City Council Gets After Them with a Sharp Stick.

RAILROADS MUST REPAIR THE VIADUCTS

Council Bluffs Motor Cars Will Have to Pay for Their Privileges City Attorney Instructed to Begin

Action.

The viaduct question was considered by the council last night. The city attorney reported that the council had authority to compel the railway companies to construct the viaducts on Fifteenth and Sixteenth streets and to repair the present viaducts. The matter was referred to the attorney for further action. The validity of the ordinance will be tested by requiring the railroad companies to repair the Tenth and Eleventh street viaduets.

President S. H. H. Clark of the Union Pacific presented a communication on the viaduct question. Acknowledging the receipt of the action of the council ordering the construction of viaducts on l'ifteenth and Sixteenth streets, Mr. Clark called attention to the fact that the Rock Island and the Milwaukee owned and operated tracks across Sixteenth street, and should be required to bear their proportionate share of the expense of constructing any viaduet across that street.

Mr. Clark further stated that he considered the contract made with the Union Pacific and H. & M. by the city in February. 1886, under which the present Sixteenth street viaduct was constructed, still in force, and that there was no necessity at the present time for the construction of any further or any other viaduct on Sixteenth street, and that the Union Pacific could not be legally called upon to assist in the construction of any such new viaduct.

Thought it Was Good Enough.

Further he urged that the Sixteenth street viaduct was constructed at the expense of the Union Pacific and B. & M. railway companies, and that the structure was still legal and adequate to all necessi-ties of the traveling public. The Union Pacific company still held an interest in the viaduct and its maintenance, and the company could and must necessarily oppose any attempt upon the part of the city of Omaha to destroy or remove the viaduct as it now

The communication was referred to the judiciary committee and the city attorney The mayor vetoed a resolution ordering the placing of a drinking fountain at Tenth and Douglas streets, asserting that the location was not adapted for a fountain owing to the demands of traffic. Mr. Eisasser thought the resolution was vetoed because he had intreduced it. Mr. Howell thought the foun-tain should be on the corner, Mr. Specht wanted the fountains in prominent places and not on side streets. Mr. Munro wanted the fountain on Tenth street, north of Douglas so that traffic on Douglas would not be impeded. Nearly every member of the council used the veto for the purpose of warming up his oratorical machinery and it finally came to a vote with the result that the veto was sustained. Then a resolution was adopted locating the fountain on Tenth street, forty feet north of Douglas.

The mayor's veto of a resolution locating a drinking fountain at Twenty-fourth and Lake streets was sustained.

May Tax the Cars. City Attorney Connell reported that, in his opinion, the city had authority to tax the cars of the Omaha and Council Bluffs motor line operated in Omaha. Mr. Howell wanted all of the street cars doing business in Omaha taxed.

Mr. Munro insisted that the bridge company was charging double toils and paid no tax in Omaha. He wanted them taxed. The fight between the old street commis sioner and the reorganized Board of Public Works came up in a report of the committee on judiciary. The ordinance repealing the ordinance by which Mr Winspear's office was created was placed on file, as was also the ordinance designating the duties of the new officers under the reorganized street commissioner's department of the Board of

By resolution of Mr. Saunders the clerk was instructed to notify the Pullman Palace Car company, the telegraph companies and the several railroad companies owning lands, lots and other property within the city, to appear before the council on May 12 to show cause, if any there be, why the property of these companies should not be placed upon the assessment roll for taxation for mu nicipal purposes.

The city trensurer was instructed to collect the taxes assessed on the Belt Line Railroad company within the city as as-sessed in the name of the Belt Line company, and not to collect or receive the pro rata pro-portion which may be charged against the Missouri Pacific company by reason of the last named company having returned the same to the State Board of Equalization for the purpose of taxation.

Major Wheeler presented a resolution in structing the comptroller to include in the appropriation ordinance, to be paid from the judgment fund, the claims of Louisa Van Cott for $756.25; Catherine M. Tussler, $603.50, and the Howell Lumber company $8,625. The matter was discussed for an hour and finally referred to the city at-Should Serve All Atike.

Mr. Saunders stated that the Omaha & Council Bluffs Street Railway company could not be taxed unless all street railway could not be taxed unless all street ranges, cars were taxed alike. He claimed that the bridge company had no right to the use of the streets of Omaha except by sufferance of the council. He was in favor of bringing the company to time by refusing it the of the streets unless proper concessions were made. The city attorney's opinion was received and he was instructed to present an ordinance making the required tax.

Elka' Henefit at Boyd's.

The sixth annual benefit entertainment for the charity fund of Omaha lodge No. 39. Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks. was given at Boyd's new theater last evening before a large audience. The program was an attractive one, delighting all present. First and foremost there was clever Patti Rosa, assisted by her company, in acts from her plays, "Miss Dixie" and "Douly Varden," her German specialty with Mr. Caw-thorn in the latter is a gem of character comedy. Then Mr. Edwin Latell came up from the Bijou and charmed his hearers with musical manipulations done in the funniest and cleverest manner. Mr. Edgar Weir recited George R. Sims' "The Level Crossing" with power, and that most comical little comedian, Mr. Arthur Dunn, playing in a "Pair of Kids" at the Farnam, exhausted his stock of witty medleys and danced sand jigs to the delight of the audience, which encored him again and again. During the evening a portrait of Mr. Charles Vivian, the father of the Elks, was presented to No. 30 and accepted in behalf o Brother Larkin, who gave an carnest little speech emphasizing the broad benevo-lence that was the basal bond uniting the brethren. The Eiks' sixth annual benefit was an unqualified success.

