THE DAILY BEE NEWS FROM COUNCIL BLUFFS

NO. 12 PEARL STREET | Course of a Local Paper that is Not Approved Of by the Citizans.

SOME VERY UNCALLED FOR CRITICISM

Strictures on the Sons of Veterans that Should Not Have Been Printed-An Attack that Was Unwarranted by the Facts.

A local paper which makes great pretenses of shouting loudly for Council Bluffs includes in its usual inconsistency by urging the citizens to apply a No. 10 boot to the local camp of the Sons of Veterans, because the organization has not seen its way clear to assume the responsibility of entertaining the state encampment here this summer. Had the writer of this unseemly tirade shown as Orient on Menday evening, May 29, at Do-hany's opera house. Frank Lindon and his tending its meetings as he has in blaming others for not assuming the responsibility which he has himself persistently shirited, he might have known the facts, and thus saved himself this needless thrust at the fair name of this fair city. The fact is that owing to the indifference of just such sons of veterans as the one who permed the tirade, the local camp is one simply in name, necessary and nominal committees, to say ment of visitors enjoyable. The question of the control of the cases of solution of all, the rantain of the camp offering to become personally responsible for the needed funds. The only difficulty which seemed insurmountable, was that the camp could not even gets quorum present at its meetings, and it did not seem appropriate to have the reception and entertainment of the state camp left to others who were in no way connected with the organization. The few who have been sacrificing time and money in endeavoring to maintain a local camp should not be thus ruthlessly labbed because they could not accomplish impossibilities, and, least of all, should they be criticised by those who have not shown enough interest to avail themselves of the privileges to which they were eligible. Council Bluffs is in no way at fault, nor are the few members who nominally belong to the local camp. The real fault lies in the indifference of those who should be active and energotic members, and without whose help the camp must continue to be one in name only

The prospects are, however, that Council Binffs will have the encampment, in spite of the inability of the Sons of Veterans to make the necessary arrangements to take care chants and Manufacturers association, sent a telegram to the head offi-cer of the state cer of the state association stat-ing that it was the wish of the citizens in general that the encampment be held here, and that there will be no trouble resulting from the action of the local camp. His telegram was the result of conversations held with many of the prominent citizens, and represents the feeling of the general public.

Unlane Entertainment.

A novel entertainment was that given last evening under the auspices of the Unity guild at Masonic temple. The room was well filled with the friends of the guild, who were given their first opportunity of witnessing "Living Whist." The game was played with ladies and gentlemen for cards, the players being J. L. Templeton and E. H. Haworth on one side and Adolph Beno and J. M. Scanian on the other. There were fifty-two cards in the "deck," as usual, and an inviting looking deck it was as Mr. Templeton went through the customary formality of shuffling it for the engagement. Scanlan cut and Temple-ton proceeded to deal out the cards to the four players. The game then went on, and although the music and dancing that accompanied the game would have sent a genuine whist crank to a lunatic asylum, the observer who came to be amused and delighted could surely find no fault. At the end of the game Templeton and Haworth had the majority of an. He registered at the Grand.

Mrs. Kran iger told a strange story of her husband's wrong doing. She stated that her husband had failed utterly to provide anything for her and their six children and had compelled her to go out doing washing leaving the two youngest children in charge of one aged She exhibited a terrible scar on her forehead, which, she said, was the result of her contact with her liege lord's fist, and said he had repeatedly knocked her down. He could not plead a love for the ardent as an excuse, for he him self admitted that he never drank a drop. Kraniger, on the other hand claimed that "frau und kinder chased him mit bricks," and said the only reason he had not supported his family was that he could find nothing to do. The commissioners decided that he was not crazy, and referred the case to the city street supervisor with a request to give the man a job if any was in sight.

