and coal dealers from entering into any combination to pool or fix prices; house roll No. 29, to provide clerks and assistants for county clerks in counties having more than 25,000 population; house roll No. 108, providing for the sale of saline lands belonging to the state.

Passed the World's Fair Bill.

A motion to concur in the senate amend-ments to the World's fair bill brought on a lively squabble, but the amendments were concurred in by 53 votes. The friends of the bill did some busy hustling to get the neces-sary votes, and the announcement of the result was delayed until they were secured.

Porter in explaining his vote said he had originally voted for the bill with the understanding that the present commissioner gen-eral would be deposed and R. W. Furnas put in his place. He now understood that no change would be made, and feeling that the appropriation would not be used to the best interests of the state, he voted "no."

Angry with the Senate. The announcement of the action of the coate in appointing a conference committee sente in appointing a controller committee on the general appropriation bill precipitated some pyrotechnical oratory. Members asserted that the senate had sat around and done nothing until within the last two weeks and it was sought to make the house awallow a padded bill or take nothing. They celared they would not stand it, but would to home and allow the responsibility for an extra session to rest with the upper house inless the senate come to terms.

Howe said that seventeen senators had esterday agreed to accept the terms of the Soncur in the senate amendments to 311.
The house had done this and the senate proke faith and refused to concur in 207. One of the seventeen senators had gone back on his agreement. was just and right.
The motion prevailed and the chair ap-pointed Casper, Howe and Stovens as the conference committee.

No More Business Done.

The house attempted to pass some senate files, but it was so difficult to keep the mempers quiet and get them to vote that it was given up after passing 237, and the house took a recess until 7 o'clock.

At the evening assion McKesson latro-duced a resolution calling upon the speaker for a showing as to the amount received from the people to defray expenses of legislators after the per diem ceased, and to also snow receipts of the members who had re-A motion was made to lay it on the table and roll call on the motion was in progress when the senate entered for the joint

Members Playing Horse.

The last ten minutes of the joint conven-tion were marked with wild disorder. The air was filled with flying paper balls and waste paper baskets and the presiding officer gave up the attempt be keep the members in order. Immediately after adjournment a pitched battle ensued between Gifford on one side and the whole house on the other. It was entirely good natured, but the fusilade was a hot one and only terminated when the gentleman from awnee resorted to cuspidors for missiles.

As soon as the house was called to order he roll call was resumed on the motion to table McKesson's resolution. It was de-feated by a vote of 24 to 44, and the resolution was then adopted.

The conference committee on the general appropriation bill reported as follows:

The senate to concur in the action of the house, provided the impeachment appropriation is cut from $25,000 to $15,000, an emergency clause being added, giving the governor $5,000 to prosecute official criminals and $30,000 for the National guard in the state, the committee being unable to agree as to the senate amendments.

Defended Auditor Moore. Rhodes had a grievance because the auditor of state had refused to issue excessive warrants for the clerks of the enrolling committee, of which Rhodes is chairman. Rhodes insisted that as the house had voted the clerks double pay the auditor had no business to refuse to pay the claims. He intimated that Moore wanted to hold the clerks up for a part of their pay.

Twenty members were instantly on their feet, resenting the imputation and demand-ing retraction. The unjust accusation was repudiated by members regardless of party. and the member from Valley was forced to recall his assertion. It was stated by sev-eral members that Auditor Moore had inaugurated a new era in the state offices, and had already saved the state several hundred dollars by refusing to pay excessive vouchers, and the house had indersed his action.

The gentleman from Valley was remorse lessly sat upon, even by members of his own party, and at 11:20 the house took a recess until 9 o'clock tomorrow morning.

MR. CARTER'S ARGUMENTS

England's Right to Put in Additional Evidence in the Bering Sea Case Disputed.