GETTING ALL IN SHIP SHAPE

Thousands of Workmen Putting the Finishing Touches on the Fair.

BELATED EXHIBITS BEING PUT IN SHAPE

That Vexations Piano Question Again

Source of Worry to the Management The Dake of Veragua and His Party Banqueted.

CHICAGO, Ill., May 2.-Work on the un finished portion of the World's fair was resumed this morning, and thousands of men were soon busy putting the finishing touches on the great show, while other thousands were at work putting exhibits in place. Teams loaded with wonders from the four quarters of the earth passed here and there among the buildings, and locomotives with loaded trains purfed and steamed through the grounds. In the midst of all throngs of sightseers strolled through the grounds, mostly engaged in getting an idea of the architectural splendors of the exposition, which, so far as outward appearances go, were complete. This alone was more than could be accomplished in a single day. The immensity of the work grew on the spec tators as they moved from point to point and found the amount of exertion necessary merely to walk around the great structures. The mere sight of them does not afford a fair gauge of their size, because all are so large and nothing of ordinary dimensions is in sight to furnish a standard of measurement

That Vexatious Plane Question. There appears to be a decided clash of authority between the national commisners at the World's fair and the council administration. The vexing piano estion is the bone of contention and each of the members of these bodies claim to have jurisdiction in the matter and appear to be determined that the other shall withdraw. So far the council of adminis-tration seems to have the best of the wrangle. It is in favor of allowing Director of Music Thomas and Herr Paderewski to e a piano made by a nonexhibitor. Today at a concert given in the Music hail at the fair grounds such a plane was used in open violation of orders emanating from the na-tional commission and with the consent of the council of administration.

The question came up at the regular meeting of the national commission today. Commissioner Burton announced that notwith-standing the commission had ordered Director General Davis to cause all planos made by nonexhibitors to be removed from all the public buildings, there was still such an instrument in the Music hall. He further understood that the objectionable piano was to be used at a concert in a few hours. A committee was sent for Director General Davis to ascertain why he had not compiled with the order of the commission.

The director general replied that upon receipt of the instructions he had ordered the director of works to remove the objection-able pinnes. He had taken it for granted that the director of works had oneyed him. A commissioner called the attention of the director general to the fact that the objecpiano was still in the Music hall olonel Davis replied that if this was true edid not know it. Meantime the council of administration sent in its report. It said, in effect, that if nonexhibitors' pianes were excluded, it would cause a failure of the musical program in a large degree, and that the council of administration would formulate rules to govern the matter.

A heated, and, at times, aerimonious dis-cussion, lasting for an hour or more, followed. As a result Commissioner Burton of Kansas Tered a resolution declaring that the counil of administration had no jurisdiction in the piano question, as it had never been legally referred to that body.

The resolution was referred to the judi-ciary committee and the commission ad-While the commission and council of administration were wrangling over the probm the first concert given at the fair began

He thought that the memberspent the money going some place to look at new cells. No voucher was ever turned in for the amount. Mr. Dorgan could not ex-plain why, in December, 1889, the board should go on a junked to examine cells in other prisons with a view to putting cells in prisons, the walls of which are not yet com pleted, only knowing that the board thought ich a contract was necessary.

Hitching about uneasily in his chair Dorgan told how he made all of the bills payable to himself and receipted to himself. He did that because he did not know but that was the proper way to do business. As prison contractor he leased the convicts to himself at 50 cents per day, and charged the state $1 per day for each man employed. His Stone Contract,

The witness declared that there were three kinds of stone used in the con-struction. Then he was asked to give the names, but his memory once more went back on him. He did, however, remember that the stone came from Cedar Creek, day that Dorgan decided upon buying stone he was in Omaha, and went into the Burlington offices, where he met C. C. Alwood, the owner of the Cedar Creek quarry. After an introduction he and Atwood journeyed about town, looking at stone, and the next day went down at stone, and the next day went down to Cedar Creek, when a bargain was made to take stone at 35, 16 and 8 cents per 100 pounds for the stone. Not having been in the stone business, witness could not say whether those prices were high or low. None of the weights given by the railroad companies were avery verified. In Scottenber 1882. were ever verified. In September, 1822, 2.817 feet of dimension stone was shipped, the price of which was 16 cents per foot. This was on five cars. Dorgan did not com-pare the number of feet with the shipping oills and did not know that no five cars ever built would carry the load. To show that his memory was bad Dorgan testified that he could not remember of talk-ing with any person but Atwood about stone. He simply met hun and closed the deal for without ever asking for bids or getting any information regarding prices. Dorgan's Time Book.

Getting back for a moment to the question of convict labor Dorgan's time book was in-troduced showing that during much of the time while he was working the convicts on the cell house the state had been charged full time, whether they worked or not.

Entirely Removed by Three Bottles of Hood's

"I wish to make this statement for the benefit of people that may be suffering with that dreaded disease, cancer. For five years I have had one coming on my face. I tried having it burned out and several other remedies, but all of no avail until I was induced to try Hood's Sarsapaavail until I was induced to try flood's Sarsapa-rillia. While taking the first bottle I could see a marked clinings and the third bottle almost or entirely removed the cancer. I can't say too much for Hood's Sarsaparilla.
