

SENSATIONAL FAREWELL

Health Officials Inspect the Russian Israelite Cemetery. Dr. Prins treats catarrh. Bee bldg. PHYSICIAN ON VENTILATION.

OMAHA, April 22.—The editor of THE BEE: In this enlightened age it would seem superfluous to argue the necessity of having perfect ventilation in our public buildings, and yet we must confess that public officials and those having in charge the construction of public buildings, including architects, are either ignorant of the necessity of proper ventilation or they are so ignorant that they propose upon them in the respective positions they occupy. I maintain, and without fear of successful contradiction, that the diseases of childhood is very largely due to lack of proper ventilation in public buildings. It will give you some idea of the extent of the problem, consumption, is harbored, cultivated and propagated through lack of sufficient ventilation. The requirements of a healthy atmosphere are: 1. A body for its sustenance in a reasonable degree of health is based on well known laws, and any departure from that standard means a lowered vitality and hence less power to resist disease and throw off poisonous vapors inhaled. The adult person in ordinary quiet respiration will consume about thirty-six cubic inches of air at each respiratory act of 500 cubic inches per minute. This includes the exhalation from the lungs, which is about 16 cubic inches, and the inhaled, should contain not to exceed six or seven parts of carbonic acid to 10,000. But on exertion we find it contains of this amount about six or seven times as much. It dilute this impure air and bring it up to the standard of six or seven parts in 10,000, we must add over 24,000 cubic inches of twenty cubic feet of pure air to every cubic foot of measuring 25x25x12 contains 9,000 cubic feet. If we place forty-eight persons in such a room they will exhaust the air supply in ten minutes. To meet this demand it is necessary to replenish the entire amount of air six times every hour. We will suppose that the inlet air is at 60 degrees Fahrenheit, and that it has all obstructions, two square feet of surface. Then the air must travel at the rate of 40 feet per minute through the inlet duct in order to give the requisite amount of pure air to the room.

A great many forms of apparatus have been invented and are in use today claiming to give a certain amount of fresh air. Some will do the work part of the time, but what is needed in our school buildings, churches, hospitals, theaters and assembly rooms is, so-called, a system of mechanical ventilation and every condition of the atmosphere will give this the minimum amount, and most of the apparatus now in use are of this nature. From present knowledge of the subject I am satisfied that the fan system is the only one that gives us absolute control of the atmosphere. It is a system of mechanical ventilation, including the exhaust fan, is that a partial vacuum is created within the room by exhaustion and the pressure is from without maintained. The pressure is from the outside air, hence your pressure is outward and every particle of air introduced is fresh. The fan system is fitted with the incoming air and at whatever degree of temperature obtains on the outside. But if the force fan is used an atmospheric pressure is created in the room, and that of the outside air, hence your pressure is outward and every particle of air introduced is fresh. Look through the churches, theaters, hospitals and even the school buildings of this city that are heated by the fan system, and you will find that no provision is made for ingress of pure air. You will be shown a hole through an outside wall behind a radiator, but that is not a proper method of introducing fresh air. The wind and the amount of heat in the radiator how much interference with air you will get. There are times when it is not required in a room, but it is not a proper method for breathing purposes is as great as if the mercury were down to zero. Not since I have been in Omaha have I seen a very elegant church. While the minister was complimenting the congregation on so grand a structure and exhorting all comers to hurry in with money to start a new building, the janitor was pulling down the windows on the windward side, so that the foul air could mingle with the zero atmosphere outside. Spectacular and historic are the waves of cold air, as they descended on devoted heads assumed fantastic shapes, and the people recognized the familiar forms of pneumonia, pleurisy, meningitis, and others of like kind seeking an abiding place within those walls. If they were disappointed in the matter of the church, they would have been disappointed in the matter of the church. All hot air furnace systems include some form of ventilation, and as a rule are more satisfactory than steam heat, and are somewhat more economical, both in construction and maintenance. S. K. SPALDING.

AMUSEMENTS. "Joseph in Egypt." At Boyd's new theater on Sunday evening, May 7, will be produced for the first time in Omaha a genuine melodrama on the subject of Joseph's life as told in the book of Genesis. It is a veritable melodrama, for the action of the drama moves to music. A grand chorus and a ballet in the palace of the Pharaohs will be features of the performance. Special scenery and historic and accurate costumes are promised. "Joseph in Egypt" has been favorably received in a number of the leading cities of the country, and is being produced with great success at the Standard theater, Chicago. It will be produced in Omaha under the management of Mr. Albert Hoffman.

Once a year for a number of years past the order of Elks has furnished his friends a novel and interesting entertainment in the form of a dramatic program. In turn widely differing in its characteristics, so that the occasion of the Elks' annual benefit performance, under the auspices of Omaha lodge No. 22, has become a protective Order of Elks, has come to be one of the events of the theatrical year, and is looked forward to with increasing pleasure. This year the event will take place at Boyd's theater on Tuesday evening, May 2, and the attraction that has been secured is the charming play "Joseph in Egypt," which has just ended has cost the county $1,500 and it would be impossible to conduct such a program in Omaha. It is, therefore, he thinks that the jury was composed of fair-minded men and that if he could not convict before them it would be useless to obtain. The county clerk has advised that he had a good case, but that, owing to the conflicting testimony, there was a doubt raised which would confuse the mind of any juror. Another objection in his opinion prevented a verdict was the fact that the defendant was a woman and that when any question of doubt was raised she was given the benefit.

Advantage of a "Pull." The jury in the case of the state against Charles McKinley, the young man who was accused of stealing a trunk and contents, the property of C. J. Backus, has returned a verdict of guilty. The value of the property was fixed at $95, just enough to make a grand jury. There were several peculiar circumstances connected with the case. McKinley was arrested in the city but a few days before he came from Chicago, where he had been employed as a waiter. Shortly after his arrival he made the acquaintance of Harry Smith. One afternoon he was walking down a street and happened to meet Smith sitting upon the railing on the east side of the Brevort block. Smith told him that he had been rooming in the block, but that he had to remove to his mother's home on North Twentieth street. There was a trunk sitting on the sidewalk which Smith said was his own, and which he asked McKinley to carry to the home of his mother. McKinley consented, and together the two boys carried the trunk to the block, and in where it was deposited in a back room. The theft of the trunk was reported to the police and a few days later it was found and both boys arrested. Smith is the principal. McKinley is an accomplice. Then Smith exhibited the pull he possessed, for instead of being placed on trial charged with crime he was called before the Board of Insanity, adjudged insane and sent to the hospital, being booked as a kleptomaniac.

Howes as a Hoodoo. Pat O. Howes, the lawyer, while in a meditative mood took occasion to remark this morning that while he enjoyed defending men, the defense of any particular man was an ordeal that he was sure to come to some bad end, either sooner or later. The statement was brought out by the fact of Howes having read in the papers that Leonard W. Haley was in the Dubuque, Ia., jail, charged with having committed the same crime as that of the man who was shot of which he has just closed. This man Haley was placed on trial to answer to the crime of burglary. He was an indigent circumstance and was a poor fellow. The state arrayed all of its talent against the man and at the same time brought up all of the members of the police force to swear him into the pen, but by some smooth work Howes convinced the jury that it was another of those cases of injured innocence and the man went free.

Women's Missionary Society. One of the most important religious gatherings to take place in Omaha this year will be the meeting of the Women's General Missionary society of the United Presbyterian church. The meetings are to be held in the first United Presbyterian church at Twenty-first and Emmet streets, May 9, 10 and 11. Delegates representing various societies throughout the United States will be present. The evening meetings will be of general interest, some of the brightest speakers of the denomination being invited. Entertainment is to be provided by the three churches of this city and South Omaha for over 100 delegates. In addition to this there will be quite a number of visitors.

County Road Paving. Deputy Surveyor Howes has completed the profile of the three county roads which it is proposed to pave with the proceeds of the $150,000 of road bonds voted last summer. The profile and the estimates show that upon the Military road there will be 16,000 cubic yards of gravel, and that upon the Dodge street extension and 19,000 on Center street.

