Compared with Wednesday's Closing Price, May Wheat is Lower.

WHEAT OPENED IN A NERVOUS MANNER

In Corn There Was Not Much Support to Values at the Start, the Crowd Being Inclined to Sell.

CHICAGO, Ill., April 13.—Compared with yesterday's closing price May wheat is 6c and July ½c lower. This is nearly the inside price reached today. The market was stagnant at the close, but could hardly be called steady. Corn is off ¼c also and the only strength in the speculative markets was in provisions, which closed with another fair-sized advance.

Wheat opened ½c under last night's figures for May, with the market in suspense and ready to respond to the least manipulation. The crowd was expectant and eager, and with the clanging of the big bell, the men jumped to work. In a short time there was a lively slump. The bottom fell from nonsupport and the tallers who had bought last evening with the expectation of a bull market this morning dropped their offerings like hot potatoes and the sag was still further assisted by a decided lack of support. Aside from manipulation, the reported large bank failure in Australia affected the market to some extent and possibly there may be an impression that the crop damage was exaggerated.

In corn there was not much support to values at the start, the crowd being inclined to sell, influenced by the bright weather, and when they heard that wheat was selling off they increased their offerings, resulting in a decline of ¼c. Buying by a few of the larger concerns on orders to cover shorts, like price rolled up to opening figures, reached ½c again and closed with a full ¼c loss. A small lot of No. 3 was worked for direct export to Liverpool at 2½c under May. The crowd seemed all waiting for a demand for the large stock of cash held and until such times come do not look for a great deal of improvement in values and are consequently reluctant about purchasing.

The market for oats at the opening was steady, but later prices receded from ⅛c to ¼c. The near futures lading the weakest in response to the decline followed, but did not hold and prices again receded from ¼c to ⅜c and the close was easy at about the inside figures, with a net loss of from ⅛c to ¼c. The best buying was by shorts.

Offerings of provisions were not very large, while a good miscellaneous demand prevailed. Supplies of hogs for liberal prices were maintained. Domestic markets were generally stronger and Liverpool advices indicated a firm feeling for bacon. Receipts of products light and shipments fair. The light stocks in the west had some influence in strengthening the market generally. The market closed steady at about Friday's figures. Lard gained 10c for May and July but is unchanged for September. Ribs are from 5c to 7½c higher than yesterday.

Estimated receipts of hogs for tomorrow are 15,000 head. The estimates on grain were unobtainable.

The leading futures ranged as follows:

Rice Crop 1892-1893.

The rice crop of the United States is now practically in sight and following estimates are given out by Messrs. Dan Talmage's Sons, New York: The flower of promise in early summer was fully redeemed and results prove of mammoth proportions—doubly magnificent i. e., in quantity and quality. Louisiana will fractionally exceed 7,000,000 bushels; Carolina, inclusive of the Carolinas and Georgia, 2,000,000 bushels; scattering in newer states, 250,000 bushels; total 9,750,000 bushels rough, equal say 250,000,000 pounds of cleaned or edible rice, of which 130,000,000 pounds have been marketed.

The crop is 60 per cent greater than the preceding one, in fact by far exceeds any previously made and over two and one-half times the average rice crop before the war.

Omaha Produce Market.

The sudden change to cold and unpleasant weather had a rather depressing effect upon the market and trade was quiet.

Prices generally were unchanged. There were no fresh receipts of strawberries and the market was practically bare of good shipping stock.

STOCKS AND BONDS.

Nebraska's Maximum Rate Law Making Itself Felt Among Speculators.

NEW YORK, April 13.—The speculative temper of the Stock exchange underwent a marked change today. The bears were in the ascendant and succeeded in bringing about a general decline on the feeling of uncertainty created by continued gold shipments to Europe. It was currently reported that $2,000,000 gold would go forward by Saturday's steamers and that anywhere from $3,000,000 to $5,000,000 would be shipped next week.

This would bring the treasury gold reserve below the $100,000,000 mark, in which event the bears claim with confidence that they would succeed in bringing about a serious disturbance in values. On the other hand, it is said that leading bankers and others who presumably understand the financial situation, take anything but a gloomy view of the outlook, and the fact that Drexel, Morgan & Co. have undertaken the work of reorganizing the Richmond Terminal is accepted as proof positive that that firm takes a hopeful view of the money market. It was stated at one time this afternoon that Lazard Feres had taken $1,000,000 gold and Heidelbach-Eichelheimer a similar amount for shipment on Saturday.

