OMAHA LIVE STOCK MARKET

Month and Week Start Out with Light Receipts of All Kinds.

SPECULATIVE DEMAND INDIFFERENT

Nothing New Developed in the Feeder Trade-Yard Traders Took the Fresh Receipts at Full Last Week's Prices.

MONDAY, May 1. The month and week start out with light re ceipts of all kinds of stock. There were but 75 cars of cattle received whereas dealers had been looking for fully twice that many. Although one dressed beef house did most of the buying and the speculative demand was decidcelly indifferent on account of the light reculpts and favorable eastern reports, the marwas active and strong from start to finish. On some cattle sellers get a 10c advance, but the general market was not more than a shade bigher than the close of last week. Common light to choice heavy cattle sold at from $4.15 to $5.17\s, with the fair to good 1.000 to 1.250-16, steers very largely at from $4.40 to $4.80. Trade was brisk and practically over some time before neon.

The cow market was active, with prices generally a shade firmer. Good to choice fat cows and helfers sold at from $3.50 to $4, with fair to good, lutchers stock at $3 to $3.50 and canners at $2.15 to $2.50. Calves were about steady at from $3.50 to $4, with fair to good. Butchers shock at $3 to $3.50 and canners at $2.15 to $2.50. Calves were about steady at from $3.50 to $5 for common to good stock. Rulis were in fair demand at quotably unchanged prices from $2.50 to $4.

Nothing new developed in the feeder trade. Yard traders took the fresh receipts at full last week's prices, pretty good westerns selling at $3.80 to $3.90, but there was scarcely may buying by the country. The market is very quiet, but quotably steady. Representative sales: start to finish On some cattle sellers

The butter market remains in about the same old notch. The receipts are light and the best grades in good demand. Some new grass butter was snapped up at 27c.

The market on eggs is without feature, the price remaining unchanged.

The market on live poultry is about steady with Saturday and 11c about the outside on the best. Even that price was hard to get except from the most particular trade. A good many buyers were prepared to pay about 10c and it was hard work to get them to raise that price. Omaha Produce Market.

There were a few fresh cars of potatoes in and the market in pretty fair shape. Stocks appear to be moving quite freely.
Old onions are practically out of the market, only a few sacks of inferior stock remaining. The market is also bare of cauliflower. There were fresh arrivals of cabbage from Alabama and Florida. and Florida.

Over two full cars of strawberries were on their way to this market but failed to arrive owing to a washout on the railroad at Bismark, Ark. They will be turned over to St. Louis houses to sell. It is anticipated that the receipts will be light again on Tuesday. There were a few Tennessee berries of inferior quality on the market.

The feeling is very firm on bananas owing to the advance at New Orleans and other points of supply.

British Grain Trade Review.

London, May 1.—The Mark Lane Express in its weekly review of the British grain trade says that the crop prospects are not sufficiently discouraging to alarm the market. Great Depression and Excitement on the Exchange Yesterday. New YORK, May 1.—The day was one of great depression and considerable excitement at the Stock exchange. The bearish feeling was very spronounced at the start and found expression in repeated raids on the leading shares as the morning wore along. The drop in prices, which was quite severe, especially in the industrial group, was due to variou causes, prominent among them being the sudden and altogether unexpected announcement

Saturday decided on an issue of $2,500,000 additional preferred stock. The stocks will be offered to the shareholders at par, but whatever amount the lat-ter refuse to take will be absorbed by a syndicate which has underwritten the whole issue at par, out this will not prevent the common stock breaking to 49%, and the preferred from

The failure of the Bank of Australia and the suspension of an important house in Liverpool was said to have settled the London market, thinly margined.

After 1 o'clock money eased up and the undertone to speculation improved. An advance of \(^4\) to 2\(^4\) per cent eased under the leadership of the industrials and the excitement which ran high when the depression was at its height abated moderately. The market closed steady in tone with the raily in prices well maintained.

The Post, in its financial article, says: The financial situation, from the most unbiased point of view, is undoubtedly confused. It comprises serious elements of danger and clearly bespeaks a policy of caution. This may be conceded even while rating with the contempt they deserve, the bulk of the day's bear arguments. Those silly traders who are quaking over the Australian bank panic will do well to read the London papers and see the equanimity with which the colonial crisis is received in the country where it hits the hardest. But as it is, the financial wreck in Melbourne was anticipated in Lombard street months ago and was prepared for in the market. So, too, the remarkable local assignment, news of which startled Wall street Saturday afternoon. This embarrassment, an incident of at least a month's standing, has been privately known among the banks and has played its part as a factor in their late conservatism. Removing these two factors from the despondency of the day, it will be seen that the general situation is precisely what it was a week ago.

In rather gloomy background, meantime, eral situation is precisely ago.

