NEBRASKA UNITED WORKMEN Meeting of the State Grand Lodge in Lincoln.

S'X HUNDRED MEMBERS IN THE PARADE

One of the Most Magnificent Street Displays Ever Made in the State by the Order-tirand Lodge Degrees Conferred.

LECTORN, Neb., May 9 .- (Special to Tug Bus.)-The meeting of the Nebraska state grand lodge of the Ancient Order of Julted Workmen was called to order in Representative hall at 10 o'clock this morning by Grand Master Workman Tate, with nearly 400 delegates present. The chair read a report from the committee on credentials that a quorum was present. Mayor Weir was not present, and the address of welcome was postponed, until evening, F. G. Simmons was appointed to assist Grand Guide Huntsberger, and all members who had not taken the grand lodge dogree were invited to retire. After instructions in that degree were given all accredited representa-tives, the reading of the record of the last solon was called for, but on motion dispensed with. Grand Master Workman Tate's annual address was read and at the conclusion he spoke heartily in favor of a more rigid en-forcement of the laws regulating the morals of members and especially the one prohib-ting the use of intoxicating liquors. The cases of Sloan and Abrams, involving infractions of this law, were vigorously dis cussed, but no definite action taken. Th dis rest of the morning session was consumding and discussion of grand officers' reports.

s afternoon the parade took place. It was a magnificent turnout, over 600 uni-formed Workmen being in line. R. P. R. Millar of Lincoln was grand marshal, while two bands aided in the celebration. The procession wound through the various treets to the capitol, where the business of the session was resumed.

This evening a big reception was bendered the visiting delegates by the local lodges at the Lansing theater. Mayor Weir and Rev. John Hewitt welcomed the grand lodge and addresses were made by Grand Master Workman Tate and Rev. Mr. Beals.

FREMONT, Neb., May 9.-[Special to THE BEE.]-As usual on all circus days Fremont had her full share of bold burglaries yesterday. During the day thieves visited the dwelling houses, usually where there was no one at home. From the residence of W. D. Thomas they took two gold watches and a beautiful diamond ring. From the safe in the lumber office of J. A. Elliott they took $15 in cash office of J. A. Elliott they took $15 in cash. Between 8 and 9 o'clock last evening there was perpetrated one of the most daring rob-beries ever known in this city at the jewelry store of J. T. Hairhouse, on one of the principal streets. The proprietor was sit-ting at his desk in the store at the time, and hearing a crash of glass in the front window, turned in time to see a man reach through the broken glass and take ont a tray of diamonds and gold and take out a tray of diamonds and gold rings valued at $700. When he reached the rings valued at $700. When he reached the front door he found it had been fastened by a small board being placed through the handle of the door. Some one in passing by released him from his confinement in time for him to see the two men going around a near corner. The thief threw a coupling pin through the front window and through the showcase containing the jew-

Injured His Brain. HASTINGS, Neb., May 9.- [Special Telegram to THE BEE]-Since Monday," the district court in an adjourned session has been hearing the suit of Artie Mills for damages against the city of Hastings. In December, 1891, the Dutton-Harney block was in process of construction, and a large hole about ten feet deep was nocessarily dug in front. Young Artle Mills while walking along Secand street fell into the hole, striking on his head and then breaking his arm. It is al-leged that mentally he has since not been the same as before his injury, and that his constitution was almost wrecked. Suit was prought for $5,000.

The jury, after being out about five hours, returned a verdict in favor of plaintiff for $300. The city will not appeal the case.

Entertained a Hastings Audience.

HASTINGS, Neb., May 9.-(Special to The BEE. ]-The Delsartean entertainment given at the Kerr last night for the ladies of St. Mark's Episcopa church was a decided success. The posing by a class of the most prominent society young ladies was excellent and was enthusiastically received. A Japanese parasol drill by a number of young misses and a gossip partonime by eight little girls also brought the performers a great deal of praise. The entertainment was directed by Mrs. Evelyn Ailen Aitch-ison, late associate principal of the Omaha Conservatory of Music.

AS VIEWED BY POLITICIANS.