LOOKING FOR A MURDERER

Pallister, the Big Sing Escapee, May Come to Omaha. BENNETT'S DEPUTIES ON THE TRAIL. Clara Allen Will be Dismissed-Owing to the Failure of the Jury to Agree-A Man Who Had a Fall.

There was an unusual display of activity around the sheriff's office this morning, all of which was brought on by a most peculiar combination of circumstances, which in the end may result in Sheriff Bennett securing a good sized sum of money. Yesterday morning a badly wanted criminal once again behind the bars, and still later on placing him in the electrocution chair.

The sheriff had just finished reading the account in THE BEE of the escape of Murderers Roehl and Pallister from the New York prison at Sing Sing when a messenger entered the office and handed over a telegram from one of the New York Italian officials. The message was short, but very weighty to the point, as it simply said: "Roehl and Pallister escaped. Reward. Arrest and hold for identification."

Nothing more was thought of the matter for the time being, as the sheriff supposed that the telegram was only the duplicate of hundreds of others, and that it was one of the principals cities in the country, and that something happened a few minutes later that would result in the sheriff receiving his bank account. Having occasion to visit the jail, he was passing through the large administrative rooms when Ed Lawson, a colored man, sent up from the police room, called him to one side and pointing to an article in THE BEE, which he held in his hand, said: "Do you see that?"

"Sheriff Bennett took the paper and looking at the item indicated discovered that it was an account of the two New York men. 'You see that,' answered the sheriff, 'but what of it?'

Lawson then unbuttoned himself, and said that he and Pallister had been together six years ago when they both resided in Cleveland, O. They worked together until about three years ago, when Lawson came to Omaha, and he followed him to this city. He had made his home with a Mrs. Finch, or French, who resided in Massillon, O.

Going into the details, Lawson said that he and Finch, or French, were together in Massillon in 1879, was convicted and sent up for two years, but after having served two years he made his escape by sawing out of the prison, and at once went over to Kentucky, where he was killed two years later by a gang of robbers. Lawson said that he had always expressed wonder that his brother-in-law should have gone to Kentucky, saying that if he had been in the city he would have settled in some of the way place in the west. Three years ago Lawson said that he was in Ohio and that while there he met a man named Lawson, who told him that he had removed to Omaha and that he intended to visit her soon. After some additional conversation Lawson told the sheriff that since his arrival in Omaha he had seen Mrs. Finch, or French, and that a few months ago she was residing on South Twentieth street, where she was running a small laundry.

Armed with this information the sheriff visited that portion of the street indicated by Lawson, and he found that the station was there until a few months ago, but that she had recently removed to Deadwood, in the Black Hills. He also learned that the woman had a somewhat peculiar character, and that while conversing with her he had associated she had said that she had a nephew in New York who intended to visit her and furnish her with money to start a respectable apartment house.

The fact of the telegram and also the information furnished by Lawson, led the sheriff to take considerable stock in the story told by Lawson. In fact, he takes so much stock in the story that he has had his deputies to visit the station, and the incoming trains for suspicious characters, all of whom will be arrested on sight. In the meantime he has telegraphed to New York authorities to obtain a description of the two escaped convicts.

WILL BE DISMISSED. County Attorney Kaley Will Nolle the Complaint Against Clara Allen. Clara Allen will soon be a free woman. After seventy-eight hours confinement the jury was unable to agree upon a verdict and the complaint against the woman's ability be dismissed. This action will end a controversy which has aroused an unusual degree of public interest, and as far as the courts are concerned whether the woman saw the fatal shot fired at Mayor Miller will always remain a mystery.

HE WAS A MUCH WANTED MAN

Miss Adams Captured a Bigger Thief Than She Knew. MILLER IS AN OLD TIME CRIMINAL. He Had Burglarized the Bellone Hotel and Had Clothing Enough to Start a Second-Hand Store-Chicken Thieves at Work-Police Paragraphs.

Subsequent developments have proven that when Miss Nettie Adams of South Omaha called a sneak thief Friday and turned him over to the police she made a better catch than she dreamed of, and one that any police officer might be proud of. It turns out that George Miller, the man whom she captured, is wanted for more serious offenses than stealing overcoats and umbrellas. There is evidence to prove that Miller is the individual who between the hours of 11 and 12 o'clock Thursday night stole a valise from E. M. Gibson of Clarks, Neb., a guest at the Bellone hotel, which contained notes to the amount of $42,000.