The case was commenced in the district court four years ago, Howarth having sold liquor to the plaintiff's husband. Carle went home, it was alleged, and practiced all sorts of atrocities on his family, whereupon his wife sought to collect damages of the man who had sold the liquor to him. The case was postponed from time to time for one reason or another, until the other day, when it was dismissed. Twenty-three members of the Ganymede Wheel club started out from the Grand hotel last evening to take the first trip of the club since its organization. Druid Hill was the goal, and the party returned home after an enjoyable ride of seventeen miles. One or two little events took place on the run that were not down on the program, helped relieve the monotony of a ride that might have been uneventful. While riding on Lower Broadway Arthur Hoffmayr, who was riding by the light of a tallow candle that he had hung between the wheels of his bicycle, collided with a team that happened to come his way in spite of the candle. Three other wheelmen, who had supposed Hoffmayr's lead would be all right, plunged in after him and there was an embarrassing conglomeration of vehicles and riders. They all got out, however, without any serious damage being done. Douglas Graves was not so forbeing done. Douglas Graves was not so for-tunate. APPEALED TO PATRIOTISM

Strong Arguments by Caprivi in Favor of the German Army Bill.

RECEPTION OF THE CHANCELLOR'S PLEA

His Arguments, Have Touched the Heart of the Fatherland, and the Bill, as Amended, Will Probably Be Passed by the Reichstag. Beauty, May 3.—The center party had an exciting caucus today over the proposition that the party support the army bill, and finally defeated it by an enormous majority, but voted at last to allow members to vote according to their individual convictions.

In the Reichstag Chanceller Caprivi declared that the government would use every means in its power to secure the passage of

The chancellor went on to say that some sections of the house appeared to have lost sight of the main issue, namely, the provision for two years' active service. Attempts had been made to refute the arguments of the government in support of the bill by the manipulation of figures in opposition to the bill, but the chancellor said he attached much weight to the views of men, who not only had to settle questions in time of peace, but must stake their honor and fulfill their duly in time of war. The chan Roon were present they would have sup-ported the demands of the government in more forcible language than he had used. and it was a fact that there was not a living army to be anything like as strong as it was eral governments were resolved to employ all the constitutional means in their power to attain their object. [Cries of "Bravo!"] The rejection of the bill would ad-versely affect the political situation. Prince Bismarek, the greatest diplomatic genius seen in several centuries, regarded the strengthening of the army as an absonecessity. In fact, it was an open question, whether, at the present moment, the army was strong enough to take the offensive, even against France alone. "We cannot," said the chancellor, "be indifferent to the fate of our frontier province. The nation desires to protect Alsace-Lorraine. [Applause.] On the day of mobilization, a well-filled cartridge pouch will be of greater value than a purse full of money. The rejection of the bill will create a broad impression that there is weakness. In the name of the empire and in the name of Prussia." concluded the chancellor, "I announce that Freiber von Huene's proposal is acceptable to us. We beg of you to assist us to accomplish what we regard as necessary to main-tain the peace of Europe and the security yesterday in regard to the insurrection that has broken out in the province of Cuba:

By Alejandra Rodriquez Arras, Governor General of this Island: Just when this country was rapidly progressing in its material interests and fully enjoying, all the political rights as citizens of the Spanish nation, several parties rise up against the integrity of their territory in the castern province.

As I am firmly dispased to repress, at any cost, the criminal attempt and to punish the delinquents, and, at the same time, to protect the peaceful citizens who do not lend ald to the disturbers of my powers. I decree:

First—After the publication of this circular, the territory of the Province of St. Ingo de Cuba is declared in a state of seige.

Second—Persons activeed of rebellion, sedition, or of any other offense affecting the integrity of the territory will be tried by a court martint, according to the law of April 17, 1821.

Third—The rebels who, in accordance with these terms, surrender themselves within eight days will be exempt from punishment. Fourth—The civil and judicial authorities of the mentioned provings will continue in their respective charges; but I reserve my right to transfer to the military Jurisdiction all those criminal affairs which I consider convenient.

Mr. Coudert Continues the Argument Before the Court of Arbitration.

Pauls, May 3 .- At the meeting of the Bering sea tribunal of arbitration, F. R. Coudert esq., of the counsel for the United States, spoke, giving an outline of the arguments which he proposed to offer in support of Mr. Carter. The defense of the scaling industry in Bering sea by the United States, was, Mr. Coudert exclaimed, imperative, and an attack on the scaling industry was an attack on the United States. The United States raised the seals at the Pribyloff islands in the same sense that Australia raised sheep and it was impossible that the nurture and culture of the seal at Pribyloff islands could exist in common with pelagic sealing. The seals at the Pribyloff islands, continued Mr. Coudert. were absolute property, just as cattle and sheep were absolute property. GEORGE E. HUNT, Local Forecast Official. Sir Charles Russell of counsel for Great Britain here interposed with the remark,

