Sons of Veterans Will Probably Hold Their Encampment in This City.

OBSTACLES THAT HAVE BEEN OVERCOME

It Now Looks as Though the Original Plan-Will Be Carried Out-Grand Army Veterans Will Assist the Local Camp.

The uncertainty as to whether Council Bluffs would have a chance to entertain the Sons of Veterans, at their annual state encampment is wearing off, and it now looks as though the necessary arrangements would or made and the original plan carried out. Department Commander Dilley of the state organization wrote Secretary Frank Trimble of the Merchants and Manufactures association a letter yesterday in which he said he was in hopes the recent action of the local camp would be rescinded in order that the encampment might be held here as at first

One of the main drawbacks to the plan of entertaining the encampment here was the weakness of the local camp. It was thought that it would be impossible for the members of the camp to do what was necessary in the way of looking after the wants of the guests, and there really seemed to be some uncertainty as to whether the camp would be in existence when the guests arrived. The impropriety of turning the visitors over to quickest way out of the difficulty was by throwing it up as a bad job. At the last meeting of Ane Lincoln post, Grand Army of the Republic, this trouble was largely done away with by the passage of a resolution agreeing to lend cordial support in the en-tertainment of the Sons of Veterans.

A called meeting of the Sons of Veterans

was held last evening and the resolution adopted at a recent meeting to the effect that the camp would not be able to enterthat the camp would not be one to enter-tain the encampment was rescuited and another resolution adopted requesting the state committee to overlook the post. This settles the question of the encampment as this was the only condition mentioned in the etter from the department communier

Will Label Authorized Subscriptions. About the time of the encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic at Keekuk there was considerable talk through the wapapers and on the streets about the feeling that evidently existed among some of the members of Abe Lincoln post upon the subject of soliciting funos from the citizens. This feeling was especially noticeable in the action of the post commander with regard to the subscript on list that was cir-culated by Wall McFadden for the purpose of getting funds to take himself and his drum corps to the encampment. At the last meeting of the post the feeling crystalized in the following resolution, which was

There is time for this to be done yet, however, and a clab of the right proportions will probably be brought into requisition as soon as the fact becomes known to the public that the capacit proposes to take no lie that the council proposes to take no action without being clubbed into it.

LANZENDORFER SUICIDES. Rash Act of a Well Known Blafflie in the Town of Carroll. The news reached the city Sunday night that Conrad Lanzendorfer, a well known Bluffite who formerly kept a meat market on South Main street, had committed suicide at Carroll, In. The news was contained in a telegram that reached Mrs. Lanzendorfer, and there are but few further particulars to be obtained at this end of the line. Lanzenderfer failed in business about a year ago, and since that time has done nothing toward the support of his family. His wife and oldest son have been compelled to workfor themselves. Last December he went to Carroll, and since his departure he has only written to his wife once, and then stated that he had no money to send her. Yesterday merning after the telegram came. Mrs. Langendorfer received a letter from the proprietor of the hotel where he had itse suicide and asked Mrs. Lanzendorfer to come on at once. The fact that this letter came after the telegram, coupled with the other fact that Mrs. Lanzendorfer waited anxiously all day vesterday in vain for some further particulars of the affair made the matter look a little strance. W. C. Estep went to Carroll last evening and will probably return with the remains today, when the mystery will be cleared up. At present the relatives of the deceased do not even know the means by which the deceased met his death. About two years ago Langendorfer disappeared from home and was not seen for several days. It was thought at first that he was insane, but it was afterward learned one of his prolonged sprees upon which he was in the habit of going. His death is supposed to have been the result of drinking leavily and the business troubles he had Important Real Estate Decision. Judge Smith yesterday handed down an important real estate decision and concluded a case that has been before the public for nearly a year. It was the case of Mrs. Dr. Gordon, formerly Mrs. Mary Walker, against Robert Rain. The title to a tract of forty acres of land was involved. The land is valuable, as it Hes mostly inside the city limits. Several years ago the propcety was sold for taxes, Robert Rain being the purchaser. After the layse of the legal time a sheriff's deed was given the purchaser, and he proceeded to take possession. Suit was then brought by Mrs. Gordon to set aside the tax deed on the ground that no notice had been served upon her as provided by law, of the expiration of the time of redemption. The defendant was represented by H. tion. The defendant was represented by H. J. Chambers and the plaintiff by Finley Burke and Thomas Casady. City Council Has a Long and Busy Session, Liquor Licenses the Principal Topic.

TREET OPENING AND PAVING TALK

Building Inspector Mayfield Writes a Little Letter of Resignation and Admonition-Minor Matters and Personals.