Whatly street, Miller's saloon, corner of Fifteenth and Capitol avenue, says Miller when he entered the liquor dispensary and heard him ask what hotel that was across the street, saying that he was somewhat under the influence of liquor and in search of a place to stop. On being told, he left for the hotel but returned in half an hour or so, and with the valise in his hand, and a valise. He called for a drink and after taking it pulled a soft light hat from under his coat and pushed it over to the bartender, who remarks that he could keep it for the liquor.

After leaving this resort Mr. Miller took a South Omaha car and on arriving in the city went to the White building, 301 N. Street, where he appears to have taken two habers, Fred Harlow and A. Hurley, who were with him at the time he was arrested. Here he went into the kitchen, and saying that he had mislaid his key to his pocket (presumably the one found in the valise) he ripped the sides open with a safety knife, and drawing out the papers he is reported to have consigned them to the fire in the range, but there is some doubt as to whether the notes are still in existence and are kept concealed.

Detective Dempsey and Savage went down to the Magic City yesterday and found a lot of the property stolen at Miller's raid on the hotel, guests. A dark overcoat belonging to F. D. Weber, a small alligator grip owned by Thomas E. Barrow, superintendent of the United Depot company at St. Louis, who was here to look up the Omaha record of one Charles Thumard, once accused of robbing the Hancock branch of the Chicago Hicks of the Bellone, and one soft hat belonging to an employee were found in the room at South Omaha.

Miller, who used to have a pal now doing time in the pen in Illinois, has quite a record according to the police. He is the man who played the crazy act when arrested about a month ago by the police, and who was so violent that it was thought advisable to let him be examined by the city physician, who pronounced his brain in proper working order. He was charged with insufficient evidence of crookedness against him and was discharged. Some time prior to that he had been taken in charge by Officer Douhaue and sent to the station, where, on less than seven pairs of pants, pilfered from South Omaha, three vests and two coats were found on his person, for the theft of which he was sentenced by Judge Herka to thirty days on the hill.

Police Paragraphs. In police court William H. Stephens of 3801 Boyd street was charged yesterday with the promiscuous discharge of firearms around his premises. Judge Herka will therefore hold an interview with him.

Robert Strom, who lives at 1022 Harney street, reported to the police last night that a room in his residence had been rented by a stranger during the afternoon and that later on it was discovered that a watch, revolver and several other trinkets were missing.

E. O. Bradley, 421 North Twenty-ninth street, reported the loss by theft of a dozen Plymouth Rock chickens valued at $50 last night. One of his neighbors also reported the loss of several sets of harness.

Magie City Gossip. Mrs. Dunbar of Kalamazoo, Mich., is visiting her sister, Mrs. D. S. Pinney. A J. C. Frank of the Packers National bank has gone to Chicago to attend to business. The deal club will close its series of social parties for the season with a ball next Thursday evening at Knights of Pythias.

HE WAS A MUCH WANTED MAN

Miller is an old time criminal. He had burglarized the Bellone hotel and had clothing enough to start a second-hand store. Chicken thieves at work. Police paragraphs.

Subsequent developments have proven that when Miss Nettie Adams of South Omaha called a sneak thief Friday and turned him over to the police she made a better catch than she dreamed of, and one that any police officer might be proud of. It turns out that George Miller, the man whom she captured, is wanted for more serious offenses than stealing overcoats and umbrellas.

Whatly street, Miller's saloon, corner of Fifteenth and Capitol avenue, says Miller when he entered the liquor dispensary and heard him ask what hotel that was across the street, saying that he was somewhat under the influence of liquor and in search of a place to stop.

After leaving this resort Mr. Miller took a South Omaha car and on arriving in the city went to the White building, 301 N. Street, where he appears to have taken two habers, Fred Harlow and A. Hurley, who were with him at the time he was arrested.