The latter firm will not ship any gold on that day unless they receive peremptory orders from their foreign correspondents tomorrow.

The signing of the maximum freight bill by Governor Crounse of Nebraska was another argument used in favor of lower prices. During the afternoon the pressure to sell became quite pronounced and the dealings were extended with considerable excitement. Manhattan, which had advanced 4 points to 17⅜ on the granting of new privileges to the company by the Rapid Transit commission, broke to 16¾. The remainder of the list yielded ⅛ to 1¼ per cent. Missouri Pacific was sold down from 76 to 74. Sugar from 103⅜ to 101½. Distilling and Cattlefeeding from 27¾ to 26¼. Lead from 41¼ to 39¾. Cotton Oil from 48 to 46. Burlington & Quincy from 96¼ to 94⅝. Chicago Gas from 90 to 88½. Rock Island from 84½ to 83¾. Lake Shore from 132¼ to 130. New England from 38⅝ to 37¾ and Northern Pacific preferred from 42¾ to 40¾. National Starch broke 3½ to 2½ per cent and rallied to 23. Distilling and Cattlefeeding was weak on the unfavorable character of the annual report rendered to the meeting in Peoria yesterday. Northern Pacific preferred was sold on the official statement of earnings for March, showing a decrease of $244,346, as compared with 1892. There is no doubt that the bulk of the selling was for the short account, although some long stock naturally came out as the decline made progress.

Richmond Terminal advanced on the knowledge that Drexel, Morgan & Co., had concluded to go on with the organization. The market closed heavy in tone.

The Post says: In view of the measures adopted by the gold exporting bankers for a speedy filling of the Austrian contracts, the condition of the treasury once more deserves attention. The government has practically ceased to receive gold in exchange for currency and Tuesday's exports have now reduced the gold balance by very nearly the full amount of the shipments. There is now in the treasury less than $3,000,0[illegible] over the $100,000,000 reserve, and if present indications are trustworthy the shipments by the next steamers will exhaust even this. There would of course be no occasion for alarm, even if the $100,000,000 reserve were to be touched, but the importance of the change lies in its bearing on the question of a bond issue. That London bankers have been preparing for such a loan cannot be doubted, and if the bonds are to be issued at all, the proper occasion would seem to be when the gold reserve is trenched upon.

OMAHA LIVE STOCK MARKETS.

Light Supplies of All Sorts Turn the Prices Upward Again.

THURSDAY, April 13.

Receipts for the week so far compared with last show an increase of nearly 3,000 cattle and 5,500 hogs, while sheep supplies have fallen off about 1,000 head.

The supply was comparatively light, but 64 cars, and the quality as a rule decidedly indifferent. As usual on Thursdays, the outside demand was merely nominal, and on this account the very moderate offerings appeared ample for the requirements, and the market, while generally firm, showed no quotable advance. Sellers started out asking higher prices, but met with little success, as none of the buyers were anxious enough for the cattle to pay more than steady prices, but they were willing apparently to take all they could get on that basis. There were some heavy cattle here, but none that were strictly choice. Pretty good 1,200 to 1,350 lb. beeves sold at $4.60 and $4.75 with fair to good 1,050 to 1,250 lb. steers from $4.30 to $4.60. Offerings included an unusually large percent age of common light half fat steers, weighing from 800 lbs upward, that the dressed beef men bought at good strong feeder prices from $3.90 to $4.25. There was very little snap to the movement but nearly every thing of any consequence was disposed of during the forenoon.

The very limited offerings of cows and mixed stock produced a little firmer tone to the trade and prices ruled a shade better all around. Less than a fourth of the offerings came under this head, and they all sold early at from $1.50 for poor canning stock to $4 for choice fat cows. Fair to good butchers' cows sold largely at from $2.65 to $3.65. Bulls and oxen were in very fair demand at good, firm prices, common to good stock ruling at from $2.10 to $3.75. There was no particular change in the calf market, common large to choice veal calves selling at from $2 to $5.50.

The stocker and feeder trade has picked up very satisfactorily in the past few days. There were liberal offerings of both fresh and stale cattle in the yards today and, both country dealers and yard speculators taking hold freely, the movement was lively. Sales out of first hands were at from $3.45 to 4.30 very largely and included over 300 head of westerns at from $3.80 to $4.25. Present high prices seem to indicate a liquidation of future higher prices for beef steers, as present figures would hardly prove very remunerative to feeders. Representative sales:
