John Lattimer, an architect of Omaha, was called for the purpose of furnishing testimony with reference to the cell house. "Have you measured the walls of the cell house and made estimates on the cost?" asked Judge Doane.

"Yes, sir." "What are your estimates?" "South wall, $7,211.05; north wall, $8,199.00; east wall, $4,850.00; roof, $3,194.00; iron gutters, $1,500.00; sash, $1,500.00; on the basis of free labor. The stone on the north is ordinary stone, not a first-class building stone."

"If it should transpire that the cost of excavation was 40 cents instead of 25 cents per cubic yard, would it add to the cost of the building?" "Yes, sir; about $100."

"If it should transpire that the rubble would be used, would it add to the cost of the building?" "Of course it would." "If it should transpire that you had included in the estimate, not only the labor in cutting, but that would add to the cost?" "That would be true, but you are stating a fact that does not exist."

"Did you take into account anything else than what you have referred to?" "No, sir; that includes the material and labor." "If it should turn out that the ashler stone was worth but 15 cents instead of 25 cents, that the rubble stone was worth but 4 and 4 instead of 7 cents, would not your estimate then be too high?" asked Judge Doane on redirect examination.

"No, sir; it did not cost the state to tear down that old wall, the old ashler and figure on the cost of the new stone. I computed the wall as now rubble, and also, at the same time, did not charge for the recutting of the old ashler." "Did you take into account anything else than what you have referred to?" "No, sir; that includes the material and labor."

handling of flour during that period? "That was the understanding." "Identified the vouchers." State Auditor Moore was sworn. "Have you the vouchers of Sewell & Co. for flour sold to the state during the year 1892?"

"Some of them, and the others are with the county attorney before the grand jury." "The vouchers were identified and handed back to Johnson's attorney as follows: 1. A tabulated statement showing the amount of flour which the state had been charged with during the year 1892." "How it was delivered."

C. W. Kendall, a drayman who had hauled for Sewell & Co., testified to having hauled for Johnson's store to the asylum. "Did you haul any flour?" "That was my contract, commencing the last of October, 1892."