Detective Dempsey and Savage went down to the Magic City yesterday and found a lot of the property stolen at Miller's raid on the hotel, guests. A dark overcoat belonging to F. D. Weber, a small alligator grip owned by Thomas E. Barrow, superintendent of the United Depot company at St. Louis, who was here to look up the Omaha record of one Charles Thumard, once accused of robbing the Hancock branch of the Chicago Hicks of the Bellone, and one soft hat belonging to an employee were found in the room at South Omaha.

Miller, who used to have a pal now doing time in the pen in Illinois, has quite a record according to the police. He is the man who played the crazy act when arrested about a month ago by the police, and who was so violent that it was thought advisable to let him be examined by the city physician, who pronounced his brain in proper working order.

E. O. Bradley, 421 North Twenty-ninth street, reported the loss by theft of a dozen Plymouth Rock chickens valued at $50 last night. One of his neighbors also reported the loss of several sets of harness.

Magie City Gossip. Mrs. Dunbar of Kalamazoo, Mich., is visiting her sister, Mrs. D. S. Pinney. A J. C. Frank of the Packers National bank has gone to Chicago to attend to business.

Magie City Gossip. Mrs. Dunbar of Kalamazoo, Mich., is visiting her sister, Mrs. D. S. Pinney. A J. C. Frank of the Packers National bank has gone to Chicago to attend to business.

Magie City Gossip. Mrs. Dunbar of Kalamazoo, Mich., is visiting her sister, Mrs. D. S. Pinney. A J. C. Frank of the Packers National bank has gone to Chicago to attend to business.

HE WAS A MUCH WANTED MAN

Miller is an old time criminal. He had burglarized the Bellone hotel and had clothing enough to start a second-hand store. Chicken thieves at work. Police paragraphs.

Subsequent developments have proven that when Miss Nettie Adams of South Omaha called a sneak thief Friday and turned him over to the police she made a better catch than she dreamed of, and one that any police officer might be proud of.

Whatly street, Miller's saloon, corner of Fifteenth and Capitol avenue, says Miller when he entered the liquor dispensary and heard him ask what hotel that was across the street, saying that he was somewhat under the influence of liquor and in search of a place to stop.

After leaving this resort Mr. Miller took a South Omaha car and on arriving in the city went to the White building, 301 N. Street, where he appears to have taken two habers, Fred Harlow and A. Hurley, who were with him at the time he was arrested.

Detective Dempsey and Savage went down to the Magic City yesterday and found a lot of the property stolen at Miller's raid on the hotel, guests. A dark overcoat belonging to F. D. Weber, a small alligator grip owned by Thomas E. Barrow, superintendent of the United Depot company at St. Louis, who was here to look up the Omaha record of one Charles Thumard, once accused of robbing the Hancock branch of the Chicago Hicks of the Bellone, and one soft hat belonging to an employee were found in the room at South Omaha.

Miller, who used to have a pal now doing time in the pen in Illinois, has quite a record according to the police. He is the man who played the crazy act when arrested about a month ago by the police, and who was so violent that it was thought advisable to let him be examined by the city physician, who pronounced his brain in proper working order.

E. O. Bradley, 421 North Twenty-ninth street, reported the loss by theft of a dozen Plymouth Rock chickens valued at $50 last night. One of his neighbors also reported the loss of several sets of harness.

Magie City Gossip. Mrs. Dunbar of Kalamazoo, Mich., is visiting her sister, Mrs. D. S. Pinney. A J. C. Frank of the Packers National bank has gone to Chicago to attend to business.

Magie City Gossip. Mrs. Dunbar of Kalamazoo, Mich., is visiting her sister, Mrs. D. S. Pinney. A J. C. Frank of the Packers National bank has gone to Chicago to attend to business.

Magie City Gossip. Mrs. Dunbar of Kalamazoo, Mich., is visiting her sister, Mrs. D. S. Pinney. A J. C. Frank of the Packers National bank has gone to Chicago to attend to business.

HE WAS A MUCH WANTED MAN

Miller is an old time criminal. He had burglarized the Bellone hotel and had clothing enough to start a second-hand store. Chicken thieves at work. Police paragraphs.

Subsequent developments have proven that when Miss Nettie Adams of South Omaha called a sneak thief Friday and turned him over to the police she made a better catch than she dreamed of, and one that any police officer might be proud of.