Some of Them Think that Cleveland's Recent Order is a Good Thing.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 9 .- One effect of the president's order closing the executive mansion to office seckers has been to cause the crowd which usually thronged to the white house to change its point of attack from the president himself to his cabinet. officers. This was noticeable to some extent yesterday. There was a perceptible increase in the number of callers at each department, and a good deal of time was consumed in their reception. It is predicted, if this continues, all the members of the cabinet will adopt precisely similar rules to that which yesterday threw such conster-nation into the ranks of the white house habitues. The same reasons which actuated the president in issuing his order apply to as great an extent to the members of his cabattempt to show that the granting of the The hour between 10 o'clock and the time for the assembling of the cabinet was de-voted by the president this morning to interviews with senators and representatives. Unlike former days these dignitaries came alone and not attended by the following of enthusiastic constituents anxious to see the president. As a result the congressmen would be enabled to talk business with the president instead of the time being con-sumed in making presentations, recollec-tions of whom faded from the president's mind as their forms disappeared from view. Without exception the congressmen were delighted with the president's new rule and expressed themselves accordingly. Repre-sentative Bynum of Indiana added to his endorsement of the president's action. "I am in favor of going still further in that direction and widening the scope of the reform inaugurated by Mr. Cleveland. I think it would be a good plan to reform the whole system of dispensing patronage." "What would you suggest?" was asked. "Simply this: I would relieve members of congress of the duty of making recommen-dations for appointments and require aspirants for positions to present their own applications and endorsements. The papers would be placed on file in the department and when it became time to make that par-ticular appointment I would cail in the congressmen and ask them what they knew of each candidate on the list. In this way there would be fewer applications for apof the necessity of engaging in local pat-ronage squabbles. "They would not have a club held over them by constituents who demanded en-dorsement of their claims, but would be

In other cities a market house has proven advantageous and a profit-able source of revenue for the city GMr. Primes submitted a plan for providing a temporary market place and a scheme to secure a permanent market house, as follows: Capitol avenue, between Touth and Eleventh streets is at present 190 feet as follows: Capitol avenue, between Tonth and Eleventh streets, is at present 130 feet wide. The city should, acquire forty feet on each side of the street, making a market square 200 feet wide. Allowing fifteen feet on each side of the square for sidewalks a street space of 170 feet is secured. Down the center of the square a wooden walk or platform should be built twenty feet wide, leaving seventy-five feet on each side of the street. Allowing twenty feet for horse and wagon when backed up to the platform and sidewalk, there will be four rows of wagons extending the entire block and thirty-five feet between each outer row for the free feet between each outer row for the free passage of vehicles.

This plan is only intended to meet the re-uirements of the present season. Market buses are needed for the future and Mr. Prince suggested that at this fall election the people be asked to vote bonds for the construction of a market house on the square montioned, the building to be fifty or sixty fort while by 294 feet long. His plan in-cludes a basement divided into storerooms cludes a basement divided into storerooms for dealers in butter, eggs, etc. The main floor is to be divided into stalls for the sale of such articles as may be desired, and if thought advisable a second story may be added, consisting of a hall, which may be used for public gatherings. The matter was referred to a special committee, composed of Prince, Jacobsen, Wheeler, Howell and Ed-wards.

In the Criminal Court.

County Attorney Woodward entered Tolle prosequis today in the cases against John Murray and W. B. Miller. Murray was charged with felonlous assault upon Mrs. Berry, a member of a traveling theatri-cal company. She promised to be here to prosecute him, but failed to show up, and her whereabouts are unknown. Miller was charged with forgery, but it appears that he had been a partner of the man whose name he was charged with forging, and believed he had a right to draw on the funds which belonged to the partnership. #### City in Brief.

Harry Staiff, the boy who pleaded guilty to stealing a diamond pin from a guest of the Hotel Lincoln, was today ordered sent to the reform school by Judge Long. He will be taken to Kearney tomorrow. The landlords and real estate men of the city have formed an association to protect one another from tenants who never pay their rent, who move out leaving unpaid balances, who do divers things destructive of the houses, and who move out leaving buildings in a filthy condition. The Athletic association of the State uni versity is organizing a boat crew to take part in some of the western regattas next fall. The practice work will be done on Salt lake, at Burlington beach, where a mile and a half straightaway course is being laid out.

Coryell Richardson, a loan broker, filed complaint in Justice Brown's court today charging J.S. Small, a real estate agent, with securing $40 from him on the false pre-tense that lie owned a horse, cow and other valuables, which he mortgaged to Richardson, but which belonged to some one else. Frank Walton filed complaint in Justice Borgelt's court charging P. T. Shea with selling mortgaged property.