Certainly not."
Mr. Coudert admitted that their ownership Mr. Coudert admitted that their ownership was impossible. Some propositions were self-evident, although they could not be demonstrated by proof. However, when the seals were at the Islands they could be branded and their ears clipped. The British commissioners recognized that the seals were American property when they said the guard was inofficient to protect the seals from raiders. In that statement the right of the United States to protect the seals within a certain limit was recognized. seals within a certain ilmit was recognized, and it was absurd to say that the United States was unable to protect the seals outside of that limit. Seals, Mr. Coudert argues, were not ferm nature. The British argument was not helped by that Latin term.

The title of the seals is absolute property. The title of the seals is absolute properly, which is undeniable. The United States did not interfere with the free-loom of the seals which existed for peaceful purposes, and it was not wrongdoing on the part of the United States to promote, instead of preventing the culture of these animals.

Mr. Coudert devoted his argument in the afternoon to the culture of the seals argument in the afternoon to proving the necessity of pro-hibiting pelagic scaling in order to preserve the race of scals. Mr. Condert stated nothing new in the way of facts, but he presented the case in a novel and refinedly humorous manner, which entranced and amused the tribunal and the great throng of visitors.

NOT VERY HARMONIOUS.

Trouble at the Meeting of British Women's Temperance Association. LONDON, May 3.-The British Women's Temperance association sat in convention from 10 o'clock this morning until 41 o'clock tonight. There were 445 delegates present. Miss Frances E. Willard. the head of the American Women's Christian Temperance union was invited to a seat of the platform. Mrs. Ellen H Foster, th American temperance advocate, whose reported intention to appear at the convention has caused much excitement among the members of the British Women's Christian Temperance association, was not present, though it was stated that she was on the way from America.

The day's proceedings were enlivened by a number of speeches in which bitter personal attacks were indulged in. In the ballot for president Lady Somerset was re-elected by a majority of sixty-seven. The minority thereupon left the convention in indignation, saying that the introduction of politics into the association would split the organi zation and ruin the temperance cause

To Preserve

The richness, color, and beauty of the hair, the greatest care is necessary, much harm being done by the use of worthless dressings. To be sure of having a first-class article, ask your druggist or perfumer for Ayer's Hair Vigor. It is absolutely superior to any other preparation of the kind. It restores the original color and fullness to hair which has become thin, faded, or gray. It keeps the scalp cool, moist, and free from dandruff. It heals itching humors, prevents baldness, and imparts to THE HAIR

a silken texture and lasting fragrance. No toilet can be considered complete without this most popular and elegant of all hair-dressings.

"My hair began turning gray and falling out when I was about 25 years of age. I have lately been using Ayer's Hair Vigor, and it is causing a new growth of hair of the natural color."-R. J. Lewry, Jones Prairie, Texas.

"Over a year ago I had a severe fever, and when I recovered, my hair began to fall out, and what little remained turned gray. I tried various remedies, but without success, till at last I began to Ayer's Hair Vigor, and now my hair is growing rapidly and is restored to its original color." - Mrs. Annie Collins, Digitton, Mass.

"I have used Ayer's Hair Vigor for nearly five years, and my hair is moist, glossy, and in an excellent state of preservation. I am forty years old, and have ridden the plains for twenty-five years."-Wm. Henry Ott, alias "Mustang Bill," Newcastle, Wyo.

Within Reach of All. Spring is the time when the blood and general system are the most susceptible to improvement. The practice of taking spring meditine is therefore founded on a need of the body, long recognized; and the wisdom of many years has determined on spring as the best time to arouse the blood to healthy action. Paine's celery commound stands easily at the he d of all spring medicines. You hear it on the street, you read it in the medical journals; give it a good trial and you will go about declaring it so Paine's celery compound is the disrove y of Edward E. Phelps, M. D , LL. D., of Dartmouth college. It is no doubt the greatest remedy of modern times. None of all the medicines prescribed by physicians has caused within the past years so much inquiry and favorable discussion at meetings of medical societies and in medical journals. Paine's celery compound is one of those wonderful remedial agents which,