Whatly street, Miller's saloon, corner of Fifteenth and Capitol avenue, says Miller when he entered the liquor dispensary and heard him ask what hotel that was across the street, saying that he was somewhat under the influence of liquor and in search of a place to stop.

After leaving this resort Mr. Miller took a South Omaha car and on arriving in the city went to the White building, 301 N. Street, where he appears to have taken two habers, Fred Harlow and A. Hurley, who were with him at the time he was arrested.

Detective Dempsey and Savage went down to the Magic City yesterday and found a lot of the property stolen at Miller's raid on the hotel, guests. A dark overcoat belonging to F. D. Weber, a small alligator grip owned by Thomas E. Barrow, superintendent of the United Depot company at St. Louis, who was here to look up the Omaha record of one Charles Thumard, once accused of robbing the Hancock branch of the Chicago Hicks of the Bellone, and one soft hat belonging to an employee were found in the room at South Omaha.

Miller, who used to have a pal now doing time in the pen in Illinois, has quite a record according to the police. He is the man who played the crazy act when arrested about a month ago by the police, and who was so violent that it was thought advisable to let him be examined by the city physician, who pronounced his brain in proper working order.

E. O. Bradley, 421 North Twenty-ninth street, reported the loss by theft of a dozen Plymouth Rock chickens valued at $50 last night. One of his neighbors also reported the loss of several sets of harness.

Magie City Gossip. Mrs. Dunbar of Kalamazoo, Mich., is visiting her sister, Mrs. D. S. Pinney. A J. C. Frank of the Packers National bank has gone to Chicago to attend to business.

Magie City Gossip. Mrs. Dunbar of Kalamazoo, Mich., is visiting her sister, Mrs. D. S. Pinney. A J. C. Frank of the Packers National bank has gone to Chicago to attend to business.

Magie City Gossip. Mrs. Dunbar of Kalamazoo, Mich., is visiting her sister, Mrs. D. S. Pinney. A J. C. Frank of the Packers National bank has gone to Chicago to attend to business.

HE WAS A MUCH WANTED MAN

Miller is an old time criminal. He had burglarized the Bellone hotel and had clothing enough to start a second-hand store. Chicken thieves at work. Police paragraphs.

Subsequent developments have proven that when Miss Nettie Adams of South Omaha called a sneak thief Friday and turned him over to the police she made a better catch than she dreamed of, and one that any police officer might be proud of.

Whatly street, Miller's saloon, corner of Fifteenth and Capitol avenue, says Miller when he entered the liquor dispensary and heard him ask what hotel that was across the street, saying that he was somewhat under the influence of liquor and in search of a place to stop.

After leaving this resort Mr. Miller took a South Omaha car and on arriving in the city went to the White building, 301 N. Street, where he appears to have taken two habers, Fred Harlow and A. Hurley, who were with him at the time he was arrested.

Detective Dempsey and Savage went down to the Magic City yesterday and found a lot of the property stolen at Miller's raid on the hotel, guests. A dark overcoat belonging to F. D. Weber, a small alligator grip owned by Thomas E. Barrow, superintendent of the United Depot company at St. Louis, who was here to look up the Omaha record of one Charles Thumard, once accused of robbing the Hancock branch of the Chicago Hicks of the Bellone, and one soft hat belonging to an employee were found in the room at South Omaha.

Miller, who used to have a pal now doing time in the pen in Illinois, has quite a record according to the police. He is the man who played the crazy act when arrested about a month ago by the police, and who was so violent that it was thought advisable to let him be examined by the city physician, who pronounced his brain in proper working order.

E. O. Bradley, 421 North Twenty-ninth street, reported the loss by theft of a dozen Plymouth Rock chickens valued at $50 last night. One of his neighbors also reported the loss of several sets of harness.

Magie City Gossip. Mrs. Dunbar of Kalamazoo, Mich., is visiting her sister, Mrs. D. S. Pinney. A J. C. Frank of the Packers National bank has gone to Chicago to attend to business.

Magie City Gossip. Mrs. Dunbar of Kalamazoo, Mich., is visiting her sister, Mrs. D. S. Pinney. A J. C. Frank of the Packers National bank has gone to Chicago to attend to business.