As a result of the action of the meeting of the South Omaha city council last night, there will be several saloons closed this morning. The council will meet again tonight to hear all remonstrances. The work of repairing the Q street viaduct goes to a South Omaha firm. Considerable routine work was accomplished, with a full attendance of members.
Attorney Adams addressed the council in remonstrance has been filed with the council. He raised the point of law that his client had in no degree violated the Slocumb signed as it was principally by women, should not have sufficient weight to bar his being granted a license. He hoped that the council would refer the protest to the city attorney before taking definite action.

E. O. Mayfield handed in a novel resignation as city building magnetor as follows: tion as city building inspector as follows: "As Mayor Walker has politely informed me that my resignation as building inspector would give him great pleasure, and at the same time give him an opportunity to appoint some one who needs the position worse than I do, therefore, gentlemen, I hereby tender you my resignation. This, Mr. Mayor and gentlemen, is done with the assurance that eight of our councilmen would stand by me if I in sisted on making a contest. I will also call your attention to section 2, ordinance No. 127, which provides that the inspector shall be a practical carpenter or an architect. This in itself compels the mayor and council in itself compels the mayor and council to appoint a proper person to the position, and assures the city a proper safeguard in that department against unscrupnious builders. May the pathway of my successor be strewn with pold dollars, and his drinks come often and early is my wish."

The committee on licenses reported, recommending that laptor licenses be granted to the following persons: F. Arndt, Thiety-third and L. streets; W. F. Bauer, 2401 Q street; John Fallon, 3201 Q street; E. Robert Montgomery made a strong speech to the council urging the opening of a street at the lower end of N street, from Twen-nieth street east to the river. The city at-torney and city engineer were added to the mittee having the matter in charge and were given more time to report.

More time was granted the special com-mittee appointed at a recent meeting to ask the street car company to complete its line A liberally signed petition was referred to the city engineer, asking the council to pave O street from Fourteenth to Twentieth A vigorous kick signed by a number of citizens was read because the sidewalk had not been relaid by the contractor on Twentyfourth between N and O streets. Right here Mr. Woods took occasion to say that there should be no exception in the future to the rule of making the contractor place his forfeit money for this sort of work in ad-John Salter gave notice to the council that the two bridges in Albright were out of repair and in a dangerous condition.

L. B. Stanley gave notice that he had work and asked that he be allowed to with-draw and that he would pay the cost of re-advertising for bids. Accepted. Fire Chief Smith made his annual report, etailing the work of the department for a year, together with recommendations for the future. His estimate for the cost of the department for the ensuing year is $12,635.

The report of Chief of Police Beckett was received and placed on file.

Remonstrances were filed against the granting of liquor licenses to J. K. Hanvsa, Teresa Blum, Thomas Baer and Frank Derelle. They were all kinned by Chief of reresa Blum. Thomas Baer and Frank Petelka. They were all signed by Chief of Police Beckett, the principal charge being that they had each violated the Slocumb law by selling liquer on Sunday. Thursday night was set apart for the time to hear in detail all remonstrances.

Member Schultz introduced a resolution that the chief of police be instructed to at once close all salcons whose proprietors have not up to the present time been granted a license. Conley moved to lay the resolution on the table, but it failed to carry. The original resolution was then adopted, the mayor's vote settling the tie. Conley then succeeded in baving the night for hearing remonstrances changed to tonight.

Bids were opened for the repaying of the Q street viaduct. The contract was awarded to George E. Parks & Co. of South Omaha.

AFFAIRS AT SOUTH OMAHA AFRAID OF DOCTORS

A Young Woman Besitated Long Before Seeking Help, But is Now All Right.

Many people, when sick and ailing, lose faith in medical treatment, and carry for years a burden of pain and distress. Miss Mand Charron, & Main street, Chancil Blaffs, was one such. Now she has this to say.

"Although for years my suffering was terrible, still fest doubtful about being able to get relief. The resolve to get will, however, I made quickly, when relatives and frien is of mine found relief and cure from lift Shepari's treatment. Years ago catarra fastened itself in my system, and my sick headaches were too accoming to describe. I had them two or three days out of every week. My stomach was sore and painful, often gascous—and food disjusted me. As soon as Dr. Sheparif driy began with me relief came. I felt, in a few weeks, more confort than I had had for several years. My head zot all right, and for several years. My head zot all right, and for seven weeks I felt no pain whatever. My stomach is all right, int I am eared. I feel last this way that leannot praise the wors of Dr. Shepard enough for what he has done for me."

W. H. Sage of the City Hotel, Atkinson, Neb., Writes:

'Drs. Copeland and Shepard—Gent'emen:
I write you to let you know that I am more than pleased with the results of your treatment for catarri. I can breathe through my nose with perfect case now, and that is a thing that I haven't been able to do for many years. My general health, also, is much improved. I have been buying patent medicine for years with little or no benefit; but I will say, since taking your treatment, I am feeling better than I have for years. My appetite is good, and that is something new for me, and I go to sleep soon after lying down, and that is also new. I cannot endurse your treatment too strongly."

Respectfully.