Ib rather gloomy background, meantime, stands the market for commercial paper. What is to come from this paralysis of bank accommodation, the shrewdest observer finds it hard to guess. That those responsible for the cause will suffer most severely from its effect, is the single certainty in the outlook.

MAY SETTLE DIFFERENCES. Prospect that Western Lines Will Yet Agree on World's Fair Rates.

The rate controversy between the Santa Fe and the Rio Grande lines seems to be in a fair way to be amicably adjusted. A better feeling prevailed in railroad circles yesterday and it was a general impression that a settlement would be reached during the week.

Mr. Francis of the Burlington Francis of the Burlington, an of the Rio Grande in the war rates now going on, said regard-the situation: "Indications point ing the situation: "Indications point to an amicable adjustment of present diffi-culties between the Colorado lines. As to the merits of the fight between the Rio Grande and Midland I have nothing to say, except that the former road desired to make the fight extend to transmissouri territory, while the Midland looked at it from a local standpoint purely."

"Who put in the rate of $20 round trip to the river! the river?"

"Your humble servant," replied Mr. Francis promptly, "If was done as a matter of self-preservation what is the only reason for its being authorized. However, my information from Denyer is of an assuring kind and I think unless I am greatly mistaken, that the old rates will be restored before the end of the week."

before the end of the week." Bissell Case Withdrawn. The Interstate Commerce commission will not be troubled, when it sits in Omaha, with one case at least, the case of Bissell against all the roads in the Transcontinental association and their easiern connections, alleging discrimination on coal oil in ear load lots and tanks from the Pennsylvania coal fields to the Pacific coast, having been withdrawn at the request of the complainant. Bissell is a a well known oil degler in San Francisco, and brought this case against the railroads but really to test the power of the Standard Oil company, for he alleges in his complaint will be placed at the head of the department. His friends in Omaha, who remember him as the assistant general ticket agent of the Union Pacific, will be highly gratified at his recent promotion, for the duties of which position his rare accomplishments so eminently fit him. Mr. E. Dickinson, general manager of the Union Pacific, returned yesterday from Chicago, but went west by special at noon on a tour of the system which he has not been over in two months. He was accompanied by J. H. McConnell, superintendent of machin-ery; E. Buckingham, superintendent of car service; S. H. Korty, superintendent of tele-graph, and P. J. Nichols, superintendent Nebraska division. Yesterday an inspection of the Nebraska division was made and the Colorado division tomorrow; from there Mr. Dickinson will probably go west.

TO BANISH THE SPRINGFIELD. Proposition to Adopt a New Rifle for Army

Use-Military Notes. Is the United States army going to continue firing bullets of 45-caliber into the ranks of the enemy, or will the size of the death dealing missiles be reduced to 30-caliber! That is the question that is soon to command the attention of a distinguished board of military men, of which Colonel J. C. Bates, now commanding officer at Fort Omaha, is a member. In August, 1892, a board of military officers, appointed for the purpose of examining into the merits of the various kinds of army rifles, met at Springfield, Mass., and after some investigation agreed to recommend to congress the adoption of the Krag-Jorgensen rifle, a foreign gun that has met with a good deal of favor abroad.

The recommendation created a whirl of opposition from American manufacturers and particularly from these interested in the manufactory of the Springfield rifles that have for so many years been the regulation gun in the United States army, Congress appropriated $400,000 for the purpose of manufacturing the Krag-Jorgensen gun, but the protests of the Springfield people became so loud and so vigorous that it was decided at the last session to have the board called together again and give the American manufacturers another hearing before going ahead with the manufacture of the Krag-Jorgensen guns.

The personnel of the board has been considerably changed on account of the fact that some of the original members could not meet at Springfield at the appointed time and on account of the further fact that some of the American manufacturers claimed that some of the members first appointed were predjudiced against domestic manufactories of small arms.

The board as reorganized will consist of the following officers: Colonel Otis, Colonel Bates, Lieutenant-Colonel R. H. Hall, Major Freeman, Major Moore and Captain Blount. The board will meet in Springfield, Mass. the latter part of the present week to make further inquiry into the merits of all the guns presented and to review the recommendation of the former board. The Krag-Jorgensen gun is a magazine gun which takes six cartridges at a time, one in the barrel and five in the magazine. The cartridges are pressed into the barrel one at a time by a small spring as the empty ones are removed by the work of a lever at the side of the breech. The principal difference between the new gun and the Springfield rifle lies in the fact that the latter is a 45caliber gun while the Krag-Jorgensen gun fires a bullet of only 30-caliber. The cartridge of the new gun is long and bottlenecked, giving more powder to the proportionate weight of the ball than the Springfield gun. As a result it is said that the Krag-Jorgensen gun fires a bullet with almost double the velocity that is given by the Springfield gun. It will also send a bullet on a dead level a distance of 500 yards, making it unnecessary for marksmen to raise their sights until they begin to fire at longer range than the above named distance, whereas in using the Springfield rifle the soldiers begin to raise their sights after they pass beyond 100 yards. In other words, the point blank aim of the Krag-Jorgensen gun is said to be good at any distance below 500 yards, while it is only good with the Springfield gun at 100 yards or below that distance. The speed of a bullet from a Springfield rifle is said to be about 1,260 feet per second, while the Jorgensen gun splits the air at the rate of nearly 2,000 feet per second.