Magie City Gossip. Mrs. Dunbar of Kalamazoo, Mich., is visiting her sister, Mrs. D. S. Pinney. A J. C. Frank of the Packers National bank has gone to Chicago to attend to business.

HE WAS A MUCH WANTED MAN

Miller is an old time criminal. He had burglarized the Bellone hotel and had clothing enough to start a second-hand store. Chicken thieves at work. Police paragraphs.

Subsequent developments have proven that when Miss Nettie Adams of South Omaha called a sneak thief Friday and turned him over to the police she made a better catch than she dreamed of, and one that any police officer might be proud of.

Whatly street, Miller's saloon, corner of Fifteenth and Capitol avenue, says Miller when he entered the liquor dispensary and heard him ask what hotel that was across the street, saying that he was somewhat under the influence of liquor and in search of a place to stop.

After leaving this resort Mr. Miller took a South Omaha car and on arriving in the city went to the White building, 301 N. Street, where he appears to have taken two habers, Fred Harlow and A. Hurley, who were with him at the time he was arrested.

Detective Dempsey and Savage went down to the Magic City yesterday and found a lot of the property stolen at Miller's raid on the hotel, guests. A dark overcoat belonging to F. D. Weber, a small alligator grip owned by Thomas E. Barrow, superintendent of the United Depot company at St. Louis, who was here to look up the Omaha record of one Charles Thumard, once accused of robbing the Hancock branch of the Chicago Hicks of the Bellone, and one soft hat belonging to an employee were found in the room at South Omaha.

Miller, who used to have a pal now doing time in the pen in Illinois, has quite a record according to the police. He is the man who played the crazy act when arrested about a month ago by the police, and who was so violent that it was thought advisable to let him be examined by the city physician, who pronounced his brain in proper working order.

E. O. Bradley, 421 North Twenty-ninth street, reported the loss by theft of a dozen Plymouth Rock chickens valued at $50 last night. One of his neighbors also reported the loss of several sets of harness.

Magie City Gossip. Mrs. Dunbar of Kalamazoo, Mich., is visiting her sister, Mrs. D. S. Pinney. A J. C. Frank of the Packers National bank has gone to Chicago to attend to business.

Magie City Gossip. Mrs. Dunbar of Kalamazoo, Mich., is visiting her sister, Mrs. D. S. Pinney. A J. C. Frank of the Packers National bank has gone to Chicago to attend to business.

Magie City Gossip. Mrs. Dunbar of Kalamazoo, Mich., is visiting her sister, Mrs. D. S. Pinney. A J. C. Frank of the Packers National bank has gone to Chicago to attend to business.

Magie City Gossip. Mrs. Dunbar of Kalamazoo, Mich., is visiting her sister, Mrs. D. S. Pinney. A J. C. Frank of the Packers National bank has gone to Chicago to attend to business.

Magie City Gossip. Mrs. Dunbar of Kalamazoo, Mich., is visiting her sister, Mrs. D. S. Pinney. A J. C. Frank of the Packers National bank has gone to Chicago to attend to business.

Magie City Gossip. Mrs. Dunbar of Kalamazoo, Mich., is visiting her sister, Mrs. D. S. Pinney. A J. C. Frank of the Packers National bank has gone to Chicago to attend to business.

Magie City Gossip. Mrs. Dunbar of Kalamazoo, Mich., is visiting her sister, Mrs. D. S. Pinney. A J. C. Frank of the Packers National bank has gone to Chicago to attend to business.

Magie City Gossip. Mrs. Dunbar of Kalamazoo, Mich., is visiting her sister, Mrs. D. S. Pinney. A J. C. Frank of the Packers National bank has gone to Chicago to attend to business.

Magie City Gossip. Mrs. Dunbar of Kalamazoo, Mich., is visiting her sister, Mrs. D. S. Pinney. A J. C. Frank of the Packers National bank has gone to Chicago to attend to business.

Magie City Gossip. Mrs. Dunbar of Kalamazoo, Mich., is visiting her sister, Mrs. D. S. Pinney. A J. C. Frank of the Packers National bank has gone to Chicago to attend to business.