SIR CHARLES RUSSELL MEETS HIS MATCH

Yesterday's Proceedings Before the Paris Court of Arbitration of Much Interest -The Side of the United States Well Cared For

Paris, April 7. - James C. Carter, counsel for the United States, continued before the Bering sea court of arbitration today his reply to Sir Charles Russell's pica for the dmission to evidence of the British supplementary report of the Bering sea commis sion. The contention of the counsel for Great Britain, no said was that the question of right in the Bering sea must be settled before the matter of regulations. The contention of the United States from the beginning of the dispute, however, had concerned the regulations. The United States had held also that for the settlement of the property claim advanced by them evidence on seal life in Bering sea was necessary. Such evidence was contained in the original reports of the Bering sea commission and It was, therefore, that these reports formed an indispensable part of the case and counter As for the supplementary report, had not appeared in the matter already referred to and ought therefore to be excluded from the evidence. Great Britain had claimed the power under article vii of the treaty of arbi-tration to include the supplementary report in the evidence. This article declared that if it be decided that the concurrence of Great Britain be necessary to establish regulations the report of the joint commission shall then be laid before the tribunal with such other evidence as either government may submit This Great Britain had construed as a right Into Great Britain and construct as a right to introduce evidence as to the regulations, even after the case and counter case had been closed. Article ix provided that the reports shall not be made public until after being submitted to the arbitrators, or until it shall be seen that the contingency of their being used by the arbitrators cannot arise. It was thus made obvious that the question at issue was a cracial one for the arbitration. If the cona crucial one for the arbitration. ### ANNOUNCEMENTS.

The most charming entertainment ever presented to an Omaha audience is that of the Liliputians, now at the Boyd. Two performances of "The Pupil in Magic," the second of them the last this season, will be given today. The matinee will begin at 2 o'clock, half an hour earlier than usual. In the evening the curtain will rise at the usual hour. These who have not yet seen these wonderful little artists should not fail these wonderful little artists should not fail to attend one or other, or both, of teday's performances; by doing so they will experience a pleasure and garner a memory seldom to be had. The story is a beautiful one. It is told in German, but if it were narrated in Chinese it would be perfectly intelligible as presented by the Lilinutians. The program elucidates the story in detail, and it could be intelligently followed by all and several of the workman on Babel. The setting is beautiful in the extreme, scene after scene presenting perfect pictures. It will delight the children, and the grownups will enjoy it to the full, the most blase of them. She lay hovering Between Life and Death for four long months. The swelling broke in three places along the front bone. I never saw anyone suffer as she did. In a short time pieces of bone worked out of all four places. The physician said his skill was exhausted, and if anything would help her it would be Hood's Sarsaparilla. We Had to Go 20 Miles to Batesville to get it. She was helpless as a babe and suffering greatly. Before she had taken the first bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla she had improved so much that she could get on the floor, and hop on her well foot. She was soon able to walk without even a crutch. The swelling on her legs has entirely gone down, and All The Sores Have Healed Up. She is now just five years old, and we feel very much indebted to Hood's Sarsaparilla, which has given her back to us in good health. O, how thankful I am!" SARAH P. Me-CLENNY, Wolf Bayou, Cleburn County, Ark. HOOD'S PILLS are purely vegetable, and do Hawalian consuls at United States and other ports have been informed that until further notice vessels will not be allowed to change their registry to that of Hawalian. This is to defeat the plans of a number of ship owners who desire to have their vessels rated as American vessels in the event of annexation. Terrible DANGER POINTS for the lungs and pipes. > DR. SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP.

A huge wave yesterday morning swept sud-denly into the mouth of the Chicago river, tearing a number of vessels away from their moorings and temporarily grounding the steamer Oity of Venice and the schooner Mabel Wilson. Some people were inclined to attrib-ute the phenomenon to siesmatic disturbances in Lake Michigan. Break up your cold at once. Stop your cough. Drive out that inflammation in time. Defy that Pneumonia. Cure that Consumption Piles of people have piles, but DeWitt's witchhazel salve will cure them.

THE PULMONIC SYRUP acts quickest and surest of all remedies on the lungs. The oldest and best approved standard for every lung trouble.

The London Lancet, in its report upon the water supply of Chicago, states that it is of as good a qualify as that supplied to Londoners, and free from any contamination likely to breed unlicalthfulness. Another serious strike is threatened by the London dockmen. Yesterday union men gathered and drove from the wharves every nonunion employe. A bloody rowensued, in which many were injured. Dr. Schenck's Practical Treaties on Diseases of ungs, Stomach and Liver, mailed free to all ay-licants. Dr. J. H. Schenck & Son, Philadelphia, which many were injured.

The debate on the second reading of the Irish home rule bill was resumed yesterday in the Heuse of Commons, and proceeded tamely until the adjournment. No notable speech was made, and the House was half deserted.

An uprising against the government of San Domingo has taken place. Its leaders make the statement in order to bring followers to their cause that President Heureaux is trying to make arrangements to annex the country to the United States.