There is a great deal of interest among army men on this question. The soldiers have a great deal of veneration for the good, old Springfield rifle and some of them feel like "getting up in arms" when anybody talks about a change, but it is generally be lieved that if it can be conclusively proven that the Krag-Jorgensen gun really possesses all the advantages that are claimed for it the old Springfield rifle will have to take a Major W. S. Worth is now commanding officer at Fort Omalia and will probably remain in that position for several months. Colonel Bates will depart this evening for Massachusetts to meet with the gun board and will be gone for two months at least. As Lieutenant Colonel Parke is also absent on duty connected with the recruiting service Major Worth, being the next in rank, takes command of the garrison.

Major Paddock was about the department of the Platte headquarters today in company with Colonel Hamilton, who has but recently arrived from the Department of Columbia, exchanging places with Major Bacon as inspector of this department. Major Bacon is now located at Vancouver.

CONNELL'S RESPONSE TO HOWE.

What the City Attorney Thinks of John D. Howe's Demand for His Removal. City Attorney Connell, in discussing the demand of John D. Howe that the mayor should "fire him" by reason of his position regarding the union depot controversy, among other things, said: "Yes, I have read Howe's card demanding my removal, and I feel very badly about it. I feel a good deal tike the fellow out west who was butted in the pit of the stomach by a mountain ram. He was badly hurt and a physician was sent for. The doctor soon arrived and asked the poor fellow how he felt. He replied: 'I am ready for death, but I don't like to die this way. I wouldn't mind being kicked to death by a thoroughbred horse or gored to death by a Durham bull, but I can't stand the idea of being butted into eternity by a mountain ram'. If Howe had only authorized in writing Judge Woolworth or General Cowin to make this demand on or General Cowin to make this demand on the mayor I could stand it a little better. Like the fellow out west, I could then die easier. I am glad to know, how-ever, that these two distinguished attorneys have been authorized in writing by Mr. Howe to appear in the Stuht case as the legal representatives of the Milwaukee and Rock Island railroads, but one thing I don't quite understand, and that is why Howe keeps this written authority in his own office to show to any citizen who may own office to show to any citizen who may doubt his word concerning its existence. I would suppose Messrs. Woolworth and Cowin would suppose Messis, workertains cown would need it for their own protection. But why should such authority, in a case affecting the vital welfare of Omaha, be necessary or required from John D. Howe! Upon what meat doth this our Casar feed that he hath grown so recent! Messis Woodworth and Cowin evigreat? Messrs. Woolworth and Cowin evidently have not realized up to this time the situation they are in. The last card of Mr. Howe intimates what may happen to them under certain circumstances. He says: 'I Mr. O. P. McCarty, general passenger agent of the Baltimore & Ohio Southwestern railway, has been promoted to the position of acting general passenger agent of the great Baltimore & Ohio system. It is safe to assume that in due time Mr. McCarty know the cause of their sudder departure, and they will then realize also as I do how the fellow out west felt when he was butted in the pit of the stomach by a mountain ram."

Henry Wiley, a hardware merchant of York, Neb., formerly a business man of Omaha, was in the city yesterday. In speaking of his adopted town he said: "We, in common with numerous other towns in the state, are talking up a water power. A number of meetings have been held and a rough survey made. Two towns, York and Aurora, will be interested in the enterprise. The proposed plan is to go to the source of a small stream which runs through both towns, cut through the water shed that divides it from the Platte, a distance of four miles. miles, and divert a portion of the water in that river to the stream. Ditches will then be constructed as needed, and each town in turn will use the water.

"York has only about 5,000 people, but it i one of the best towns in the state. It is the county seat and has a record among your wholesale merchants as one of the best towns in which to make collections. We have there a large foundry which is doing a have there a large foundry which is doing a big business and has quite a reputation over the west. Among other things, it makes considerable crushing machinery for the mining regions. Another industry which was started this spring is a fence factory. Fences are made from hardwood slats obtained from Arkansas or Texas, and woven with wire. Two machines are in operation and probable 600 rods of are in operation and probably 601 rods of fence are turned out per day, yet the demand is greater than the supply. All kinds of business are well represented and we are getting on fully as well as any place I know of.