Magie City Gossip. Mrs. Dunbar of Kalamazoo, Mich., is visiting her sister, Mrs. D. S. Pinney. A J. C. Frank of the Packers National bank has gone to Chicago to attend to business.

Magie City Gossip. Mrs. Dunbar of Kalamazoo, Mich., is visiting her sister, Mrs. D. S. Pinney. A J. C. Frank of the Packers National bank has gone to Chicago to attend to business.

Magie City Gossip. Mrs. Dunbar of Kalamazoo, Mich., is visiting her sister, Mrs. D. S. Pinney. A J. C. Frank of the Packers National bank has gone to Chicago to attend to business.

Magie City Gossip. Mrs. Dunbar of Kalamazoo, Mich., is visiting her sister, Mrs. D. S. Pinney. A J. C. Frank of the Packers National bank has gone to Chicago to attend to business.

Magie City Gossip. Mrs. Dunbar of Kalamazoo, Mich., is visiting her sister, Mrs. D. S. Pinney. A J. C. Frank of the Packers National bank has gone to Chicago to attend to business.

Magie City Gossip. Mrs. Dunbar of Kalamazoo, Mich., is visiting her sister, Mrs. D. S. Pinney. A J. C. Frank of the Packers National bank has gone to Chicago to attend to business.

Magie City Gossip. Mrs. Dunbar of Kalamazoo, Mich., is visiting her sister, Mrs. D. S. Pinney. A J. C. Frank of the Packers National bank has gone to Chicago to attend to business.

Magie City Gossip. Mrs. Dunbar of Kalamazoo, Mich., is visiting her sister, Mrs. D. S. Pinney. A J. C. Frank of the Packers National bank has gone to Chicago to attend to business.

Magie City Gossip. Mrs. Dunbar of Kalamazoo, Mich., is visiting her sister, Mrs. D. S. Pinney. A J. C. Frank of the Packers National bank has gone to Chicago to attend to business.

Magie City Gossip. Mrs. Dunbar of Kalamazoo, Mich., is visiting her sister, Mrs. D. S. Pinney. A J. C. Frank of the Packers National bank has gone to Chicago to attend to business.

Magie City Gossip. Mrs. Dunbar of Kalamazoo, Mich., is visiting her sister, Mrs. D. S. Pinney. A J. C. Frank of the Packers National bank has gone to Chicago to attend to business.

Magie City Gossip. Mrs. Dunbar of Kalamazoo, Mich., is visiting her sister, Mrs. D. S. Pinney. A J. C. Frank of the Packers National bank has gone to Chicago to attend to business.

Magie City Gossip. Mrs. Dunbar of Kalamazoo, Mich., is visiting her sister, Mrs. D. S. Pinney. A J. C. Frank of the Packers National bank has gone to Chicago to attend to business.

Magie City Gossip. Mrs. Dunbar of Kalamazoo, Mich., is visiting her sister, Mrs. D. S. Pinney. A J. C. Frank of the Packers National bank has gone to Chicago to attend to business.

Magie City Gossip. Mrs. Dunbar of Kalamazoo, Mich., is visiting her sister, Mrs. D. S. Pinney. A J. C. Frank of the Packers National bank has gone to Chicago to attend to business.

Magie City Gossip. Mrs. Dunbar of Kalamazoo, Mich., is visiting her sister, Mrs. D. S. Pinney. A J. C. Frank of the Packers National bank has gone to Chicago to attend to business.

Magie City Gossip. Mrs. Dunbar of Kalamazoo, Mich., is visiting her sister, Mrs. D. S. Pinney. A J. C. Frank of the Packers National bank has gone to Chicago to attend to business.

Magie City Gossip. Mrs. Dunbar of Kalamazoo, Mich., is visiting her sister, Mrs. D. S. Pinney. A J. C. Frank of the Packers National bank has gone to Chicago to attend to business.

Magie City Gossip. Mrs. Dunbar of Kalamazoo, Mich., is visiting her sister, Mrs. D. S. Pinney. A J. C. Frank of the Packers National bank has gone to Chicago to attend to business.